

Murderous Hands Deal Death Blows to Four of This Family

Mr. Isaac Lyerly, his Wife, Daughter and Little Son Killed in Their Home Near Cleveland Rowan County, at an Early Hour This Morning.

The Scene of the Crime was Near Cleveland, in Rowan County. Five Negroes Have Been Arrested and are in Jail at Salisbury. Excitement Runs Very High.

Salisbury, July 14.—Rowan county from center to circumference is stirred today as it has never been before. The cause of this unusual excitement is the murder of Isaac Lyerly, Mrs. Isaac Lyerly, Janie Lyerly, and John Lyerly, at their home a short distance from Cleveland this morning.

In the annals of blood-curdling crime in North Carolina the murder of Mr. Lyerly, his wife and children, stands without a parallel.

Between one and two o'clock this morning unknown brutes (for they cannot be dignified by being called human beings) entered the home of Mr. Lyerly and with a murderous axe dealt death to four of his family.

On entering the room, which was down stairs, the murderers first went to the bed that was occupied by Mr. Lyerly and his son, John nine years old. Mr. Lyerly's skull was crushed with a single blow and his brains were scattered on the pillow. Another blow crushed the skull of his son, who was nesting close beside his beloved father.

The murderers then went across the room to the bed where Mrs. Lyerly and her daughters, Jane and Alice, were sleeping. Two blows from the axe instantly killed Mrs. Lyerly and her daughter Janie. A third blow crushed the skull of little Alice Lyerly, the six year old daughter and the baby of the family. While she was rendered unconscious she was still living this afternoon at three o'clock.

After committing these fiendish deeds the murderers set fire to the bed on which lay the bodies of Mr. Lyerly and his son John and fled from the house.

A few moments after the bed clothing became ignited Miss Mary Lyerly, the 18 year old daughter and oldest child, who was sleeping with her sister, Miss Addie, in an upstairs room, be-lected the odor of smoke. Believing that her home was on fire, she quickly awoke her sister and rushed down stairs in her parents room.

There a sight that beggars description met her gaze. By the dim light of the burning bedding she saw the prostrate form of her father and little brother as they lay in pools of their own blood. Casting her eyes to the other side of the room in equally harrowing sight met her gaze. There her mother and little sister Janie lay with their skulls crushed and blood rushing from ugly wounds.

Close beside her mother, next to the wall, was little Alice, cringing and cowering because of a murderous blow that had been dealt by a merciless hand. Seeing the father and mother, sister and brother were all dead, she picked up little Alice and ran from the house. She was closely followed by her sister, Addie the two taking the dying child to the home of Mr. Philip Cook, a half mile away.

The screams of the two young ladies aroused Mr. Cook and family and they were immediately given entrance to his home. They took the prostrate body of little Alice into Mr. Cook's bed room. While bending over her, little Addie the two daughters told in broken voices of the horrible crimes that had been committed at their home.

Mr. Cook immediately went to the nearest neighbors and told them of the crimes. Four or five gathered and went immediately to the Lyerly home.

When Mr. Cook entered the room in which the bodies were, he says he saw what he hopes never to see again. The mother and little daughter were cold in death, and their heads beaten almost into a pulp. The same was true of Mr. Lyerly and his little son, John.

Nothing could be done with the bodies until the coroner viewed them, so Mr. Cook and his friends kept vigil during the remaining hours of the night.

As soon as the crime was known in Cleveland and that section, neighbors commenced to swarm around the house and dire threats were made on all hands against those who would perpetrate such a heinous crime. Searching parties were immediately gotten up and neighbors went here and there hoping to find some trace of the murderers. Word was sent to Salisbury, Winston-Salem, Mooresville and to Charlotte, asking that bloodhounds be dispatched in order to trace the criminals. People went about in a frenzied state of mind, hardly knowing what course was best to pursue.

A message was sent to the Governor asking that he use his good offices to secure the bloodhounds at the penitentiary and have them sent to the scene at once. Private Secretary Arrington answered this telegram, saying that dogs were not available, but that in the absence of the Governor a proclamation would be issued offering $350 reward for the arrest and conviction of the guilty parties.

