

Advertising Brings Success.

That it pays to advertise in the Gold Leaf is shown by its well filled advertising columns.

Do not continue to spend good money where no appreciable returns are seen.

That is Proof that it pays Them.

THAD R. MANNING, Publisher.

VOL. XX.

Affection

From children as fragrance from flowers. The little lips are always full of words of love and affection.

DAVE'S PLACE,

European Hotel, Restaurant and Lunch Counter.

Furnished Rooms. Comfortable Beds.

Everything strictly first class. An orderly, well-kept place.

SALOON

Equal to any in the State, stocked with nothing but the very best and purest goods money can buy.

Being the first in the city to have all kinds of ingredients for relishing same.

FINE CHAIRS and TOBACCOES.

POOL ROOMS IN CONNECTION.

HENRY T. POWELL,

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

HENDERSON, N. C.

Office in Young & Tucker building.

G. A. Coggeshall, M. D.,

Physician and Surgeon.

HENDERSON, N. C.

Office in Cooper Opera House Building.

Phone No. 70.

H. H. BASS,

Physician and Surgeon.

HENDERSON, N. C.

Office over Dorsey's Drug Store.

J. R. S. HARRIS,

DENTIST.

HENDERSON, N. C.

Office over E. G. Davis' store, Main Street.

Henry Perry,

Insurance.

A complete list of Life and Fire Companies represented. Policies issued and claims promptly adjusted.

Office at Court House.

FRANCIS A. MACON,

Dental Surgeon.

Office, Young & Tucker Building, Under Telephone Exchange.

Office hours A. M. to 1 P. M. to 6 P. M.

Residence Phone 88, Office Phone 25.

Estimates furnished when desired. No charge for examination.

JAMES W. HART & CO.,

Boot and Shoe Makers.

Cheatham Building, Montgomery Street.

HENDERSON, N. C.

Work guaranteed. Repairing a specialty. Prices reasonable. Your patronage solicited.

A Gallon of PURE LINSEED OIL, mixed with 3 gallons of turpentine.

Hammar Paint

Saves 25 per cent of your paint bill. IS FAR MORE DURABLE than any other brand.

Hammar Paint is the only paint that will ABSOLUTELY STOP FADING. It is made of the finest materials.

It is not in political matters that one believes, but with what sincerity he believes it that gives us faith in him and makes of him a hero.

I do not agree with many of the views of President Lincoln, and yet I believe him to be a great and good man.

whose death was a calamity to the South no less than to the entire Union.

I do not agree with the political principles of President Grant, but I do not forget that he was a great soldier and generous to the man who was and is his idol of the South.

I do not agree with the President of the United States, his politics, but I do believe that he is President of the whole country and his patriot.

By this test the men of North Carolina are entitled to stand in the front ranks of the heroes of the world.

They suffered much, they endured all things, they lost what they had, they pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor to the cause of the Southern Confederacy and redeemed the pledge.

They offered their lives freely, they lost all their fortune, they came out of the contest with nothing save honor.

When the soldiers who surrendered at Appomattox returned to the State, they found desolation everywhere.

There was neither food nor raiment and those who had in the past labored with scant food and less clothing, and their new freedom with a license which impeded life and property, and their fields were gone to waste.

They were without capital and without material with which to begin the struggle of life.

SPOKE FOR STATE.

GOV. AYCOCK AT BKINQUET OF NORTH CAROLINA SOCIETY IN NEW YORK CITY.

Tells what North Carolina is Doing to Meet the Changed Conditions Brought About by the War—An Able and Eloquent Speech Characteristic of the Man Who Made It—Franchise Question and Material Prosperity.

