Mr. Bailey, of the South.

Wilmington Messenger.

The Texas senator has one staunch admirer in North Carolina, if no more, as the editorial from the Duplin Journal, which we publish below, will him and make him her leader he will do more than has any man since the South lost her supremacy in national affairs to again put her in the exalted position she occupied before she

They cannot deny his ability and they do not dare openly to attack his integrity, but they try to pull him down by saying that it would not do to put up a Southern man to lead the Democratic party and that his connection as attorney with a certain corporation makes his leadership an impossibility, all of which means that they-Southern Democrats-personally and for selfish reasons prefer the man from Nebraska to Mr. Bailey. It is time for the Democrats from that party to have the choosing of the lead er of the party, especially when they have a man so well qualified in all respects as is Mr. Bailey, of the South.

The Journal says: 'The Mount Olive Tribune is so Bryanized of late that it speaks of other great men as sticks and stones in calling Senator Joe Bailey the Journal's 'idol' and 'hobby.' Not so. Senator Joe Bailey is a man. The great leader of the Democratic host in the nation who has never met defeat and in these recent railroad rate bill debates measured up to the highest standard possible as a man, a Southern man, and the greatest, biggest Democrat of his day and who has indeed, and in fact put Teddy out of business, which Bryan has failed to

'.That he is in anyway connected with a trust Bailey denies and says that his connection with any corporation is only such as any honorable lawyer could have, and we shall take his word for it. Any Texas 'good government' club that opposes him has not the first rudiment of good government' about it, as his public life and conduct has been powerfully anti-trust and anti-corporation. Newspapers of the Hearst brand, from jealously, and the New England Republican kind, from hatred and fear, have done their best to defeat him, but he is again the big Democrat senator from Texas, and willfully explain his own position when he cam-paigns in Texas. That he is today the greatest living Democrat goes without saying and now that the South is rapidly coming back 'to its former primacy in government affairs' as the Washington Post gladly says, it behooves all Democrats in good standing South to stand by the big Texan and build a Southern Democracy, greater than its party that

resident Issues Proclamation Designating Thursday, Nov. 29th, as Day of National Thanksgiving and Prayer.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—The President today issued a proclama-tion naming Thursday, November 29th, as a day of Thanksgiving. The text of the proclamation is as

PROCLAMATION BY THE PRESIDENT. The time of the year has come when, in accordance with the wise custom of our forefathers, it becomes my duty to set aside a special day of thanksgiving and praise to the Almighty because of the blessings we have received, and of prayer that these blessings may be continued. that these blessings may be continued. Yet another year of widespread well-being has past. Never before in our history or in the history of any other nation has a people enjoyed more abounding mate-rial prosperity than is our prosperity; a prosperity so great that it should arouse in us no spirit of reckless pride, and least of all a spirit of heedless disregard of our responsibilities, but rather a sober sense of our many blessings, and a resolute purpose under Providence, not to forfeit them by action of our own.

Material well-being, indispensible though it is, can never be anything but the foundation of true national greatness and happiness. If we build nothing upon this foundation, then our natural life will be as meaningless and empty as a house where only the foundation has been laid. Upon our material well-being must be built a superstructure of individ-ual and national life lived in accordance with the laws of the highest morality, or run turn out a curse instead of a blessing. We should be both reverently thankful for what we have received and earnestly bent upon turning it into a means of grace and not of destruction.

Accordingly, I hereby set apart Thursday, the twenty-ninth day of November, next, as a day of thanksgiving and supdication, on which the people shall meet in their homes or their churches, devouty acknowledge all that has been given

Commerce and the South.

"Following the line of least resistance," the "down-hill haul to the sea," the ever growing commerce of the country is more and more seeking an outlet through Southern ports. Our foreign commerce, now $3,000,000,000 a year, will double and quadruple, as will our coastwise trade but the number of our ports. trade, but the number of our ports can be very slightly increased even if millions should be expended. Nature has fixed the location of our available ports and forever set the limit upon their number. As commerce expands, Southern ports must grow in opulence and population. Great financial centers must naturally follow, and the vast commerce, of which we have seen only the beginning, will soon flow through the South, will be a mighty factor in the building of railroads, the growth of cities, the immigration of people from other countries and other sections. There are few countries on earth which have such a geographical relation to the centers of productive energies on the one side and the world's commerce on the other as the South. The human mind cannot fully grasp the wonders of the coming years in this Heaven-favored section.

Beauty is in the reach of all. The cottage can be as beautiful as the mansion. The joy of living comes by gathering the things worth while by the wayside. One of these is the good that comes from adorning your yards and premises with grass plots, shrubbery and flowers, and giving encouragement and sympathy to tired mothers of the crowded city and the farming housewives. The beau-tifying of homes gives pleasure to others and stimulates them to do likewise. It cheers the spirit to look out upon neat and attractive yards and lawns, and go into tastily fur-nished homes. A little more attention along this line would make many unsightly places a beauty-spotpleas-ing to behold.
