

BIG CROWDS ARE IN SALISBURY TO HEAR THE TRIAL

Fully Three Thousand Visitors were in and Around the Court House this Morning at 10 O'clock when Judge Long Called the Court to Order.

J. F. Hall Chosen Foreman of Grand Jury. Judge Long's Charge was Devoted Mostly to the Crime of Lynching. It was an Able and Clear Charge.

Salisbury, Aug. 6. (3:40 p. m.)—The grand jury this afternoon brought in true bills against Nease Gillespie, John Gillespie, Henry Gillespie, George Ervin, Jack Dillingham and Della Dillingham, charging all six of the defendants with the murder of the Lyley family.

Salisbury Aug. 6.—Fully 3,000 visitors are in Salisbury today to witness the trial of the five negroes who were brought here last night from Charlotte, charged with the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Lyley and their two children.

The scene in and around Rowan's Court House this morning was one that has never been witnessed in Salisbury before. The crowd in and out of the court house was quiet, but there seemed to be a determined undercurrent that may or may not forebode evil.

The special term of court for the trial of the five negroes was opened promptly at 10 o'clock this morning. Judge B. F. Long of Statesville, presiding. Solicitor Hamner, Hon. Theodore F. Klutz and Mr. T. C. Linn, will represent the state. The five prisoners are represented by Mr. Jake F. Newell of Charlotte and Mr. H. S. Williams of Concord.

The organization of the court commenced with the drawing of the grand jury. The following good and lawful men were drawn: W. A. Frick, J. W. Ridgoutte, William Fesperman, W. M. Erwin, J. T. Barber, D. A. Hodge, John R. Nussman, W. H. Enson, J. S. Hall, James P. Trexler, J. D. Ketchie, C. A. Correll, J. M. Monroe Jr., R. L. Weddington, Maxwell Holsinger, R. A. Moore, and M. P. Plummer.

After drawing the grand jury Judge Long explained in detail the qualifications of a grand juror. He said any one of the gentlemen named who had a suit pending in court; who had not paid his taxes for 1905 and who was a non-resident of the State, was not qualified to sit as a grand juror in the trial of this case. As all of the gentlemen drawn filled all the requirements, there were none excused.

The court said that in order to preserve the dignity of the court and to maintain good order, five special deputies would be named. These are: H. C. Lentz, Shoaf Poteat, J. D. Shoe, W. P. Sloop and W. A. Steel.

The court also issued an order that no one under any circumstances would be allowed around the jury box. He said all must stand back and give the jurymen plenty of room and air.

Mr. J. S. Hall was named by Judge Long as Foreman of the Jury. In his charge to the jury Judge Long dwelt at length on the crime of lynching. He maintained that any one who would engage in depriving a human being of his life by lynching, was in the eyes of the law, just as much a murderer as the man who would shoot his neighbor down. He stated that while he apprehended no act of violence, that if it came to him that there was any suggestion of a plot to kill or injure the prisoners he would for the time being, ignore the bill if it should be brought against the five prisoners and proceed at once with the trial of those implicated in such a plot.

This he said he would do if it required all the summer to ferret out the evidence in such cases. At 12:30 o'clock court adjourned to meet again at 2:30 o'clock.

When the prisoners reached Salisbury last night they were temporarily taken to a livery stable in close proximity to the jail. While there the negro preacher Mitchell who is supposed to be one of the most important witnesses in the case, became frightened and asked Sheriff Julian to separate him from the five prisoners. He said he feared that if a mob were to come along he would be strung up with the rest of them.

Greatest Precaution Taken. Salisbury, N. C., Aug. 6.—People from the rural districts began to arrive in town early last evening to be present at the trial today. A large number of people were up all night and were constantly patrolling the main streets. The prisoners were expected to be brought up from Charlotte this morning on the 5 o'clock train, but when Sheriff Julian and assistants went to Charlotte yesterday afternoon on the 3 o'clock train it was noised around that they would bring the five negroes to Salisbury last night, and a good crowd of curious ones were at the depot to meet No. 12 at 8:30 o'clock, but the officers had taken every precaution. They did not believe it safe to bring the men in this morning, although it had been announced and published that they would come in on the early train. This was done in order to throw those who might cause trouble off the track. Sheriff D. H. Julian, Deputy D. W. Julian and Officer Poteat came in with the negroes on 34 about midnight. The train was stopped at the ice factory, about a quarter of a mile from the passenger depot, and the prisoners had been advised of this plan met them and the prisoners were taken a back route to the jail. There are still vague mutterings in the air of lynching, for this reason the greatest precaution will be taken for the safety of the men. A large force of armed men is on duty and the jail yards are kept clear. No one is allowed in the enclosure around the prison except by special permission of some one in authority. The people of the city are hoping for a peaceful trial and it is generally believed, now that the special term has convened, that no violence will occur, although the city is on netties, less some unforeseen outbreak should start. Sheriff Julian deserves praise for the manner in which he has engineered the case so far, and his good judgment, cool head and steady nerve will be in evidence until the trial is concluded. Solicitor Hamner arrived in the city Saturday and has been devoting his entire time preparing for the great trial.

