Washington, Nov. 18. - Secretary Wilson, of the department of agriculture, emphasized the necessity of a national pure food law in an address before the annual convention of official DR. F. S. Philadelphia, Nov. 20. - A funeral without a parallel in this city took place at the Midvale Steel works. where a 40-ton ingot of steel permeated with the flesh, blood and bones of two workmen, was buried with the solemn rites of the Roman Catholic church. The workmen who were so strangely laid away were John Forkin and Joseph Gazda, two foreign-speaking laborers, who met a horrible death a week ago. They were in a pit near a cupola containing many tens of molten steel. A plug gave way and 80,000 pounds of the fiery fluid poured from the cupola and overyhelmed them. The were completely incinerated and clothing was left.

The Midvale Steel company was averse to selling the steel or using it for the purpose it was intended, and it was decided to bury it with the rites of the church to which the unfortunate men belonged. Accordingly the 40-ton ingot, oval in shape, 28 feet long, 6 feet wide and 5 feet thick, was moved by a travelling crane to the rear of the machine shop, where a grave 10 feet deep had been made.

A great crowd sought admission to the works, but only the two sisters of Gazda, who depended upon him for support, and about 100 workmen who were on Sunday duty, were permitted to attend the services, along with the officials of the company.
