

GOLD

LEAF

As an Advertising Medium The Gold Leaf stands at the head of newspapers in this section, the famous Bright Tobacco District.
The most wide-awake and successful men use its columns with the highest Satisfaction to themselves.

Advertising Brings Success
That it pays to advertise in the Gold Leaf is a fact well established by the following reasons:
1. Sensible Business Men
2. The Gold Leaf is the most widely read newspaper in this section.
3. That is Proof That it Pays.

THAD R. MANNING, Publisher.
VOL. XXIII.

"CAROLINA, CAROLINA, HEAVEN'S BLESSINGS ATTEND HER."
HENDERSON, N. C., THURSDAY, APRIL 14, 1904.

SUBSCRIPTION $1.00 Cash.
NO. 17.

The Trying Time

Is a young girl's life reached when nature's laws are violated across the line which separates womanhood from childhood? Ignorance and neglect in this critical period are largely responsible for much of the after life's suffering. Not only does nature only allow of a certain amount of strain in the regular establishment of the woman, but there is almost always need of some degree of weakness to overcome the natural weaknesses commonly experienced at this time.
If there is an inveterate woman, suffering from female weakness, disturbance of the womb, or from leucorrhoea, or from any of the ailments which beset the female sex, a favorite prescription without complete success. Dr. Pierce's
"The People of the Fourth District Fortunate in Having Such a Man to Represent Them in Congress—Brilliant, Brainy and Able, He is Recognized as One of the Strongest Men on the Democratic Side."
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 11, '04.
EDITOR GOLD LEAF.—That the people of the Fourth Congressional District of North Carolina were wise in their selection of a man to represent them in the Fifty-seventh and Fifty-eighth Congresses they probably do not need to be reminded. Indeed, it may truly be said of every member of the lower house of the National Legislature from the Old North State that he is a man chosen well, and that the counties of Chatham, Franklin, Johnston, Nash, Vance and Wake have in Hon. E. W. POU, their present representative, a man with whose record at Washington they have more than ordinary reasons to be not generally satisfied but proud. It is that he is an excellent type of the progressive men of the South is but telling one-half of the story, for he is also fully recognized among the Democratic members of the House as one of the brainiest of the young men on their side, and a coming leader.
No member of the House of the present session has made so masterful nor so striking an arraignment of the fallacies, the corruptions and instability of Republican teachings and the present Republican administration as was contained in Mr. POU's speech on the floor of the House on March 26th.
So well do his colleagues in the House appreciate the striking and convincing manner in which Mr. POU has handled the issues which should be laid before the people by the Democratic party that arrangements have already been made by Congressmen from several of the Southern and Western States to have many parts of his speech printed as a campaign document.
Thousands of the entire speech have been ordered printed for use in Texas.
Your correspondent having lived in Washington for the past several years, has but little knowledge of the political situation in the Fourth District, but in view of the work which
Mr. POU has done in placing North Carolina in the front rank on the Democratic side of the House of Representatives and loving the State as only a born North Carolinian can,
I sincerely trust that Mr. POU may be returned to Congress until by length of service, and most excellent service he may be recognized as a leader of the House, for the State must understand the fact that not only a born North Carolinian can, either the Senate or the House for one or two terms will she ever attain a position of strength in the National Legislature.
The men who are now the acknowledged leaders of the House and Senate are not by any means the most brilliant intellects, but they are men who, like Seneca Payne, of New York, the recognized leader of the Republicans of the House, who have served twelve years in the House, and who of Congress, or who like Senators Hale and Frye, of Maine, neither of whom are especially gifted with brilliancy of intellect or natural sagacity have by long years of continuous service in the House first, and later in the Senate and by close attention to the work in hand made Maine a power in our national councils.
Send Edward W. POU back to his seat in the House for the next six or eight years, and I have no hesitancy in predicting that with the victory of the Democratic party he may easily become the Speaker of the House.
A. W. HUGHES.

HON. EDW'D W. POU.

A Strong Man and a Coming Leader.