Suspected Parties Arrested.
Around the jail in Salisbury this afternoon excitement runs high. Officers from Cleveland have just put behind the bars three negro men and two negro women who are suspected of either knowing of the crimes or having been directly connected. These are Mitchell Graham and wife, Jack Dillingham and wife and John Jordan. While the officers are reticent, they declare that strong evidence has been secured and that because of this evidence the five negroes have been landed in jail.

It seems that the strongest clue that the officers have been able to secure is against Mitchell Graham and his wife. It is said that Graham is the man who made the threat that Mr. Lyerly, "Might cut his wheat, but would never live to eat it."

The latest news from little Alice Lyerly is that her condition is extremely critical and that the wound in the head may prove fatal at any moment. The attending physicians hold out little or no hope for her recovery.

STATE OFFERS REWARD.

Private Secretary Offers $350 Reward, Governor Glenn Being absent at Atlantic City.

Raleigh N. C., July 14.—Governor Glenn received a telegram this morning from R. R. Mulliken, a telegraph operator at Barber Junction to the effect that about three o'clock this morning an unknown person entered the home of Mr. Ike Lyerly, one of the most peaceable and respected citizens and murdered Lyerly his wife, and three youngest children who were all sleeping on the first floor.

The murderer then set the house on fire, and fled. The smoke and flames awoke Lyerly's two eldest daughters who were sleeping up stairs. They rushed down in time to get the bodies of the murdered parents, brothers and sister and saved them from burning. There is no clue to the murderers but the citizens are scouring the country for them.

Mr. Mulliken appealed to the Governor to send, at once blood hounds. Orders were issued from the Governor's office for the sending of the hounds from the penitentiary, but it was found that the institution has only two young and untrained ones. Besides they are at this time on the Halifax county state farm. Although unable to provide the hounds a proclamation was promptly issued from the Governor's office offering $350 reward for the arrest of the murderers. This action is taken by Private Secretary A. H. Arrington, Governor Glenn being now at Atlantic City.

MURDERERS USED CLUBS.
The Five Victims Were Clubbed to Death it is Thought.

Winston-Salem, July 14.—Isaac Lyerly, his wife and three youngest children were murdered in their home one mile east of Barber's Junction, between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning by unknown parties, who afterwards robbed the house and then set fire to the bed on which Mr. and Mrs. Lyerly were killed.

The oldest daughters, who were sleeping upstairs, were awakened and rushed down just in time to extinguish the flames and save the home from destruction.

It is thought the robbers killed their victims with clubs. Lyerly was a wealthy merchant and farmer, and his family is recognized as one of the best in that section.

As soon as the news of the murder and robbery was received here Deputy Sheriff Hutchins went to the scene with bloodhounds. Later, a report was received that two negroes had been arrested. One is quoted as saying a few days ago, after Mr. Lyerly had refused to allow him to cut his wheat, "that the old man may cut his grain, but he'll never live to eat it."

Governor Glenn received a message from Barber's Junction appealing to him for help. There were no bloodhounds to be sent from the penitentiary. The Governor issued a proclamation offering a reward of $350 for the arrest of the murderers.

A Negro's Threat.
Winston-Salem, July 14.—Isaac Lyerly wife two daughters, and son were murdered in their home one mile east of Barber's Junction between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning by unknown parties who afterwards robbed the house and then set fire to the bed on which Mr. and Mrs. Lyerly were killed.

Two older daughters who were sleeping up stairs were awakened and rushed down just in time to extinguish the flames and save the home from destruction.

It is thought that the robbers killed the five parties with clubs. Mr. Lyerly was a wealthy merchant and farmer and the family was recognized as one of the best in that section.

As soon as the news of the murder and robbery was received here deputy sheriff Hutchins was requested to go to the scene with his blood hounds. He left on a special train at six o'clock with his dogs.

Later a report came that two negroes had been arrested. One of these was quoted as saying a few days ago, after Mr. Lyerly had refused to allow him to cut his wheat, "that the old man may cut his grain, but he'll never live to eat it."

From Salisbury.
Salisbury, July 14.—This morning between 2 and 3 o'clock burglars entered the home of Mr. Isaac Lyerly, of Cleveland, this county, a village on the Western railroad 11 miles from Salisbury. Mr. Lyerly, his wife and three children were murdered.

