THAD R. MANNING, Publisher. "CAROLINA, CAROLINA, HEAVEN'S BLESSINGS ATTEND HER." SUBSCRIPTION $1.00 Cash. VOL. XXVII. HENDERSON, N. C., THURSDAY, APRIL 2, 1908. NO. 15.

COMMON SENSE
Ladies most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the maker of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrappers and advise its correctness and efficacy daily in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to every body. Dr. Pierce, being desirous of having his medicines known, he has turned fully upon his formulae, being convinced that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that the "Golden Medical Discovery," the great blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that), yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hangings, which if long neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.
Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't be misled by cheap imitations. You will do yourself no good if you do not get the genuine. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay, or non-professional, testimonials.
They are not given away to be given away.
They are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

Their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary.
Col. and Mrs. W. J. Hicks Celebrate the Fiftieth Anniversary of Their Marriage—Well Have They Journeyed and Well Have They Wrought Together.

Rev. J. N. Cole in Raleigh Christian Advocate.

It was a brimming cup that two young hearts drank from fifty years ago—it is a brimming cup yet—only fuller and sweeter. It was two brave hearts that hand in hand, began their wedded journey fifty years ago. It is two brave hearts that now, hand in hand pursue their journey toward the Eternal City. Then they sang their matins song of faith and hope—now they sing their vesper song of praise and trust. In those years ago the Lord marked them for a long and prosperous journey. He gave to each a gift. He made them love each other, and He has loved them all the way. And they have loved and kept their trust with one another and with Him. Well have they journeyed and well have they wrought the wedding God.

On the evening of Wednesday, the 4th of March, in the parlors of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, Colonel and Mrs. W. J. Hicks received their friends in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. I felt honored to be invited among the friends whose presence was desired at that festive hour. It was a scene not often looked upon and one not to be forgotten—two such spirits coming to the fiftieth stadium of their wedded life. There they stood, he the noblest type of man—the gentlest, the fashion of woman—lacked of them fifty years of mercies—fifty years of struggles and triumphs—fifty years of love. W. J. Hicks has lived a great life. He made a good start, the start of noble blood—and he has been true to the blood. There has never been an act of his that has swerved a hair's breadth from the truth—the thought of a dishonorable deed has never cast its shadow across his pure mind—a dishonest dime has never found its way into his till—he has earned by the sweat of his brow the money that he has eaten and the goods that he has gathered. Back of this man as he stands to-day in the mellow evening of ripening years is a life devoted to honor and the cause of human progress.

W. J. Hicks has done two things—he has shown the world the true pattern of a man and he has worked the works of man. He has been in a very lofty sense a builder—a builder of homes for men and a builder of character for men—and in both he has built true. No man has ever been brought close to this man without feeling that his own ideal was elevated and that the lines of his own character were made truer. A chief citizen—a high Mason—a servant of God, he has lived a notable life and he has wrought a good work. In his later years he has been called to the head of one of the greatest institutions in our State, and he has shown eminent capacity and fitness for administering its affairs. It is a place that calls for a man, in the largest measurements of a man, and he has filled it. And such a life has been possible to him because of the good woman who stands by his side and has been the gentle partner of his bosom and the mother of his children and the keeper of his home. As friends look upon them in this hallowed evening hour they can but wish for them the continued mercies of our God and other added years—and then the final approach to Heaven's gate and the abundant entrance.

"John Anderson, my jo, John,
We clung the hill together,
And monie a canny day, John,
Your bonnie brow was bent;
But now your brow is beld, John,
Your locks are like the snow,
But blessings on your frosty pow,
John Anderson, my jo."

Too Many Laws, Too Little Enforcement.
Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

When the jackleg carpenter balks at his job he calls for new tools. When the fake general loses a battle he calls for fresh troops. When the charlatan ruler strikes a snag he calls for more laws. Why not form a league for enforcement of the statutes now lumbering the books? The situation now is that of a patient contentedly importuning his physician for fresh prescriptions, while already on the table are scores of untouched bottles and boxes of physic. Miss Betsy Trotwood's adviser, Mr. Dick, used to write lengthy petitions to the crown and when finished, paste them on kites to be cut adrift when southerly wind and borne whither the winds might list. Just so our modern Solons indite statutes and ordinances, get them adopted in solemn form, have them printed in a book with hundreds of other more or less foolish requirements and interdicts, and either think or pretend that so the public good has been accomplished or public ills have been redressed. We verily believe that half the provisions in the Virginia code are practically useless, to say nothing of the large proportion which are positively harmful. A period of repose from legislative industry, during which no enactments should be made except in the shape of appropriations for the support of the Government and in repeal of dead letters, would be a happy thing for the general interests of the community. No theoretically free people were ever so much, and therefore so badly governed as those of the United States; and in the very super-abundance of law the spirit of lawlessness is engendered.

Foley's Oritio Laxative is best for women and children. Its mild action and pleasant taste make it preferable to violent purgatives, such as pills, tablets, etc. Cures constipation. Sold at Parker's Two Drug Stores.

