

THE NOTED TOBACCO CASE IN COURT

Petition for Removal Filed in the Office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court. Susie Hannon now in Penitentiary. Gov. Glenn Issues Call.

Raleigh, Aug. 4.—The record and petition for removal to the United States Circuit Court in the noted case of Blackwells Durham Tobacco of North Carolina vs. the Blackwell Durham Tobacco Co., of New Jersey, the American Tobacco Co., and others was filed in the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court here this evening. The petition for removal from the State court is to Circuit Judge Pritchard of Asheville. The Old Blackwells Durham Tobacco Co., now of New Jersey, controlled by the American Tobacco Co., operates the mammoth smoking tobacco plant in Durham and the new Blackwells Co., (plaintiffs in the pending suit) was only chartered a week ago and seeks to enjoin the tobacco factories in North Carolina as the new company claims now the exclusive right.

The weekly open air concert by the Third Regiment band last night in Capitol square was heard by two thousand people or more and won enthusiastic praise from all. The band although organized by Capt. W. F. Moody with- in the year, has taken its place as the very finest military band in the State.

Sheriff Harris of Cabarrus county arrived last night with Susie Hannon, the twelve year old murderess of H. Y. Stack in Concord last April. The girl is sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. Papers have been filed with Governor Glenn urging that the case merit at least a conditional pardon so that the girl can be placed in some reformatory or hired out in some family during the term of this sentence. The Governor says he will dispose of the term of her sentence in the penitentiary.

Governor Glenn issues a call for a meeting of the North Carolina commissioners for the Jamestown Exposition to be held in his office September 4th, to perfect general plans for the representation this State shall have in the great exposition. He says the preliminary call for the commissioners to meet August 1 was without his sanction and did not materialize. He is especially anxious for every member of the commission to be present. They are E. L. Daughtridge, Rocky Mount; J. E. Pohne, Raleigh; G. W. Hinshaw, Winston-Salem; D. C. Barnes, Murfreesboro; Col. J. W. Atkinson, Wilmington; H. C. Dockery, Rockingham; N. B. Black, Norwood; D. J. Carpenter, Newton; Geo. S. Powell, Asheville; Dr. John Faison, Faison. The committee will decide at this meeting whether the State will have a special building of its own or not.

Commissioner of Insurance James R. Young returned this morning from Morehead where he spent several days with his family. He went out to the State Hospital for the insane this afternoon and made an inspection as to the damage by the fire that broke out Wednesday morning in the laundry of the institution.

Mr. Young has direct charge of the insurance and fire losses in all the State institutions.

NEW PRIMARY LAW.

Conditions Favorable To-Day for Good Test of the New Law.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Weather conditions which should insure a fair test of the new primary law prevailed at the opening of the polls. There is much uncertainty among even the most experienced party leaders as to the probable result of the vote. It is predicted that the Republican vote in Cook county will exceed that cast by the Democrats for the reason that there have been a number of factional contests in the ranks of the former party, and an especial effort has been made in such cases to get out a full vote. Every voter in the Republican, Democratic or Socialist ranks will vote directly for 15 party nominees—United States Senator and State and county officials, as well as for delegates to the party's six different conventions.

Wouldn't Desert Her.

From the Weekly Telegraph. "A certain lady in the north of Scotland had in her employ a crusty old coachman long in the service of her family who gave her no end of annoyance by an imperious disregard of her instructions. At length, the situation becoming unbearable, the mistress determined to see what effect dismissal would have upon him. Accordingly she said: "I cannot stand this any longer, you must seek another place at the end of the month you leave my service. At these words an expression of grim amusement spread over the countenance of the servant, but the characteristic loyalty asserted itself. "Na, na my lady," said he, "I drove you to the Kirk to be baptised, I drove you to your marriage, and I'll stay to drive you to your funeral."

UNION NEWS.

The Old Presbyterian Cemetery to Be Kept in Best Order.

Union, S. C., Aug. 4.—A movement is about to be set on foot to have the old Presbyterian cemetery, in which loved ones of many prominent people of the city are interred, put and kept in the best of order.

Mrs. Ann H. Jeter, a former resident of Union, now living in Columbia, has very liberally offered to give $1,000 towards a fund, the interest of which shall be used toward paying the salary of a caretaker for the cemetery. Mrs. Jeter's proposition has been made through Mr. Herndon Moore, to Mr. W. E. Thomson, of this city, and he has spoken to a number of representative families, who concur in the opinion that it would be an excellent plan, and is a much needed public improvement.

