women Who Wear Well. It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliancy vanish like the bloom from a peach which is roughly handled. The softness of the skin, the dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the value of the system through the changes which come with marriage and parenthood. Many neglect to deal with the delicate mucous drains and weak spots which too often come with marriage and parenthood, not understanding that the secret drain is robbing the check of freshness and the form of its youth.

Facts About the South. Manifestations of wonderful progress and prosperity in the South are increasing every day upon the notice of men of affairs, statesmen, financiers, manufacturers, publicists and students of economics. They reflect deeds accomplished, notably in themselves, given marked emphasis in comparison with results from like sources in other parts of the country and of unparalleled significance when viewed against the appalling background of a generation or more ago. For that reason there is more than usual interest in "Facts About the South," a pamphlet of 72 pages, written by Mr. Richard H. Edwards, editor of the Manufacturers' Record, and just published. In it the whole story of Southern material upbuilding, the romance of the South's redemption from poverty to prosperity since 1860 and the resources of this section in coal, iron, timber, phosphates, cotton and other wealth-producing resources are more comprehensively dealt with than ever before. The prosperity of the South before 1860, and the reasons therefor, so slightly known and understood by the general public, are brought out very clearly in explanation of the business and industrial energy of the Southern people today and its convincing proof of the national advantages which were rapidly making the South the richest part of the country when the war intervened. Starting with a statement of typical Southern productivity during the past 10 years—103,639,000 bushels of cotton, 5,606,441,899 bales of cotton, 685,126,941 bushels of wheat, 659,937,244 bushels of oats, 120,000,000,000 of lumber, 571,629,336 tons of coal, 263,839,252 barrels of petroleum, 27,342,566 tons of pig-iron and 15,692,158 tons phosphate, of the increase of investment in cotton mills from $92,000,000 to $250,000,000, the building of 15,992 miles of railroad and of the movement through its ports of merchandise aggregating in value $4,978,000,000—comparison is made with the preceding decade as a basis for a broad and detailed survey of Southern economic developments in the past 20 years in agriculture, in manufacturing, in mining, in transportation, in trade and in commerce. Special attention is given, of course, to cotton-growing and cotton-manufacturing, the one a basis and the other a stimulus for the revival of Southern vigor a quarter of a century ago, but emphasis is laid upon the many facts of striking interest illustrating the strides in recent years made by the South in diversification in farming and in manufacturing, in closer application of scientific methods, in extension of transportation facilities, in the building up of ports and in the greater utilization of natural resources of the fields, the forests, the mines and the watercourses.

Wonderful Eczema Cure. "Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Herietta, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. We then employed other doctors but no benefit resulted. By chance we read about Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all blood medicines and body building health tonic. Guaranteed at McVillie Dorsay's drug store. 50c.

Henderson Evidence for Henderson People.

A Mill Man of Henderson Having a Chronic Case of 10 Years Standing is Cured of Dyspepsia.

A diet of cereals must be monotonous, particularly so on Christmas day when the good things of the table are forbidden because of stomach conditions, not only in the digestion affected but the heart also, for the gases of the stomach affect the action of the heart. Read this statement of Mr. W. H. Champion, for he tells better than any one else how he suffered and how he was cured.

Four Carpenters in Henderson Who Had Dyspepsia and Indigestion State What Cured Them.

The trade of carpentry requires steady nerves, an eyesight, ability to figure and calculate quantities and dimensions. It also requires a natural aptitude for handling tools which is not given to all men by any means. All these qualities possessed by these four men, were in danger of being impaired by Dyspepsia that foe to good health. Indeed they were not up to that standard of efficiency so desirable and which they had been accustomed to. When there is trouble in the stomach there is trouble in the head, trouble with easy muscular action, trouble with clear eyesight, trouble everywhere. This condition, however, is not incurable; on the contrary the Kermer-McNair Drug Company have lately received a medicine which not only cured these men of the plague and saw but did so when everything else failed. It is called Dr. Richards Dyspepsia Tablets and the price will not affect you, as it is only 50 cents per bottle.

The Home-Owning Immigrant First.

Atlanta Constitution. The new phase of the immigration problem, and one which has been given too little attention heretofore, is presented with startling emphasis by Mr. P. H. Graden, in a letter to Mayor Rhett, of Charleston, S. C. We have been prone to look at the immigration problem solely from the standpoint of the South. We have here presented the side of the immigrant. Is the newcomer to Georgia, or any other State in the South, going to be satisfied simply because we want him to be? Will he be content to accept lower wages and live under conditions less favorable to advancement and enjoyment than his friends who have sought homes in the North and West?
