

bables' ilis-especially	Editor Manufacturers' Record.	Think of all the untold blessings,	right it is the first one I ever saw. I	say, there goes one of Sam Jones' hit	at such a time was regarded as hazard-	Journal, made the welcome address	Immachuna disorders-13	In your issue of August 23 Mr. T. C. Tipton, of Loudon, Tenn., asks how	Clustering around our home and hearth Think of friends and precious kindred	want his picture to show around.	dogs.	ous in the extreme and too mammoth	in behalf of the citizens' committee.	FOR THIN PEOPLE.
Frey's Vermituge	to wake a dead town. I want to say	To our hearts so dear, so sweet.	We need some daddies that will	There's a possum up the tree. Wait	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	He spoke in part as follows: "Comrades, for under the star has cured children for 50 years. Send	that I never learned of a town that did	Think of Heaven's unnumbered blessings Can you all the list repeat?	meet the dancing buck at the door	about twenty minutes longer. I'm go-	of accomplishment.	flowered flag of the Union all who	Are You Thin?
(1 2 LDrs, book about the ills and the	"wake up" until every inhabitant took	Count the Mercies. Count the Mercies.	and kick him over the front gate and	ing to smoke min out.	A visit to Piedmont Park, however,	truly love it are comrades, in the	Flesh made with Thinacura Tablets by a scientific progress. They create perfect
Lar. : Wa, Buttmore, Ed.	a financial interest in some manner,	staking oright paths for your left.	say, Good-by, John.	A little fellow says, "I'll hold you personally responsible." I'll catch	about two miles north of the center of	name of the city and the State I	assimilation of every form of food, secre-
	usually by aiding some factory enter- prise, or through advertising and con-	Count the mercies, tho' the trials Seem to number more each day.	Tou guis that don't know anything	you on my finger nail and come down	Atlanta, will dispel every doubt of the	bid you the heartiest welcome. I	ting the valuable parts and discarding the worthless. They make thin faces plump PRANCIC A MACON	tinuous advertising, not for a week, but	Count the trials too; as minus,	but to dance. You'll evaporate some	on you. That's the way they killed	realization of a degree of success sur-	have been in every State and Territory	and round out the figure. They are the day and leave some bangs and suppers	lon when I was a kid	passing the most sanguine expectations	of the Union and I can truly say that I	STANDARRD REMEDY for leanness, containing no arsenic, and absolutely
Surgeon Dentist,	diums. A good medinm costs money,	Sent to prompt our upward flight,	on the floor.	Come of you choir folke get up and	of the projectors of the Cotton States and International Exposition.	never came away from any one of them	harmless. Price prepaid, $1 per box, 6
HENDERSON, NORTH CAROLINA	but we get what we pay for every time.	As the eagle's nest, all broken, Makes them fly to loftier hights,	I like a fast horse, but a slow gal. I like a drukard better than I do a	sing "Come to Jesus," when you were	From the roof garden of the new		for $5. Pamplet "HOW TO GET FAT," free. The THINACURA Co.,
MI work in operative and mechanical	I believe the Manufacturers' Record has been and is today, doing more for the	Count them mercies which shall sever That bring Heaven within our sight.	close-fisted stingy devil. There's hope	never in a hundred miles of there your-	and modern "Aragon Hotel," which	make me proud of my country. All that I do contend for is that you will	949 Broadway, New York.
density. No charge for examination. Office Dr. Boyd's old rooms, over	advancement of Southern interests than		for the drunkard. If you get him	self. You don't know the way. You	occupies the highest hill in this hill	and here more kinds of good things
Cooper & Mitchell's store.	all other papers and magazines com-	Count them mercies which shart sever 1	sober you may make a man of him.	ought to sing "Go."	city, a magnificent panoramic view of	and more of them than you will find	The Leading Conservatory of America CARL FARLTEN, Director. Founded in 1880 by E. Totarjan NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATORY NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATORY NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATORY Send for Prospectus giving full information.
	bined. I take it and read it, and my	Causing them below to grovel,	But if a fellow's no account, drunk or	You old sisters saying it ain't any harm to dance. There's hope for you.	the city and its surroundings is af-	anywhere else on the face of the	Founded in 1880 by neighbors come and borrow it, and when they return it one would think it had	And forget our heavenly crown. Let all earthly ties be riven,	sober, the jig's up.	Cal has made special amangements	forded. All around you, spread over	globe.	NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATION MALE NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATION MALE NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATION MALE NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATION MALE been used for ten years. As a result	Ties be broken, hopes decay. If to God our souls be driven	If all hogs had bristles hair mat-	for idiots and children. I think I can	hills and valleys, just sufficiently pro-	Let the dead past bury its dead.	Inst ENGLANMUSIC.
	of the Manufactnrer's Record being in	It from earth we soar away.	tresses would go down to 5 cents a	null you through	nounced to afford pleasing variety to the topography, is the compact, well	You at least have no reaso to com-	NEW USO OF 1 Send for Prospectus
Office: In Harris' law building near	my home, I took an interest in a large	Wondrous mercies! Hollowed mercies! Urging us the heavenward way.	Money makes the filly go. It makes	I'd quit my deviltry, or I'd quit the	built, hustling Chicago of the South,	plain. You got away will as many	FRANK W. HALE, General Manager.
court house.	orchard company at Marshallvtlle, Ga., called Red Clay Orchard Co. Mine is	Second Constitution and Constitution and Constitution and Constitution	everything go that has hair and	church.	Gate City of the South, Atlanta, with	of us as we got away with you. The brave men who hav gone to heaven
de c 31-6i	only one case, for my copy of the Man-	Richer far than those of earth-	makes the bald-headed man go toler-	They say fish is good for the brain.	its wealth of well-paved streets and	long ago settled the act before that	Chichester's English Diamond Brand
DR. F. S. HARRIS,	ufacturers' Record has been the means	Jovs untailing hones and uring	ably well.	If I was the father of some of you I'd	avenues, laid out apparently regardless	court where all is made right. God	PENNYROYAL PILLS
D^{α}	of causing Northern capital to go South	Beams of light, celestial radiance,	Congress got so it couldn't pass	buy a whale and make you eat it all	of rule or plan, which join the macad-	reigns and the government at Wash-	Original and Only Genuine.
