Small improvements have been the order of the day. Thanksgiving is past and we'll all wait for Christmas.

The children are now counting the days until Christmas. Mrs. W. F. Howland, who has been quite sick, is improving.

November was a month of smiles—the weather being almost perfect. Look over our advertising pages and see where to buy Christmas goods.

Thursday (the Turkey) made an unconditional surrender to Uncle Sam. The killing time is now at hand and some big pluckers are being slaughtered.

A number of our people will visit the Atlanta Exposition about the 17th. Mrs. Dr. Merton is in Greensboro this week conducting a revival meeting.

The turkey that escaped Thanksgiving will doubtless yield up his life Christmas. An exchange says a bloomer costume is no means suggestive of the face of the family.

As has been remarked by some writers, moderation is the silken string running through the pearl-chain of all virtues. Mr. and Mrs. Theo. H. Hill, of Halifax, spent Thanksgiving day in Henderson, the guests of Maj. and Mrs. J. F. Harris.

Mr. J. E. Burroughs, of Dabney, has just killed 5 pigs which weighed 1,305 pounds, an average of 261 pounds each. Good for friend Burroughs.

Harris, Gooch & Co. had a very large break of tobacco Friday. Good prices were obtained and the sale was conducted as smoothly as if there had been but a few piles.

Friday was an unusually busy day with our cotton buyers and tobacco men. The streets were blocked with teams loaded with the fleecy staple and the warehouses were full of the yellow leaf.

H. T. Watkins, trustee, by T. T. Hicks, attorney, advertise to sell a lot in Henderson at public auction Jan. 6th, 1896. See notice in another column for further particulars.

Look out next week for our usual holiday cards on the first page of the paper—A Visit from St. Nicholas. The announcement of a number of our business houses will appear thereon.

The song service at the Baptist church Thursday night in the interest of the Yuletide Memorial fund, was an interesting event. An attractive program had been arranged which was effectively carried out.

Sunday night at the Methodist Episcopal church Rev. M. D. Hix, the pastor, will preach a sermon on the "The Intermediate State," that is the state of the dead between death and the resurrection. Service at 7:30 o'clock.

Last Thursday the turkey supplanted the eagle in the hearts of the American people. As a nation we have much to be thankful for. The earth has yielded a bountiful harvest, and peace and prosperity abounds in our land.

T. T. Hicks, administrator of Grandson Turner, deceased, advertises to sell a tract of land in Middleburg township, containing 44 acres, by public auction Jan 6th, 1896. For further particulars see notice or call on Mr. Hicks at his office.

Dorsey has a very large stock of Christmas goods—perhaps the greatest variety and most attractive line he has yet shown. They must be seen to be appreciated. He has many novelties that can not fail to please. The prices are right too.

N. F. & W. W. Alston have retired from the mercantile business having sold their stock of goods to Mr. B. L. Abbott, who will continue at the same place. The Messrs. Alston will hereafter devote their whole time to the cotton business, as buyers.

Cards have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mennan Cooper, of Henderson, to the marriage of their sister Miss Harriette Tull Mitchell to Mr. Samuel J. Parham, Wednesday, December 18th. The ceremony will take place at high noon in the Baptist church.

Messrs. Lynnarn Barnes and Ed. G. Burroughs, two Henderson boys who during the present year have made Texas their home, will soon go into business together at Lardonia. They have been living in Tyler for some time. By the way, rumor has it that friend Barnes is soon to wed a pretty young lady of the Lone Star State. At any rate he is said to be very much in love.

Mr. John H. Taylor, one of the most estimable citizens of the county, died at his home at Woodstock Saturday. He was the father of Mr. J. ("Jed") Taylor, of Halifax, who is well known here, and an uncle of Mr. Jos. T. Jones, of Henderson. Mr. Taylor was a truly good man in every sense of the word, and his death will be a great loss to the community in which he lived.

R. M. Townes, one of our respected colored citizens, who conducts a mercantile business on Montgomery street near the GOLD LEAF office, raised three hogs in a small pen lack of his store. He killed them Monday, and sold them at home and will please to accommodate his large and growing patronage. There are larger and more showy hogs but none that are more comfortable or better kept than Massenburg's.

Cook Stoves and Heating Stoves—all styles. Tremendous sales this Fall. Old prices, no advance. They will please you. At WATKINS.

The popular favorite, Dave Loughlin, having finished his season's engagement, is again at home and will be pleased to see his friends and give them the best there is in the shop.

Eleven Trains Going South To-day. The Seaboard Air Line is doing a rushing business Southward to-day. They have eleven passenger trains including the Atlanta Special and regular mail moving in the same direction carrying the Baltimore party to the Atlanta Exposition. Nine extra trains—or as the railroad people express it, two trains running in different sections—following each other at intervals of every 20 minutes is pretty big business. But the Seaboard Air Line is equal to any emergency and never fails to measure fully up to the requirement of any and all occasions.

