King Richard the Third.

One of the finest performances ever witnessed in Henderson was John M. Hickey's majestic revival of Shakespeare's immortal tragedy, King Richard the Third, as presented by John Griffith, supported by an excellent company, at the Grand Theatre last Thursday night. Mr. Griffith was unknown to local playgoers but he firmly established himself in their approbation and admiration by his splendid acting. No more powerful actor has appeared before he foot lights in Henderson. As all know who have witnessed the play, the character of King Richard is not an admirable one. From the standpoint of popularizing the actor as well as histrionic ability required it is a difficult role to assume. Wilson Times, Oct. 31st.

Wilson society had the opportunity last evening of witnessing a beautiful wedding ceremony in St. Timothy's Epis-copal church when Miss Frances Brodie of this city, and daughter of Mrs. Dr. Brodie, became the bride of Mr. Spotswood Burwell of Henderson, N. C. The ladies of the church and friends of the bride had transformed the church into a scene from flowerland, the color scheme being white and green. Mr. D. M. Dunlop of Baltimore, is Henderson visitor this week. He has been traveling in Texas and adjacent territory for some months but was called in temporarily by his house on account of the unsettled condition of the money market. Mr. Dunlop stopped over in Oxford between trains to see some friends and although it had been 37 years since he was there last he recognized many familiar landmarks. It has been nearly 25 years since his last visit to Henderson and he says it looks like another place altogether. He is much impressed with the street improvements and says in all his travels he has not seen a town of the same size that gives evidence of being a better town than Henderson.

Buck's Stoves & Ranges

Success and Satisfaction Behind Them-The "Great White Line" Celebrated in Thousands of Happy Homes as "The Peace Makers"

For over half a century Buck's stoves and ranges have been made and used-and they are better today than they ever were. They are made of better material, more perfectly constructed and last longer. In point of strength, solidity, ease of operation, beauty and utility of design, durability, and economy in fuel consumption, Buck's stoves and ranges take first rank. There are so many points in their favor that it is difficult to enumerate them all, but the white enamel lining to oven doors and oven racks is a distinctive Buck's feature anthemums were placed in conspicuous places, and lighted candles lent a pretty wife.

Good cooking not only requires The seven bridesmaids in lovely gowns care, but cleanliness-especially in the process of baking, when the chemical changes render contamination doubv easy. The racks and oven doors of Buck's stoves being white enameled there are no crevices to collect filth trance where they met the bride and from the fumes of general oven odors. By simply wiping it off with a damp cloth the oven can be kept always sweet and clean.

Then again Buck's ranges are fuelsavers.
