

SPECIAL NOTICE.
Our friends throughout the country will be glad to furnish us with any news of local or general interest that may occur in their respective neighborhoods.
Persons calling on or writing to advertisers will please mention the GOLD LEAF, by so doing you will greatly oblige us, while it will cost you nothing.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

LOCAL LACONICS PICKED UP HERE AND THERE BY OUR EAGLE-EYED REPORTERS.

Lee Howard, the harness man, has had quite a good trade the past two weeks.

Several of our lawyer friends appeared last week in a new spring suit in court.

Mrs. Melville Dorsey, who has been quite sick for two months, we are glad to learn, is something better at this writing.

Ground has been broken for Cooper's new brick warehouse. The work of digging out the foundation was commenced this week.

Those wire goods at Miss Miller's Hardware Store are just the thing housekeepers need during this time. They are cheap enough, too.

One of our exchanges says "many a girl can trace her ruin to the wave of her fan."

More of them can trace their ruin to a May of a man.

Myo Davis, we regret, is still confined to his room. He is slowly improving now and we hope to see him on the streets again in the near future.

The wheat crop could not be better. This is the report that comes to us from every direction, and the same may be said of other growing crops.

Otis F. Smoot is back again from an extended Western tour, having visited St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville and other prominent places.

The prohibition election will take place next Monday. So far nothing like so much interest seems to be felt in the result as was the case last year.

The best tobacco fertilizers extant are always sold by D. Y. Cooper. A large lot of the standard brands now on hand—G. Ober & Son's and others.

Miss Laura Herbert, of Rocky Mount, passed through here on Tuesday, en route for Oxford, where she will gladden the hearts of the young for a time.

Our thanks are due Mr. Luther B. Edwards, of this county, for a ticket of invitation to attend the commencement exercises at Chapel Hill, June 1st and 2nd.

In the case of Knott vs. Burwell which excited considerable interest here, the Supreme court has found an error, and remanded the case to the lower court for a new trial.

Glorious rains Monday afternoon and night, and again Tuesday, coming in good time. So far this spring the "seasons" have been all that the most exacting crop could require.

The weather for some days has been most too good for growing crops. Cotton especially does not thrive under such unusually circumstances, while tobacco is retarded in like manner.

The Painless Democrat says the great trouble with American journalism is that the men who know just how a newspaper ought to be run are unfortunately engaged in some other business.

The GOLD LEAF thanks Mr. W. B. Burroughs, son of Mr. J. E. Burroughs, of Dabney, for an invitation to attend the commencement exercises of Oak Ridge Institute, May 28th, 30th and 31st.

H. E. Smith of Smith's X Roads, Mechanicsville, Va., sold a load of tobacco at Cooper's on Tuesday, of 1,124 pounds, for $106.43. Mechanicsville is coming to the front and we are glad to know it.

From Messrs. D. B. Kimball and E. L. Crocker, of this county, the GOLD LEAF has received an invitation to be present at the commencement exercises at Wake Forest college, June 7th, 8th and 9th.

The Selma News asks: "Does the Lord love the man who spends at church festivals the money he owes his washerwoman?" The News may be able to tell whether he is a Christian or not.

Dr. B. F. Dixon, of Oxford, will preach in the Presbyterian church at this place next Sunday, morning and night. A pleasant and entertaining speaker he will doubtless have good congregations to hear him.

When you go to the Racket Store to trade, if you don't see what you want ask for it. But we believe you can see as much in the general merchandise line as any place you can find, for it looks like they carry everything.

Judge Merrimon has dispatched business in a ready manner at this term of court. But there is never anything like "hurry" about him—he is simply "business," quick and ready, yet thoughtful and deliberate.

When you want anything in the line of groceries, provisions, etc., go to H. Thomson's store. He keeps a full supply on hand at all times, and they are always right in three particulars—viz: quality, quantity and price.

Wide Aster for June is crowded with stories, sketches, poetry, etc., and the illustrations are numerous and excellent. This is a very choice magazine for the young folks. Price $2.40 a year. D. Lothrop & Co., Boston, publishers.