ENGLAND SAYS NO ALUM IN FOOD and strictly prohibits the sale of alum baking powder—
So does France
So does Germany

The sale of alum foods has been made illegal in Washington and the District of Columbia, and alum baking powders are everywhere recognized as injurious.

To protect yourself against alum, when ordering baking powder, say plainly—
ROYAL BAKING POWDER
and be very sure you get Royal.

Royal is the only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar. It adds to the digestibility and wholesomeness of the food.

Republicans Pay Tribute to Mr. Cleveland.
Statesville Landmark.

The New Jersey Legislature which has a Republican majority, is doing the non-partisan act of perfection. On the 18th, the birthday of ex-President Cleveland, Assemblyman Sullivan, the Democratic leader in the House, called attention to the occasion and offered congratulatory resolutions, which were immediately passed, the vote being a standing one, at the suggestion of Speaker Jess. The resolutions were immediately sent to the Senate for endorsement. It was proposed at first to send a special messenger with the official copy of the resolutions to the ex-President's home at Princeton, but it was learned that he was not at home and the resolutions were forwarded by mail. Not content with this the Legislature later unanimously passed resolutions inviting Secretary of War Taft and Hon. W. J. Bryan to address the Assembly as guests of the members.

The Theatre as an Educator.
Washington Post.

The theatre is an educator as well as the college or the church, but this rate bill shuts out of the South our best actors and actresses. E. H. Sothern has canceled his Southern dates. So has Louis James. So have other eminent actors. They assign as the reason that the new law denying them special rates, has made it impossible for them to tour the South or other sections where "one-night-stands" so abound.

Thus, the rural communities, small cities, North as well as South, will suffer from the octopus chase of the Fifty-ninth Congress; but it was the rural roosters who led the chase, and they have reaped what they sowed.

If the pursuit of happiness is the true vocation of man, and if happiness is the child of virtue, then the late Joseph Jefferson was more of a public benefactor than a whole regiment of average statesmen. No man ever saw him act but was the better for it in both mind and heart. E. H. Sothern is another benefactor, who holds the mirror up to nature and makes men and women wiser and better.

If the theatre is not as potential as the press of good, it is solely because the constituency of the theatre is smaller than that of the press. To be sure there are vicious theatres; but there are vicious newspapers, wicked clergymen and false college professors, and the fact remains that noble sentiment never lacked applause in the theatre and ignoble act never escaped hiss.

It is much to be doubted if the evangelist Spurgeon did more good to men than the actor Irving. Ellen Terry creates smiles, while Florence Nightingale dries tears. Both are enshrined in the hearts of good men and women.

Without a design to reproach or condemn anybody for octopus chasing, this paper is free to say that whatever lames the theatre cripples society.

William H. Anderson, M. D., of Soda Springs, Ida., says that Bess Laxative Cough Syrup has relieved coughs and colds where all other remedies failed. Its gentle laxative effects especially recommend it for children. It is pleasant to take. For coughs, colds, hoarseness, whooping cough. Money refunded if not satisfied. Sold by Kerper-McNair Co.

Veteran With History Dies.
Mr. John McGrath, Who Fought With Custer Against the Sioux Indians in 1876 and Was the Only Surviving Member of His Brigade, Dies at the Age of 78 Years.

Charlotte Observer, 18th.

A soldier by profession, tried in the fiercest tests of martial conflict, possessed of the valor and sturdy manhood inherent in the unmixed Irish blood which flowed through his veins, passed over the river yesterday on his native country's gala day, when Mr. John McGrath, of Irish birth, veteran of the Indian and civil wars and said to be the only member of the famous Custer brigade who survived the annihilation visited on it by the savages in 1876, at the battle of the Little Big Horn, died at 6 o'clock at his home, No. 7 East Stone wall street. Seventy-eight years the loyal Irishman and as loyal American lived, dying on St. Patrick's day.

Mr. McGrath's career was a most unusual one, touched at many places by the color of romance. Lived off by episodes which placed life in jeopardy and demanded a high degree of daring. Born in Galway, Ireland, 78 years ago, it was in early life that he made his initial trip to this country with his parents and with the American people cast in his lot for good or ill. For a few months he was employed as a gardener in New York. Then his inclination for the life military conquered and he enlisted in the United States army, beginning a term of service which ended only after more than 20 years.

Mr. McGrath's Indian fighting was done under the inspiring leadership of the courageous Custer, who was in command of his brigade, pitted against the Sioux. It was only chance that the subject of this sketch survived that conflict. As it happened, he was one of the men who were discharged as one of the red men against whom his countrymen were contending, clad in their picturesque attire and affecting their stoical demeanor. Mr. McGrath broke through the enemy's lines, then, and the story, and despite the fact that his term of service had just expired, brought to the rescue of the jeopardized band of 470, employing all his shrewd knowledge of the ways of the Indian and all his detailed acquaintance with the topography of the country, sufficient reinforcements to have saved the day. But it was too late. Led by Sitting Bull, the savage horde had rushed upon the outnumbered soldiers, had smashed through the enemy's lines, had cut up fragments and trophies of their merciless death dealing, had destroyed every remnant of the brigade, far famed though it was.

