The Trained Nurse.

God's Latest Gift to the World of Pain, Says Rev. Dr. Witherspoon.

Richmond Times-Dispatch, May 27.

Rev. Dr. Jere Witherspoon preached the baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class and nurses of the Memorial Hospital at the Grace Street Presbyterian Church last night. His sermon was very impressive and was closely followed by the large congregation. His subject was "The Heavenly Pattern," Hebrews

"God and His relation to us, my friends," he began, "are the two great facts of all religion. The materialbrings Him too close.

"Character should be built according to the pattern of God. In the making of character there are three period; then the modeling or shaping period, and last, what might be called the type or the development of the sign which marks the idea. The life sweetness and such an amount of man lives will have the shaping of dignity that one feels in looking at the artist's model which he sets be- him that he must love him, and at fore one. Man must ever build upon the same time fear him the model revealed to him.

Let what we do be our calling; it links life with God, who shall reveal like the sun; it is impossible for anyto us the pattern of our work.'

Dr. Witherspoon went on to tell the nurses that their calling was one to woman. The trained nurse is often. Heaven's latest gift to the world of | Everyone finds that his conversapain. Wonderful Work of the Modern Women.

Dallas (Texas) News.

There is a saying to the effect that | they see him coming, but as soon as man's work is from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done. The and admire him. Virginia Press is loud in its praises of the women workers of the Old Dominion. The press of the other States doubtless has quite as good ground for generous applause.

The story goes that recently the city of Norfolk was officially declared to be "the dirtest city in the United women of Norfolk and the Woman's happy. Club went "manfully" to work to clean up the city. "Municipal clean-ing day" was proclaimed by Mayor Riddick at the instance of the club and much cleaning was done on that day, April 11. But the city is not yet as clean as the Woman's Club desired, and the good work goes on.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch declares that the women of Virginia are doing their part, in fact more than their part, in promoting the cause of popular education.

The Roanoke Times says that as a propriation of $12,000 to be devoted to needed improvements in several of the school buildings.

Several years ago a handful of Richmond women put their pretty heads together and formed a plan to amprove the school system. As a result there is the Richmond Education Association, and all who know anything about it are proud to admit that this association, started and largely maintained by women, has done more than any single agency toward awakening popular interest in popular education, not only in Richmond but throughout the entire State The Richmond Training School for Kindergarteners is the direct result of work of the Richmond Education Association. Not only so but the inauguration of kindegarten instruction in the public schools of Richmond is to be credited to the work and influence of this orgization and the Training School has supplied the teachers for that department of public school work.

Of course it is not necessary to go out of Texas to find willing women nation will be unrepresented at the treworkers to praise for good work. There is not a place in the State that | held there. does not owe the city pride and public spirit of its people largely to the efforts and the leadership of progressive women. They are learning in these recent years how to unite the forces for even larger tasks and there are few observant and fairminded men who are not ready to confess that the most important and successful movements are those that have been inspired and directed by Scientists All at Sea.

New York Press.

"The land on which we live and build our homes-the land which the sea writers of the early part of the last century confidently and almost affectionately termed terra firma-is well nigh as restless as the ocean which washes its shores. In England at least 70 unfelt earthquakes, each of which has a duration varying from 20 minutes to several hours, may be recorded yearly. Our buildings rock and sway, if we could but see them, as the masts of a ship on a heaving sea. To be sure, the incessant rising and falling of the waters is more violent than the motion of the land, but the difference between the two is largely a difference of effect—the difference between a billow and a ripple.' This was written by one of the editors of the Scientific American just after the Mont Pelee disaster. It is of particular interest at the present time when scientists are befogging the public with the multiplicity of their explanations of the San Francisco earthquake. The fact of the matter is that all the scientists are guessing as to what caused the earthquake. One theory is just as good as another. No one knows, and it is impossible for anyone to prove that his theory is correct. Theories relating to all branches of scientific study are co nstantly being made over.

Jesus Described.

Text of a Letter By An Officer of the Court of Pontius Pilate.

The Orient correspondent has just made public the text of a letter written by Publius Leatulus, an officer of Pontius Pilate's court, to the Roman emperor, which, as announced exclusively in the World last week, was rediscovered in the library of the Lazarist Fathers in Rome.