Messrs. Finkston & Shearin have just received about fifteen car loads of lumber to be dressed and put in shape for new buildings in Oxford. This looks like our neighbor intends to rebuild her burnt district at once.

The Southern bound Tuesday's train landed at home once more our friends T. Gooch, Esq., and Maj. J. F. Harris. Both came from Philadelphia, where they have been on business, but whether of the same nature, this deponent knoweth not.

The Supreme Court decides that the railroad bonds voted in Granville county for the Oxford, Clarksville & Durham railroad are valid, and the Torchlight is jubilant and hopeful thereat, and says the road will now be pushed to an early completion.

Whatever else may happen to President Cleveland he will never know what it is to want friends to advise him how to run the government.—Fall River Advertiser.

In that the President has about the same experience as the newspaper publisher. There are plenty people always ready to tell him how to conduct his paper, and whether they were ever inside a printing office or not, they know(?) a great deal more about the business than he does.

We see from the News-Observer that the State Press Association have been formally invited to meet this year at Hendersonville. Some place in the Western part of the State will be selected.

Quite a heavy rain fell here yesterday afternoon, accompanied by some hail. For while the ice pellets, many of them as large as chestnuts, fell thick and fast. Again at night another heavy rain fell, and this morning the ground is soaked thoroughly.

A poet starts off with:
"There are verses on her lips."
We now know the name of that latter cosmetic.—Preston's National Weekly.

A mistake of the printer, doubtless. We suspect corona was meant, supposing her lips to be so often agitated another's.

The Washington correspondent of the Goldston Messenger says: Master Lex Lanier, of Oxford, a Dr. Graham Hunt and Miss Lorena Bobbitt were bound together by Hymen's bonds, in the presence of many friends. The ceremony was performed in the Methodist church, Rev. Mr. Downey, assisted by Rev. W. L. Cunningham, officiating. They left on the morning train for a trip north, accompanied as far as Weldon by quite a number of friends who then bade them bon voyage o'er this, and the rest of life's journey.

FOR RENT.—Four or five good rooms in the Young building, next to Henderson Hotel lot. Suitable for family. Terms reasonable. Apply to A. M. JORDAN, may 26.

PERSONAL.—A lady has a pleasant call from her son, J. J. Thomas, of the Louisville Times last Friday. His paper now is the only one in the county, and he deserves all the better of his people for having stayed with them and labored for their interests as he has. Every community should liberally support its local press. The newspaper is the advance guard of civilization. To strangers it means thrift, and push, and progress. A town without a newspaper is dead indeed, but a newspaper without a town has been known to exist and ultimately be the means of building up a thriving city.

A nice lot of Hackney Bros' buggies, Nissen, Piedmont and Champion one and two horse wagons, and road carts for sale at greatly reduced rates to close out. H. H. BURWELL, may 19-20.

BE CONSISTENT.—Has local opinion been a benefit to Henderson, think you? If so, go to the polls and vote to continue it; if not, then vote against it. This is a free country and you have a perfect right to exercise the privilege of your franchise as you think proper. Let there be no unkind word or feeling in the matter. Accord to others the same freedom and liberty of opinion and action as you claim yourself. Your neighbor is just as good as you are, and you are wrong because you do not think as he does as you have to condemn him for not thinking and acting with you. This is a matter for every man to decide for himself, as his judgment and conscience shall dictate.

To get a good idea of yourself, or to have an old picture enlarged and made as natural as life, at small cost, call on G. Newell, in the Art Gallery over Mr. Dorsey's store. may 19-20.

HONORS FOR A VANCE COUNTY COLORED MAN.—H. P. Cheatham, of Vance county, delivered the address before the graduating class at Shaw University, Raleigh, last Thursday, and we see his effort very favorably commented on. Cheatham is one of our most intelligent and respectable colored citizens and the GOLD LEAF is pleased to learn that he acquitted himself so well. A large crowd of both whites and blacks were present and the occasion was one that reflected credit upon the race and the institution. The North Carolina Gazette says this:

The oration rendered by Prof. H. P. Cheatham, of Henderson, on Thursday afternoon, before the graduating class at Shaw University, Raleigh, was masterly, able and cannot in our opinion be excelled. Mr. Cheatham is one of the progressive young men of his race.

