THURSDAY, AUG. 23, 1900.

AND now it is positively asserted that Butler will support Bryan and not McKinley. Too bad.

THE foreign Ministers at Pekin, who have been several times murdered and otherwise subjected to various and sundry indignities of a most atrocious and inhuman nature, have been relieved. This is official.

CALEB POWERS, prominent Republican politician and late Secretary of State, has been convicted of complicity in the murder of Gov. Goebel. of Kentucky, and sentenced to imprisonment for life.

Ex-UNITED States Senator John J Ingalls, of Kansas, died at Las Vegas, New Mexico, last Thursday. He had been afflicted with a complicated throat trouble for more than a year and was traveling in New Mexico for his health at the time.

THE MAN WE HONOR TO-DAY.

To-day the thoughts and the heartfelt sympathies of good people throughout this great commonwealth are turned toward this capital city The day and the hour for the unveiling of a statue -a figurative reminder in bronze for future generations-of him whom the great body of his people loved and honored throughout his life, and whose virtues will live to inspire those yet unborn, have come. Of the services incident to this important and interesting event it is not our purpose to speak now. To the representatives of the people gathered around the memorial to-day will be spoken words which fittingly portray the greatness of the man, his virtues and his love for and devotion to his people. We simply wish to quote today, as peculiarly appropriate and important beyond the occasion of the ceremonies of the unveiling, a few words which emphasize that trait in Governor Vance which commanded Legislature that was elected with for him the confidence and love of his fellow citizens, and inspire their veneration now