A message at 3 o'clock summoned Sheriff Julian to the scene and the officers and a large posse are on the hunt for the murderers.

Excitement runs high here, where Mr. Lyerly was well known. He was about 65 years old, a prosperous farmer and a business man, and one of the best known citizens of the county. Details are meagre at this hour, 8:00 a. m.

The five negroes who are suspected of being implicated in the murder of the Lyerly family, were brought to Charlotte Saturday night by Sheriff Julian of Rowan county. The names of the negroes are: Mitchell Graham, George Irwin, John Gillespie, Jack Dillingham and Henry Gillespie.

Sheriff Julian, on his arrival at the county jail turned the prisoners over to Deputy Sheriff E. O. Johnston who at once put them behind the bars.

All five of the negroes were frightened in an inch of their lives. All the way from Salisbury to Charlotte they were trembling and crouching beneath the car seats for fear some one would do them harm. The trip to this city was made without incident, though Sheriff Julian thought he would encounter trouble at the station in Salisbury. He managed to get the prisoners on the "blind" side of the cars and got them aboard the second class car without any one knowing of their presence.

Yesterday afternoon a News man went to the county jail and had a long conversation with the five prisoners. All with the exception of Mitchell Graham, declined to talk very much. Graham, however, was very conversant and seemed both willing and eager to tell his side of the story.

He declares that he knew nothing of the wholesale murder of the Lyerly family until a Mr. Barber informed him of the crime about 5 o'clock Saturday morning. He says that he was in bed at his home when Mr. Barber passed along the road and yelled for him. He went to the door of his house and Mr. Barber asked him if he had heard what had happened down at old man Lyerly's home. He told him he had not and then Mr. Barber told him of the horrible crime that had been committed during the night.

Graham says that he was startled and hardly knew what to say or think. He dressed as quickly as possible and went down to the Lyerly home, which is a distance of about three quarters of a mile from his house. He was standing out in the yard talking with one or two other negroes about the affair when he was arrested.

John Gillespie and Henry Gillespie step-sons of Mitchell Graham, were plowing in a field about two miles from the Lyerly home when an officer arrested them. Both of these boys are bright mulattoes and have rather good faces. They, of course, declare they know nothing of the crime and claim that they can establish the fact that they remained at their home from 8 o'clock Friday night until 5 o'clock Saturday morning.

Jack Dillingham, another one of the five is a rather squatty negro and much darker than either of the Gillespie boys. He has piercing black eyes and there is something about his appearance that denotes meanness. There is nothing, however, in the evidence, so far accumulated, that will direct connect Dillingham with the crime. It is known, however, that Dillingham is very intimate with Mitchell Graham and this fact may mitigate against him.

George Irwin, the fifth negro now in the county jail here will not speak of the crime at all. He seems to be perfectly satisfied to listen to the story that Mitchell Graham tells. He, of course, denies that he is in any way implicated in the crime. He is a black, swarthy negro and there is nothing attractive about him.

It is not known how long the five negroes will remain in the Mecklenburg jail. Some think that the best policy would be for Rowan county, to have them transferred to a special penitentiary at Raleigh. There they would be perfectly safe while here there is a doubt as to their safety.

SPECIAL TERM OF COURT.
Governor Glenn Orders a Special Term of Court for Trial of Lyerly Murderers.

Salisbury, July 16.—Governor Glenn today ordered a special term of the Rowan superior court for the purpose of trying the murderers of the Lyerly family. The court is ordered to begin July thirtieth.

Raleigh, July 16.—Col. Arrington, private secretary to Governor Glenn, today issued an order for a special term Rowan court for the trial of the negroes under arrest for the murder of Isaac Lyerly and family at Barber's Junction.

The order is at the request of Sheriff Julian and many citizens of the county, and in compliance with instructions from Governor Glenn, now with his family at Atlantic City.

In 1866 Ward was arrested in Buffalo for trying to pass a forged check. At this time former President Cleveland was practicing law in that city, and defended Ward. The prisoner was found guilty, and sentenced to Auburn for five years.
