Japs Resist Weakly In U. S. Attack

Ryukyu Attack by Carrier Planes is Earliest Yet Made

(By The Associated Press) A Japanese imperial communique today said 100 United States carrier planes made Monday's attack on the Ryukyu Islands, striking in four waves.

The communiqué, heard by the Federal Communications Commission, said the raiders attacked from 7 a. m. to mid-afternoon. Tokyo claimed that "more than 26 of the enemy planes" were shot down, and asserted that "only slight damage" was done.

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Oct. 11—(AP)—In the boldest naval stroke of the Pacific war, struck 200 miles south of Japan, the roving American third fleet defied both Nippon's home fleet and air force by pounding carrier planes in overpowering strength against the Ryukyu Islands.

As the climax of powerful blows delivered since August 30 in the Philippines, Luzon and Formosa, Admiral Halsey's task force wiped out 39 planes and sunk or damaged 58 surface craft—every vessel sighted—in the Ryukyus, 600 miles from the China coast, on Monday.

Not one American warship was hit by the enemy in an operation which in many ways was more daring than the 1942 carrier-based strike at Tokyo, inasmuch as the carrier in that case retired while the planes flew on to China. In Monday's stroke, the carriers stayed around for the planes' return.
