GOLDEN WEDDING.

The Golden Wedding at Lincolnton Last Monday.

The writer was fortunate in being included in the party who went from here to Lincolnton Monday to take part in the celebration of the golden wedding near that place, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Miller being the bride and groom.

From this place those who went were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Regan, Miss Oneita Miller, and the writer. Rev. and Mrs. McNairy joined us on the train from Lenoir, with little Miss Lisabel. Reaching Lincolnton at a little after eight, we drove out to the old homestead some three or four miles from the town; and found the good couple in ignorance that anything special was to be done in their honor. The secret had been well kept. Besides our own party, and Miss Emily Miller, only surviving member of Mr. J. A. Miller's family, we found Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Miller, from Hinton, W. Va.; Mr. Z. S. Miller, from Montgomery, W. Va., and Mrs. H. C. Corriher, from Salisbury. These with Miss Annie Miller, who lives with her parents, completed the circle, except Mr. C. P. Miller, who was detained by illness in his family. Fifty years ago on the 10th Mr. and Mrs. Miller were united by Dr. Morrison, father-in-law of our beloved "Stone-wall" Jackson; and in all that time, death has never entered their home. They moved to the place where the present brick residence stands in a few weeks after their marriage. The house then standing was burned just before the war, it having been erected in the first ten years of the last century, and, as Mr. Miller faithfully served the South through the whole four years of strife, his family lived in a small cabin until his hard work and constant endeavor enabled him to rebuild. He sold it once, but re-purchased, and has lived in the one spot ever since. Present with the worthy pair Monday, besides their children, and nine grand-children, were Rev. and Mrs. Heller, of Maiden; Rev. Dr. Clapp, of Newton, and those members of the Ramsey family most nearly related. At late nooning, an excellent picnic dinner was spread upon the turf in the front yard, under a fine elm planted by Mr. W. E. Miller thirty-eight years ago. Dr. Clapp asked the blessing of the Great Giver upon the food, and the guests partook of it with keen appetites.

After the meal was finished, Dr. Clapp in an appropriate address, presented Mr. and Mrs. Miller with a handsome tea-service of plate, a pair of gold-mounted spectacles each, and gold coin, etc., bestowed upon them by loving and grateful children. Short addresses, appropriate and touching, were then made by Revs. Heller and Clapp, and photographs of different groups were taken by Messrs. W. E. and A. A. Miller. Part of the family remained for some days, the rest returning to Hickory by the evening train which is such a convenience to all traveling over the C. & N-W's. line.

Your correspondent has never spent a pleasanter day, and heartily copies for Mr. and Mrs. Miller the Spanish wish, "May they live a thousand years."

Harvest Home Services.
Last Sunday was Harvest Home Sunday at the Reformed church. The building was beautifully decorated with grains, fruits and flowers, and a praise service was held. Dr. Murphy preached from Gen. 41: 49, drawing parallels between the full years in Egypt and those we are now enjoying, and deriving lessons from them. A children's service was held at night, and the church was crowded at both services.

For The Democrat.
Bluff City, Tenn., Sept. 4.—We are having plenty of rain in this place at present. Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Harman, of Island Mills, are visiting relatives at Gordon, N. C., this week. Mr. John Harman, of Gordon, N. C., has sold his beautiful farm to his brother, J. C. Harman, and will move to this place in October. Rev. J. M. Harman and Rev. Solomon Younce closed a series of meetings at the Baptist church Sunday. Mrs. N. V. Rhea, of this place, will open school at Hickory Tree on next Monday. The infant of Mr. and Mrs. James Alfred, of this place, is very sick, we are pained to say. Mr. and Mrs. John Webb, of Johnson City, Tenn., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Odell. Tom N. Durham, of Floursville, Tenn., attended the show at Bristol last Monday. Mrs. S. P. Jackson, of Marquis, Ga., who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. N. V. Rhea, returned to her home Saturday. Mrs. Riley Phillips, of Hemlock died Saturday and was buried Sunday afternoon at the Crumley cemetery. Dr. J. L. Campbell, who was struck by lightning some days ago is much improved, we are glad to say. We would like to know what has become of Mr. G. L. Herman?

