

Think More—Spend Less.

Why is it that the average man is worth so much less in money and property than we have a right to expect him to be? It isn't because he doesn't make the money, for the average man is industrious and has earned from $10,000 to $30,000 in the past ten years. It is because he doesn't give much serious thought either to his income or outgo. Serious thought would teach him the true value of his money, then he would spend carefully and save steadily. That system soon places any man ahead of his fellows.

A bank account helps you to realize the value of money and aid in handling financial affairs.

The Durham Sun says of us ought to see and hear twice as much as we talk. God gave us two eyes, two ears and only one mouth.

Miss Belle Bullock went to Georgia last week to take charge of a school near Climax, where she has two brothers, Walter and George, living.

Much building has been done in Henderson this year, and it still continues. Carpenters are in demand and find steady employment here at good wages.

The definition of a lady has been given as a woman who always remembers others and never forgets herself. The same rule will apply equally as well in defining a gentleman.

When the Mail Order Houses finally undermine the local merchants probably they will then realize that the failure to advertise and keep in touch with their customers had much to do with it.—Raleigh Enterprise.

Dr. B. E. Dixon, State Auditor, spoke in the court house here Thursday night to a small crowd. He is a good speaker, free from abuse and the tricks of the demagogue, and one goes away having a good opinion of the man after hearing him.

Ex-Senator Marion Butler addressed the Republicans of Vance county in the court house here Saturday. We did not hear the speech and cannot speak from personal knowledge of it. Some persons said it was disappointing while others spoke of it as first class.

Mr. George T. Whitaker of Epsom, has accepted a position as principal of a school at Oak Grove, Ga., and left last week to enter upon his duties. He is a young man of fine talent, a graduate of Elon College and the State University, and his friends will be glad to learn of his success.

Master Edison Hicks wants a Billy goat and wagon. He will exchange therefor a double French Shadow, Dutchman, with two sets of new solid rubber tires. Cost $12.00 and good as new. Or, will sell if any boy wants it who has no goat and wagon. See his advertisement in this paper.

"Will they bring the whole show here?" That is the question frequently asked about Barnum & Bailey's circus which will exhibit in Henderson Thursday, November 15. We know nothing to the contrary, but whether they do or not it will be the biggest show ever seen in Henderson—no doubt about that.

When you pull down the town in which is your home, you are pulling down yourself. Try and abandon the idea that all good things are in some other locality. Give your town all the praise it can legitimately bear. It certainly will do you no harm. Above all, patronize your own institutions—including your newspaper and local job printing office.

Mr. George T. Bullock and bride, formerly Miss Beatrice McEachern of Red Springs, who have been visiting at Mr. Walter Bullock's in this county since their recent marriage left last week for Climax, Ga., where they will live in future. Mr. Bullock has been connected with the State Experiment farm near Red Springs, but goes to Georgia to take charge of a farm which he and his brother Walter have bought jointly.

It pays to deal with the man who advertises—the wide-awake business man who keeps up with the times and moves things so rapidly that he does not allow old stock to accumulate. Your trade with a man who does not advertise, if you want nice, fresh, clean goods at reasonable prices. Find a man who does not advertise, and you will find a man who is as rusty and old-fashioned as the goods which he is trying to sell.—Concord Times.

Mr. Craig's Speech Monday Night.

Hon. Locke Craig of Asheville, filled his appointment to speak here Monday night. He had an average size crowd for a night meeting and made a good speech in behalf of Democratic policies and principles. Mr. Craig is a forceful and pleasing speaker and some of his figures of speech had the ring of true oratory. He was eloquent at times as well as earnest.

Mr. Craig discussed the tariff question somewhat at length and coming down to State issues he flung defiance at the Republicans in their assaults upon the Democratic administration. In answer to their charges of extravagance he showed that the money had been wisely and well spent for public education, the care for the unfortunate insane, pensions for old soldiers, etc., and declared that the Democrats had no apologies to make therefor.

HAS STOOD THE TEST 25 YEARS. The old, original GROVE'S Tasterless Chilli Tonic. You know what you are taking. It is iron and quinine in a tasteless form. No cure, no pay. 50c.

Badly Crippled. If you have a sewing machine that is badly crippled you had better have W. H. Griffith at Manning House attend to it. He has a sewing machine hospital. Telephone No. 55.

Anti-trash Ordinance Needed. Main street is a disgrace to the town; its disreputable condition as to litter and trash, we mean. On Sunday mornings this is especially true after the traffic and trade on Saturday. There ought to be an ordinance against throwing trash of any kind on the street. But before this is done receptacles must be provided for the purpose. The anti-spitting ordinance is right and fairly well observed, and to this an anti-street littering ordinance should be added. It is a shame to permit Main street, naturally beautiful and easily kept clean, to be made unsightly and discreditable to the town in this way.

