

GOLD LEAF.

"THE PEOPLE'S PAPER."

THAD R. MANNING,
Owner and Editor.

DEVOTED TO THE INDUSTRIAL, EDUCATIONAL AND MATERIAL WELFARE OF VANCE COUNTY AND NORTH CAROLINA.

Published in the live and growing town of Henderson, in the centre of the Famous VANCE TOBACCO DISTRICT.

A weekly resume of the News, Humor and General Topics of the Day.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY MORNING

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
One copy one year, $2.00
" " 6 months, 1.00
" " 3 months, .50

PUBLISHER'S ANNOUNCEMENT.

We invite contributions on all subjects of local and general interest, views and statements upon matters of public concern, original poems, essays, criticisms, etc.

THURSDAY, JUNE 7, 1888.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

The following is the ticket nominated by the State Democratic Convention at Raleigh last week:

FOR GOVERNOR:
DANIEL G. FOWLE,
of Wake.

FOR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR:
THOMAS M. HOLT, of Alamance.

FOR SECRETARY OF STATE:
WILLIAM L. SAUNDERS,
of New Hanover.

FOR TREASURER:
DONALD W. BAIN,
of Wake.

FOR ACTING:
GEORGE W. SANDERLIN, of Wayne.

FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION:
SIDNEY M. FINGER, of Catawba.

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL:
THEODORE F. DAVIDSON, of Buncombe.

FOR SUPREME COURT BENCH:
Associate Justice, to fill vacancy caused by death of Thos. S. Ashe,
JOSEPH J. DAVIS, of Franklin.

To serve if Constitutional Amendment is adopted,
JAMES E. SHEPHERD, of Beaufort.

ALPHONSO C. AVERY,
of Burke.

FOR ELECTORS AT LARGE:
ALFRED M. WADDELL,
of New Hanover.

FREDERICK N. STRUDWICK, of Orange.

TRINITY COLLEGE is progressive.

It is traveling out of the usual ruts of ordinary "book learning."

We notice that Col. L. L. Polk, editor of the Progressive Farmer, has been invited to deliver a lecture before the faculty and students upon "The Future of Agriculture in North Carolina."

Mr. W. G. Burkhead, editor of the Durham Tobacco Plant, will deliver a lecture on "Journalism," and some time next fall Judge Walter Clark is to deliver a lecture on "Civic Duties."

Suppose we had half a dozen more tobacco factories, employing say fifty hands each, two or three cannery establishments with seventy-five hands; these operatives would make and spend here between $75,000 and $100,000 a year, say, and property would be enhanced fifty per cent. Besides this, the owners of the factories would make money, and the producers would derive a handsome revenue from the tomatoes, beans, corn, cucumbers, and other vegetables which they now throw away in tons.

A COUPLE of spirited fellows in New York threaten to resort to the code duello to settle a dispute between them. Various are the modes of "warfare" suggested by outsiders, among which are these: Broadwords at thirty paces; axes at three feet; white wash brushes and a pail of mud at two feet; garden syringes and hot water at ten paces; both jump off the top of the Statue of Liberty hand in hand; read original poetry to each other at ten paces; with a police guard to keep the peace; both sit on a can of dynamite and explode it.

DISTRICT CONVENTION.

Congressman Simmons Makes an able Speech.

The Convention of the Second Congressional District was called to order on the 24th inst., at this place, by Capt. R. B. Woodard, chairman of the District Executive Committee, who explained the objects of the convention to the delegates and two alternates to the Democratic National Convention, and the organization of the District Executive Committee.

He called John E. Woodard, of Wilson, to the chair temporarily and requested W. W. Hall to act as temporary secretary.

Woodard announced that the first business in order was the appointment of a committee on credentials.

Major T. E. Enry moved that the chair appoint a committee of one from each county as a committee on credentials.

On motion of T. E. Enry the chairman appointed T. W. Mason, S. S. Alsop and Alex. Green a committee to wait upon Hon. F. M. Simmons and request his presence.

