"What a beautiful dream!"

"Here I've been going around dreaming about getting a new car as soon as the war's won."

"But I know better. It may be 2 or 3 years after victory before I can make that dream come true."

"In the meantime, the Gulf man is helping me to keep my old car from being a nightmare. He says with Gulfpride* and Gulflex. It can be kept going until I get a new one."

"So now, I'm not worrying. By giving it the best lubrication I can buy, I expect to keep on the road."

Apple Gives Zeb Vance's Finals Sermon

Speaking to the graduating class of Zeb Vance high school Sunday evening Rev. J. Frank Apple asked the question, "What Is Your Life?" quoting from the words of James. He then continued to discuss "It is even a warning that appears for a little time and then vanishes away."

Mr. Apple told the young men that life may be compared to a heavy burden for the journey of life and that at school the same has been leading and leading the way for the journey which will separate many storms and dangers. He urged each one to follow the "good path" and watch for "little things" that might cause a fall.

Care Urged In Mailings To Overseas

Postmaster J. B. Fagan has received new instructions from the Post-Office Department with respect to mailing of messages for service personnel overseas. In detail, the new regulations are:

Although notices in the Postal Bulletin of November 25, 1944, and September 22, 1944, called attention to the need for properly packing parcels for transmission to military personnel, it is pointed out that many parcels are packed in violation of the regulations. A large number of parcels are damaged in transit and the sender is held liable for the loss.

(a) The use of unapproved shipping materials, such as cardboard boxes, is prohibited. Boxes should be made of corrugated fiberboard.

(b) The use of wrapping paper is prohibited. The use of paper is permitted only for the wrapping of small articles.

(c) Insufficient and improper packing of breakable articles and articles of value is prohibited. The sender is held liable for the loss.

(d) Acceptance of parcels containing articles of value is prohibited. The sender is held liable for the loss.

(e) Boxes for overseas transmission should be stronger than those used for parcels which do not leave the country. Because of the great distance these parcels will be transported and the handling and storage they must undergo, it is absolutely necessary that all parcels for overseas be packed in boxes of metal, wood, solid fiberboard or strong corrugated fiberboard, weighing at least 2 1/2 pounds.

Each box should be securely tied with strong cord, preferably by two separate pieces, in a crisscross and two crosswise, at the top and bottom. Sealing the flaps with gummed tape where they meet strengthens the box, but the use of such tape alone is not satisfactory since the tape becomes soft if the boxes become wet or exposed to moist atmosphere.

Boxes should contain sufficient cushioning material so that the contents will be tightly packed to prevent any rattling or loosening of the articles within the parcels. Unless completely packed and tightly tied, boxes are apt to be crushed.

The War Production Board has approved the manufacture of boxes approximately 10 to 14 by 4 inches in size, which will be of greater strength and will permit more compact packing within the 2-pound weight limit than the containers previously approved.

It is also desirable that all fiberboard boxes be securely wrapped in heavy paper, if available, which materially strengthens the boxes. The boxes should be tied as above suggested, before and after applying the heavy paper wrapper. Sealed boxes should bear the printed inscription authorizing opening for postal inspection.

Care should be exercised to see that all parcels are clearly and definitely addressed, the complete and accurate Army or Navy address being used, and it is highly desirable that slips of paper containing the names and addresses of the sender and addressee and a list of the contents be enclosed in the parcels so that proper disposition of the parcels can be effected in the event the addresses on the outside become defaced in transit.

They're both tough... but which would you rather tackle?

IN THE 7th War Loan, you are being asked for more than ever before. Much more. More, perhaps, than you feel you can afford. True enough. But—as we face the toughest part of the toughest job in our history—fighting Americans, too, are being asked for more than ever before. For more lives. For more legs and arms and eyes... And they are giving more than ever—with unsurpassed courage and devotion. Your job is easier. It's easier to face your quota than to face cold steel, blindness, pain and death... infinitely easier! Easier still when you remember that War Bonds pay you back $4 for every $3 you invest at maturity—and that War Bonds are the safest investment in the world. But don't make the mistake of thinking your easier job isn't important. It is. For your quota is your share of the minimum amount Uncle Sam must have in this drive! That amount can be reached only if every American does his part. As the war approaches its climax, more is demanded of all of us... much more. Don't let down on your job!