If this letter proves authentic it may be considered the most important historical document ever discovered regarding the personality of Jesus. It purports to have been written just as Christ was beginning his preaching through Judea. It

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION.

Will Be Most Unique Affair of the Kind Ever Undertaken-Historical Celebration to Be Marked By Congress of World's Navies-All Nations Are Invited.

"Something new in expositions will be that on Hampton Roads in 1907, beginning April 26 and closing November 1. Almost all other expositions have been result originated by the women of held in inland towns and all have been that city, the School Board will ask industrial in character. This Jamestown the City Council for an additional apequi-distant from Cape Henry, where the English first landed their ships in the spring of 1607, and Jamestown, where they finally established their settlement, on one of the most historic bodies of water on the face of the globe, a harbor which is large enough to float all the navies of civilization. "Overlooking this splendid bay, the Jamestown Exposition will in 1907 commemorate the beginning of the American Republic, the genesis of the white man in what is now the United States, the Ter-Centennial of the first English settlement in the new world.

"Situated in a territory which has been the battleground in all of the great wars in America; burnt by savages in its early days; during the English wars ravaged by foreign foes, it was the theater of the chief struggle of 1861-1865, and on the roads naval engagements have been fought as memorable as any of the military conflicts on Virginia soil.

"The site chosen is a peculiarly happy one, because few Americans born in this country are without ancestors who have a personal interest in this section.

On this same body of water in 1892 a fair sized naval fleet was assembled in honor of the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America; in 1907 no mendous naval rendezvous which will be "President Roosevelt has by authority of Congress invited all countries to send to the Ter-Centennial Celebration their ships of war and regiments of their solliery. Our own nation will take a conspicuous part, and the greatest display of sea power that the world has ever witnessed will be in evidence to honor the celebration which has meant so much to the world.

"From the inception of the movement to celebrate the event every energy of the managers has been directed toward the end that the celebration should be historic, not commercial, in character, and that it should teach to all visitors the salient fact in our country's story: tha it should impress upon all who viewed it, the humble beginning of the nation, the various stages of development through which it passed, its evolution and its present grandeur. "The Jamestown celebration is to a large extent an official government affair. The President of the United States has shown an interest in it and the act of Congress which authorized the exposition, nominated the secretary of war, the secretary of the treasury and the secretary of the navy as Jamestown Ter-Centennial Commissioners, and di-rected them to take charge of the government celebration. Hampton Roads has the largest deep and-locked harbor on the Atlantic seaboard, it has a superficial area of nearly one hundred and sixty square miles, the greatest part of which affords safe an-

Southern Girls as Waiters.

The average Southern man has been so accustomed to colored servants that he is naturally averse at first blush to seeing Southern white made the innovation in North Caroand the Benbow House at Greens- tidy boro. In toth instances the changes have been satisfactory alike to patrons and to the managers. Asked as to whether the young white women employed had improved the service, the proprietors of the Benbow House Throughout the West it is the almade this reply:

Replying to your letter of several days ago, will state that our change They are sometimes graduates of from negro to white help has proven high schools, they enjoy the fullest satisfactory and our hopes have been more than sustained. We have about thirty girls, eight of whom came from and prosperous. The young women the North, while the others are from North Carolina. We secured the few Greensboro are of the same type, and Northern girls in the beginning for the reason that we inaugurated this change during the latter part of the summer when it was hard to get girls in our own State on account of the wonderful things told of him. Another reason was on account appearance indicates both great of the fact that Northern girls that we sent for were employed in large New England hotels where they were accustomed to handling large crowds, while our North Carolina girls only had experience of smaller houses. We are glad to say, however, that the North Carolina girls are doing remarkably well and are now just as systematic about their work as the New England girls, who have had long training, from which our native girls have derived great benefit.

"We believe these girls all enjoy their work and it is a pleasure for us to state that they have given us very little trouble-certainly nothing to compare with the negroes, who kept us in constant turmoil on account of frequent changes and the everlasting annoyance of the waiters, who congirls taking positions as waiters at stantly worked for their tip. His Wife Convinced Him.

One of our citizens who occasionally wipes the dishes for his wife, became tired of the job and refused, saying that "it is not a man's work." Not feeling disposed to lose his help she brought the Bible out to convince him of his error and read as follows from II Kings, 21-13: "And will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down." It is needless to say that he s still doing his occasional stunt.