The committee on credentials reported that every county in the district was represented, except Green, either by delegates or proxies.

On motion of Capt. R. B. Peebles the report was adopted.

The permanent organization of the convention being next in order the temporary organization was made permanent on motion of H. C. Bourne, of Edgecombe.

Mr. H. C. Bourne moved that a committee of one from each county be appointed to recommend names of electors, delegates and alternates.

He called J. A. Craven and Henry B. Bertie, C. Manly, Craven and Lenoir, H. C. Bourne, Edgecombe; J. G. Goach, Halifax; J. B. Banks, Jones; T. W. Mason, Northampton; T. L. Enry, Vance; R. B. Peebles, Warren; Alex. Green, Wilson.

At this point Mr. Simmons came into the hall and was greeted with applause, and he addressed the convention in a splendid speech which awakened the hopes of the delegates and cheered the hearts of the enthusiastic audience.

He said that the information he had from the Second District foretold success, and that the prospects were bright for the future of the State.

He in any other portion of the State hoped troubles in other parts of the State would be cured by the convention at Raleigh, he believed, in the next week.

He made no pledge in the campaign of 1888, but he has not tried to carry out. He has tried to represent the whole people and that object would continue to be his aim.

He said that he was much pleased to see the consent for colored men to rule this country, but he had all sympathy for them in every relation to treat them fairly, justly and considerately and recognize their rights.

He believed that the success of the better class of colored men and that they would again be found supporting the Democratic nominee.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

He did not believe that after twenty years of emancipation they were still slaves.

He then alluded to the tariff. He said the great question which was to-day agitating the minds of Democrats was the tariff. It was receiving greater attention than ever before.

The question is how far to reduce the tax on spirits and tobacco and how much to take off from the tariff. If the entire internal revenue is to be reduced, it can be done in many ways.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

DISTRICT CONVENTION.

Congressman Simmons Makes an able Speech.

The Convention of the Second Congressional District was called to order on the 24th inst., at this place, by Capt. R. B. Woodard, chairman of the District Executive Committee, who explained the objects of the convention to the delegates and two alternates to the Democratic National Convention, and the organization of the District Executive Committee.

He called John E. Woodard, of Wilson, to the chair temporarily and requested W. W. Hall to act as temporary secretary.

Woodard announced that the first business in order was the appointment of a committee on credentials.

Major T. E. Enry moved that the chair appoint a committee of one from each county as a committee on credentials.

On motion of T. E. Enry the chairman appointed T. W. Mason, S. S. Alsop and Alex. Green a committee to wait upon Hon. F. M. Simmons and request his presence.

The committee on credentials reported that every county in the district was represented, except Green, either by delegates or proxies.

On motion of Capt. R. B. Peebles the report was adopted.

The permanent organization of the convention being next in order the temporary organization was made permanent on motion of H. C. Bourne, of Edgecombe.

Mr. H. C. Bourne moved that a committee of one from each county be appointed to recommend names of electors, delegates and alternates.

He called J. A. Craven and Henry B. Bertie, C. Manly, Craven and Lenoir, H. C. Bourne, Edgecombe; J. G. Goach, Halifax; J. B. Banks, Jones; T. W. Mason, Northampton; T. L. Enry, Vance; R. B. Peebles, Warren; Alex. Green, Wilson.

At this point Mr. Simmons came into the hall and was greeted with applause, and he addressed the convention in a splendid speech which awakened the hopes of the delegates and cheered the hearts of the enthusiastic audience.

He said that the information he had from the Second District foretold success, and that the prospects were bright for the future of the State.

He in any other portion of the State hoped troubles in other parts of the State would be cured by the convention at Raleigh, he believed, in the next week.

He made no pledge in the campaign of 1888, but he has not tried to carry out. He has tried to represent the whole people and that object would continue to be his aim.