The People of the Fourth District For-
tunate in Having Such a Man to Represent Them in Congress—Brilliant,
Brainy and Able, He is Recognized as
One of the Strongest Men
on the Democratic Side.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 11, '04.
EDITOR GOLD LEAF.—That the people of the Fourth Congressional District of North Carolina were wise in
their selection of a man to represent
them in the Fifty-seventh and Fifty-
eighth Congresses they probably do
not need to be reminded. Indeed, it
may truly be said of every member
of the lower house of the National
Legislature from the Old North State
that he is a man chosen well, and
that the counties of Chatham, Frank-
lin, Johnston, Nash, Vance and Wake
have in Hon. E. W. POU, their present representative, a man with whose
record at Washington they have more
than ordinary reasons to be not
generally satisfied but proud. It is
that he is an excellent type of the
progressive men of the South is but
telling one-half of the story, for he is
also fully recognized among the Democratic members of the House as one
of the brainiest of the young men on
their side, and a coming leader.
No member of the House of the
present session has made so master-
ful nor so striking an arraignment of
the fallacies, the corruptions and in-
stability of Republican teachings and
the present Republican administration as was contained in Mr. POU's
speech on the floor of the House on March 26th.
So well do his colleagues in the House appreciate the striking and
convincing manner in which Mr. POU
has handled the issues which should
be laid before the people by the Democratic party that arrangements
have already been made by Congress-
men from several of the Southern
and Western States to have many
parts of his speech printed as a campaign document.
Thousands of the entire speech
have been ordered printed for use in Texas.
Your correspondent having lived
in Washington for the past several
years, has but little knowledge of the
political situation in the Fourth District, but in view of the work which
Mr. POU has done in placing North Carolina in the front rank on the Democratic side of the House of Representatives and loving the State
as only a born North Carolinian can,
I sincerely trust that Mr. POU may
be returned to Congress until by
length of service, and most excellent
service he may be recognized as a leader of the House, for the State
must understand the fact that not
only a born North Carolinian can,
either the Senate or the House for
one or two terms will she ever attain
a position of strength in the National Legislature.
The men who are now the acknowl-
edged leaders of the House and Senate are not by any means the most
brilliant intellects, but they are men
who, like Seneca Payne, of New York,
the recognized leader of the Republicans of the House, who have served
twelve years in the House, and who
of Congress, or who like Senators Hale and Frye, of Maine, neither of
whom are especially gifted with bril-
liancy of intellect or natural sagacity
have by long years of continuous
service in the House first, and later
in the Senate and by close attention
to the work in hand made Maine a
power in our national councils.
Send Edward W. POU back to his
seat in the House for the next six or
eight years, and I have no hesitancy
in predicting that with the victory of
the Democratic party he may easily
become the Speaker of the House.
A. W. HUGHES.

Better Let it Alone.

Our Raleigh special says that Judge Peebles threatens to institute contempt proceedings against the Lumberton lawyers who refused to make up the docket for him. We had heard that he was going to take the matter under advisement, and believe that that is a good place to keep it under.
But if he sends everybody to jail who has expressed their contempt for the Honorable Judge, both the North Carolina Press Association and the North Carolina Bar Association will have to make other arrangements about their projected meetings in St.
Louis and Charlotte. If the Judge but knew it, the sympathy of the State is with the Lumberton lawyers.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver, of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy I first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed at M. Dorsey's drug store.

PATRICK HENRY WINSTON.

Well Known North Carolinian Dies at His Home in Spokane, Washington, on April 3rd.

News and Observer.

1904 SPRING 1904

A CAR LOAD
OF UP-TO-DATE
SPRING
CLOTHING
JUST ARRIVED—And is now being Opened at

BARNES BIG CLOTHING STORE.
PHONE 165. HENDERSON, N. C.

Best Results Obtained Only BY USING
RICHMOND
GUANO CO'S FERTILIZERS.

TOBACCO BRANDS:
Gilt Edge. Tip Top.
COTTON BRANDS:
Premium Brand Fertilizer.
Bone Mixture, Bone and Potash, and Phosphate, all Grades.
FOR SALE BY PARHAM BROS. SUPPLY CO., Henderson.
PARHAM BROTHERS CO., Oxford.
HORNOR SUPPLY CO., Manson.