Lady Dies on Train.
A lady, accompanied by her husband, who was on her way home in High Point, died on the train between the Piedmont Shops and the depot Friday evening. She seemed to be well only a few minutes before she died. We could only learn that her name was Mrs. Hoffman.

Repuclican Corruption.
President Roosevelt never misses an opportunity to preach civic virtue and personal and official honesty, but he has been singularly unfortunate in surrounding himself with men who have not been able to resist temptation, and who have not hesitated to line their pockets with the money of the taxpayers. The history of his administration has been a history of revelations of graft and thievery. A mere list of the cases that have come to light would be a long one. For instance, when the unwilling administration was finally driven to an investigation of charges that had been made against officials of the Postoffice Department, it was found that the entire department was honey-combed with graft. Officials and clerks of all grades were regularly pocketing the proceeds of collusion with contractors and the net result has been the filling of several penitentiary cells, and the number of convictions might have been still higher had not many employees been let off with dismissal. Whether or not the Department was completely cleared up, the atmosphere of graft seems to linger about the building for the disbursing officer of the Washington City postoffice has recently been found to be a defaulter. On even a larger scale than the Post Office Department graft was the wholesale stealing of public land which was found to be going on in the West by the co-operation of thieves in and out of office. Another case of graft on a large scale was that by which advance information as to government crop reports was sold to speculators and brokers who were thus enabled to gamble on the cotton and grain exchanges with loaded dice. By comparison with these instances of wholesale graft the many cases in which individual disbursing officers have been found to be defaulters are relatively insignificant. Among the many of these have been defalcations by disbursing officers in the War Department, the Census Office, and the National Museum. Such a record is sufficient to raise the question of whether it is not true that the entire government service should have such an overhauled as can be brought about only by substituting Democratic administration for that of the Republican party.

The Tariff Revision by Republicans.
With the surrender of Governor Cummins of Iowa, to the stand-pat Republicans in that State all pretense that the trust-protecting Dingley law is to be revised by its friends has been abandoned. Here and there, as in Massachusetts, a few Republican candidates for Congress are trying to delude the voters of their districts into the belief that there is still hope of Republican tariff revision. There is no reason to doubt that these Massachusetts men are in favor of revision to the extent that it would benefit New England by giving the manufactures of that section free raw materials, but they will find themselves as powerless to secure even that small means of modification of the Dingley schedule in the next Congress as they have been in the past. The exposition of the real attitude of the Republican party on this question is to be found in the utterances of the two men who rule it with a rod of iron—President Roosevelt and Speaker Cannon. Mr. Roosevelt's letter to Mr. Watson and Mr. Cannon's keynote speech may be read in vain for a single sentence holding out the hope that the tariff will be revised. Mr. Roosevelt said that revision would be undertaken whenever "the benefits to be derived from making such changes will outweigh the disadvantages; that is, when the revision will do more good than harm." Mr. Cannon used practically the same language. In other words, it is the policy of the Republican party to revise the tariff where revision will benefit the special interests that are now being fattened by protection, and that is equivalent to saying that they will never revise it, unless, indeed, they follow the lead of the most extreme of all of the advocates of high duties—Mr. McCleary, of Minnesota, and revise it upwards.

Mt. Grove Items.
(Deferred from last week.)
Miss Rosa Cook is at home after spending some time in Gastonia, where she was at work. Quite a number of our young folks have left to enter school. Some have gone to the South Fork Institute and some to Lenoir College. There are several others to go some time in the near future if they don't decide to take a different course. Ed Huffman, of Plateau spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Cathryn Huffman.

Every man talks in an important way 'bout his mail' He has to go down town sundays to get his mail; hates to leave town because he misses his mail, and all their is in is a bill or two and circulars advertising a mining scene. If he chances to be at home when he opens it, "hush" the mother will tell the children; don't disturb your father while he is reading his mail.
Ask any "Jap" that you may see, "why the Czar, with bear behind," had to climb a tree.
