Record Of Elks Shown

Sam Alfred, exalted ruler of Henderson Lodge No. 1651, Exalted Ruler and Protective Order of Elks, today disclosed some fact and figures covering the work done by the order since its founding. He gave the following statement in the order's meeting.

On February 16, 1946, all of the 1,422 Elk lodges throughout the United States observed the 75th anniversary of the founding of the order, led by New York Lodge No. 1, always referred to as the "mother lodge."

Started in 1868 by a handful of New York actors, "to provide the well-being of their fellow man," the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks has become a vast, nationwide welfare organization of more than 750,000 members, a 200,000 increase since Pearl Harbor. It has no commercial or religious angles and no interest in politics.

The Elks' War Commission, under the chairmanship of the Grand Exalted Ruler, James R. Nicholson, of New York City, and the 1,422 subordinate Elk lodges throughout the country have spent prodigious effort and more than $8,500,000 in cash to perform 14 definite and vital jobs for the armed forces during World War II. Since the founding of the order, the Elks have contributed more than $70,000,000 to the public welfare. In hundreds of American towns and cities the Elks' clubhouse is the center of the town's social activity.

In an intensified program of rehabilitation which will be continued indefinitely wherever servicemen are hospitalized, the Elks are bringing cheer and comfort to the sick and wounded in more than 300 hospitals in 42 states. The needs and their fulfillment vary but the main features usually are entertainment and shows, refreshments, radio sets, phonographs, musical instruments, bed sinners (150,000 pairs to date), cigarettes, books, letters, Christmas packages, day-long fishing trips, scenic tours and other timely diversions. The entire membership has now become engaged in a countrywide campaign to help returning veterans in the present housing crisis.

A million books for the Merchant Marine, the recruitment of Leonard, of Navy Seabees, Army Engineers, Air Cadets and Nurses, and the rehabilitation of 480 Jap-imprisoned members of the Manila and Guam lodges have been other Elk war benevolences.

The Elks have had 30,000 members in the armed forces and every Elk lodge is busy rehabilitating and finding jobs for those Elk veterans who need such help. The Elks have served all U. S. and Allied service personnel in the United States with entertainment, food and lodging through 155 fraternal centers near military establishments in 37 states. Every Elk lodge in the country maintains an open house at all times for the U. S. and Allied armed forces. Hundreds of intelligent young boys and girls have won Elk scholarships in the country's various universities.

The administrative office of the Grand Secretary of the order is located in the huge Elks Memorial building in Chicago. The Elks National Foundation, under the chairmanship of Past Grand Exalted Ruler John E. Malley, of Boston, is engaged in creating a fund of $20,000,000 for new forms of welfare and educational work. The order maintains in charge of the Elks National Home at Edford, Va., where more than 300 aged and indigent Elks can spend their declining years in peace and comfort.

High on the list of immemorial good works are the activities on behalf of crippled children engaged in by state and local Elks groups. Through this activity, Elks lodges in Florida contributed heavily, during 1945, to the Harry-Anna Home for crippled children in Georgia to "Aidmore" in New Jersey, to the Betty Bachrach Home for A.M.I.C. Children and in Vermont, to the Goshen Fresh Air Camp for Crippled Children.

Lodges in many sections of the country maintain a visiting nurse service, primarily for the detection and treatment of polio cases, as well as a clinic at which children are examined free and the cost of medical care and hospitalization provided, when circumstances warrant. Supplementing all these activities, Elk lodges have donated "iron lungs" and other medical facilities to hospitals throughout the country.

Added to this work among crippled children are donations for the upkeep of other institutions. The Foundation with the aid of the state through the Minnesota State Elk Association supports a great deal of welfare work in the Mayo Clinic in Rochester. The Children's Home in Hendersonville, N. C., is aided through the North Carolina State Elks Association and the tubercular hospital at Tucson, Ariz., through the Arizona State Elks Association.

Besides carrying on medical and welfare work, the lodges and the Foundation award scholarships to deserving students who otherwise could not be able to attend college and the Foundation offers $5,000 in prizes to the nation's high school student through its "Most Valuable Student Contest."

Another educational activity of the Foundation, which was instituted during the war, is the Emergency Educational Fund. Established in August, 1944, at a Grand Lodge Session by suggestion of Past Grand Exalted Ruler Robert S. Barrett of Alexandria, Va., the purpose of this fund is to assist children of Elks killed or incapacitated during the war.

Recruitment of Seabees was a signal accomplishment in that the Elks were the one organization called upon for assistance by the navy and were instrumental in recruiting 50,000 construction men far in advance of schedule.

At present the Elks are continuing a successful drive to recruit nurses for Veterans' Administration hospitals.

One of the projects scheduled for the immediate future is the rebuilding of the Manila and Guam lodges which were completely destroyed during the Jap occupation of the Philippines and Guam. The War Commission has already spent $100,000 in repatriating interested members of these lodges and will render further assistance in the reconstruction of the buildings.

The latest activity, brought on through the transition from war to peace, is the establishment of Veterans' Rehabilitation Committees in all lodges to render assistance and advice to veterans seeking employment, housing or loans. Funds similar to the one through which the Elks made loans totalling $700,000 to 40,000 veterans of World War I without collateral, have been set aside by individual lodges for distribution through these committees.

Wade H. Kerner, a well-known businessman of Wheeling, W. Va., is the Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks and, like his predecessors, is spending his year in office visiting the subordinate lodges throughout the nation.

President Truman is an Elk, a long-time member of Kansas City, Mo. Lodge No. 26, Franklin D. Roosevelt was an Elk. Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson is a member of Albuquerque, N. M. Lodge No. 461. Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach belongs to Ballard, Wash., Lodge No. 827. Attorney General Tom C. Clark is a member of Dallas, Tex. Lodge No. 71.

Elkdom includes in its membership 49 U. S. Senators, 203 Representatives and the governors of 33 states. Admiral Ernest J. King belongs to Lorain, O., Lodge No. 1391, and General John J. Pershing answers to the roll call in El Paso, Lodge No. 187.

Relief of crippled children is a major organized activity of the Elk lodges throughout the country as are the providing of the poor with Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets, providing and equipping playgrounds and summer camps and scores of other benevolent acts. It is not to be wondered at that "BPOE" is frequently paraphrased as "Best People on Earth."

MINISTER FELT HIS DAYS SHORT; LAUDS RETONGA

Rev. Grubb Weighed Only 100 Lbs. And Needed Help To Get From His Chair To His Bed. Regains Weight; Feels Better And Stronger Than In Years.

REV. H. M. GRUBB.

Stories of minister of the gospel have given Retonga their strong and voluntary public endorsement and among the most grateful is Rev. H. M. Grubb, 604 W. Tennessee Ave., Asheville, Tenn., a minister of the Missionary Baptist church for forty years, and he is widely known throughout East Tennessee. Speaking of his experience with Retonga Rev. Grubb joyfully stated:

"A long and severe illness left me weighing only one hundred lbs., and I seemed unable to regain my strength. My appetite was gone, and what little I managed to eat brought on severe gas pains or my stomach. I made no more than a few steps. I felt like a man who had lost his strength. My strength was so far gone that I had to have help to get from my chair to my bed and I thought I was not long for this world."

"Retonga soon restored all the strength and I regained all the lbs. my illness had cost me. Since then I have taken a bottle or two of Reto an occasionally and I don't believe I have felt better in ten years than I feel now. My gratitude to Retonga is unbounded.

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to indigestion, loss of appetite, Yawning, Belch, flatulence and constipation. Except no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at Parker's Drug Store.
