THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1896.

Ex-Gov. Fitzburgh Lee, of Virginia, has been nominated to be Consul General at Havana, Cuba, vice Raymond O. Williams, resigned. The appointment was another of President Cleveland's surprises.

THE Burlington Evening News had the best executed cut and most correct likeness of ex- Gov. Holt that we have seen in any of our State exchanges. Editor Hunt has a faculty of "getting there" in any effort he undertakes.

ACCORDING to what purports to be a confession made by H. H. Holmes, in Philadelphia, he owns up to twenty-seven murders. As he can be hung but once, this puts him just twentyseven ahead of the game.

IT is not believed that President Cleveland will take any action favorable to Cuban independence by issuing a proclamation recognizing the belligerency of the Insurgents. Strong pressure is being brought to bear upon him by the "commercial interests" of New York which means Wall street influence, against it. And that settles the ques-

By unanimous vote the Elections Committee of the House decided the contested election case of H. P. Cheatham against F. A. Woodard, from the Second Congressional district, in favor of Mr. Woodard, the sitting member. Many of our readers know the contestant Cheatham, who is a colored man he having lived in Henderson befor Vance county was taken from the Second and put into the Fourth district. In this as in other efforts of the kind Editor Harman and his able assistant Mr. H. W. Kronheimer did themselves proud. The Richmond Tobacconist says this of

It is greatly to the credit of any man that this may be said about him after he has passed away. We had no personal acquaintance with Mr. Pope but find much in his life and character to admire, as gathered from the papers since his death, and shall honor his memory as one who loved his fellowman and did much to help them and to better their condition in life.

A DESERVED PROMOTION.

It is very gratifying to the GOLD EAF to note the recent promotion of Mr. John D. Potts, division passenger agent of Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, to the office of assistant general passenger agent of that popular, pleasant and picturesque route. Mr. Potts will continue to have his headquarters in Richmond as heretofore. The promotion is a deserved one, having been gained through merit alone. Mr Potts is still a young man in years but an old one in experience and ability in railroading. He has a host of friends in this State and throughout Virginia who will hear with pleasure of hi advancement in the profession fo which he has shown such aptitude and

DEATH OF EX-GOV. HOLT.

Ex-Gov. Thomas M. Holt died at his home at Haw River Saturday afternoon. He had been in declining health some time and for a week or more his death had been momentarily expected. But notwithstanding this the news of his passing away was shock to the people of the State whom he loved and has served so well and faithfully. Wise and practical as was his administration as Chief Executive, it was perhaps as a successful business man of affairs, -farmer, merchant and manufacturer-that Thos. M. Holt il lustrated the highest virtues of usefulness to his fellow man. As the Char lotte Observer well says: "North Carolina never had a better Governor. In his private and public life his wall was blameless. His soul was pure and his hands were clean.'

Dr. Kingsbury, of the Wilmington Messenger, pays the following thought ful and accurate tribute to the worth and character of Gov. Holt:

Covernor Holt made a satisfactory State Executive, and made himself popular throughout North Carolina by his business-like administration his uniform urbanity. He was not superior man intellectually, nor THE State Democratic Executive high cultivation, but was a thoroughly was a genuine North Carolinian, was public-spirited and ready to co-operate in promoting the best interests of resources of the State. He was really a valuable and useful citizen, and commanded the respect and confidence of his party and of all who knew his record and understood the man. His death deprives the State of a patriotic and devoted citizen, who was ever afive to her good name and best intersis. He leaves a wife and many children to sorrow over his demise, and a great many personal friends who will newspapers, perhaps a majority in the be grieved to hear of his death.

The Late Ex-Gov. T. M. Holt.

North Carolina never lost a better man than when ex-Governor Thomas M. Holt passed to his last rest at his home in Haw River on Saturday afternoon. The whole State mourns his loss, and we do not believe a man has same terms were accepted by all ever lived in the State who has enjoyed the other papers. THE AMERICAN TOBACCO CO'S AD

AND ADVERTISING RATES. We note what our esteemed friend Mr. R. R. Clark, of the Statesville Landmark, says under the above head. ing. Although the main point at issue (that of demanding a fair price for advertising space) was covered in what we wrote last week, courtesy to our friend and justice to ourself demand that we allude to the matter once more. Editor Clark is mistaken when he says we are disturbed because so many of our contemporaries are carrying the of the American Tobacco Compa-On the contrary, we have no objection, if it is carried at a rate suf ficiently high, as in the case of the Landmark. If there is one trait that characterizes the make-up of this wri ter above another, it is that of unself ishness. We wish to see every newspaper succeed. We want to see every portion of North Carolina prosperous. We delight to speak in commendation of the efforts and achievements of oth ers. If they accou plish anything worthy of praise the GOLD LEAF is quick to recognize the fact and ready to applaud the act. We do not sit and sulk and say nothing when a praiseworthy feat in journalism is performed merely because we did not do it. And so any intimation that we were actuated in what was said about this matter from a spirit of selfishrfess falls flat-as un worthy of the man who utters it as should be beneath our notice.