DENTIST.	to the amount of $25,000. I am an	From the central, source of light, Spreading over each scene of sadness	anything-couldn't even pass a sa-	at one time. God never made a fish with fins	amized roads that lead through the	ington lives. That should satisfy us	Druggist for Chickenters Emplish Dis- mond Brend in Red and Cold metallic
	Indiana man, and so are all my invest- ing friends. Now, there are thousands	Halos gladdening to our sight.	loon.	until He had made an ocean for it to	picturesque suburbs to the rich farming	all. If there is any more fighting to	houses, scaled with blue riblen. Take
HENDERSON, N. C.	of dollars of Northern capital lying in	Count the Mercies. Count the Mercies. Filling us with joys so bright.	When one of these dirty little law-	swim in. He never made a bird until	lands beyond.	be done, lets go and lick England and	in stamps for particulars, testimonials and
Gottice over E. G. Davis' store, Main	the banks and safety vaults not only in		yers wantows in nen men me ne n say ne s	He had made the air for it to fly in.	There is an appearance of solidity,	take Canada: lets go and lick Spain	Sold by all Long brigging. Sold by all long brigging
Street. jan. 1-a.	Indianapolis, but in all large cities, only	Let us number all our jewels Let us estimate their worth;	there as an attorney.	He never put a soul in man until He	grandeur and beauty in her public	and take Cuba: lets go and lick crea-	Sold by all Local Draggists. Philade., Po
LUNE DE DUDITIO	waiting a favorable opportunity for in-	Let us thank the Gracious Giver, Showering blessing o'er the earth.	It I was fullning a soap factory in	made a heaven for him to live in.	buildings, her hundred churches, her seminaries, colleges, numerous public	tion and make the unspeakable Turk	PARKER'S
ALEX. T. BARNES,	vestment. But those towns wanting financial aid must first show their own	Let our hearts o ernow with gladness,	hell and they brought along your car- cass, I'd tell 'em I had nothing to deor-	A puppy gets its eyes open in nine	school houses, her Henry Grady Hos-	vote the American ticket: We can do	HAIR BALSAM confidence by leading off, then the out-		dorize such a carcass.	days. There are church members here	pital, her stores and private houses,	it. Shoulder to shoulder, with the	Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restors Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures raip disease a hair failing. Bic, and $1.00 at Druggies
Undertaker & Embalmer,	side capital will follow. Let me tell	Seem a countless, boundless store,	A horse thief is a gentleman beside	forty years old that haven't got their	suggestive of abundant building mate-	world before us and old glory above, who shall stop us?	Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures stalp diseases & hair falling.
	your readers that in Indiana in seven	Then let praises—Countless praises Be our language evermore.	the man that votes for liquor.	eyes open yet.	rial near by, and looking away to the	"No surrender."	Die, and $1.00 at Drugriss
						AU Sullender.
1.2. 2.2. 2.2. Com	years' time there were raised bonuses	Province of the second statement of	I have only one objection to a sa-	Dublications Doubled by Law	east, fourteen miles across the foothills,	"No pretender,"	OCT THE DECT aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in	Hints About Advertising.	loon keeper. The same I have to a	Publications Required by Law.	the famons Stone Mountain looms up,	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray."	GET THE BEST.
	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these		loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head	The following extract taken from the	the famons Stone Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might,"
	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20,	[Printers luk.]	loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family.	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina	the famons Stone Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now,	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight."
	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000	[Printers luk.] One line well written is worth a col-	loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day.	GET THE BEST. That's the Kind I Keep.
	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000	[Printers luk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared.	loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Iones, it's no sign she's mean.	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people_the	That's the Kind I Keep.
	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex-	[Printers lnk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention—	loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people_the plain people as Lincoln called them_	That's the Kind I Keep.
-DEALER IN-	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which	[Printers luk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention.	loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes.	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people_the plain people as Lincoln called them_ to realize from Maine to Texas, from	That's the Kind I Keep.
-DEALER IN-	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which	[Printers luk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the	loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum-	the famons Stone Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain.	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people_the plain people as Lincoln called them_ to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth-	That's the Kind I Keep.
	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called;	[Printers lnk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying	loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases,	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain.	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people_the plain people as Lincoln called them_ to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They	That's the Kind I Keep.
-DEALER IN- File and Medium Grade Furniture, &c., TUCKER BUILDING,	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen	[Printers luk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything.	loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa.	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund-	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people—the plain people as Lincoln called them— to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same.	That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stand, near Dorsey's drug store, where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES,
-DEALER IN- Fine and Medium Grade Furniture, &c.,	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin-	[Printers lnk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know	loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for	the famons Sime Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarties are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus-	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the peoplethe plain people as Lincoln called them to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of	That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stard, near Dorsey's drug store where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES,
-DEALER IN- File and Medium Grade Furniture, &c., TUCKER BUILDING,	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200	[Printers lnk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it	loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week.	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 256 requires publication once	the famons Sime Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people_the plain people as Lincoln called them to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession	That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stard, near Dorsey's drug store, where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WINES,
-DEALER IN- File and Medium Grade Furniture, &c., TUCKER BUILDING,	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty	[Printers lnk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising.	 loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey 	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real	the famons Sime Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people_the plain people as Lincoln called them to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having	That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stard, near Dorsey's drug store where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WINES,
-DEALER IN- File and Medium Grade Furniture, &c., TUCKER BUILDING,	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was	[Printers lnk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary,	 loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You 	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution.	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the peoplethe plain people as Lincoln called them to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom.	That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old start, near Dorsey's drug store where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WINES, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to
-DEALER IN- File and Medium Grade Furniture, &c., TUCKER BUILDING,	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and	[Printers lnk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at-	 loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If 	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood.	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the peoplethe plain people as Lincoln called them to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in	That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stand, near Dorsey's drug store where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WINES, TOPACCO, CIGARS, & C., & C. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my bouse. My
-DEALER IN- File and Medium Grade Furniture, &c., TUCKER BUILDING,	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker,	[Printers lnk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention.	 loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper 	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the peoplethe plain people as Lincoln called them to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of	That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stand, near Dorsey's drug store where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WINES, TOPACCO, CIGARS, & C., & C. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my bouse. My
-DEALER IN- File and Medium Grade Furniture, &c., TUCKER BUILDING,	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker, whom we have with us as well as the	[Printers lnk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention. How plainly a high building can be	 loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper and pour water over you, you'd drip 	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a magistrate for his homestead.	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question of transportation is one of natural	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the peoplethe plain people as Lincoln called them to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of stalwart Americans in Georgia and	That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stard, near Dorsey's drug store where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my house. My PURE OLD CORN WHISKEY
