L. M. SHAW,

Henderson Man Detailed for Duty as Commandant and Professor of Military Science and Tactics at North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts.

Announcement has been made that Lieutenant John S. E. Young. 9th calvary, United States Army, had been detailed as commandant and professor of military science at North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. This will be gratifying news to the friends of Lieutenant Young and the splendid institution with which he thus becomes identified. Lieut. Young is a native of Henderson and has many friends and relatives among our people. He arrived last week from St. Louis where he has been for some time stationed at Jefferson Barracks, as adjutant of the recruit depot, and will relieve First Lieutenant Wilson G. Heaton, 13th calvary. The following brief account of the career of Lieut. Young, which is taken from the Raleigh News and Observer, will be read with interest:

Observer, will be read with interest:
The career of Lieut. Young has been an eventful one. He enlisted Aug. 25th, 1884, and was assigned as private to company H, 12th infantry, at Fort Yate, N. D., that post being a part of the Standing Rock Indian agency, sixty-five miles from Bismarck. There he served for several years among the Sioux Indians, being promoted at intervals to corporal, servent and corporal serverant and corporal serverant and corporal serverant and corporal serverant major of his regions. geant and sergeant-major of his regigeant and sergeant-major of his regi-ment. When the war broke out with Spain he served through the Cuban cam-paign, returning to Jefferson barracks for station at its close. Afterwards he went to the Philippines with his regiment and engagaged in many skirmishes with

On July 3, 1899, he was promoted to first lieutenant, 37th volunteer infantry, and served in that capacity until Febuary 20, 1901, when he was made second lieutenant 8th calvary, United States Army, and returned to the United States, only to receive immediate orders to proceed to Puerto Principe, Cuba, where he was stationed until his regiment left the island, March 2, 1902.

Until June 9, 1902, he was stationed at Fort Riley, Kan., with troop L., 8th calvary, when, after passing a highly creditable examination for promotion he was assigned as a first lieutenant to 5th cavlary, Fort Huachuca, Arz. In Febuary, 1905, Lieut. Young was detailed on general recruiting service at Jefferson barracks, and was attached to company A until he was appointed adjutant of the recruit depot. While stationed at the barracks he transferred with Lieut. Winston Pitcher to the 9th.

H. R. Furtell,

Probably the Same Faker.

We publish on the first page of the GOLD LEAF this week an account of an alleged fortune being left to a man in Durham by a so-called rich uncle in San Francisco. The whole thing ed First Prize in the "Reason" strikes us as a fake and we advise our Durham friends not to take it seriously. We say this because the story bears the ear marks of one that was sprung in Henderson a few months

In this paper of May 10th was published a similar story to the effect that an employe in the Henderson Cotton Mills, calling himself Harry
R. Hays, claiming to be a native of Wisconsin, but coming here from Pennsylvania, had received a letter

Telephone and Telegraph Company:
The reasons why every home should have a telephone may be arranged under three heads, viz: Business, Economic and from the probate judge, stating that Hays' uncle had died in San Francisco leaving an estate valued at $18,-687,000, and that he was one of four heirs. Hays claimed that he had visited his uncle at his home and knew he was very rich, stating in part of what the estate consisted.

The letter from the alleged probate judge was typewritten on plain paper without letter head or official seal. This did not look straight and the editor of this paper refused to be satisfied with its genuineness. But there were those who took the matter seriously-so seriously in fact that they did not hesitate to make loans to Have on the strength of his claims to future great wealth, in sums of from $5.00 up to $20.00-several of them, we are told-and soon afterward Hays left for parts unknown. If he has been heard from since or any of the persons who made him loans have seen the color of their money we have not been so advised. The man in Durham calls himself

James A. Corbitt. The account says | trains he has been working there about three months. Hays left here about the middle of May. Is Corbitt in Durham the man who was Hays in Henderson? And is he playing the same game there to fake the gullible that he did here? It looks that way to us. At any rate it would be well not to put too much faith in the heir-to-millions claim of this fellow without a better showing of proof. The chances are that if he has succeeding in borrowing a few fives and tens he has shaken the dust of Durham from his feet by this time-or soon will-to seek new fields and fresh subjects who are easily separated from their cash.

..... Every form of distressing ailment known as Piles originates internally. The real cause of the trouble is internal. Why a Twenty-Year Limited Pay. ment Policy in the Southern Life Insurance Company Will be Worth at Maturity Several Hundred Dollars in Cash flore than a Policy of the Same Kind in Some of the Old Giant Companies of the North.

Why will a Twenty-Year Limited Payment policy in the Southern Life Insurance Company be worth at maturity several hundred dollars in cash more than a policy of the same kind in some of the old Giant Companies of the North? Simply because of the fact that the death loss on insurance in force in these older Northern Companies is averaging now over $12.50 per thousand, while the experience shows the death loss per thousand insurance in force in these Companies, when they were young, not to have exceeded an average of $5.00 per thousand for the first twenty years of their career. So on the mortuary sav-ing the Southern Life Insurance Company averages $7.50 less on each $1,000 of insurance in force over its older com-Now, if this $7.50 saving should for 20 years earn six per cent. interest it would make $300. In this item of mortuary dividend the Southern Life can make $300 cash on a Twenty-Payment Policy per thousand dollars over its older Northern

Which shall we do, save this $300 for ourselves, or let it go to others who neither know nor care for us? In addition to the above we should not forget that the older Companies above referred to have such large ac cumulations in money on account of the greater age of their policies that they claim they cannot average more than four or four and one-half per cent. on their investments. The Southern Life Insurance Company has younger policies, and has so much money as to prevent it from earning 6 per cent. thereon. With W.H.Gill, the progress that is going on in the South and the active demand for money, it will be many years before we will earn less than 6 per cent. on our invest-