Below is the full text of the speech delivered May 20th in New York City at the banquet of the North Carolina Society by Governor Aycock, of North Carolina:

Mr. Toast Master and Gentlemen of the North Carolina Society: I have been invited by you to respond to the toast "What is North Carolina Doing to Meet the Changed Conditions Brought About by the War?" I read the other day, with some amusement, an account of my proposed speech in which the editor was kind enough to give your club the advice to call me down, for I was to speak in defense of secession. I have never had any intention of speaking on this subject. There are two subjects upon which I take it there can be no debate—that the States had a right to secede in 1861 and have no longer that right. This Union is one Union and there is no question in North Carolina as to this assertion. In the war between the United States and Spain, it was both the sorrow and the pleasure of North Carolina to spill the first blood in evidence of our devotion to the Union. When Mr. Bagley died for the cause of the United States we felt that for all time our fidelity to the Union had been established. We shall, therefore, make no apologies for what has passed in our lives and no promises for the future. We love the heroic deeds of those who have gone before us and who have demonstrated the strength of Southern character. We cannot forget, and will not, their sufferings, their trials and their fidelity. We do not stop to ask whether they were right or wrong. We do not stop to ask if they were themselves when the hour of peril came, and when we make this enquiry we are proud of the glorious men who made the charge at Gettysburg and laid down their arms at Appomattox.

North Carolina has recently been the subject of much thought in the United States. The newspapers and magazines have devoted considerable space to what she has done. Some of this space has been given to abuse and I am here tonight to tell you the things which we have done in order that you may set forth before the world what we have done. We have never until now been an hour in the history of our State since the war when men felt free to divide along the lines of their convictions upon political questions. In 1898, the year of the Spanish war, the State resolved in strong passion to shake from herself the shame of this government and to settle for all time her destiny. In 1900 we made good our determination of 1898. We adopted that year the Constitutional Amendment which has put us upon an intelligence and renders the future of the State secure.

That amendment has provoked much discussion in the North. South Carolina, Mississippi and Louisiana had preceded us in the curtailment of the suffrage without much comment, but when North Carolina came to solve the question of the people of the North seemed to recognize that the matter had become serious and at once began to misinterpret and abuse the North State. Why should this discussion be made between South Carolina, Mississippi, Louisiana and North Carolina? I think those who have studied history may understand the cause of this distinction. North Carolina is a conservative State; she is the birthplace of Liberty; she is the abiding home of Democracy and when she does a thing the world recognizes it as having been wrought out after careful thought and carrying with it a deep significance.

The attack upon us is based on the assumption that we have done an injustice to the negro. Our amendment does no such thing. We have recognized the power of the influence of heredity. We think that those who have exercised the privilege of suffrage and those descended from such people are more likely to exercise that suffrage benefiticially than the men upon whom suffrage has been cast as a gift. The amendment to the Constitution of North Carolina provides that no man shall vote in that State after 1908 who has not been a citizen of that State for at least one year. It is our duty to exercise that suffrage with care and to make it a privilege. We have recognized the power of the influence of heredity. We think that those who have exercised the privilege of suffrage and those descended from such people are more likely to exercise that suffrage benefiticially than the men upon whom suffrage has been cast as a gift. The amendment to the Constitution of North Carolina provides that no man shall vote in that State after 1908 who has not been a citizen of that State for at least one year. It is our duty to exercise that suffrage with care and to make it a privilege. We have recognized the power of the influence of heredity. We think that those who have exercised the privilege of suffrage and those descended from such people are more likely to exercise that suffrage benefiticially than the men upon whom suffrage has been cast as a gift.

The amendment has provoked much discussion in the North. South Carolina, Mississippi and Louisiana had preceded us in the curtailment of the suffrage without much comment, but when North Carolina came to solve the question of the people of the North seemed to recognize that the matter had become serious and at once began to misinterpret and abuse the North State. Why should this discussion be made between South Carolina, Mississippi, Louisiana and North Carolina? I think those who have studied history may understand the cause of this distinction. North Carolina is a conservative State; she is the birthplace of Liberty; she is the abiding home of Democracy and when she does a thing the world recognizes it as having been wrought out after careful thought and carrying with it a deep significance.