He said that he was much pleased to see the consent for colored men to rule this country, but he had all sympathy for them in every relation to treat them fairly, justly and considerately and recognize their rights.

He believed that the success of the better class of colored men and that they would again be found supporting the Democratic nominee.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

He did not believe that after twenty years of emancipation they were still slaves.

He then alluded to the tariff. He said the great question which was to-day agitating the minds of Democrats was the tariff. It was receiving greater attention than ever before.

The question is how far to reduce the tax on spirits and tobacco and how much to take off from the tariff. If the entire internal revenue is to be reduced, it can be done in many ways.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

He said that he was glad to see the Democratic party were tired of being driven to do the will of others against their wishes. They are thinking for themselves and want a government of their own.

OVERHEARD.

Jim. "Why, old boy, what you been doing? You look as if you'd had a regular jim-jam."

George. "Naw, I've not been having a jim-jam; but I've been in a regular jim-jam, at Davis' store."

If you are unable to keep cool these hot days take the newspaper to a shady spot, lie down in glorious ease and read E. G. Davis' advertisement.

Ship your supplies, square your sails, set your compass, and steer for Davis' store, the haven that is always open to bargain seekers. It is a friendly port, and there are no harbor charges.

At the social social the other evening the ladies monopolized the conversation by talking almost continuously on one subject. The gentlemen were rude enough to want to know what that subject was, but when told that it was Davis' tremendous bargains in Millinery which caused the excitement, they expressed no surprise. "It was just," so they said.

There was a narrow escape from drowning the other day, when a row boat was capsized, containing four young ladies dressed in light, elegant summer suits. They were fortunately rescued by their gallant escorts, and escaped with a ducking. No damage was done to their clothing, as he dresses were bought from Davis, and were made of material that will not shrink or fade in color.

Mr. Brown is the happy possessor of three little bull pups, now four days old. His friend, Mr. Kummelschatter, called the day after they were born, and remarked that they were blind. That was, of course, quite natural to pups a day old, but he called two days later and was astonished to find that the pups could see. He asked the cause of this sudden enlightenment, and Mr. B. said that he was anxious for the pups to open their eyes, so he took them down to E. G. Davis', and showed them the bargains in Millinery and Dress Goods.

There was a narrow escape from drowning the other day, when a row boat was capsized, containing four young ladies dressed in light, elegant summer suits. They were fortunately rescued by their gallant escorts, and escaped with a ducking. No damage was done to their clothing, as he dresses were bought from Davis, and were made of material that will not shrink or fade in color.

Mr. Brown is the happy possessor of three little bull pups, now four days old. His friend, Mr. Kummelschatter, called the day after they were born, and remarked that they were blind. That was, of course, quite natural to pups a day old, but he called two days later and was astonished to find that the pups could see. He asked the cause of this sudden enlightenment, and Mr. B. said that he was anxious for the pups to open their eyes, so he took them down to E. G. Davis', and showed them the bargains in Millinery and Dress Goods.

There was a narrow escape from drowning the other day, when a row boat was capsized, containing four young ladies dressed in light, elegant summer suits. They were fortunately rescued by their gallant escorts, and escaped with a ducking. No damage was done to their clothing, as he dresses were bought from Davis, and were made of material that will not shrink or fade in color.

Mr. Brown is the happy possessor of three little bull pups, now four days old. His friend, Mr. Kummelschatter, called the day after they were born, and remarked that they were blind. That was, of course, quite natural to pups a day old, but he called two days later and was astonished to find that the pups could see. He asked the cause of this sudden enlightenment, and Mr. B. said that he was anxious for the pups to open their eyes, so he took them down to E. G. Davis', and showed them the bargains in Millinery and Dress Goods.

There was a narrow escape from drowning the other day, when a row boat was capsized, containing four young ladies dressed in light, elegant summer suits. They were fortunately rescued by their gallant escorts, and escaped with a ducking. No damage was done to their clothing, as he dresses were bought from Davis, and were made of material that will not shrink or fade in color.