-DEALER IN- File and Medium Grade Furniture, &c., TUCKER BUILDING,	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker, whom we have with us as well as the tiea and serpent in every town.) bought	[Printers lnk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention. How plainly a high building can be seen among small ones! How easily	loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper and pour water over you, you'd drip lye, you dirty dog, you.	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a magistrate for his homestead. Section 678 requires the publication of the notice of incorporation by the clerk.	the famons Sime Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question of transportation is one of natural prominence, and every person in any- wise interested in this exposition, every	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people_the plain people as Lincoln called them to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of stalwart Americans in Georgia and calling him "brother?" Both came	That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stand, near Dorsey's drug store, where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, VIINES, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my house. My PURE OLD CORN WHISKEY Excels anything in Henderson, the so
-DEALER IN- File and Medium Grade Furniture, &c., TUCKER BUILDING,	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker, whom we have with us as well as the fie and serpent in every town.) bought of these 100 lots, and raised $10,000 in	[Printers lnk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention. How plainly a high building can be seen among small ones! How easily a boldly displayed ad stands out from	loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper and pour water over you, you'd drip lye, you dirty dog, you.	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a magistrate for his homestead. Section 678 requires the publication of the notice of incorporation by the clerk. Section 713 requires the publication	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question of transportation is one of natural prominence, and every person in any- wise interested in this exposition, every person proposing to become an exhib-	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people—the plain people as Lincoln called them— to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of stalwart Americans in Georgia and calling him "brother?" Both came from a common origin, good old	That's the Kind I Keep. That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stard, near Dorsey's drug store, where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my house. My PURE OLD CORN WHISKEY Excels anything in Henderson, the se called Cooper Corn not excepted. All I ask is a trial, and you will be convinced. My prices are LOWER than the lowert
-DEALER IN- File and Medium Grade Furniture, &c., TUCKER BUILDING,	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker, whom we have with us as well as the fie and serpent in every town.) bought of these 100 lots, and raised $10,000 in easy payments. Two years ago that	[Printers lnk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention. How plainly a high building can be seen among small ones! How easily a boldly displayed ad stands out from the rest.	 loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper and pour water over you, you'd drip lye, you dirty dog, you. 	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a magistrate for his homestead. Section 678 requires the publication of the notice of incorporation by the clerk. Section 713 requires the publication once a week for four weeks, of the amount.	the famons Sime Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question of transportation is one of natural prominence, and every person in any- wise interested in this exposition, every person proposing to become an exhib- itor or visitor has doubtless pro-	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people—the plain people as Lincoln called them— to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of stalwart Americans in Georgia and calling him "brother?" Both came from a common origin, good old Anglo Saxon and Scoten-Irish stock:	That's the Kind I Keep. That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stand, near Dorsey's drug store, where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, VILVIES, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my house. My PURE OLD CORN WHISKEY Excels anything in Henderson, the se called Cooper Corn not excepted. All I ask is a trial, and you will be convinced. My prices are LOWER than the lowest. TERMS CASII. Give me a call.
-DEALER IN- THE and Medium Grade Furniture, &c., THENDERSON, N. C. GROUES	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker, whom we have with us as well as the fie and serpent in every town.) bought of these 100 lots, and raised $10,000 in easy payments. Two years ago that town did not circulate $1000 a month, including every store; today they pay	[Printers lnk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention. How plainly a high building can be seen among small ones! How easily a boldly displayed ad stands out from the rest. A satisfied customer is a good adver-	 loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper and pour water over you, you'd drip lye, you dirty dog, you. If you preachers will hold while I skin, we'll make hides go down in this market. 	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a magistrate for his homestead. Section 678 requires the publication of the notice of incorporation by the clerk. Section 713 requires the publication once a week for four weeks, of the amount. etc., audited by the county commission- ers to themselves.	the famons Sime Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question of transportation is one of natural prominence, and every person in any- wise interested in this exposition, every person proposing to become an exhib- itor or visitor has doubtless pro- pounded the inquiry, whether the	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people—the plain people as Lincoln called them— to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of stalwart Americans in Georgia and calling him "brother?" Both came from a common origin, good old Anglo Saxon and Scotta.Irish stock are wedded together by common in	That's the Kind I Keep. That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stand, near Dorsey's drug store, where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, VILVIES, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my house. My PURE OLD CORN WHISKEY Excels anything in Henderson, the se called Cooper Corn not excepted. All I ask is a trial, and you will be convinced. My prices are LOWER than the lowest. TERMS CASII. Give me a call.
-DEALER IN- THE and Medium Grade Furniture, &c., THENDERSON, N. C. GROUES	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annnal output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker, whom we have with us as well as the flea and serpent in every town.) bought of these 100 lots, and raised $10,000 in easy payments. Two years ago that town did not circulate $1000 a month, including every store; today they pay out in wages over $3000 per week for	[Printers Ink.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention. How plainly a high building can be seen among small ones! How easily a boldly displayed ad stands out from the rest. A satisfied customer is a good adver- tisement, but to secure the customers to be satisfied is the first problem. Ad-	loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper and pour water over you, you'd drip lye, you dirty dog, you. If you preachers will hold while I skin, we'll make hides go down in this market. Nobody but an infernal fool will deith mhickey achedy but a discent	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a magistrate for his homestead. Section 678 requires the publication of the notice of incorporation by the clerk. Section 713 requires the publication once a week for four weeks, of the amount. etc., audited by the county commission- ers to themselves.	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question of transportation is one of natural prominence, and every person in any- wise interested in this exposition, every person proposing to become an exhib- itor or visitor has doubtless pro- pounded the inquiry, whether the Southern railroads are equal to the	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in tight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the peoplethe plain people as Lincoln called them to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of stalwart Americans in Georgia and calling him "brother?" Both came from a common origin, good old Anglo Saxon and Scotca.Irish stock are wedded together by common in terest and a common destiny, bone of	That's the Kind I Keep. That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stand, near Dorsey's drug store where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, VUINES, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my house. My PURE OLD CORN WHISKEY Excels anything in Henderson, the so called Cooper Corn not excepted. All I ask is a trial, and you will be convinced. My prices are LOWER than the lowest. TERMS CASH. Give me a call. S. S. WHITTEN.
-DEALER IN- THE AND MEDIUM GRADE FURNITURE, &C., THE AND MEDIUM GRADE FURNITURE, &C., THENDERSON, N. C. THENDERSON, N. C. GRADERSON, N. C.	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker, whom we have with us as well as the fie and serpent in every town.) bought of these 100 lots, and raised $10,000 in easy payments. Two years ago that town did not circulate $1000 a month, including every store; today they pay out in wages over $3000 per week for bein alone. and another big plant is	[Printers Ink.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention. How plainly a high building can be seen among small ones! How easily a boldly displayed ad stands out from the rest. A satisfied customer is a good adver- tisement, but to secure the customers to be satisfied is the first problem. Ad- vertising will do it	 loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper and pour water over you, you'd drip lye, you dirty dog, you. If you preachers will hold while I skin, we'll make hides go down in this market. Nobody but an infernal fool will drink whiskey, nobody but a disreputable person will sell it, and none but 	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a magistrate for his homestead. Section 678 requires the publication of the notice of incorporation by the clerk. Section 713 requires the publication once a week for four weeks, of the amount. etc., audited by the county commission- ers to themselves. Section 752 requires the commission- ers to themselves. Section 758 requires the commission- ers to themselves.	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question of transportation is one of natural prominence, and every person in any- wise interested in this exposition, every person proposing to become an exhib- itor or visitor has doubtless pro- pounded the inquiry, whether the Southern railroads are equal to the emergency of handling the enormous	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in tight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people—the plain people as Lincoln called them— to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of stalwart Americans in Georgia and calling him "brother?" Both came from a common origin, good old Anglo Saxon and Scotta.Irish stock are wedded together by common in terest and a common destiny, bone of one bone, flesh of one flesh, in nation	That's the Kind I Keep. That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stand, near Dorsey's drug store where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my house. My PURE OLD CORN WHISKEY Excels anything in Henderson, the se called Cooper Corn not excepted. All I ask is a trial, and you will be convinced. My prices are LOWER than the lowest. TERMS CASH. Give me a call. S. S. WHITTEN HENDERSON, N. C.