Remember H. H. Burwell has the Piedmont, Nissen and Champion wagons for sale at reduced rates. Call on H. H. Burwell, may 19-20.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. Charles D. Price, of Richmond, Va., preached at the Presbyterian church in this place last Sunday, morning and night. Mr. Price is just from Hampton-Sydney college and has been sustained by Orange Presbytery to supply the churches at Warrenton and Littleton. While he is a young man, and has just commenced work in the high and holy calling to which he purposes to devote his life-service, his manner in the pulpit is natural and easy, his speech earnest and fervid, while the subject matter of his sermons showed study and research, and a logical conception of the truths as revealed in the scriptures. Altogether Mr. Price made a most favorable impression upon those who heard him Sunday, and if the GOLD LEAF is not mistaken he has a brilliant and useful future before him. We believe our Presbyterian friends at Warrenton and Littleton are fortunate in having had such a man sent to supply those churches.

Ladies look to your own interest. We are selling off our entire stock of new Millinery at half value. Call at once. Respectfully,
J. ARCHBOLD & Co.,
Directed by Miss Thomas of Baltimore.

ENLARGING A MANUFACTORY.—Marburg (Charles street, near Barre), has completed plans for an extensive brick masonry manufactory. Property 50 by 120 feet, adjoining their present building, and running in the corner of Barre street, has been bought, and the two houses now upon the ground will be removed at once. The front of the present building will also be torn down. The new structure will be 200 feet front on Charles street and 120 feet on Barre street. It will be seven stories high, with a large store with a rough rock granite and the other stories of brick, with granite trimmings. The greater part of the first floor manufacturing purposes. Large arches will be constructed on Charles and Barre streets, by which wagons may enter. The latest modern improvements will be included, including fire-escapes. It is the intention of the firm to make the building one of the best in the city. Work will begin immediately. Chas. L. Carson is the architect, and Chas. Markland the builder.—Baltimore Sun.

The GOLD LEAF is pleased to note the above, as we feel an interest in this firm, they having a sort of "local habitation" here also. Their increased prosperity means more business for our market.

Messrs. Marburg Bros. have a regular buyer here in the person of Mr. A. W. Schuam, who has been representing them a number of years. He is a large buyer for the firm they depending in large measure upon him for much of the peculiar types of tobacco for which the Henderson market is noted.

J. H. Edwards Justice of the Peace has moved his office to the Jno. De Long building, Garnett street, opposite Pogue's factory. may 26, 4.

Our genial and clever friend Maj. J. F. Harris, returned home Tuesday afternoon. That he has had a pleasant and enjoyable time since he left his smiling countenance plainly bespeaks. The Major says the National Drill was a big thing, and his friends do not know how much they missed by not seeing it. Their hearts would have swelled with joy he says if they could have seen the boys keeping step to martial music during that gala occasion. But the Major does not say anything about keeping step to any other sort of music, to which it is surmised he has been drilling while away.

MARRIED.—At Oxford, in the balmy morning of yesterday, in the happy morning of their lives, Dr. Graham Hunt and Miss Lorena Bobbitt were bound together by Hymen's bonds, in the presence of many friends. The ceremony was performed in the Methodist church, Rev. Mr. Downey, assisted by Rev. W. L. Cunningham, officiating. They left on the morning train for a trip north, accompanied as far as Weldon by quite a number of friends who then bade them bon voyage o'er this, and the rest of life's journey.

HONORS FOR A VANCE COUNTY COLORED MAN.—H. P. YOU WANT TO SHAVE.—Oscar the Barber, over Smith's drugstore, has the neatest and best fitted up shop in town, and enjoys a good run of custom. Polite, attentive, and scrupulously clean, it is a pleasure to have him wait on you. He is one of the best tonsorial artists in town, and no one has things arrier around him. If you want a shave that will make you look and feel as fresh as a daisy, give Oscar a call, and if you want your hair cut in the latest style of the art tonsorial, remember that his shop is the place to visit.

Photographs, in all styles, taken at Newell's Art Gallery. All work promptly and satisfactorily executed at very low prices. Call at the Gallery, over Dorsey's store.