Judge Peebles and the Robeson County Lawyers.

Statesville Landmark.

The fact that the Robeson county bar refused to make a calendar for the term of court for that county, scheduled to begin yesterday, assisting as a reason that they did not want to try cases before Judge Peebles, who is holding the courts of the district, has attracted much attention. Some of the papers seem to be in error, but the judiciary should entirely in error, contending that the "honor and dignity of the judiciary ought to be preserved by every good citizen," and "especially by the legal fraternity." Of course the honor and dignity of the judiciary should be preserved, but the judiciary should deserve to be honored and dignified.
We know nothing personally of the troubles between the Robeson county bar and Judge Peebles, but the latter has certainly not made an enviable reputation since he has been on the bench. His conduct in the Haywood case in Raleigh provoked a storm of criticism. But we started out to say that if the Robeson county lawyers have no confidence in Judge Peebles, if they do not want to risk their clients' interests before him and think it unwise to sit on the bench—and that seems to be about their tention—then they deserve all honor for having the courage to stand up and say so. As a rule lawyers are not very brave about such matters, because the judge has the whip hand, and we are delighted to find at least one case where a "possum dog will eat 'possum, and we give the Robeson county bar credit accordingly. Unfit men on the bench should not be tolerated. They may be endured elsewhere for a season, but of all things let the judiciary be above reproach; and if there is any wrong in this case let the facts come out. The Democratic party nominated and elected Judge Peebles. If a mistake has been made let it be corrected. We have no contempt for the idea that no public official should be criticised unless he belongs to a political party other than your own; or because a man is prominent officially or socially he is above criticism. Away with such rubbish!

AN OLD FIELD WEED.

Many seeing that old field weed, the mullein stalk, never consider the good it is presents in curing lung troubles. It is present in Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein the finest known remedy for coughs, croup, colds and consumption. At druggists 25c, 50c, and $1.00 a bottle. For sale at Parker's Two Drug Stores.

A Great Sensation.

There was a great sensation in Leesville, Ind., when W. H. Brown, of that place, who was expected to die, had his life saved by Dr.
King's New Discovery for Consumption. He writes: "I endured insufferable agonies from Asthma, but your New Discovery gave me immediate relief and soon thereafter effected a complete cure." Similar cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Grip are numerous. It is the perfect remedy for all throat and lung troubles. Price, 50c and $1.
Guaranteed by M. Dorsey, druggist. Trial bottles free.

Wear the Aronson Shoe and make your feet glad.

Pay Poll Tax or You Can't Vote.

Shelby Star.
Every person who owes a poll tax had better take care to pay it before May 1st, or he will be deprived of voting in any election to be held this year. Don't postpone the matter until it is too late. The best time to pay is while you have the money.
Failure to vote does not release you from paying your taxes.

WHY DO WE DIE?

Vital statistics classified show the respiratory organs to be the feeble point in man.
Diseases of the lungs are out of all proportion in fatality. Take Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein for coughs, colds and consumption. At druggists 25c, 50c, and $1.00 a bottle. For sale at Parker's Two Drug Stores.

TURN ON THE LIGHT.

The People Want to Know All About the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad Affair.

When Governor Aycock said that he had gotten all he wanted in the return of the railroad back into the hands of his friends it sounded pretty much like a hint that he would favor a "let-up" on the prosecution because of the withdrawal of the fight by the receiver and the men who were backing him. It looks like the Governor had a mighty close shave in getting out of a tight place. The evidence of the criminal case rested only on the impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on the subject. Anyhow, before the parties seeking the receivership agreed to abdicate the case, the Governor and the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "conspirators" and as soon as the latter dropped the case these State officials declared they had secured what they were after and suddenly found that the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials
declared they had secured what they
were after and suddenly found that
the criminal case rested only on the
impression on the general public
that there was something of an understanding with the Governor on
the subject. Anyhow, before the parties
seeking the receivership agreed to
abdicate the case, the Governor and
the Attorney General were hot in
the hunt after the scalps of the "con-
spirators" and as soon as the latter
dropped the case these State officials decl