The idea now is to raise among those who own burial lots there a sum aggregating at least $2,000, as it would take this amount at 7 per cent. to provide anything like a salary that would secure a competent person. A meeting of all interested parties will likely be called at an early date.

Too Much to Ask.

A traveler in the highland observed while at a tavern in a small village a very beautiful collie. At his request the owner was pointed out to him, and he asked the man what he would take for the dog.

"I'll be taking him to America," the Scot asked cautiously. "Certainly, if you sell him to me." "I no cou' part wie Rob," the dog's owner then said emphatically. "I'm muckle fond-like o' him." And liberal offers were no inducement.

Later to the astonishment, the traveler later saw the dog sold to a drover for half what he had offered and after the drover had disappeared requested an explanation. "You said that you could not sell him," he remarked.

"A twinkle came into the highlander's eyes. "No; I didna say I'd no sell him. I said I couldna part wie him," he said. "Bob'll be ham in two or three days frae noo, but I couldna ask him to swim across the ocean. Na; but would be too muckle to ask."

Cattleman's Automobile.

A Billings man told this one on a cattleman who lately purchased a fine auto. The cattle man, who had been used to horses all his life, was delighted with his new style of mount. He built a nice shed for it—nobody says garage in Billings—and after a few lessons, took the machine out for a spin. He had good luck, and the auto rolled all around Billings, just as smooth as grease for an hour or so. Then he turned home, and riding up to the shed, yelled, "Whoa!" at the engine instead of turning off the power and applying the brakes. The result was that the machine went right through the back of the shed and against a brick barn, and Mr. Cattleman's force of habit cost him a lot of repairs and doctor bills.—Denver Republican.

NAVAL RESERVES.

Of Wilmington Terminate Cruise—Building Mania in Wilmington.

Wilmington, August 4.—Saluted by the shrill shriek of the siren and the coarser tones of the steam whistle, the U. S. S. Crompton with the Wilmington Division of Naval Reserves on board steamed up the river yesterday afternoon and docked at the Government wharf, after which the reserves disembarked and were marched to their armory and there dismissed. As the Crompton came up to the wharf shot after shot was fired by the gun crew from the howitzer. The cruise of the North Carolina naval brigade, of which this was the termination was a success in every way and was very beneficial to the volunteer seamen. Some of the members of the New Bern Division accompanied the Crompton on the return trip and will return to their home by rail. Lieut. John B. Peschan and Ensign Walter Morris were in charge of the ship on the return trip.

The building mania is still very active in Wilmington at this time and a number of very fine buildings and residences are being erected. On Princess street, between Second and Third there are three brick buildings being up and on Front between Red Cross and Walnut Sternberger Bros. are building a store. Peterson & Ruff, the shoemakers, are also erecting a handsome three-story structure on Front between Grace and Chestnut Sts. The handsome and modern apartment house to be erected by the Carolina Apartment Company at the corner of Fifth and Market Sts. will soon be under way and when completed this building will equal any house of its kind in the south. To take care of the large hotel business the owner of the Orton Hotel, Mr. Joe H. Hinton is having forty rooms in the old Parcell house building renovated and will use this as an annex to the Orton. There are other buildings too numerous to mention going up in the city and this is a fair sign that Wilmington is growing larger every day.

Torture of a Preacher.

The story of the torture of Rev. O. D. Moore, pastor of the Baptist church, of Harpersville, N. Y., will interest you. He says: "I suffered agonies, because of a persistent cough, resulting from the grip. I had to sleep sitting up in bed. I tried many remedies, without relief, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption Coughs and Colds, which entirely cured my cough, and saved me from consumption." ONLY ABOUT 30,000 WORKMEN JOINED IN GENERAL STRIKE

It is Thought that not Over 30,000 Men Went out at Noon To-day When General Strike Went into Effect. The Situation.

People Generally Favor Strike but not Now. Horrible Manner in which Officers were Treated at Cronstadt. News from all Over Empire.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 4.—The Novoe Vremya, the only uncensored paper to appear today, declares the nation seems determined to commit Harikari and reviews the bestiality of the mutineers at Cronstadt in their attacks upon the officers as showing what the country may expect if the mob gets the upperhand. The paper says the mutineers tied a rope with stone at one end around the neck of one of the officers and threw him into the lake where he was drowned; beat in the face of another officer with the butt of a rifle and broke the legs of Mme. Jacob, sister of Col. Alexanderoff, who threw herself between her brother and some sailors, while latter were forcing their way into their house, and stabbed her to death with bayonets. It turns out that the servants of Col. Alexanderoff and Capt. Vrichinsky delivered them up to the mutineers and those servants were among the murderers who were tried by drumhead court-martial and shot. When they were offered the services of the priest six refused to accept, the sacrament and only expressed repentance.