HOW SHE GOES SHOPPING.

A Monologue. From the Washington Star.

"Is the counter?"
"I want something to match that." "How wide? Oh, I don't know. Let me see what you have first?" "You must know the width? well I don't see why. I'm sure I thought you shopgirls were here to show people what they want and not to ask impertinent questions."
"Well, I want it for a sash for my little girl to wear with a pink dress she's six years old."

"No, that's too light. How much? It's entirely too expensive, too. Let me see the next narrower width, and hurry, please; I haven't all day to spend over one piece of ribbon."
"Oh, that won't do. I should think you could tell that without even looking at it. Same shade? No, it isn't. It's entirely too dark. If there's one thing I can do it is match colors, and that isn't at all what I want."
"What's that piece over there? Too wide? No, it isn't. Let me see it. Oh, I didn't see that half of it was figured. Of course it's too wide and awfully ugly at that. I wish you wouldn't have such deceptive ribbons."
"Where is my sample? I had it just a moment ago. Didn't I give it to you? I'm perfectly sure I did, and you've probably gotten it mixed up with all those ribbons and I'll never find it."

"No, there's no use looking in my bag. I'm sure it isn't there. You might as well keep on looking for it, for I know you had it last."
"Please don't be impertinent. I know what I'm talking about, but just to prove that I'm right I'll look. Why, here it is. I wonder how it ever got in there. Oh, I know; it must have dropped in when I got my handkerchief out of the bag."
"Let me see some narrower ribbon. Perhaps I can match it and it will do just as well."
"You haven't any narrower? Are you quite sure? They have it over at Blank & Blank's, and I don't see why you haven't it here. Well, then, let me see some figured ribbon; probably that will do though. I'd very much rather have the plain."
"Oh, dear no, I don't want such big-figured ribbons. Imagine them on a six-year-old child! Dresden? No, I don't want Dresden ribbon, either. It's so fussy-looking. I should think you would have some judgment about the way you show ribbons and not jump from the largest patterns to the very smallest."

"I'm sure I don't know. It's your business to know the pattern of your ribbons, isn't it? But please hurry, for I must get this ribbon and go right home with it. My little girl is going to a party this afternoon and she's probably shrieking at the top of her lungs right now because I'm not there with her sash."
"Won't you attend strictly to me and not answer other people's silly questions? That woman could just as well have asked the floorwalker where she could get black ribbon."
"I suppose I'll have to take that Dresden ribbon, though I don't like it. Just cut off a yard and a half and I'll take it with me."
"Only two and a half yards in the piece? I don't see why you won't cut it. I've a great mind to report you to the floorwalker for not telling me that in the first place. This is certainly the most provoking place to shop. I could have done over so much better at Blank & Blank's."
"Then I'll have to take that piece that you say matches the silk. It's perfectly horrid, but I suppose it's the best I can do."
"No, I don't want it charged. What made you think I had a charge account here? It's provoking enough to come occasionally without doing most of my shopping here because I can charge things."
"That piece is so expensive that I don't want but three-quarters of a yard. I'll have to fix it into a regular belt. I don't have long ends. Please don't take all the way to get the change and the parcel, either. This is the slowest place I ever was in, and I shan't come here again when I'm in a hurry."

OPPRESSIVE HEAT IN NEW YORK
Heat of Today Rivals That of Yesterday—People Sleep in Street.

New York, Aug. 6.—With a temperature of 78 and humidity 86 this morning, today promises to prove as oppressive as yesterday which recorded the hottest weather of the year, three deaths and many prostrations being reported, early and thousands hastened to nearby resorts in quest of cooler atmosphere.

In the thickly populated districts of East Side last night many persons sought relief from the heat by sleeping on the sidewalk, on fire escapes and in the parks. One man while asleep on a fire escape fell to street and was killed.

