Fruit and Pecans.

North Carolina Wins a Number of Prizes on Both These Products at National Horticultural Congress in Council Bluffs, Iowa—Won in Competition With California, Oregon, Idaho, and Colorado on Apples and Pears, and Beats Texas on Quality of Pecans Shown—A Signal Triumph for the Old North State.

Special Correspondence Wilmington Star.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 21.—The National Horticultural Congress terminated its second session, lasting one week, at Council Bluffs, Ia., opposite this city, last night. It was successful financially and creditable alike to the exhibitors and the city.

What interested me especially, was the display made by the State of North Carolina, the entry being in the name of the State Horticultural Society of North Carolina, under the supervision of W. N. HUNT, of the department of agriculture of your State, and his assistant, Stewart B. Shaw. The Bee, of this city, an enterprising publication, and admittedly the most influential journal in this section of the country, which manifests its interest in exhibitions of this kind by offering annually a silver trophy of value as a special inducement, paid to North Carolina the compliment to say that her exhibit "was conceded to be one of the best at the exposition."

And I think that opinion was generally entertained by visitors. Forty-two States were represented by exhibits—among which were Oregon, California, Idaho and Colorado, which make a special feature of fruit exhibits at all expositions of this sort all over the country, and spare neither time nor money to make their exhibits as attractive as possible. Much of their fruit is polished until it shines like a mirror, and with its bluish, puts the nose out of conceit. Some cunning of the growers has produced such a variety of hues in the skin of some of the fruit that it looks like a sample of excellent hair dyes.

Nervous

"I was very nervous," writes Mrs. Mollie Mirse, of Carville, Ky., "had palpitation of the heart, and was irregular."

"On the advice of Mrs. Hattie Cain I took 2 bottles of Cardui and it did me more good than any medicine I ever took."

"I am 44 years old and the change has not left me, but I am lots better since taking Cardui."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Cardui is advertised and sold by its loving friends. The lady who advised Mrs. Mirse to take Cardui, had herself been cured of serious female trouble, by Cardui, so she knew what Cardui would do.

If Cardui cured Mrs. Cain and Mrs. Mirse, it surely will cure you too. Won't you try it? Please do.

THE LEAD OF NORTH CAROLINA

A Tar Heel in New York Calls The World Down on Its History—The Stamp Act on the Cape Fear—Some Things the New Yorker Didn't Know About the Early Period of North Carolina.

Wilmington Star.

Upon the occasion of Mr. Taft's recent visit to North Carolina he referred to some of the remarkable events in the State's history, referring especially to the suppression of the Stamp Act here in Revolutionary times. The egregious Mr. Dunlap, "Special Representative of the New York World with the Presidential Party," flippantly referred to these allusions of Mr. Taft as follows: "By these pleasant little concessions to local pride Mr. Taft shows that he is a better politician than historian."

Thanksgiving, Good People, Thanking.

Frank L. Stanton, in Atlanta Constitution.

For the light of the skies
For the light of the eyes
An' the light in love's eyes.
Thanksgiving, good people—Thanksgiving!

There's trouble, sometimes, on the hilltop
And plain;
But the sunlight comes out, an' it's brighter for rain;
There are cups, brimmed with life, for the starved lips to drain;
Thanksgiving, good people—Thanksgiving!

The wild, thorny gardens with roses are rare,
An' out of the sorrow, and out of the strife,
Still may we gather the blessing of life;
Thanksgiving, good people—Thanksgiving!

The best team won, but there was not a moment of the game without its sensation and with every advance of the pigskin there was a grim struggle or a brilliant play.

"Go South, Young Man."

This is the Cry Now—The Old Ideas Exploded—Eyes of Nation Turn to the Sunny South—The New Slogan Result of Recent Meeting of the National Farmers' Congress in Raleigh—Conditions Were a Revelation to Men Who Came from All Parts of the Nation—South making Great Strides Agriculturally.—Secretary Wilson's View.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 26.—"Go South, young man," is the plea that results from the meeting of the National Farmers' Congress in Raleigh, which was attended by a thousand delegates from all parts of the nation. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, British Ambassador James Bryce and other prominent citizens, and it is a cry that promises to displace the shibboleth of another day to which expression was given by the editorial sage of two generations ago in speaking of the future development of the country.
