The distance between Altapass and Marion by public road is 18 miles, by rail when complete, 33 miles. The grade is one-nineteenth per cent. Eighty-five pound steel rails will be laid over the entire road. Several miles are already laid between Altapass and Barkesville or Toecane. No scenery this side of the Rocky Mountains can surpass that along this line-steel and concrete bridges. The tunnels are faced with concrete. The work is made to last. Greater progress is being made now than ever before in the history of the road. The contractors for this road are the second largest in the world, McArthur

The Harvest of the Happy Habit.

Joe Mitchell Chapple in National Magazine for October.

Only in the glorious, golden days of October comes perfect comprehension of the full meaning of harvest. The blaze of forest foilage seems the at $90,036, was shipped out of the triumphant oriffamme of Nature's State. This kaolin is in great debounty-"An army with banners," mand by the pottery and tile manureturning from conquest. But in ear-ly youth those autumn days were Beaver Falls, Penn., and East Livsomewhat fraught with melancholy, as we stepped among the fallen glories of summer. The rain-sodden leaves and the fern-tangled banks; surroundings that recalled springtime's sweet promise and the burning hot of summer when Nature was bringing evey leaf and bud to maturity, to meet with final decay—to lions that are used in construction taken to mark the spot where the Regulators, to meet with final decay—to lions that are used in construction ulators fell. This movement was set in vouthful eyes, at least, A walk through the woods brings with it retrospective reflections; and what a glorious privilege it is one can go, for a five-cent fare, from the heart of the dusty, noisy city into the cool depths of the forest, and there, alone, or with a few old friends, enjoy absolute peace while resting from care and roaming "loose and free" through the woods! It seems to me that the rich sunny days of October mellow friendships and reveal new beauties of character even to intimate associates, when brought into close companionship far from the noise, bustle and distractions of every-day life. It is the season for reminiscence. Now, when I wander through the woods, the desire does not come to dreams of the Past and happy anticipations for the Future.

I walk through the rustling leaves in the quiet wood on a bright October day, with the reverential feeling of one entering a cathedral of worship. I look upon the trees, the stacks of grain and the fields that have finished their work and given up their fruitage, and it is pleasing to think of how much real happiness is being garnered in by the clan of Happy Habiters, to be harvested safely in memory's "Treasure Trove" lasting on through all the days of life. With all the wealth of field, forest, mine and stream, what harvest compares with the sheaves of happiness garnered by habits of cheery confidence that welcome each recurring dream?

Charlotte Observer.

John Alexander a well-known colored blackmith of Huntersville, was in the city Wednesday. He came down to see his old friend, Dr. H. J. Walker.

John is a great class-leader in his congregation. He was chiefly insrtumental in getting together enough money to build a little house of worship and secure the services of a dideposits, is now in the hands of the vine. In fact, John did everything public printer and should be ready but conduct the services, and had no ambition to do that. The new misister knew of John's activity in helping to build the church, has interest in its welfare and took it for granted that he was a very pious man. Therefore, on the morning of the first service he asked John to pray and so some time to recover.

"Yes, sir," said John, in telling his white friends of the incident. "I seed dat nigger look at me out uv oneeve. an' I 'lowered right den dat he waz fixin' to do somefin' to me. Dat's in prayer? No Change Necessary In Rexall Remedies

The new Pure Food Law requires every patent medicine manufacturer to tell just what dangerous drug is in his medicine. Certain periodicals interested in patent medicine reform have declared that the formulas of many patent medicines will have to be changed before the manufacturers will dare conform with this law. These riodicals also declare that the public will never know of these changes, and never know what these remedies formerly contained.

This suspicion, however, cannot rest upon Rexall Remedies. You have absolute proof that Rexall Remedies have not been changed to conform with the new Pure Food Law, because you kand the formulas of these remedies four years ago! The Rexall formulas were never secret. The thousand Rexall druggists have always known all the Rexall formulas and given them to every customer who asked for them.

No one Rexall Remedy was ever claimed to be a "cure-all"—each of the 300 remedies is designed to cure a certain human ill-and does it. These 300 remedies were selected from among thousands because they were the most reliable and successful cures in the world. Far from wishing to conceal the formulas of these remedies, we are proud to tell just what they are, and alwas lave been.

That's where the Rexall plan goes further to safe ard you than does the Pure Food Law. Even now you'll only know the dangerous drugs in other patent medicines, while you have always been able to know the complete formulas of Rexall Remedies !

The Rexall guarantee has been the greatest evi lence of the sincerity back of the Rexall Remedies. For four years Rexall druggists have offered to return the money to any one who brought back an empty Rexall bottle or package and said they were not satisfied.

We, as one of the Rexall druggists, feel a genuine satisfaction in having been able to supply this community for four years with one line of medicines which the United States Government by its new Pure Food Law shows were always made right and sold right, and have deserved every bit of the faith you have had in

The Pure Food Law may necessitate changes in other medicines, but it cally underses Rexall Remedies.