Mr. Brown is the happy possessor of three little bull pups, now four days old. His friend, Mr. Kummelschatter, called the day after they were born, and remarked that they were blind. That was, of course, quite natural to pups a day old, but he called two days later and was astonished to find that the pups could see. He asked the cause of this sudden enlightenment, and Mr. B. said that he was anxious for the pups to open their eyes, so he took them down to E. G. Davis', and showed them the bargains in Millinery and Dress Goods.

There was a narrow escape from drowning the other day, when a row boat was capsized, containing four young ladies dressed in light, elegant summer suits. They were fortunately rescued by their gallant escorts, and escaped with a ducking. No damage was done to their clothing, as he dresses were bought from Davis, and were made of material that will not shrink or fade in color.

Mr. Brown is the happy possessor of three little bull pups, now four days old. His friend, Mr. Kummelschatter, called the day after they were born, and remarked that they were blind. That was, of course, quite natural to pups a day old, but he called two days later and was astonished to find that the pups could see. He asked the cause of this sudden enlightenment, and Mr. B. said that he was anxious for the pups to open their eyes, so he took them down to E. G. Davis', and showed them the bargains in Millinery and Dress Goods.

There was a narrow escape from drowning the other day, when a row boat was capsized, containing four young ladies dressed in light, elegant summer suits. They were fortunately rescued by their gallant escorts, and escaped with a ducking. No damage was done to their clothing, as he dresses were bought from Davis, and were made of material that will not shrink or fade in color.

Mr. Brown is the happy possessor of three little bull pups, now four days old. His friend, Mr. Kummelschatter, called the day after they were born, and remarked that they were blind. That was, of course, quite natural to pups a day old, but he called two days later and was astonished to find that the pups could see. He asked the cause of this sudden enlightenment, and Mr. B. said that he was anxious for the pups to open their eyes, so he took them down to E. G. Davis', and showed them the bargains in Millinery and Dress Goods.

There was a narrow escape from drowning the other day, when a row boat was capsized, containing four young ladies dressed in light, elegant summer suits. They were fortunately rescued by their gallant escorts, and escaped with a ducking. No damage was done to their clothing, as he dresses were bought from Davis, and were made of material that will not shrink or fade in color.

Mr. Brown is the happy possessor of three little bull pups, now four days old. His friend, Mr. Kummelschatter, called the day after they were born, and remarked that they were blind. That was, of course, quite natural to pups a day old, but he called two days later and was astonished to find that the pups could see. He asked the cause of this sudden enlightenment, and Mr. B. said that he was anxious for the pups to open their eyes, so he took them down to E. G. Davis', and showed them the bargains in Millinery and Dress Goods.

There was a narrow escape from drowning the other day, when a row boat was capsized, containing four young ladies dressed in light, elegant summer suits. They were fortunately rescued by their gallant escorts, and escaped with a ducking. No damage was done to their clothing, as he dresses were bought from Davis, and were made of material that will not shrink or fade in color.

Mr. Brown is the happy possessor of three little bull pups, now four days old. His friend, Mr. Kummelschatter, called the day after they were born, and remarked that they were blind. That was, of course, quite natural to pups a day old, but he called two days later and was astonished to find that the pups could see. He asked the cause of this sudden enlightenment, and Mr. B. said that he was anxious for the pups to open their eyes, so he took them down to E. G. Davis', and showed them the bargains in Millinery and Dress Goods.

There was a narrow escape from drowning the other day, when a row boat was capsized, containing four young ladies dressed in light, elegant summer suits. They were fortunately rescued by their gallant escorts, and escaped with a ducking. No damage was done to their clothing, as he dresses were bought from Davis, and were made of material that will not shrink or fade in color.