SOMETHING FOR YOU, YOUNG MAN.—E. H. Light, the popular young jeweler, is always studying to please and benefit his customers. Besides the large addition of clocks and jewelry he has lately made to his already large and well selected stock, he has put in several novelties to which he invites the public attention. Conspicuous among these is an improved collar button and scarf holder—something new. He has heretofore sold something of the kind, but this is a new design and a decided improvement on the other make. It is detachable, while the other is not, the cap having two sharp points which hold the scarf in position when once properly adjusted. It can be seen at a glance that the double spike is an improvement on the single one, this preventing the cap or top of the button from turning when once inserted in the scarf. And then an improvement has been made in another novelty carried only by Mr. Light—a combination button and scarf holder for use on the back part of the collar. Formerly these buttons were plated but as they would soon corrode Mr. Light discarded such goods from his stock and had them made in silver and solid gold only. His patrons will appreciate this bit of thoughtfulness and desire to please on the part of Mr. Light.

With all the modern improvements in Photography, Newell is prepared to give you first-class work at greatly reduced prices. Have your picture taken while your spring suit is new. may 19-20.

CHILDREN'S DAY CELEBRATION.—The celebration of Children's Day by the Methodist Episcopal Sunday-school at Burwell Hill Sunday afternoon, was a very enjoyable occasion. There was a large crowd present, the hall being well filled. The singing and responsive reading of the school, and the recitations of some of the smaller scholars, was much enjoyed, while the addresses of Rev. Frank L. Reid and W. H. P. Jenkins, Esq., came in for their due portion of praise. Mr. Reid's address was practical and timely, his theme well chosen and his remarks most appropriate. We are sure there was not a young person present whose heart he did not win, nor a parent or grown person who did not feel the truth of what he said. The speech of Mr. Jenkins was very original in its nature, his thoughts wandering at pleasure through halls of classic lore, and plucking sweet flowers of choicest rhetoric from the realm of poetry, he wove them into will into beautiful bouquets of elegant diction, fragrant with the rich perfume of a well stored mind coupled with the rare gift of oratory, which he hung in garlands and chaplets about every word and sentence that fell from his lips. It is enough to say that Mr. Jenkins sustained his well known reputation as an eloquent and impassioned speaker. Altogether the exercises were of a very pleasant and enjoyable nature and our Methodist friends have cause to rejoice that Children's Day with them was spent so well and profitably.

Having moved my office to H. A. Draper's (Cloak Shop), parties wishing draying will find me there when not at home. may 19, 11. E. W. HARRIS.

Messrs. Harris, Gooch & Co., at the brick warehouse, are selling large quantities of tobacco at satisfactory prices. With one of the best arranged houses in the State, and for the highest quality of tobacco, they continue to grow. They are also selling two of the most popular high grade tobacco brands, "Durham Bull" and "Durham Bull," both brands that have given general satisfaction, and both of which they are selling cheap. Those in want of a strong pipe, or one of the cheapest possible rates will do well to give them a call. They will sell you tobacco right and let you have a guano sleep.

Watch Work.
Parties in need of work in my line can now find me in the O'Neil building, where I am prepared to do all kinds of jewelry repairing, promptly and satisfactorily. Watches and clocks a specialty. Each job guaranteed. Experience of twenty-five years. Respectfully,
DAN WHITLEY,

Drug Business for Sale.
We offer our stock of drugs, patent medicines, store fixtures, all complete for sale. Stock well selected, and carefully and competent druggist, and consists of staple goods only. Will be sold on reasonable terms. Business well established, with good patronage. A rare opportunity is here offered some person to engage in a good business in a live and growing town. Possession given at once. For further particulars, etc., apply to A. M. JORDAN & Co. may 26-a.

Big Prices for You Tobacco.
All grades of bright tobacco are selling for the highest prices of the season. We have a lively demand for all grades. Bring us a load of tobacco and we promise you top notch prices for your tobacco, and rock bottom on fertilizers, wagons and buggies. If you have a place to save money in selling or buying.

We have a full supply of Ober's Special Tobacco Compound and Raleigh Standard Fertilizer on hand again this season, and will be glad to furnish you. Low prices and reasonable terms. A large lot on hand and will supply you on reasonable terms. D. Y. COOPER, Henderson, N. C. apr. 14.

