Success in Business Depends Chiefly Upon Three Things: THE BUSINESS ITSELF. HOW IT'S CONDUCTED.

HOW IT'S ADVERTISED. The business being all right—the thing offered something the people want-demand may be created for it by intelligent, persistent advertising. PRINTERS' INK.

"The Little School Master in the Art of Advertising,"

Will teach you how to do good advertising. It gives each week the accumulated experience of those who have become past masters in the school of advertising. Learn from them how to advertise-how to plan and display and do the right thing at the right time in the right way. Business men who study the methods and apply the teachings of PRINTERS INK have joined the ranks of the successful. They call it their best friend. Let it be yours also. It is a money maker for the man who adopts t as his guide and text-book.

Nor is the ability to learn from it how to write good advertisements the only good thing about PRINTERS INK. It publishes each week examples of good advertising-original, specially written ads. adapted to various lines of business which will be found helpful to those who haven't the time or the disposition to write their own advertisements. And in the experience of others—practical and successful men who write for its columns or are interviewed by its bright representatives—much valuable information is given as to how to manage and develop a successful business. It tells you how not to advertise as well as how to advertise. There is as much in knowing how not to do a thing some times as there is in knowing how to do it. PRINTERS INK teaches both the negative and positive sides of advertising.