Mr. Brown is the happy possessor of three little bull pups, now four days old. His friend, Mr. Kummelschatter, called the day after they were born, and remarked that they were blind. That was, of course, quite natural to pups a day old, but he called two days later and was astonished to find that the pups could see. He asked the cause of this sudden enlightenment, and Mr. B. said that he was anxious for the pups to open their eyes, so he took them down to E. G. Davis', and showed them the bargains in Millinery and Dress Goods.

There was a narrow escape from drowning the other day, when a row boat was capsized, containing four young ladies dressed in light, elegant summer suits. They were fortunately rescued by their gallant escorts, and escaped with a ducking. No damage was done to their clothing, as he dresses were bought from Davis, and were made of material that will not shrink or fade in color.

Mr. Brown is the happy possessor of three little bull pups, now four days old. His friend, Mr. Kummelschatter, called the day after they were born, and remarked that they were blind. That was, of course, quite natural to pups a day old, but he called two days later and was astonished to find that the pups could see. He asked the cause of this sudden enlightenment, and Mr. B. said that he was anxious for the pups to open their eyes, so he took them down to E. G. Davis', and showed them the bargains in Millinery and Dress Goods.

There was a narrow escape from drowning the other day, when a row boat was capsized, containing four young ladies dressed in light, elegant summer suits. They were fortunately rescued by their gallant escorts, and escaped with a ducking. No damage was done to their clothing, as he dresses were bought from Davis, and were made of material that will not shrink or fade in color.

Mr. Brown is the happy possessor of three little bull pups, now four days old. His friend, Mr. Kummelschatter, called the day after they were born, and remarked that they were blind. That was, of course, quite natural to pups a day old, but he called two days later and was astonished to find that the pups could see. He asked the cause of this sudden enlightenment, and Mr. B. said that he was anxious for the pups to open their eyes, so he took them down to E. G. Davis', and showed them the bargains in Millinery and Dress Goods.

There was a narrow escape from drowning the other day, when a row boat was capsized, containing four young ladies dressed in light, elegant summer suits. They were fortunately rescued by their gallant escorts, and escaped with a ducking. No damage was done to their clothing, as he dresses were bought from Davis, and were made of material that will not shrink or fade in color.

Mr. Brown is the happy possessor of three little bull pups, now four days old. His friend, Mr. Kummelschatter, called the day after they were born, and remarked that they were blind. That was, of course, quite natural to pups a day old, but he called two days later and was astonished to find that the pups could see. He asked the cause of this sudden enlightenment, and Mr. B. said that he was anxious for the pups to open their eyes, so he took them down to E. G. Davis', and showed them the bargains in Millinery and Dress Goods.

Strictly Pure Paints.

We call the attention of painters and everybody to our celebrated

PURE READY MIXED PAINTS,

Which we sell under the following positive guarantee

READY MIXED PAINTS,

Not to Crack, Chalk or Peel,

Perfect Satisfaction

FIRST-CLASS PAINT,

And if after THREE YEARS WEAR, it fails to meet the above requirements, we agree to furnish paint free of charge to repaint building.

THE ULLMAN & PHILPOTT

A full stock of these paints on hand and for sale by

N. F. & W. W. ALSTON,

HENDERSON, N. C.

WHEN YOU WANT

A First-class Hair cut or a Nice Smooth Shave, call at

OSCAR OUTLAW'S

BARBER PARLOR, over the Bank of Henderson, The best work of any place in town.

GEORGE JEFFRIES

Respectfully offers his services to the people of HENDERSON, as

CONTRACTOR and BUILDER.

Feeling assured that a long practical experience warrants him in guaranteeing perfect satisfaction as to work and prices. Plans and estimates furnished on short notice.

Mr. Brown is the happy possessor of three little bull pups, now four days old. His friend, Mr. Kummelschatter, called the day after they were born, and remarked that they were blind. That was, of course, quite natural to pups a day old, but he called two days later and was astonished to find that the pups could see. He asked the cause of this sudden enlightenment, and Mr. B. said that he was anxious for the pups to open their eyes, so he took them down to E. G. Davis', and showed them the bargains in Millinery and Dress Goods.

