Following these came the groom with his best man, Mr. Henry Macy, from the right, and the bride-elect accompanied by her sister, Miss Fannie Watkins, as maid of honor. Meeting at the altar the couple joined hands and in a most beautiful and impressive manner the words that united their young lives in the sacred ties of matrimony were pronounced by the officiating clergyman, Rev. A. R. Shaw.

A lovelier scene has not been looked upon in Henderson. The bride wore a lovely gown of white silk, en train, with flowing veil fastened with orange blossoms, and carried a magnificent bouquet of bride's roses. The maid of honor and bridesmaids were attired in white while the gentlemen appeared in full evening dress.

Miss Fanny Burton was organist, and never did she preside with greater skill and grace. From church the bridal party re-paired to the residence of the bride's Turner avenue, where an elegant reception was given them. This was one of the most charming and enjoyable features of the kind and an event long to be remembered by those The bride and groom are among Henderson's best known and most worthy and popular young yeople. Mrs. Rowland is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Watkins, as lovely in character as she is charmstomach it comes like a balm, the wind is | ing in person. Mr. Rowland is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Rowland, and is one of the valand no one should be without it in his | ued and trusted employes of the Seathe marriage relation both have a host of friends and well wishers who trust that long life and happiness may be vouched safe to them. The gifts to the bride were numer ous and handsome. In almost every neighborhood there is some one whose life has been saved by Best Brick In The State Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, or who has been cured of chronic diarrhoea by the use of that medicine. Such persons make a point of telling of it whenever opportunity offers, hoping that it may be the means of sav-ing other lives. For sale by Dorsey