-DEALER IN- THE and Medium Grade Furniture, &c., THENDERSON, N. C. GROUES	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annnal output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker, whom we have with us as well as the fie and serpent in every town.) bought of these 100 lots, and raised $10,000 in easy payments. Two years ago that town did not circulate $1000 a month, including every store; today they pay out in wages over $3000 per week for help alone, and another big plant is building, while new stores and dwellings	[Printers Ink.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention. How plainly a high building can be seen among small ones! How easily a boldly displayed ad stands out from the rest. A satisfied customer is a good adver- tisement, but to secure the customers to be satisfied is the first problem. Ad- vertising will do it. You can interest people while you	loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper and pour water over you, you'd drip lye, you dirty dog, you. If you preachers will hold while I skin, we'll make hides go down in this market. Nobody but an infernal fool will drink whiskey, nobody but a disrepu- table person will sell it, and none but a damnable town will license it.	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a magistrate for his homestead. Section 678 requires the publication of the notice of incorporation by the clerk. Section 713 requires the publication once a week for four weeks, of the amount. etc., audited by the county commission- ers to themselves. Section 788 requires executors, etc., to publish their annual statement.	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question of transportation is one of natural prominence, and every person in any- wise interested in this exposition, every person proposing to become an exhib- itor or visitor has doubtless pro- pounded the inquiry, whether the Southern railroads are equal to the emergency of handling the enormous travel and traffic to and from Atlanta	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the peoplethe plain people as Lincoln called them to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of stalwart Americans in Georgia and calling him "brother?" Both came from a common origin, good old Anglo Saxon and Scotta.Irish stock are wedded together by common in terest and a common destiny, bone of one bone, flesh of one flesh in nation al aspiration and fellowship. God made this continent for us and con	That's the Kind I Keep. That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stard, near Dorsey's drug store, where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WISKIES BRANDIES, WISKIES BRANDIES, WISKIES BRANDIES, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my bouse. My PURE OLD CORN WHISKEY Excels anything in Henderson, the se called Cooper Corn not excepted. All I ask is a trial, and you will be convinced. My prices are LOWER than the lowest. TERMS CASH. Give me a call. S. S. WHITTEN HENDERSON, N. C.
-DEALER IN- THE AND MEDIUM GRADE FURNITURE, &C., THE AND MEDIUM GRADE FURNITURE, &C., THENDERSON, N. C. THENDERSON, N. C. GRADERSON, N. C.	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annnal output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker, whom we have with us as well as the fiea and serpent in every town.) bought of these 100 lots, and raised $10,000 in easy payments. Two years ago that town did not circulate $1000 a month, including every store; today they pay out in wages over $3000 per week for help alone, and another big plant is building, while new stores and dwellings are going up on every hand. Moreover,	[Printers Ink.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention. How plainly a high building can be seen among small ones! How easily a boldly displayed ad stands out from the rest. A satisfied customer is a good adver- tisement, but to secure the customers to be satisfied is the first problem. Ad- vertising will do it. You can interest people while you are talking to them, but the minute	loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper and pour water over you, you'd drip lye, you dirty dog, you. If you preachers will hold while I skin, we'll make hides go down in this market. Nobody but an infernal fool will drink whiskey, nobody but a disrepu- table person will sell it, and none but a damnable town will license it. What have you preachers been	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a magistrate for his homestead. Section 678 requires the publication of the notice of incorporation by the clerk. Section 713 requires the publication once a week for four weeks, of the amount. etc., audited by the county commission- ers to themselves. Section 788 requires the commissioners to publish their annual statement. Section 788 requires executors, etc., to publish once a week for six weeks a notice to creditors.	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question of transportation is one of natural prominence, and every person in any- wise interested in this exposition, every person proposing to become an exhib- itor or visitor has doubtless pro- pounded the inquiry, whether the Southern railroads are equal to the emergency of handling the enormous travel and traffic to and from Atlanta during the period of the exposition.	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the peoplethe plain people as Lincoln called them to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of stalwart Americans in Georgia and calling him "brother?" Both came from a common origin, good old Anglo Saxon and Scotca.Irish stock are wedded together by common in terest and a common destinv, bone of one bone, flesh of one flesh, in nation al aspiration and fellowship. God made this continent for us and con secrated it to freedom. The transfig-	That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stand, near Dorsey's drug store, where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WINES, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my house. My PURE OLD CORN WHISKEY Excels anything in Henderson, the se called Cooper Corn not excepted. All I ask is a trial, and you will be convinced My prices are LOWER than the lowest. TERMS CASH. Give me a call. S. S. WHITTEN, HENDERSON, N. C. W. W. PARKER,
-DEALER IN- THE AND MEDIUM GRADE FURNITURE, &C., THE AND MEDIUM GRADE FURNITURE, &C., THENDERSON, N. C. THENDERSON, N. C. GRADERSON, N. C.	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annnal output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker, whom we have with us as well as the fie and serpent in every town.) bought of these 100 lots, and raised $10,000 in easy payments. Two years ago that town did not circulate $1000 a month, including every store; today they pay out in wages over $3000 per week for help alone, and another big plant is building, while new stores and dwellings are going up on every hand. Moreover, every man, woman and child feels the beneficial effects of the distribution of	[Printers Ink.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention. How plainly a high building can be seen among small ones! How easily a boldly displayed ad stands out from the rest. A satisfied customer is a good adver- tisement, but to secure the customers to be satisfied is the first problem. Ad- vertising will do it. You can interest people while you are talking to them, but the minute you stop the interest ceases. It is	 loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper and pour water over you, you'd drip lye, you dirty dog, you. If you preachers will hold while I skin, we'll make hides go down in this market. Nobody but an infernal fool will drink whiskey, nobody but a disreputable person will sell it, and none but a damnable town will license it. What have you preachers been doing? Shoot, Luke, or give up your 	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a magistrate for his homestead. Section 713 requires the publication of the notice of incorporation by the clerk. Section 752 requires the publication once a week for four weeks, of the amount. etc., audited by the county commission- ers to themselves. Section 788 requires executors, etc., to publish their annual statement. Section 788 requires the clerk, in cer- tain cases, to publish a notice to creditors	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question of transportation is one of natural prominence, and every person in any- wise interested in this exposition, every person proposing to become an exhib- itor or visitor has doubtless pro- pounded the inquiry, whether the Southern railroads are equal to the emergency of handling the enormous travel and traffic to and from Atlanta during the period of the exposition. This question of course has long since	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in tight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people_the plain people as Lincoln called them_ to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of stalwart Americans in Georgia and calling him "brother?" Both came from a common origin, good old Anglo Saxon and Scottal.Irish stock are wedded together by common in terest and a common destiny, bone of one bone, flesh of one flesh in nation al aspiration and fellowship. God made this continent for us and con- secrated it to freedom. The transfig- uration of blood clearly indicate the	That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stand, hear Dorsey's drug store, where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, VUINES, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my house. My PURE OLD CORN WHISKEY Excels anything in Henderson, the se called Cooper Corn not excepted. All I ask is a trial, and you will be convinced. My prices are LOWER than the lowest. TERMS CASH. Give me a call. S. S. WHITTEN. HENDERSON, N.C. W. W. PARKER, DRUGGIST
