Jamboree In Promotion Of Markets

Entertainment And Parade To Be Given Monday Afternoon

By way of promoting the Henderson tobacco and peanut markets, an afternoon and evening jamboree for farmers of all this territory is to be held here next Monday, September 10, under auspices of local business men through the Henderson Chamber of Commerce.

A feature of the occasion will be an elaborate parade in the business section in the afternoon, including several visiting high school bands in addition to the Henderson high school band, together with other features. Following the parade an extensive program will be put on at the National Guard Armory in West Henderson, during which many cash prizes and merchandise prizes will be given away by lucky ticket numbers. At that time there will be music by Buffalo Lodge Orchestra for the dance.

In the evening there will be a softball game on the high school athletic field.

Sponsors of the program plan to spend some hundreds of dollars in promoting it. The occasion is projected on a scale intended to make of it one of the most extensive rallies ever held in connection with the start of the marketing season here.

The Henderson tobacco market will open on Tuesday, September 11, the day following the program of entertainment.