It was purely in the interest and welfare of our brethren of the press-the protection of such papers as the Statesville Landmark itself, whose publisher recognizes in letter and spirit the code of honest journalism and adopts no method outside of legitimate business principles-that we have said what we have, as much as for the benefit of the fellow who takes anything and everything that comes along regardless of price or consequences to himself or others. If in this way we jud_ment, of much energy and large and cause them to stand up for their rights or make them ashamed to acsome, then we shall not have written in vain, although in so doing we may not have the approbation of our esteemed Statesville contemporary whose good opinion we value so highly.

> That there is cause for such writing now and then (and if the press of the State was more united along this line it would be so much the better) we have Brother Clark's own admission to bear us out. Hear him:

We agree with Mr. Manning that many State, take foreign advertising at ruinously low rates. But not all them do The Landmark certainly does not. The ad, in question was offered us for about half what we thought it worth. W named a rate at which we would take i and the offer was accepted. That rate we regard sufficiently high. We are satisfied with it and the conditions of the contract. Had we not been we would not have accepted the proposition, for we turn down offers almost daily simply because the advertising agents will not

We have never said that this ad was accepted by all of the papers at lower rates than it should have been. Nor have we charged that "perhaps a marates." But Brother Clark sees us one better and goes that far. We know a great many that do not, and what we want to see is for it to be said in truth will never be, but that is no reason why we may not wish for and work Powell.

for such a consummation The Landmark says that because the price offered us was not satisfactory it is unfair to charge that the friend do us injustice. We have not pers that we were prepared to except,

What we did say was that we had reason to believe many papers print this advertisement for almost nothing -at a much lower price than they manufacturer for the same space." osition was sent out to the new-papers same time they did us. The price ofwhen the matter was dropped the order being cancelled on account of the special position demanded.

But we do not know that the offer made them was no higher than the price named to us, you say. Very true, but knowing the manner of men who made it as well as some who accepted it, as we do, it is fair to presume there was not such a wide difference as to justify its being taken on sight. We confess, however, that such presumption is not in itself sufficient. There was yet another "reason" that we had for saying what we did. We have the word of the advertisers themselves that the offer made us (of $30.00,) was accepted by many papers of the same class as the GOLD LEAF. And even at $60.00 they admit, in a letter to us after the matter had been closed, that when they failed to deal with us they lost a small profit that there would have been in the transaction had the advertising gone into our paper. That they spoke truthfully in each instance we do not question, for we have the word of our friend Clark himself that they are reputable gentlemen - or words of equal

This is why we said what we did. We wrote with an eye single to the betterment of the newspaper business in North Caroilna, and not because we are "disturbed" about this or any other patronage secured by any of our brethren of the press. Neither was it be. cause we delight to jump on and "cuss" out advertising agents or any one else. That is not our nature. We find more pleasure in saying kind and complimentary things of a person than we do in words of criticism or abuse.

A word about the advertisement in this paper of which Editor Clark speaks, and we dismiss the subject: We do not get that through an agent. It is placed direct, and we were corresponding two months before the bus. iness was got in an acceptable shape. We had run the advertisement before, and when it was sought to renew the equipped man of affairs, of sound tices of these foreign advertising agents and less pay offered. Of course we didn't accept. As it appears paper it occupies less space than the cept business on the terms proposed by old one did and we get the same money for it. With the exception of the Goldsboro Headlight, Wilson Advance and a few other papers, we are running the smallest one of these ads appearing in the papers of this State.

Tarboro, N. C. Dear Sir-In answer to your inquiry about the Orinoco guano I will say I used it under tobacco, planted on very poor land. I used about 800 lbs. of the guano with a little cottonseed meal, and I have never seen such fine tobacco beforeone row through the middle of the field, by accident failed to get any guano, and while the other tobacco grew as high as your shoulders the skipped row was hardly 12 inches high. I did not have enough Orinoco for all my crop and finished up with another brand and the difference in favor of Orinoco was very great. The other brand was higher priced. Yours respectfully, F. M. There is not a more familiar figure on the streets of Atlanta than the man whose picture is here shown. Every body knows him by sight and it will be rememb red that years ago he began to wear ou his upper lip, just under his nose, a small piece of court plaster, not larger than a silver half dime though it gradually increased in size, as everybody knows, until it was as arre as a silver dollar. This man is M. M. Nicholson, who resides at the corner of Anderson and Curran Sts. It was thirty years ago, that he first noticed a tiny scale, like a piece of whent bran, on his lip. He at firstthought it only a fever blister, but it was not long before his cheeks became diseased and painful to the touch, and he soon realized that he had fallen a victim to first most dreadful disease-Cancer. It rapidly increased in size and severity, and remembering that his father had cancer when he died, and that his uncle also lost his life by this terrible disease, which destroye his tongue, throat and left eye, Mr Nicholson became thoroughly alarmed, Giving up entirely his business, he wards treated in Elmira, New York, where the cancer was twice removed, able to such treatment. It returned however, and the disease seemed to be of a most virulent type; the doctors afforded absolutely no relief, the cancer spreading all the time, eating out entirely the partition in the nose, as well as the upper lip and gums.

"Some months ago," he says, "I began to use S. S. S., though I admit with ittle faith that it could cure me, but to my surprise, a few bottles afforded some relief. Thus encouraged, I determined to give the medicine a thorough trial, and it was not long before the progress of the disease seemed checked. I can talk more distinctly, for the flesh has begun to grow back around my teeth, where it has been literally eaten away. S. S.