-DEALER IN- THE AND MEDIUM GRADE FURNITURE, &C., THE AND MEDIUM GRADE FURNITURE, &C., THENDERSON, N. C. THENDERSON, N. C. GRADERSON, N. C.	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annnal output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker, whom we have with us as well as the fiea and serpent in every town.) bought of these 100 lots, and raised $10,000 in easy payments. Two years ago that town did not circulate $1000 a month, including every store; today they pay out in wages over $3000 per week for help alone, and another big plant is building, while new stores and dwellings are going up on every hand. Moreover, every man, woman and child feels the beneficial effects of the distribution of money, and no one wanting work is	[Printers Ink.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention. How plainly a high building can be seen among small ones! How easily a boldly displayed ad stands out from the rest. A satisfied customer is a good adver- tisement, but to secure the customers to be satisfied is the first problem. Ad- vertising will do it. You can interest people while you are talking to them, but the minute you stop the interest ceases. It is precisely the same way with your ad-	 loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper and pour water over you, you'd drip lye, you dirty dog, you. If you preachers will hold while I skin, we'll make hides go down in this market. Nobody but an infernal fool will drink whiskey, nobody but a disreputable person will sell it, and none but a damnable town will license it. What have you preachers been doing? Shoot, Luke, or give up your gun. 	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a magistrate for his homestead. Section 713 requires the publication of the notice of incorporation by the clerk. Section 713 requires the publication once a week for four weeks, of the amount. etc., audited by the county commission- ers to themselves. Section 788 requires the commission- ers to themselves. Section 1452 requires the clerk, in creditors. Section 1452 requires the clerk, in cer- tain cases, to publish a notice to creditors.	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question of transportation is one of natural prominence, and every person in any- wise interested in this exposition, every person proposing to become an exhib- itor or visitor has doubtless pro- pounded the inquiry, whether the Southern railroads are equal to the emergency of handling the enormous travel and traffic to and from Atlanta during the period of the exposition. This question of course has long since been answered to their satisfaction by the convertion of the satisfaction by the convertion of the satisfaction by	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in tight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people_the plain people as Lincoln called them to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of stalwart Americans in Georgia and calling him "brother?" Both came from a common origin, good old Anglo Saxon and Scotta.Irish stock are wedded together by common in terest and a common destiny, bone of one bone, flesh of one flesh in nation al aspiration and fellowship. God made this continent for us and con secrated it to freedom. The transfig- uration of blood clearly indicate the will of God. Who dares dispute Hi	That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stand, hear Dorsey's drug store, where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, VUINES, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my house. My PURE OLD CORN WHISKEY Excels anything in Henderson, the so called Cooper Corn not excepted. All I ask is a trial, and you will be convinced. My prices are LOWER than the lowest. TERMS CASH. Give me a call. S. S. WHITTEN. HENDERSON, N.C. W. W. PARKER, DRUGGIST,
-DEALER IN- THE AND MEDIUM GRADE FURNITURE, &C., THE AND MEDIUM GRADE FURNITURE, &C., THENDERSON, N. C. THENDERSON, N. C. GRADERSON, N. C.	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annnal output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker, whom we have with us as well as the fiea and serpent in every town.) bought of these 100 lots, and raised $10,000 in easy payments. Two years ago that town did not circulate $1000 a month, including every store; today they pay out in wages over $3000 per week for help alone, and another big plant is building, while new stores and dwellings are going up on every hand. Moreover, every man, woman and child feels the beneficial effects of the distribution of money, and no one wanting work is idle. You say you can't do the same	[Printers Ink.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention. How plainly a high building can be seen among small ones! How easily a boldly displayed ad stands out from the rest. A satisfied customer is a good adver- tisement, but to secure the customers to be satisfied is the first problem. Ad- vertising will do it. You can interest people while you are talking to them, but the minute you stop the interest ceases. It is precisely the same way with your ad- vertising.	 loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper and pour water over you, you'd drip lye, you dirty dog, you. If you preachers will hold while I skin, we'll make hides go down in this market. Nobody but an infernal fool will drink whiskey, nobody but a disreputable person will sell it, and none but a damnable town will license it. What have you preachers been doing? Shoot, Luke, or give up your gun. 	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a magistrate for his homestead. Section 678 requires the publication of the notice of incorporation by the clerk. Section 713 requires the publication once a week for four weeks, of the amount. etc., audited by the county commission- ers to themselves. Section 788 requires the commissioners to publish their annual statement. Section 788 requires the commissioners to publish their annual statement. Section 1452 requires the clerk, in cer- tain cases, to publish a notice to creditors once a week for six weeks. Section 1452 requires the clerk, in cer- tain cases, to publish a notice to creditors	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question of transportation is one of natural prominence, and every person in any- wise interested in this exposition, every person proposing to become an exhib- itor or visitor has doubtless pro- pounded the inquiry, whether the Southern railroads are equal to the emergency of handling the enormous travel and traffic to and from Atlanta during the period of the exposition. This question of course has long since been answered to their satisfaction by the Committee on Transportation of the Atlanta Fair; but for the benefit of	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the peoplethe plain people as Lincoln called them to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of stalwart Americans in Georgia and calling him "brother?" Both came from a common origin, good old Anglo Saxon and Scottal.Irish stock are wedded together by common in terest and a common destiny, bone of one bone, flesh of one flesh in nation al aspiration and fellowship. God made this continent for us and con secrated it to freedom. The transfig- uration of blood clearly indicate the will of God. Who dares dispute Hi awful work?	That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stard, near Dorsey's drug store where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WINTERS, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my house. My PURE OLD CORN WHISKEY Excels anything in Henderson, the so called Cooper Corn not excepted. All I ask is a trial, and you will be convinced. My prices are LOWER than the lowest. TERMS CASH. Give me a call. S. S. WHITTEN HENDERSON, N. C. W. W. PARKER, DRUGGIST, HENDERSON, N. CAROLINA