A man's judgment is not to be mentioned with the way a woman can do things without any.

If you would be light-hearted quit looking on the dark side of everything.

As a rule a young widow begins to get better looking about ten days after the late lamented moves to the cemetery.

A VETERAN OF THE SPANISH WAR

Expresses His Great Faith In Pe-ru-na.

Pe-ru-na Is a Tonic Especially Adapted to the Prevention and Relief of All Catarrhal Ailments Due to the Vicissitudes of Climate and Exposure Experienced by the Soldier.

An Old Soldier's Praise. Mr. F. R. Cox, Center Oak, Pa., writes: "I was taken with hemorrhages of the stomach and had from one to three a year."

"The doctors said my stomach could not be cured, and it was only a question of how soon one of these spells would kill me, and I was given up several times, as they had no hopes for me."

"I finally wrote to you, and you said if it was not a cancer or a tumor, Pe-ru-na would cure me."

"I commenced taking Pe-ru-na right away, and have never had one of those spells since."

"I am an old soldier, one of Phil Sheridan's Rough Riders, and pretty nearly played out now, but I have a pretty good stomach again."

Assistant War Correspondent Recommends Pe-ru-na. Mr. H. B. Manley, Assistant War Correspondent during the war in China, care "Black and White," 688 Craig St., Montreal, Canada, writes:

"When a man travels in extremely hot or cold climates, he realizes how valuable a friend he has if he carries a bottle of Pe-ru-na."

"I know of no article in my traveling outfit which I have learned to praise higher."

"If you are suffering with the extreme heat, Pe-ru-na restores you, or if you are afflicted with a cold, influenza or bronchitis, Pe-ru-na restores you in a short time."

"Or if you suffer with sleeplessness or if your appetite is poor, again Pe-ru-na acts as a good, true friend and is the tonic needed."

"I have tried it for months and am only too glad to acknowledge it as a true, loyal standby in times of trouble. I do not hesitate to recommend it to all."

I. T. Markland, a well-known business man of Cincinnati, Ohio, writes:

"I find that in my case Pe-ru-na is a flesh builder. I am now at work every day, and have gained ten pounds. I took your Pe-ru-na according to directions and the result was more than I expected. I took no other medicine but Pe-ru-na, and it accomplished all. You told me in your first letter that you thought Pe-ru-na would cure me and it has. I am seventy-three years old and can attend to my business as usual."

COL. ARTHUR L. HAMILTON.

Gallant Porto Rican Soldier Gives Praise to Pe-ru-na.

Col. Arthur L. Hamilton, of the Seventh Ohio Volunteers, writes from 250 Goodale St., Columbus, O., as follows:

"Besides having the merits of Pe-ru-na fully demonstrated in my family, I have a number of friends who have taken it for catarrh and stomach trouble and all unite in praising it. As a remedy for catarrh, I can fully recommend it."

In a later letter to Dr. Hartman, Col. Hamilton writes: "My command used your Pe-ru-na during our service in the Spanish-American War and I will say this, that if the War Department records are consulted, it will be found that the casualties in my regiment were less than in any other regiment of the Army Corps while at Camps Alger, Meade and Bushnell. The total deaths in my regiment, during the seven months' service, were seven out of a total number of 1400. I, of course, cannot help but think that Pe-ru-na certainly was a great benefit to my command."

In a recent letter, Col. Hamilton says: "I have used Pe-ru-na myself and my family for the last seven years. I have already written you about the good results I experienced with your remedy during the Spanish-American War."

In old age the mucous membranes become thickened and partly lose their function.

This leads to partial loss of hearing, small and taste, as well as digestive disturbances.

Pe-ru-na corrects all this by its efficient operation on all the mucous membranes of the body.

One bottle will convince anyone. Once used and Pe-ru-na becomes a life-long standby with old and young.

For free medical advice, address Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O. All correspondence held strictly confidential.

Mr. Fred Derseweh, Ridgeway, Tenn., writes: "We have been using Pe-ru-na for five years. I believe that it is the best medicine that I know of."

"I and my wife and our thirteen children do not need any doctor, since we use Pe-ru-na."

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics. One reason why Pe-ru-na has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind.

Pe-ru-na has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of the catarrh.

Nothing is more in demand than a medicine which meets modern requirements for a blood and system cleanser, such as Dr. King's New Life Pills.

They are just what you need to cure stomach and liver troubles. Try them. At C. M. Shuford and E. B. Menzies drug store, 25c, guaranteed.