From personal talks with the workmen in different quarters of the city the Associated Press finds a strong sentiment in favor of a strike but the disposition to hang back until its success is assured since it involves misery, privation and bloodshed, and in case of failure even worse conditions. So far as ascertainable the Revolutionists have no great supply of funds.

Thirty Thousand on Strike. Probably not more than 30,000 workmen were out when the general strike went officially into force at noon today.

Train Robbers Steal $40,000. Warsaw, Aug. 4.—The plan to liberate political prisoners was betrayed to the authorities. Several civil servants and policemen implicated have been arrested.

The appeal has given rise to a serious panic. Peterson, N. J., Aug. 3.—Wm. H. Belcher, who while mayor of this city, absconded a year ago and surrendered today was sentenced to 12 years on the charge of embezzlement.

such can be, not taking prisoners that it thought not guilty.

It is declared that Jack Dillingham and Nease Gillespie confessed out under the tree in the moonlight with a mob of from two to three thousand. Other stories are told that the mob even waited under the tree trying to get a confession and that the prisoners would curse one another as one would accuse the other.

John Gillespie, whose body hangs with his father, right arm over his shoulder and the right leg of the old man sticking straight up over his head, never confessed but declared that he was innocent to the last.

The jail today resembles a building gutted by fire or broken by some terrific explosion. Every window in the rear is smashed and the door broken down, while windows on the side fared equally as badly. A large pile of coal was used as a resort by some of the mob before the militia appeared and the more serious work begun.

It is said on all sides that the calling out of the local militia, the Rowan Rifles, caused the mob, almost quiet, to burst into sudden fury and go at its work wildly and careless of life, about 10 o'clock, and soon after the deputies in the jail and Senator Overman and the others named, were compelled to retreat quickly.

The mob after securing the three men, leaving the others behind, went out North Main street to Kerr, out Kerr to Long and out Long to Henderson's Cross Roads.

A boy sitting in the tree shouted, "I'm not up here for my health." He aided in getting the ropes over the limb while he smoked a cigarette. It is said another member of the mob aided him in his ghastly work.

Negroes in the mob presented a queer scene and scores of them followed the crowd out to the scene of the hanging.

There were several thousand on-lookers. No masks were used and yet not a soul in all the crowd says that they have any idea of the identity of the mob of 50 to 75 who did himself on a veranda overlooking the deadly work.

The faces of the leaders were evidently those of people not known in Salisbury. The affair took place in sight of thousands of people who followed the mob to the scene of the lynching.

THE EARLY SCENES.

The Gathering of the Mob and the Efforts of the Officials to Protect the Prisoners.

Salisbury, Aug. 7.—Never before in the history of this good old town have such scenes been enacted as those which transpired last night. All day yesterday the city was crowded, and when court adjourned at 5 o'clock the crowd in the court building added to those already in the street formed a surging crowd in the vicinity of the courthouse and jail. At half past 7 o'clock people began to loiter around the jail fence and by 8:30 the entire enclosure around the prison was surrounded by a crowd of at least 5,000. The guards paced quietly over the lawn and a number were stationed on the steps and inside the prison. The crowd increased, the lane leading from Main street to the rear jail was a human bee hive.

A news representative stationed scene and awaited the outcome. The crowd was composed principally of on-lookers, but many had evidently come out for trouble. Now and then some few would enter the yard only to be driven out by the guard.

Finally a rush was made from the lane for the rear door. Those on duty opened fire, not however, directing at any one. It was done to frighten, but it had little effect. While these things were transpiring Capt. Max L. Barker was assembling the Rowan Rifles in the armory on East Innis street. They marched a circuitous route and came in the jail lot from the rear. As they wheeled around the corner of the county asylum, which is located just behind the jail, their appearance was greeted by hoots and jeers. They made a faint charge and drove the mob back to the lane. Some one conceived the idea of putting out the big arc lights which had been swung around the jail and a pile of hard coal, rocks and sticks were brought into use and with these the maddened throng pelted the lights, soon extinguishing the two on the north side. Then a great shout rent the air and the mob made a rush for the jail. Volley after volley was exchanged, but so far no one had been hurt. The militia and the guard entered the lower floor of the jail and closed the rear door. The mob was now determined and literally made a target of the rear door and so fierce was the onslaught and so terrific the fire that the special guards, jailor and sheriff were compelled to give up and seek safety among the great mass of spectators.