-DEALER IN- THE AND MEDIUM GRADE FURNITURE, &C., THE AND MEDIUM GRADE FURNITURE, &C., THENDERSON, N. C. THENDERSON, N. C. GRADERSON, N. C.	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annnal output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker, whom we have with us as well as the fiea and serpent in every town.) bought of these 100 lots, and raised $10,000 in easy payments. Two years ago that town did not circulate $1000 a month, including every store; today they pay out in wages over $3000 per week for help alone, and another big plant is building, while new stores and dwellings are going up on every hand. Moreover, every man, woman and child feels the beneficial effects of the distribution of money, and no one wanting work is idle. You say you can't do the same thing, and can't get the factory if you	[Printers Ink.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention. How plainly a high building can be seen among small ones! How easily a boldly displayed ad stands out from the rest. A satisfied customer is a good adver- tisement, but to secure the customers to be satisfied is the first problem. Ad- vertising will do it. You can interest people while you are talking to them, but the minute you stop the interest ceases. It is precisely the same way with your ad- vertising. Too much shouting may frighten	 loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper and pour water over you, you'd drip lye, you dirty dog, you. If you preachers will hold while I skin, we'll make hides go down in this market. Nobody but an infernal fool will drink whiskey, nobody but a disreputable person will sell it, and none but a damnable town will license it. What have you preachers been doing? Shoot, Luke, or give up your gun. I'm going to tell you the truth if you lick me three times a day and 	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a magistrate for his homestead. Section 713 requires the publication of the notice of incorporation by the clerk. Section 713 requires the publication once a week for four weeks, of the amount. etc., audited by the county commission- ers to themselves. Section 788 requires the commissioners to publish their annual statement. Section 788 requires the clerk, in cer- tain cases, to publish a notice to creditors. Section 1452 requires the clerk, in cer- tain cases, to publish a notice to creditors once a week for six weeks. Section 1783 requires publication for two weeks in enforcing a mechanic's lien.	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question of transportation is one of natural prominence, and every person in any- wise interested in this exposition, every person proposing to become an exhib- itor or visitor has doubtless pro- pounded the inquiry, whether the Southern railroads are equal to the emergency of handling the enormous travel and traffic to and from Atlanta during the period of the exposition. This question of course has long since been answered to their satisfaction by the Committee on Transportation of the Atlanta Fair; but for the benefit of many who acquired their knowledge	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the peoplethe plain people as Lincoln called them to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of stalwart Americans in Georgia and calling him "brother?" Both came from a common origin, good old Anglo Saxon and Scotca.Irish stock are wedded together by common in terest and a common destinv, bone of one bone, flesh of one flesh, in nation al aspiration and fellowship. God made this continent for us and con secrated it to freedom. The transfig- uration of blood clearly indicate the will of God. Who dares dispute Hi awful work? "But pardon me. I did not mean	That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stard, near Dorsey's drug store where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WINES, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my house. My PURE OLD CORN WHISKEY Excels anything in Henderson, the se called Cooper Corn not excepted. All I as trial, and you will be convineed. My prices are LOWER than the lowest. TERMS CASH. Give me a call. S. S. WHITTEN HENDERSON, N. C. W. W. PARKER, DRUGGIST, HENDERSON, N. CAROLINA
-DEALER IN- THE AND MEDIATING GRADE FURNITURE, &c., INCKER BUILDING, THENDER SON, N. C. GRADUERS	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annnal output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker, whom we have with us as well as the fiea and serpent in every town.) bought of these 100 lots, and raised $10,000 in easy payments. Two years ago that town did not circulate $1000 a month, including every store; today they pay out in wages over $3000 per week for help alone, and another big plant is building, while new stores and dwellings are going up on every hand. Moreover, every man, woman and child feels the beneficial effects of the distribution of money, and no one wanting work is idle. You say you can't do the same thing, and can't get the factory if you would? You can't do anything unless you try. While en route South last	[Printers Ink.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention. How plainly a high building can be seen among small ones! How easily a boldly displayed ad stands out from the rest. A satisfied customer is a good adver- tisement, but to secure the customers to be satisfied is the first problem. Ad- vertising will do it. You can interest people while you are talking to them, but the minute you stop the interest ceases. It is precisely the same way with your ad- vertising. Too much shouting may frighten people, but don't forget to shout loud	 loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper and pour water over you, you'd drip lye, you dirty dog, you. If you preachers will hold while I skin, we'll make hides go down in this market. Nobody but an infernal fool will drink whiskey, nobody but a disreputable person will sell it, and none but a damnable town will license it. What have you preachers been doing? Shoot, Luke, or give up your gun. I'm going to tell you the truth if you lick me three times a day and send my dead body to my wife and 	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a magistrate for his homestead. Section 678 requires the publication of the notice of incorporation by the clerk. Section 713 requires the publication once a week for four weeks, of the amount. etc., audited by the county commission- ers to themselves. Section 752 requires the commissioners to publish their annual statement. Section 788 requires executors, etc., to publish once a week for six weeks a notice to creditors. Section 1452 requires the clerk, in cer- tain cases, to publish a notice to creditors once a week for six weeks. Section 1783 requires publication for two weeks in enforcing a mechanic's lien. Chapter 242, laws of 1889, requires	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question of transportation is one of natural prominence, and every person in any- wise interested in this exposition, every person proposing to become an exhib- itor or visitor has doubtless pro- pounded the inquiry, whether the Southern railroads are equal to the emergency of handling the enormous travel and traffic to and from Atlanta during the period of the exposition. This question of course has long since been answered to their satisfaction by the Committee on Transportation of the Atlanta Fair; but for the benefit of many who acquired their knowledge	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people—the plain people as Lincoln called them— to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of stalwart Americans in Georgia and calling him "brother?" Both came from a common origin, good old Anglo Saxon and Scotta.Irish stock are wedded together by common in terest and a common destiny, bone of one bone, flesh of one flesh in nation al aspiration and fellowship. God made this continent for us and con secrated it to freedom. The transfig- uration of blood clearly indicate the will of God. Who dares dispute Hi awful work? "But pardon me. I did not mean to be serious. This an occasion for	That's the Kind I Keep. That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stard, near Dorsey's drug store, where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WINTERS, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my house. My PURE OLD CORN WHISKEY Excels anything in Henderson, the se called Cooper Corn not excepted. All I ask is a trial, and you will be convinced. My prices are LOWER than the lowest. S. S. WHITTEN HENDERSON, N. C. W. W. PARKER, DRUGGIST, HENDERSON, N. CAROLINA MANUFACTURER AND JOBEER OF
