ISLAND AUTUMN.

Hearing the sea strain on the rocky shore
Below the marshes, hearing once again
The hooping gull and land wind at the door,
And rattle of the asters in the lane,
I know how autumn writes its signature
In drifting gold below the house and hill,
And how the leaves, as bright-hued as before,
Fall now and there upon an island sill.

Thus, without turning to the door,
I know
How in a gust this fragile gold comes down,
And how the aster looks before the snow,
White as the snow, and how the little town,
Being an island town, stands straight and proud—
Its first autumn and its pines un-bowed!

$1,500 Is Wanted To Make Purchases For All Personnel

Almost half of the $1,500 sought for new uniforms for the Henderson high school band had been raised by popular subscription today with $821.25 reported in hand in the latest tabulation. This amount, $254.25 in new funds, covered Tuesday.

The plan is to buy a brand new uniform for every one of the approximately 75 members of the band organization. Not since it was organized has there been a complete outfitting of the band members. As soon as the funds are assured, an order is to be placed for delivery as early as the merchandise can be had.

In support of the campaign for funds, the band will parade in uniform Friday afternoon at 8:00 o'clock, and will give a brief concert in the business block of Garrett street, between Beeson and Winder.

Contributions are being received by women who are active in the Band Boosters club, including Mrs. T. B. Rose, Mrs. L. E. Turner, Mrs. T. L. Dale, president of the club, and Mrs. E. G. Ryster, treasurer.

REV. J. L. JOYCE AT FIRST METHODIST

Rev. J. L. Joyce, who has been discharged from the Army chaplaincy, and is now at his home here, will preach of veteran services at the First Methodist church next Sunday afternoon, the 15th inst. Rev. H. K. King, said today. He served for two years as chaplain in North Africa and Italy, during the time he suffered and ministering to them under combat conditions. He expects to re-enter the Methodist ministry this fall at the annual North Carolina Methodist Conference in Goldsboro next month.

Mr. King said his congregation counts Mr. Joyce as "one of our boys", including him in its official list of service men and women. A minister, his membership is held in the conference at large, as well as the former Mrs. Louise Powell, of Henderson, and their small son, Johnnie, Jr., are members here, where Mrs. Joyce and the two children have lived while Mr. Joyce was serving with the Army.

It is estimated that more than half of every ten children have one or more decayed teeth by the time they reach the age of six.

ESTATE HEATROLA

CABINET HEATER for COAL, COKE, WOOD

Why be satisfied with less than Estate Heatrola quality and Estate Heatrola performance? If you have several rooms or a whole house to heat, why be satisfied with a heater designed to heat only one or two rooms? Why put up with the discomfort of an ordinary radiant stove that boils your face while your back freezes—when you can enjoy the health and comfort of circulating warm air in a modern, handsome, porcelain-enameled cabinet heater?

Only the ESTATE HEATROLA has all these features:

- Fuel-Saving Intensi-Fire Air Duct
- Jointless ash box and paper-light ash-box door . . . for perfect fire control. You can hold fire for 50 hours on one charge of fuel.
- Closed base and slanting louvers to assure warm floors, freedom from drafts.

More heat from less coal

Only the genuine Estate Heatrola has the famous Intensi-Fire Air Duct that traps heat . . . turns waste into warmth.