The latter part of Mr. McGrath's life was spent near Shelby, with his family. After living 20 years there he came to Charlotte, where he died two years ago and lived here since. Mr. McGrath is survived by his wife and five children. These are Messrs. Dennis, Samuel and Jake McGrath, and Misses Mary and Hester McGrath of this city.

Eventful Year.
Randeman Central North Carolinian.

The present year promises to be one of much interest and excitement for the citizens of this Old North State. Among the exciting events to occur may be named the prohibition election to be held the 26th of May, to determine whether or not the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors shall be prohibited in the State. The holding of State conventions by the two leading political parties of the State, for the purpose of selecting delegates to each of the National conventions to be held in the early summer, and the appointment of Presidential electors. The holding of county conventions, or primary elections in the various counties and cities in the State, for the purpose of selecting delegates for the general Congressional conventions of the two political parties in the State, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Congress.

The year's excitement will have reached its high water mark when the month of November shall have been ushered in. And the final will be pulled off on National election day in that month. In the meanwhile, that the years excitement may not grow monotonous by the injection of so much politics, it is given out that five circus shows will tour the State during the year; this will act as a kind of supply excitement in the interim intervening between conventions and elections; and give the small boy an opportunity to share some of the fun. From this point of view, the present year will indeed be an eventful one.

BAILEY'S ESTIMATE OF ROOSEVELT.
Senator Bailey, who is regarded by many persons as the ablest man in the United States Senate, in a speech on the pending financial bill, gave this estimate of the President:

"We have never before witnessed such a mixture of good and evil in any public man. Before we have finished praising him for some wise recommendation he makes another so foolish that our praise must turn to censure. They tell me that he is brave; and I answer that he is just as rash as he is brave. They tell me that he is honest; and I answer that he is just as arbitrary as he is honest. He is—

"Too bad for blessing.
Too good for cursing.
I wish in my heart
He were better or worse.
If he were much better, he would be too good for me, and if he were a little worse he would not obscure and confuse the great issues between Democrats and their adversaries."

Death Was On His Heels.
Jesse P. Morris, of Skippers, Va., had a close call in the spring of 1906. He says: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me, and death was on my heels. Then I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It helped me immediately, and after taking two and a half bottles I was a well man again. I found out that New Discovery is the best remedy for cough and lung-disease in all the world. Sold under guarantee at Melville Dorseys' drug store. 50c. and $1.00.

Advice the Farmer Should Heed.
Markville Our Home.

Are you going to raise cotton this year as a surplus crop for yourself, or are you going to plant a great big cotton crop that'll belong to somebody else as fast as you gather it? Better get on a cash basis by raising your bread and meat, potatoes, vegetables, milk and butter and chickens and eggs at home. If you make debts against your cotton, due in the fall, you'll have to put that cotton on the market at auction, to go through the various toll gates to the spinner, and you'll be the loser. Don't raise any "distressed" cotton if you can keep it from.

A Twenty Year Sentence.
"I have just completed a twenty year health sentence imposed by Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which cured me of bleeding piles just twenty years ago," writes O. S. Wadsworth, of Leesville, N. Y. Bucklen's Arnica Salve relieves the worst sores, boils, burns, wounds and cuts in the shortest time. 25c. at Melville Dorseys' drug store.

NIGHTS OF UNREST.
No Sleep, No Rest, No Peace for the Sufferer From Kidney Troubles.

No peace for the kidney sufferer—no rest and distress from morn to night.
Get up with a lame back.
Twinges of backache bother you all day.
Dull aching breaks your rest at night.
Urinary disorders add to your misery.
Get at the cause—cure the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills will work the cure.
They're for the kidneys only—Have made great cures in Henderson.

L. W. Holloman, 412 Andrews Ave., Henderson, N. C., says: "I cheerfully recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for I received the most satisfactory results from their use. A soreness across the small of my back and through the joints, bothered me constantly and prevented me from sleeping well at night. My kidneys were too frequent in action and the secretions were highly colored and deposited much sediment. Learning of the value of Doan's Kidney Pills, I obtained a box from Kerper-McNair Co's drug store and after using them a short time was freed from the backache and other annoyances. Since then I have been in the best of health and can only attribute this great change in my condition to the effectiveness of Doan's Kidney Pills." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Are you going to raise cotton this year as a surplus crop for yourself, or are you going to plant a great big cotton crop that'll belong to somebody else as fast as you gather it? Better get on a cash basis by raising your bread and meat, potatoes, vegetables, milk and butter and chickens and eggs at home. If you make debts against your cotton, due in the fall, you'll have to put that cotton on the market at auction, to go through the various toll gates to the spinner, and you'll be the loser. Don't raise any "distressed" cotton if you can keep it from.

A Twenty Year Sentence.
"I have just completed a twenty year health sentence imposed by Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which cured me of bleeding piles just twenty years ago," writes O. S. Wadsworth, of Leesville, N. Y. Bucklen's Arnica Salve relieves the worst sores, boils, burns, wounds and cuts in the shortest time. 25c. at Melville Dorseys' drug store.