-DEALER IN- THE AND MEDIUM GRADE FURNITURE, &C., THE AND MEDIUM GRADE FURNITURE, &C., THENDERSON, N. C. THENDERSON, N. C. GRADERSON, N. C.	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker, whom we have with us as well as the flea and serpent in every town.) bought of these 100 lots, and raised $10,000 in easy payments. Two years ago that town did not circulate $1000 a month, including every store; today they pay out in wages over $3000 per week for help alone, and another big plant is building, while new stores and dwellings are going up on every hand. Moreover, every man, woman and child feels the beneficial effects of the distribution of money, and no one wanting work is idle. You can't do anything unless you try. While en route South last month 1 noticed many idle "hands"	[Printers Ink.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention. How plainly a high building can be seen among small ones! How easily a boldly displayed ad stands out from the rest. A satisfied customer is a good adver- tisement, but to secure the customers to be satisfied is the first problem. Ad- vertising will do it. You can interest people while you are talking to them, but the minute you stop the interest ceases. It is precisely the same way with your ad- vertising. Too much shouting may frighten people, but don't forget to shout loud enough to let them know who you are, and wheae you are, and what you afe	 loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper and pour water over you, you'd drip lye, you dirty dog, you. If you preachers will hold while I skin, we'll make hides go down in this market. Nobody but an infernal fool will drink whiskey, nobody but a disreputable person will sell it, and none but a damnable town will license it. What have you preachers been doing? Shoot, Luke, or give up your gun. I'm going to tell you the truth if you lick me three times a day and send my dead body to my wife and children. I don't abuse any other denomina- 	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a magistrate for his homestead. Section 713 requires the publication of the notice of incorporation by the clerk. Section 713 requires the publication once a week for four weeks, of the amount. etc., audited by the county commission- ers to themselves. Section 1452 requires the commission- ers to themselves. Section 1452 requires the commission- ers to themselves. Section 1452 requires the clerk, in cer- tain cases, to publish a notice to creditors. Section 1783 requires publication for two weeks in enforcing a mechanic's lien. Chapter 242, laws of 1889, requires publication of county treasurer's state- ment	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question of transportation is one of natural prominence, and every person in any- wise interested in this exposition, every person proposing to become an exhib- itor or visitor has doubtless pro- pounded the inquiry, whether the Southern railroads are equal to the emergency of handling the enormous travel and traffic to and from Atlanta during the period of the exposition. This question of course has long since been answered to their satisfaction by the Committee on Transportation of the Atlanta Fair; but for the benefit of many who acquired their knowledge of the railroads of the South during a period of ten or fifteen yearssucceeding	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people—the plain people as Lincoln called them— to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of stalwart Americans in Georgia and calling him "brother?" Both came from a common origin, good old Anglo Saxon and Scotta.Irish stock are wedded together by common in terest and a common destinv, bone of one bone, flesh of one flesh in nation al aspiration and fellowship. God made this continent for us and con secrated it to freedom. The transfig- uration of blood clearly indicate the will of God. Who dares dispute Hi awful work? "But pardon me. I did not mean to be serious. This an occasion fo rejoicing, for merry making, not fo	That's the Kind I Keep. That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stard, near Dorsey's drug store, where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WHISKIES BRANDIES, WINTERS, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my house. My PURE OLD CORN WHISKEY Excels anything in Henderson, the se called Cooper Corn not excepted. All I ask is a trial, and you will be convinced. My prices are LOWER than the lowest. S. S. WHITTEN HENDERSON, N. C. W. W. PARKER, DRUGGIST, HENDERSON, N. CAROLINA MANUFACTURER AND JOBEER OF
-DEALER IN- THE AND MEDIATING GRADE FURNITURE, &c., INCKER BUILDING, THENDER SON, N. C. GRADUERS	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker, whom we have with us as well as the flea and serpent in every town.) bought of these 100 lots, and raised $10,000 in easy payments. Two years ago that town did not circulate $1000 a month, including every store; today they pay out in wages over $3000 per week for help alone, and another big plant is building, while new stores and dwellings are going up on every hand. Moreover, every man, woman and child feels the beneficial effects of the distribution of money, and no one wanting work is idle. You can't do anything unless you try. While en route South last month 1 noticed many idle "hands" lounging around stores and holding a	[Printers lnk.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention. How plainly a high building can be seen among small ones! How easily a boldly displayed ad stands out from the rest. A satisfied customer is a good adver- tisement, but to secure the customers to be satisfied is the first problem. Ad- vertising will do it. You can interest people while you are talking to them, but the minute you stop the interest ceases. It is precisely the same way with your ad- vertising. Too much shouting may frighten people, but don't forget to shout loud enough to let them know who you are, and wheae you are, and what you afte there for.	 loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper and pour water over you, you'd drip lye, you dirty dog, you. If you preachers will hold while I skin, we'll make hides go down in this market. Nobody but an infernal fool will drink whiskey, nobody but a disreputable person will sell it, and none but a damnable town will license it. What have you preachers been doing? Shoot, Luke, or give up your gun. I'm going to tell you the truth if you lick me three times a day and send my dead body to my wife and children. I don't abuse any other denomination except the Methodist. Don't 	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a magistrate for his homestead. Section 713 requires the publication of the notice of incorporation by the clerk. Section 713 requires the publication once a week for four weeks, of the amount. etc., audited by the county commission- ers to themselves. Section 788 requires executors, etc., to publish their annual statement. Section 1452 requires the clerk, in cer- tain cases, to publish a notice to creditors. Section 1783 requires publication for two weeks in enforcing a mechanic's lien. Chapter 242, laws of 1889, requires publication of county treasurer's state- ment. Chapter 580, laws of 1891, requires	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question of transportation is one of natural prominence, and every person in any- wise interested in this exposition, every person proposing to become an exhib- itor or visitor has doubtless pro- pounded the inquiry, whether the Southern railroads are equal to the emergency of handling the enormous travel and traffic to and from Atlanta during the period of the exposition. This question of course has long since been answered to their satisfaction by the Committee on Transportation of the Atlanta Fair; but for the benefit of many who acquired their knowledge of the railroads of the South during a period of ten or fifteen yearssucceeding the close of the war, perhaps it will be	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "And linked in their might," "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people—the plain people as Lincoln called them— to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of stalwart Americans in Georgia and calling him "brother?" Both came from a common origin, good old Anglo Saxon and Scoten-Irish stock are wedded together by common in terest and a common destiny, bone of one bone, flesh of one flesh in nation al aspiration and fellowship. God made this continent for us and con secrated it to freedom. The transfig- uration of blood clearly indicate the will of God. Who dares dispute Hi awful work? "But pardon me. I did not mean to be serious. This an occasion fo rejoicing, for merry making, not fo reflection. It anybody, thinks he's thinking, wake him—inc's inly dream	That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stand, near Dorsey's drug store where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, UNINES, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my house. My PURE OLD CORN WHISKEY Excels anything in Henderson, the sc called Cooper Corn not excepted. All I ask is a trial, and you will be convinced. My prices are LOWER than the lowest TERMS CASH. Give me a call. S. S. WHITTEN HENDERSON, N. C. W. W. PARKER, DRUGGIST, HENDERSON, N. CAROLINA MANUFACTURER AND JOBEER OF HEADINE, COUGHINE,