Keep Correct Time.
Having returned to my old stand in the Young building, Garnett street, with a full set of the best makes of watches and Clocks together with a nice assortment of Jewelry, Silverware, Spectacles, etc., I shall be glad to see and serve my friends and former patrons. I will sell first-class articles as cheap as anybody, and will personally and promptly attend to any repairing entrusted to me. Should be glad to have my country friends call to see me when in town, and be convinced I cannot be undersold. Remember the man and the place. Very Respectfully,
WILMOT WOOD,
WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER,
Henderson, N. C. [may 123 1]

OUR MAN ON THE OUTSIDE.

CHIPS FROM A MATCHETT.
Revenue collector Henry Perry is a terror to illicit dealers in whiskey. He catches somebody most every week.

We wish it to be emphatically understood, the party whose name appears at the head of this column is alone responsible for what appears in his space.

Late reports from the tobacco growing section are very unfavorable. The cool dry weather of last week together with an unusual supply of bugs have about demolished what has been set, while there is great scarcity of plants with which to rest. Truly the farmers are in bad luck; for three years different causes have militated against a good crop.

On Friday last week, Battle, of the News-Observer, Harly, of the State Chronicle, and Thomas, of the Times, Louisville, were all here. Gooch & Co. have had a "man on the outside" who followed them around and did his best to keep some of his patrons from being talked to death before they had opportunity of settling the little bills due this office.

Messrs. Harris, Gooch & Co., report their sales of tobacco for the two weeks ending on the 28th, as amounting to 190,472 pounds. We have no report from the other houses, but as all of the four houses here have had good breaks for this time, assuming that Messrs. Harris, Gooch & Co. have sold over half of the total amount (which we suppose about correct) it makes the aggregate in Henderson for two weeks 571,416. The entire sales for May will be about one and a half million pounds.

Mr. H. Halls of the tobacco firm of Jno. C. Mullen & Co., London, England, arrived here on the yesterday evening's mail, and is the guest of Messrs. Clary Bros., who have made his house a number of shipments, among them the first through bill of lading ever gotten from this place to England. This is Mr. Halls' first trip to North Carolina and we hope he may find it pleasant and profitable. Had he gotten here sooner, however, he could have seen a better exhibit of the "weed."

We tender acknowledgments for invitations to attend the closing exercises of the Middleburg Academy on June 14th, to the grand annual ball at Oxford on the 10th, to closing entertainment of Mr. E. G. Butler's school at Dabney same date, and to various other commencements, picnics, fishing parties, and other pleasures in which this season doth abound. We shall attend as many of them as our purse and wardrobe will permit, and trust we may meet friends who will put something in the "Missionary box."

At a prohibition meeting in the court house on Monday night last, Rev. Mr. Holden took us to task for having put in these columns "The railroad books showing areas of Morpheus we stroled through as the bar rooms were open," stating upon the authority of a railroad official there was "not more than half the whiskey" came here that did under the old order of things. Mr. Holden's authority is good, but no better than ours, who is also a railroad official with equal opportunity for knowing. The fact is, it is simply a matter of guess with both authorities, and the burden of proof devolving on the negative, we cannot admit our statement to be incorrect till the "facts and figures" are produced to prove it so.

The prohibitionists are making a vigorous crusade against bar rooms in Henderson, with a strong probability of victory. If there had been a stricter execution of the law the past twelve months, there would, we think, be but little opposition to its continuance. We regret the ministers of the Gospel have thought it necessary to enter the arena. To descend from the highest calling man is heir to, the preaching of "Christ and Him crucified" to the slims of whiskey and politics, of which we are more ignorant than of theology, will, we fear, militate against their usefulness in the advancement of that higher cause. If our views upon this subject be wrong, we at least have the consolation of knowing they are the same as those entertained by some of the most eminent divines of the day.

