

Bulldogs End Heavy Work For Opening Game Friday

Under dimming lights, the Bulldogs went through their final scrimmage last night before taking on Roanoke Rapids on the gridiron here tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

There has been some difficulty in obtaining equipment and in getting it set up for night play on the field, although Coach D. G. Dail reported today that it is planned to have everything in order so that the field will be amply illuminated.

Coach Dail ran the first string against the second string last night and both teams scored, showing that he will have plenty of reserve power.

This first game of the season will be a hand benefit game and the band will perform at half-time.