The Weekly Press. Atlanta Journal. The power of the weekly press is not to be underestimated. The country editor is close to the people. He knows what every man in his community is talking about and thinking about, knows where he stands. He can reach him directly and almost as personally as through a personal conversation. As a moulder of the opinion of the public, which it reaches, the weekly paper has few equals. The country editor can get his finger on the pulse of his community.

When Things Come to Pass. An exchange says the wise merchant will cease to advertise when trees grow upside down; when the beggar wears a crown; when ice forms on the sun; when the sparrow weighs a ton; when gold dollars get too cheap; when women, secrets keep; when a fish forgets to swim; when Satan sings a hymn; when girls go back on gum; when the small boy bakes a drum; when no politician schemes; when mince pie makes pleasant dreams; when it's fun to break a nut; when an aqueduct tells the truth; when cold water makes you drunk; when you love to smell a skunk; when the drummer has no brass; when these things all come to pass, then the man that's wise will neglect to advertise.

Are you troubled with the piles? One application of Manzan will give you immediate relief. Sold by the Kerner-McNair Drug Company.

That headache of yours may be caused by defective eyes. If so you should consult A. W. Gholson, the optician, at once. "A Pointer for Banks." Wall Street Summary. Discussing editorially a banking advertisement from a Southern city which, in addition to the merits of the bank in question, broadly called attention to the advantages of the city, the Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore says: "Here is a pointer for all banks everywhere. While there have been demonstrations in number that a bank can directly build its business by advertising, just as surely as a drug store or a dry goods house may, yet there is in this advertisement a recognition of the broader principle that by building up the entire community a work will be done of great potential advantage to the bank itself, and at the same time the entire community will be benefited and the prosperity of the bank will not be gained at the expense of other institutions of the kind. This is in truth a sane comment. In advertising a growing community the best channel through which to work is the local bank. It is the clearing-house, in fact, for the credit standing of its community; and only good to the outside public and to themselves can result from the adoption of our contemporary's advice by banks situated in rural and outlying localities.

It is a well known medical fact that pine resin is most effective in the treatment of diseases of the bladder and kidneys. Annual clover seed for sale at H. THOMASON'S.

Make Your Home Attractive. Albemarle Enterprise. "Make your home an attractive place for your children," said Dr. McLendon at the Farmers' Institute Monday. We would like to sound these words in every community in the county. Along with the improvement of the farm must go that higher and vastly more important work of the cultivation of the minds of the children reared on the farm. Attractive surroundings in the way of flower beds and well kept lawns will add wonderfully in this respect. See to it, also, that your children receive the best education possible, even though it be their purpose to remain on the farm. The farm needs now more than ever before the trained mind and the skilled hand. Financially speaking, education of the right kind pays, but ten-fold more does it pay in the things that make for the life and joy of the soul.

Goming Soon and Sure.

The Barnum & Bailey "Greatest Show on Earth" Positively to Show Henderson Thursday, November 15th.

Officially correcting rumors to the contrary announcement was made in these columns last week that the big Barnum & Bailey Show will positively exhibit in Henderson on Thursday, Nov. 15th. Supplemental to this we are in receipt of a letter from Mr. Lewis E. Cooke, General Agent of the great show, to the same effect.

The first regular advertising car in the course of a few days to make a canvas of the territory in this vicinity and herald the coming of the great show with its multiplicity of thrilling features, many of which are of sensational character and have never been seen with any other circus; in fact, nearly every attraction presented by the Barnum & Bailey Show is of such high artistic merit and value they are prohibitive with any other amusement enterprise. But a more extended official announcement of these rare features will be made in the columns of this paper when the regular press agent arrives on the scene.

Well Equipped Barber Shop. Oscar Outlaw, the barber, has recently added to his equipment a number of up-to-date ideas for the better service of his customers. Among them is a magnetic therapeutic battery for electrically massaging the face and scalp. Another for the face, head and body, with electric hair brush, etc. Then in the way of hair tonics, toilet waters, hair dyes, toilet soaps, powders, etc., he has a stock of the best goods that are made. Something especially fine is Century Hair Tonic, which promotes the growth of the hair, removes dandruff, cures diseases of the scalp, and imparts lustre and beauty to the hair. Century Hair Tonic is not a dye, but restores the color of the hair by supplying to the natural elements and nourishments which it needs.

And Jim, the Bootblack, is at your service with two nice bootblack stands, brass trimmed and built for the business.