We had the pleasure of a short visit to Kittrell on Saturday. Reaching there on the early morning train, before many of his quiet denizens had escaped from the arms of Morpheus, we stroled through the town, coming upon some twenty-five or thirty hands gathering tempting looking strawberries on the premises of Mr. O. W. Blackhall. Extending our walk beyond the corporate limits where the perfume of the dew laden wild honeysuckle was borne upon the morning breeze, we could but moralize upon the fate, or whatever it was, that prevented the famed springs of this place from being kept open as a summer resort for the pleasure seeker, as well as the diseased in body. Here, during winter months, many Northerners make their home in the noted Davis Hotel, whose glass covered porticos and verandas make it a veritable conservatory of comfort and pleasure in the bleakest weather. Kittrell has cause to be proud of her record. She has, confessedly, the best hotel in the State; she is the god-mother of "Mazepa" chewing tobacco; her corporation is entirely out of debt; she has paid her preachers in full; she has one of them a horse in addition; she has the most flourishing and best conducted colored school in the State; and last, but not least, she pays for her newspapers. Vance county, too, should be proud she has such a town, and should foster and encourage her. Just now there is a chance to give some recognition to her worth and desert in the appointment of a County Commissioner to fill the place of the lamented Geo. H. Yancey. She, and her section, are entitled to some representation on the County Board, and we doubt not our magistrates will grant it in the appointment of Mr. Chas. H. Williams, who is not only the choice of that community, but a man of sterling worth and fine business capacity.

CUT YOUR HEAD OFF!
Dave Hawkins, the oldest barber in Henderson, has an excellent reputation in the business. His shop, over Currier's billiard saloon, is hard on and comfortably fitted up, and he gives an easy shave and a fashionable hair cut.

"The Commissioners shall annually publish an accurate statement of the taxes levied and collected in the town, together with a statement of the amount expended by them, and for what purpose. And any Board of Commissioners failing to comply with this section, shall forfeit and pay one hundred dollars to any person who will sue for the same." Code of North Carolina Vol. 11, 1883, Page 582. Sec. 3816.

The trial of John Norwood, charged with the murder of young Strum, near Townsville, some three weeks ago, was, upon his motion, continued to the next term of court. It will be remembered Norwood, after escaping capture for two weeks made a voluntary surrender to the authorities and also it is claimed there were no witnesses to the affair. Norwood will enter a plea of self-defence, while attending circumstances, together with the dying declaration of Strum, will be introduced by the prosecution.

The prettiest calicoes ever brought to Henderson, in all styles, taken at Newell's Art Gallery. All work promptly and satisfactorily executed at very low prices. Call at the Gallery, over Dorsey's store.

Harness, Saddles, &c.
At my store (in the Alley Building) you will find a complete stock of first-class harness, made Harness, Saddles, Bridles, Halters, &c. Also a large lot of collars. The only house in town that makes a specialty of harness, made. Everything warranted as represented. REPAIRING done promptly. LEE HOWARD, Mgr. T. may 19, 21.

Raleigh Standard Fertilizer.
Confidently recommended to surpass anything on the market for the price. A splendid fertilizer for fine bright tobacco. Those who used it last season were delighted with its action. A large supply on hand. Before buying call and get prices and terms. D. Y. COOPER, Henderson, N. C. apr. 14.

Their Business Booming.
Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at E. L. Smith's Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never returns. It is a large supply on hand. Before buying call and get prices and terms. D. Y. COOPER, Henderson, N. C. apr. 14.

RAISE FINE TOBACCO!
No Other Pays!!
Every planter knows it does not pay to raise common tobacco; the markets of the world are overstocked and there is not demand for it. It should be the aim of every one then to raise fine tobacco and no effort should be spared to that end. The stock of bright and fine tobaccos, are not to be sold out of present crop to supply one-half of the demand; consequently many manufacturers are using substitutes for our bright tobacco. So this will be the year for our people to make an extra effort to raise a fine crop, and in order to do this successfully, they must plan their finest lands, prepare and manure it well, and use judiciously the very best Tobacco Fertilizer they can get. For the past fifteen years no FERTILIZER has been sold upon this market that has given such flattering results and made half as much fine tobacco as Ober's Special Tobacco Compound. It has stood the test year in and year out, and never disappears. You. A large supply on hand. D. Y. COOPER, Henderson, N. C. apr. 14.