work out your own destiny, not without interest on our part, not without anxiety lest you fail in your solution; but still without assuming to understand your difficulties better than you and to advise you upon subjects which confront you and not us. We do not ask for charity; we are not seeking gifts; all that we do want is to be left alone to work out for ourselves in love, in peace, in quiet, in fear of God the great problems that confront us. We wish to be understood and I ask you, gentlemen of the North Carolina Society, to study our situation, inform yourselves of our conditions and in this great metropolis to let all men know the problems which confront us and the sincerity of motive with which we are endeavoring to solve them. If we shall have given ten years in which to make good the promises which we have undertaken we will ask no more. Already I have seen the benefits of our recent amendment. There is a decrease in crime. There is a certainty in the future of the State which gives us a safety in the administration of the law which guarantees to the manufacturer peace. The only thing which we now need is an open field for our products. We have not yet learned and will never learn to make money at the expense of other people. We have not yet learned to make money at the expense of our fellow citizens. We have not yet learned to make money at the expense of the people of the world. We await with interest the canal which shall put us close to the East.

Editor R. B. Creevy, The Sage of the Pasquotank, one of the most gifted, best known and popular writers the State of North Carolina has produced, a gentleman who has ever wielded his pen with the courage of a Caesar and descriptive power of a Cicero in behalf of his State and country, is on the eve of publishing a book entitled "Grandfather's Tales of North Carolina."

As an Advertising Medium. The GOLD LEAF stands at the head of newspapers in this section of the famous BRIGHT TOBACCO DISTRICT. The most wide-awake and successful business men use its columns with the highest Satisfaction and Profit to themselves.

"CAROLINA, CAROLINA, HEAVEN'S BLESSINGS ATTEND HER."

HENDERSON, N. C., THURSDAY, MAY 30, 1901.

SPLENDID EXHIBITS OF VARIOUS KINDS AT THE GREAT BUFFALO PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

The Southern States Attract so Small Shares of Attention in the Free Exhibit—Florida Orchids—Missouri Will Have a Fine Exhibit—Mr. Bell's 16 to 1 Show Case—Louisiana Day—Maryland's Mineral Exhibit.

Editorial notice regarding the exhibition of various products and the importance of agriculture and industry.

Every Woman - Advertisement for a product specifically for women's health and beauty.

MACHINERY FOR SALE - Advertisement for various industrial machines and tools.

LUMBER! - Advertisement for a lumber business, highlighting the quality and variety of their products.

The Sage of the Pasquotank. Editor R. B. Creevy, the Sage of the Pasquotank, one of the most gifted, best known and popular writers the State of North Carolina has produced...

The Sage of the Pasquotank. This last endorsement, it is sincerely to be hoped, will be acted upon immediately and favorably, for a child should certainly be born in the history of its own State, and no man is more capable to do justice to the achievements of the great men and women of that interesting country...

A Newspaper's Assets. A newspaper is primarily a business enterprise, says the Fresno (Cal.) Republican. Its function is to gather and print news, and sell it to whomsoever it can sell it to...

KING'S MOUNTAIN. (Col. Ferguson and his forces of British and Tories were defeated by the Patriots at King's Mountain, N. C., October 7, 1780. The Tory leaders were hanged immediately after the battle.)

It is with a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to you. It is a good remedy for all ailments of the stomach and bowels...

State Geologist. The State Geologist, Holmes gives the people in the country good advice to road construction. He says that wagon roads should not be located near railroads, and should cross them only when necessary...

Every Woman. The Governor of Louisiana has suggested to Director - General Buchanan of the Pan-American Exposition a plan in connection with the ceremonies of "Louisiana Day" that cannot fail to awaken among the people of French or Acadian extraction in Louisiana and Canada...

MACHINERY FOR SALE. All the above machinery is in good condition, (the gin used but one season), and will be sold on easy terms, for cash or on time.

LUMBER! Persons in need of lumber would do well to write to or call on us. We can save you money on large or small bills. When desired will deliver lumber in Henderson at a slight advance over prices at the mills. Orders solicited for anything in our line.