Beautiful Silverware. Messrs. Wallner and Cohen have on exhibition in the old Bank of Henderson building, next to W. Rowland's store, a beautiful line of silverware. These articles need only to be seen to be appreciated. And next to the quality of the goods themselves the best thing which they are sold. Auction every afternoon and evening. The ladies especially will be interested in this display of pretty things for household use and for holiday and bridal presents.

Cooper paid "stacks of money" to farmers during November and everybody was pleased. Youman's latest shapes in the celebrated "Wilson Hat" is the correct thing.

A Visitor from the Far West. Mr. Roger A. Patterson, who holds a position under the general government at Oshkosh, Wisconsin, paid us a visit last Thursday. He had come out to his old home in Halifax county on business, and ran up to Henderson where he lived previously to going West, to see friends and relatives. He went to Warrenton next day to visit a sister and left Saturday on his return to his Western home. Miss Annie Manning, Mrs. Patterson's sister, went back with him.

A nice assortment of Silverware, Knives and Forks, Spoons, Castors, Butter Dishes, Sugar Bowls, Syrup Stands, on exhibition at Old Bank Building. Auction every afternoon and evening.

Rev. T. M. Johnson. It is gratifying alike to his congregation and friends outside of it that Rev. T. M. Johnson, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church in Henderson, has been sent back to this charge by the Conference which met in Greensboro. Mr. Johnson is a young man of talent and ability, an earnest and conscientious worker and he has the respect and esteem of our people without regard to denominational bias. There is general satisfaction that he is to continue his stay and labors amongst us.

Mr. John Whitten sold a lot of tobacco at Cooper's for $328.94. He said he had lost money by not selling all of his crop there.

Elegant line novelties in Fall Dress Goods received this week at WATKINS.

J. H. Jourgans made big sales at Cooper's past week. The prices ran from $15.20, 25.30, 35.40, 50, 55 to 70. His best wrappers averaged him over $25 per hundred. Two barrels sold for $430.71. Jourgans says Cooper leads them all.

Greatly Improved. Since the new addition was built to Massenburg's Hotel and the old one renovated and remodeled, it is one of the neatest and best appointed hotels in the State. The dining room has been enlarged and a number of new bedrooms added all of which put the general and popular reputation in better shape to accommodate his large and growing patronage. There are larger and more showy hotels but none that are more comfortable or better kept than Massenburg's.

Cook Stoves and Heating Stoves—all styles. Tremendous sales this Fall. Old prices, no advance. They will please you. At WATKINS.

For a pain in the side or chest there is nothing so good as a piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. What a pleasant surprise that must have been to the sufferer. Such cures are not unusual with this remedy. In many instances only one or two doses are required to give permanent relief. It can always be depended upon for cure for lambs. For sale by M. Dorsey, druggist.

MR. GEORGE LOUGHLIN. Accidentally Killed by Falling from a Train. Sunday night Mr. D. C. Loughlin received a telegram from Chattanooga, Tenn., stating that his brother, Mr. George Loughlin had fallen from a train and sustained fatal injuries. Monday morning a second telegram came saying that the injured man was dead. No particulars were given and none have been since learned. Mr. Loughlin left on car for Chattanooga to convey the dead body of his brother to Norfolk, where it will be buried to-day.

THE PARSONAGE AT DABNEY. The Fourth New Married Couple to Occupy It. About two years ago the GOLD LEAF mentioned at a coincidence that the parsonage at Dabney was remarkable for having only newly married couples to live in it. After it was built Rev. W. L. Harris and his bride were the first to occupy it. Next Rev. E. Swain took his bride there with him when he was sent to that field, and then Rev. J. T. Dosier and bride took the house. Now Rev. William Porter and bride will occupy it next year.

Mr. Porter, by the way, is the youngest of any of the above, and is a most excellent young gentleman we are told, a man of talent who has bright prospects before him. His bride is a young lady of culture and accomplishments, and was formerly the successful teacher of music in Mr. Porter's school. On behalf of those among us who are about to cast their lot the GOLD LEAF welcomes Mr. and Mrs. Porter to the community, and will say to them that they will meet with a hearty welcome by as good people as can be found anywhere.

Our market has been selling dead of tobacco this season. November made us have had for years, and we are receiving every week the newest and nobbiest goods as they come out. We will pay you to look at our goods and prices. S. S. WHITTEN.

Our energetic and highly esteemed townsman Mr. James H. Lassiter, always a busy man, had his hands unusually full yesterday. It was hog-killing day at his home. When Mr. Lassiter kills hogs it means something more than killing a pig for barbecue. He had 17 fine porkers to butcher ranging from 169 to 259 pounds each. The individual weights were 220, 203, 169, 229, 226, 180, 217, 190, 190, 196, 209, 195, 202, 210, 210, 210. Total, 3,521, an average of 213. This is what one man does right here in town! Such practical object lessons should be an incentive to others. Mr. Lassiter's example in this as in other matters is worthy of emulation.