There was a narrow escape from drowning the other day, when a row boat was capsized, containing four young ladies dressed in light, elegant summer suits. They were fortunately rescued by their gallant escorts, and escaped with a ducking. No damage was done to their clothing, as he dresses were bought from Davis, and were made of material that will not shrink or fade in color.

Mr. Brown is the happy possessor of three little bull pups, now four days old. His friend, Mr. Kummelschatter, called the day after they were born, and remarked that they were blind. That was, of course, quite natural to pups a day old, but he called two days later and was astonished to find that the pups could see. He asked the cause of this sudden enlightenment, and Mr. B. said that he was anxious for the pups to open their eyes, so he took them down to E. G. Davis', and showed them the bargains in Millinery and Dress Goods.

There was a narrow escape from drowning the other day, when a row boat was capsized, containing four young ladies dressed in light, elegant summer suits. They were fortunately rescued by their gallant escorts, and escaped with a ducking. No damage was done to their clothing, as he dresses were bought from Davis, and were made of material that will not shrink or fade in color.

Mr. Brown is the happy possessor of three little bull pups, now four days old. His friend, Mr. Kummelschatter, called the day after they were born, and remarked that they were blind. That was, of course, quite natural to pups a day old, but he called two days later and was astonished to find that the pups could see. He asked the cause of this sudden enlightenment, and Mr. B. said that he was anxious for the pups to open their eyes, so he took them down to E. G. Davis', and showed them the bargains in Millinery and Dress Goods.

There was a narrow escape from drowning the other day, when a row boat was capsized, containing four young ladies dressed in light, elegant summer suits. They were fortunately rescued by their gallant escorts, and escaped with a ducking. No damage was done to their clothing, as he dresses were bought from Davis, and were made of material that will not shrink or fade in color.

Mr. Brown is the happy possessor of three little bull pups, now four days old. His friend, Mr. Kummelschatter, called the day after they were born, and remarked that they were blind. That was, of course, quite natural to pups a day old, but he called two days later and was astonished to find that the pups could see. He asked the cause of this sudden enlightenment, and Mr. B. said that he was anxious for the pups to open their eyes, so he took them down to E. G. Davis', and showed them the bargains in Millinery and Dress Goods.

There was a narrow escape from drowning the other day, when a row boat was capsized, containing four young ladies dressed in light, elegant summer suits. They were fortunately rescued by their gallant escorts, and escaped with a ducking. No damage was done to their clothing, as he dresses were bought from Davis, and were made of material that will not shrink or fade in color.

Mr. Brown is the happy possessor of three little bull pups, now four days old. His friend, Mr. Kummelschatter, called the day after they were born, and remarked that they were blind. That was, of course, quite natural to pups a day old, but he called two days later and was astonished to find that the pups could see. He asked the cause of this sudden enlightenment, and Mr. B. said that he was anxious for the pups to open their eyes, so he took them down to E. G. Davis', and showed them the bargains in Millinery and Dress Goods.

SUMMER HAS COME AT LAST.

We call Your Attention to Our Low Line of

SEASONABLE SUMMER GOODS,

Comprising ICE CHESTS, FRUIT JARS, PRESERVING KETTLES, ICE CREAM FREEZERS, CULTIVATORS, HOES, LAWN MOWERS, GRAIN CRADLES, GRASS BLADES, FLY FANS, FLY TRAPS, OIL STOVES, &c.

WHITE GOODS, LACES,

EDGINGS, FANS, PARASOLS,

SATTEENS, LINENS, SHIRTINGS, &c.

SUMMER SUITS,

COOL PRETTY AND CHEAP.

BIG LINE OF UNDERWEAR,

COLLARS, CUFFS, SHIRTS,

CRAVATS, HOSIERY, &c.

WE WILL SELL AT HALF VALUE