-DEALER IN- THE AND MEDIATING GRADE FURNITURE, &c., INCKER BUILDING, THENDER SON, N. C. GRADUERS	aggregating upwards of $1,000,000 in only twelve towns. What did these towns do? Why they gave this money to factories that had capital of over $20, 000,000, employing upward of 20,000 hands, a weekly pay-roll of $400,000 and an annual output of products ex- ceeding the amount of capital stock. I know a small town of 1500 souls which wanted a factory, and wanted it badly. A meeting of business men was called; fifteen were present; out of the fifteen a self-constituted committee was appoin- ted on ways and means to get up a sub- scription. One man who owned 200 acres of land offered to donate forty acres valued at $10,000. His offer was accepted, the land was platted, and within three days every person able to buy a lot (except an occasional croaker, whom we have with us as well as the flea and serpent in every town.) bought of these 100 lots, and raised $10,000 in easy payments. Two years ago that town did not circulate $1000 a month, including every store; today they pay out in wages over $3000 per week for help alone, and another big plant is building, while new stores and dwellings are going up on every hand. Moreover, every man, woman and child feels the beneficial effects of the distribution of money, and no one wanting work is idle. You can't do anything unless you try. While en route South last month 1 noticed many idle "hands"	[Printers Ink.] One line well written is worth a col- umn carelessly prepared. The ad. should attract attention— but respectful attention. Displaying everything has only the effect of killing the object of displaying anything. One-half of the world would not know what the other half has for sale were it for advertising. Let your ad be out of the ordinary, but not too much so—freaks do not at- tract the best attention. How plainly a high building can be seen among small ones! How easily a boldly displayed ad stands out from the rest. A satisfied customer is a good adver- tisement, but to secure the customers to be satisfied is the first problem. Ad- vertising will do it. You can interest people while you are talking to them, but the minute you stop the interest ceases. It is precisely the same way with your ad- vertising. Too much shouting may frighten people, but don't forget to shout loud enough to let them know who you are, and wheae you are, and what you afe there for.	 loon keeper. The same I have to a louse—he gets his living off the head of the family. If you see and old sister that don't like Sam Jones, it's no sign she's mean, but she's a fool. The troubles is above her eyes. I promised my wife to take care of her husband and T'm going to do it. Ifyou can put up with fourteen sa. loons the year round, you've got to put up with me a week. You go around and drink whiskey and says it's nobody's business. You are a liar, you scoundrel, you. If they'd put you up in an ash hopper and pour water over you, you'd drip lye, you dirty dog, you. If you preachers will hold while I skin, we'll make hides go down in this market. Nobody but an infernal fool will drink whiskey, nobody but a disreputable person will sell it, and none but a damnable town will license it. What have you preachers been doing? Shoot, Luke, or give up your gun. I'm going to tell you the truth if you lick me three times a day and send my dead body to my wife and children. I don't abuse any other denomination except the Methodist. Don't 	The following extract taken from the annual report of the North Carolina Press Association will doubtless be of benefit to county officials who may not be familiar with or comply strictly with the law in every case, and we suggest that our county officials clip this article and keep it for reference: Section 219 requires service of sum- mons by publication, in certain cases, once a week for six weeks. Section 352 requires publication of warrants of attachment once a week for for four weeks. Section 356 requires publication once a week for four weeks, of all sales of real estate under execution. Section 515 requires the publication once a week for six weeks of a notice to creditors when any person applies to a magistrate for his homestead. Section 713 requires the publication of the notice of incorporation by the clerk. Section 713 requires the publication once a week for four weeks, of the amount. etc., audited by the county commission- ers to themselves. Section 1452 requires the commission- ers to themselves. Section 1452 requires the commission- ers to themselves. Section 1452 requires the clerk, in cer- tain cases, to publish a notice to creditors. Section 1783 requires publication for two weeks in enforcing a mechanic's lien. Chapter 242, laws of 1889, requires publication of county treasurer's state- ment	the famons Si ne Mountain looms up, a solid mountain of granite, where immense quarries are operated now, but where, thirty-one years ago, grim visaged war held sway and thousands were slain, and their blood trickled over the rugged granite sides of Stone Mountain. In looking over these lovely hills and valleys, clad in the gladness of Southern verdue and yielding abund- antly to the hand of the happy hus- bandman, it is difficult to realize that it was ever the theater of war, and that the soil was literally soaked with fraternal blood. In such an undertaking the question of transportation is one of natural prominence, and every person in any- wise interested in this exposition, every person proposing to become an exhib- itor or visitor has doubtless pro- pounded the inquiry, whether the Southern railroads are equal to the emergency of handling the enormous travel and traffic to and from Atlanta during the period of the exposition. This question of course has long since been answered to their satisfaction by the Committee on Transportation of the Atlanta Fair; but for the benefit of many who acquired their knowledge of the railroads of the South during a period of ten or fifteen yearssucceeding the close of the war, perhaps it will be well to say that no comparison can be	"No pretender," "Pitted together in many a fray." "Lions in fight." "And linked in their might," "The North and South will carry the day. "All that is wanted in this great land of ours is for the people—the plain people as Lincoln called them— to realize from Maine to Texas, from Oregon to Florida, that there is noth- ing whatever to divide them. They are the same. The monstrosity of slavery out of the way, the foolishness or secession out of the way, and the nation having actually had its new birth of freedom, what but ignorance and prejudice to hinder the stalwart Americans in Minnesota from taking the hand of stalwart Americans in Georgia and calling him "brother?" Both came from a common origin, good old Anglo Saxon and Scotto-Irish stock are wedded together by common in terest and a common destinv, bone of one bone, flesh of one flesh in nation al aspiration and fellowship. God made this continent for us and con secrated it to freedom. The transfig- uration of blood clearly indicate the will of God. Who dares dispute Hi awful work? "But pardon me. I did not mean to be serious. This an occasion fo rejoicing, for merry making, not fo reflection. It anybody, thinks he's thinking, wake him—hc's only dream	That's the Kind I Keep. I would most respectfully inform the public that I am at my same old stand, near Dorsey's drug store where I have a complete assortment of WHISKIES BRANDIES, WIINTERS, TOPACCO, CIGARS, &c., &c. Nothing but PURE GOODS allowed to come in my house. My PURE OLD CORN WHISKEY Excels anything in Henderson, the se called Cooper Corn not excepted. All I ask is a trial, and you will be convinced My prices are LOWER than the lowest TERMS CASH. Give me a call. S. S. WHITTEN HENDERSON, N. C. W. W. PARKER, DRUGGIST, HENDERSON, N. CAROLINA MANUFACTURER AND JOBEER OF HEADINE, COUGHINE, ALL G. D. COUGHINE,

NANA

C0.4

ter) dis-