A Well Ordered House. "Every man to his trade" is but another form of expressing that other aphorism of like nature, "a place for everything and everything in its place." We never see the orderly and well kept hardware store of Daniel & Co. that this saying is not recalled. They have a place for everything in their line and no matter what the article called for you will come as near finding it at Daniel's as any establishment of its kind this side of Baltimore.

In the line of hardware of every description, (shelf and builders') fine pocket and table cutlery, cooking and heating stoves, sportsmen's goods of all kinds, carpenters' tools, farming implements, etc., they have a large and complete stock. Catalogue sent free. Everything the people want and selling at prices that are right it need not be added that they do a large trade.

Mr. Daniel has a strong hold on the country people, their confidence in him is well placed in his desire to give them the "best there is in the shop" for the most reasonable price always. A personal visit to the store will convince you of the merit and the justness of what we say.

Try our old mellow Corn Whiskey. It is the best Corn Whiskey on the market. Telephone 44. S. S. WHITTEN. I am "home again" and will be pleased to see my friends as of yore. R. LOUGHLIN.

Henry Wilson, the postmaster at Welshton Florida, says he cured a case of diarrhoea of his son by his brother's use of one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. What a pleasant surprise that must have been to the sufferer. Such cures are not unusual with this remedy. In many instances only one or two doses are required to give permanent relief. Monday morning a second telegram came saying that the injured man was dead. No particulars were given and none have been since learned. Mr. Loughlin left on car for Chattanooga to convey the dead body of his brother to Norfolk, where it will be buried to-day.

As many of our citizens know Mr. George Loughlin was a performer with Sells Bros' show, as is a younger brother (Will) who was seen here when the circus exhibited in Henderson October 28th. He was one of the finest acrobats and horizontal bar performers in the profession. The deceased was about 30 years old and was a quiet, companionable and clever gentleman, popular with all who knew him. He had often visited Henderson and usually spent a portion of his time here when he was not professionally engaged.

His sad and untimely end was a crushing blow to his aged father, who only a year ago was called on to mourn the death of another son, a truly handsome, noble fellow, and one of the youngest boys, also an accident.

AN INTELLECTUAL REPAST. Rev. Dr. E. M. Calisch, of Richmond, Preaches in the Baptist Church. Last night at the Baptist church an unusual spectacle was presented. The pulpit was occupied by a Jewish rabbi, the congregation being made up of both Israelites and Gentiles, the latter of course being largely in the majority. The speaker was the Rev. Dr. E. M. Calisch, rabbi of the Congregation Beth Ahabah, (House of Love) of Richmond, Va. Our Jewish fellow-citizens having no house of worship of their own the Baptist was tendered church there for the occasion. Due announcement had been made and a large congregation was present. Dr. Calisch was introduced by Mr. T. M. Pittman in appropriate and becoming manner. He began by saying that some years ago in the city of St. Louis a Baptist congregation had erected a house of worship at large cost. They had not more than commenced to use it before the structure was destroyed by fire. A Jewish congregation near by was prompt in tendering the use of their synagogue, which offer was accepted. And so it was with peculiar pleasure that the Baptists of Henderson tendered the use of their church to the Jewish citizens of the town on this particular occasion. After speaking somewhat of the history of the Jews and their civilization in the address of the world, Dr. Calisch was introduced. He thanked Mr. Pittman for his kind words and the cordial reception he had received at the hands of the people of Henderson, and made appropriate allusion to the circumstances under which he found himself in the address. A congregation of the characteristics which confronted him. He said he would observe the usual form of worship recognized by his people and began by reading passages from the Bible. This was followed by singing and prayer, and then the text of the sermon was announced. Dr. Calisch said he would speak on the subject of "Development," basing his remarks on portions of the 16th and 19th chapters of Leviticus. His sermon proper occupied about 35 minutes in its delivery and the speaker was listened to with close attention. It was an appeal for purer lives, better citizenship and a more exalted type of the well rounded man who finds favor in the sight of God.

We can not undertake to follow Dr. Calisch all through his discourse. It was pitched upon a high key and the subject was presented in an intelligent and masterly manner. He chose a high ideal and admonished his hearers to live up to it. Those who heard him thoroughly enjoyed his sermon. It was an intellectual treat and highly spoken of by many of our best and most intelligent people.

Dr. Calisch is a very able man and occupies a prominent and conspicuous position in the ministry and society of Richmond. He is quite a young man and in this many of our citizens were much surprised. For a man of his reputation they naturally took him to be considerably older. Dr. Calisch is a man of profound culture, broad charity and liberal views, popular alike with all of all races and sects as well as his own.

Dr. Calisch was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lehman while in Henderson, whose entertainment we may not doubt contributed much to his good impression of Henderson and people on his first visit to our town.

SELFISH MEN think more of their clothes than they do of their friends. They don't cultivate their friends, so their friends don't bother to tell them whether their clothes look well or not. Whether you are selfish or not you should cultivate us and you'll find us true friends. For we'll tell you frankly which one of a lot of suits is the most becoming to you, regardless of the price—which will be low enough in any case. SAMUEL WATKINS, SUCCESSOR TO S. & C.