The militia was hard pressed and could not stay the mob without shooting down promiscuously and were compelled to retreat. They marched up Main street and stationed themselves in the middle of the street a block away and watched results. This gave the mob full control of the jail and they were not long entering in full force and battering in pieces the heavy locks and bars. They soon reached the third story on which the cells are located.

A poor excuse is worse than no excuse.

BOARDS OF ELECTIONS

State Board of Elections Appoints County Boards—Executive Committee Meets Tonight.

Raleigh, Aug. 6.—The state board of elections at noon today appointed the county boards of elections under whose directions the elections will be held this fall. The appointments were made through recommendations from the Democratic and Republican state chairmen who received the recommendations in turn from the county chairmen. Members of the state board, all of whom are here for the meeting are: Wilson G. Lamb, of Williamson, chairman; J. R. Llewellyn, Dobson; R. T. Claywell, of Morganton; A. B. Freeman, of Hendersonville, and Clarence Calk, of Wilkesboro. The two last named being Republicans.

The State Democratic Executive Committee meets tonight.

Governor Glenn issued a statement of the facts this afternoon in answer to the charges made by the Wilmington Messenger criticizing the recent encampment, of the Second regiment. He explains that a reservation of $12,000 for rifle range by the government funds available was unexpectedly short necessitating a change to eight instead of ten days encampment.

FIRE IN SALISBURY.

Inness' Meat Market Gutted—Other Buildings Threatened.

Salisbury, Aug. 6.—Fire broke out this morning at 4 o'clock in the frame building on East Innis street occupied by J. F. Harkey's meat market. The building was completely gutted and for awhile the adjoining buildings were in great danger. The heroic work of the firemen saved valuable property, as the fire was almost in the business section of the city and several frame structures adjoined the burned building. This fire is supposed to have been caused by the explosion of a lamp. Mr. Harkey's loss is fully covered by insurance. The large wooden building adjoining the meat market and occupied by the Kesler boarding house had a narrow escape.

KILLED ON SIGHT.

Tragedy in Missouri Town in Which Two are Killed.

Springfield, Mo., Aug. 6.—In the streets of Chadwick, Mo., Charles Freeman, a merchant, and Robert Keene, 18 years old, today shot each other to death with revolvers. Suit recently was brought by Freeman, charging Keene with assaulting Freeman's daughter. When the men met on the street to-day, both drew revolvers and fired.

Freeman was shot in the forehead and in the left breast. Keene was shot three times in the heart. Both men were dead when the spectators reached them.

HABITS OF THE RICH.

New York Press.

Zola, in his youth, before fame came to him wrote some stories about millionaires, wherein it seemed to him he exaggerated shamefully in his descriptions of the costly homes and habits of the rich, but later on, when Zola became a friend of a millionaire, he found that his accounts of their extravagance had fallen far short of the truth.

In the same stories about the extravagance of American millionaires also fall short of the truth. Here, for instance, are some facts that an interior decorator of New York supplied the other day. They sound extreme, but let Zola be remembered.

A man bought for his hall twelve antique marble columns at Pompeii. Finding he could use only eight of the columns he had the remaining four destroyed, although he was offered for them twice what he had paid. He had paid $5,000 apiece.

Abusson carpets, with a pile three inches thick, are often made to order at a cost of $40 a yard. Such a cost, though, is nothing beside what is ordinarily paid for antique rugs. They, measured by the yard, often cost $500 or $600 a yard.

Chairs of ivory inlaid with wood are occasionally sold at $500 apiece.

One millionaire's piano cost $150,000. A five-inch band of ivory, four years in the carving, runs around the case, which was decorated by Everett Shinn.

The gold and silver plate of one household requires an expert to look after it. The man is a goldsmith, and his salary is $2,000 a year.

Billiard rooms sometimes cost $50,000 to furnish. The tables and cues are inlaid with ivory and gold.

Certain wines—Schloss Johannesberg, for instance, stamped with the crest of Prince Maternich—are sold at private sales to millionaires for $40 to $50 a bottle.

Automobiles of ninety or more horsepower, made to order, will cost from $30,000 to $40,000. Some millionaires keep a dozen or more automobiles, with a head chauffeur at $4,000 or $5,000 a year salary and two or three assistants at $25 a week each.

Then there is the ocean going yacht, which can not be maintained in the most modest way at a smaller annual expenditure than $25,000.
