Y., won first prize of $100 and grand prize of $500 in the national high school photographic contest judged at the Museum of Modern Art in the city of New York. (International Soundphoto)

Opposition Is Developing To Atomic Control Plan

Millikin Suggests Treaties Be Signed Before Plan O. K'd

Washington, June 15.—(AP)—Senator Millikin (R) of Colorado demanded today speedy Allied agreement on the long-blocked peace treaties of World War II before the United States moves to entrust any atomic secrets to international control.

Millikin saw a definite link between the future work of the United Nations Atomic Commission in New York and the outcome of the reconvened big four foreign ministers meeting at Paris, where a new effort is being made to end the stalemate on treaties.

Senators Disagree.

Chairman McMahon (D) of the Senate Atomic Committee disagreed in a separate interview. He voiced belief that atomic decisions reached at New York would have more bearing on future peace than agreements made in Paris.

Millikin, however, appeared to represent the majority trend of the committee opinion at the moment. He told newsmen he and others of like views want to be certain that the world atomic control plan proposed by Bernard M. Baruch to the United Nations group is fully tested before the United States surrenders to other hands the know-how of atomic development.

Red Paper Says Jap Land Lords Hoard Much Rice

Moscow, June 15.—(AP)—The government newspaper Izvestia said today Japanese land lords and speculators were getting rich by selling hoarded rice on the black market while United States occupation officials imported food in an effort to relieve the shortages.

The writer said Premier Yoshida was interested primarily in preserving the power of the wealthy classes and was using the food situation for that purpose, adding that the premier's method was to convince General MacArthur that food imports were necessary to prevent "social unpleasantness."

A Plea for Food

PLEADING for contributions to the New York City "hunger drive," two-year-old Faith Sherak holds out one hand while holding her piggy bank with the other. She is the youngest volunteer working for the campaign which is sponsored by the city's Famine Emergency Committee on behalf of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. Agreement Sought Anew By Ministers

Secretaries Seek To Bridge The Gap Between, East, West

Paris, June 15.—(AP)—The foreign ministers of France, Britain, Russia, and the United States resumed their efforts today to write peace treaties for Nazi Germany's satellite nations and to find a means of bridging the gap between eastern and western Europe.

The four ministers, who with their expert advisers, reconvened this afternoon at the Luxembourg Palace, are James F. Byrnes of the United States; Ernest Bevin of Britain; V. M. Molotov of Russia and Georges Bidault of France.

They will attempt to break the impasse which prevented them from writing the peace treaties at their last session here, which lasted from April 25 to May 17.

Still Deadlocked.

American circles said the ministers were just as deadlocked today on how the peace treaties should be written as they were when they left Paris a month ago.

Sources close to Byrnes said that Washington and Moscow had not exchanged any diplomatic notes on the proposed treaties in the interim between the conferences.

The U. S. has sent a draft of a proposed treaty with Austria to the other governments. The American sources said, but Moscow has not replied.

In the face of this apparent deadlock, it was problematical how long the session would continue.

Banana Harvest

THIS CHOCO INDIAN boy with silver bracelets, silver and bead necklace, and painted face, helps to transport bananas, gathered in the Darien jungle, Panama, to a river steamer for shipment to the coast. The Chocos are said to be the "wildest" tribe to be found in the Western Hemisphere. (International)

Winston-Salem Ready For N. C. Legion Meeting

Winston-Salem, June 15.—(AP)—Members of the North Carolina Department of the American Legion began gathering here today for their first state convention since World War II began.

Between 4,000 and 5,000 legionaries, many of whom scarcely a year ago were still on the battlefronts of the world, were expected to register, presenting the Twin City with its biggest accommodation problem in years.

The Post here, anticipating the huge crowd, has been busy for several weeks under Housing Chairman Charles Forte securing extra double decker beds which are to be up at the armory and a local hotel to take care of the overflow of delegates.

OFFICER IS FINED IN BRUTALITY CASE

Bonn, Germany, June 15.—(AP)—Lt. Granville Culage of Oklahoma City, was reprimanded and fined $250 today upon conviction by a United States military court of authorizing and permitting "unauthorized punishment" of American soldiers at the Lichtenfeld England detention camp barracks.

HEADS WAR PROBE BOARD.

Tokyo, June 15.—(AP)—Japan's own investigation of the war gained momentum today with the announcement of the appointment of former Premier Shidehara as president of the war investigation commission.

U.S. Fliers Will Not Testify At Trial Of Mihailovic

Col. Mrs. Durant Deny Criminal Act In Big Jewel Case

Washington, June 15.—(AP)—Col. Jack W. Durant and Capt. Kathleen Nash Durant denied through their counsel today that they "had admitted any act which they considered criminal" in connection with the Kromberg castle jewel theft.

Their attorney, Capt. Frank M. Bosworth, said in a statement that he had made a formal demand on the army for copies of charges "if any" against the couple.

If the charges are not furnished, Bosworth said he was demanding that Col. Durant and his wife be released from custody.

The Durants have been held in army custody at an undisclosed place since last week in connection with the investigation of the removal of the Hesse royal jewels, valued at $1,500,000 or more, from the Kromberg castle in Germany.

Draft Compromise Believed At Hand

Washington, June 15.—(AP)—A conference committee of Senate and House ironing out kinks in a bill to extend the draft law plans to meet again Monday and indications of a compromise in the near future.

The biggest headache is over whether to draft teen agers, but Senator Gurney (R) of South Dakota said that probably would be cured by recommending drafting boys of 18 only as a last resort, with the proviso they not be sent overseas until they are 19.

Bowles Predicts Flow Of Goods If Prices Stay Down

Washington, June 15.—(AP)—Stabilization Director Chester Bowles today predicted a "flood" of consumer goods by Christmas if "we can prevent the kind of paralysis that comes when prices are too high."

Bowles, in a radio address, made no direct reference to the pending Senate and House price control bills but had condemned as high roads to run away inflation, but he said:

"I only hope we can summon the courage, and have the vision and good sense to make the right decisions now to prevent an economic breakdown. The choice is up to all of us—and the next few days will decide."

Legislation which extends OPA's life nine to 12 months beyond June 30 but sharply curbs its authority over prices, is now before a House-Senate conference committee. It will be sent to President Truman shortly. Bowles has indicated he will urge that the bill be vetoed.

Meanwhile, early today it was announced that plans for mass picketing along the Hudson river waterfront had been abandoned. Workers were advised by loud speakers "No picket duty this morning."

Cherry Becoming Agriculture Governor

By LYNN NISBET,
Daily Dispatch Bureau

Raleigh, June 15.—The active interest Governor Cherry has manifested in farm to market and neighborhood roads, his support of the progressive development programs of State College and the department of agriculture, the national recognition accorded his speech at the recent governor's conference in Oklahoma City and other factors are combining to give him the designation of an "agriculture governor."

Just as former Governor Broughton's speech at the Baltimore conference in 1943 put him in the national eye, Governor Cherry's Oklahoma City speech has been paramount in giving him the title of "agriculture governor."

One observer explained it by suggesting that lack of else personal contact gave him better perspective and he could view the whole problem rather than one or two angles of it. From that vantage point he sees it as a business proposition, the real issue being one of marketing and distribution fully as much, if not more than, as one of production.

A governor's place in state business is usually fixed by developments during his second general assembly. If Governor Cherry succeeds in getting through a program for more adequate country roads, greatly improved marketing facilities, and more assured stability in farm income he will likely be known as a good "farm governor."
