Scared Into Flts.

And bawling for help, two foolish persons about to lose their all by fire. Don't pity 'em. They've probably sneered at their neighbors for "paying out" an annual premium on a policy for FIRE INSURANCE. Their scared friends are getting their little lesson as they yell. Too late—till next time. How about YOUR insurance? In force? Note the date of your policy, and DON'T let it lapse. A postal will bring our representative and you lose no time. Be wise to-day—you may be burned out to-morrow.

Clinard and Lyerly.

WANTED.

We want some poles 30 feet in length, 6 inches across at top and as small at the butt as can be—long slim poles for electric wires. They must be cleared free of the bark and delivered in Hickory for which 70 cents a pole will be paid. This is the right time for poplar poles or chestnut oak poles to be cut. A few of them may be only 25 feet. Cut long straight poplar saplings at once, cut the bark off with a draw knife and haul them to us immediately.

CONSUMPTION PREVENTABLE

DISINFECTANT IMPORTANT.
Results Obtained in a Large Institution.

The importance of disinfection is shown by the results obtained at the Brooklyn Home for Consumptives, the finest institution of the kind in New York. A letter from the President is quoted: "We have used Platt's Chlorides in the Brooklyn Home for Consumptives for more than ten years, and find it not only a comfort but a necessity. Through its use we defy 'the germs' to make any inroads on the nurses and employees who are in constant attendance upon the sick, one hundred of whom are now in the institution. One nurse has been there well on to ten years, a second almost as long, and not one person ever employed in the Home has developed lung trouble."—Mrs. S. V. White, President, Kingston Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y. Platt's Chlorides is an odorless, colorless, liquid disinfectant which instantly removes any foul odors and destroys disease-breeding matter. A quart bottle will last an average family a month and it can be obtained at all druggists.

Hon. W. C. Dowd Here Saturday Night.

The city hall was filled Saturday night with an audience desirous of hearing a man so well known as editor Hon. W. C. Dowd discuss the issues of the day. Mr. Dowd's principal desire was to see as many men in North Carolina as possible know the superiority of the Democratic to the Republican form of State government. And he certainly did his best to enlighten them. It has been said, by those who are good judges that his arguments in appealing to those who have hitherto voted against Jeffersonian principles in the State were the very best used heretofore in the campaign. His picture of Reconstruction and Fusion misrule was forcible. The manner in which he paid his addresses to the well-beloved (?) Mary Ann Butler and the Quit Too Honorable Mr. Chairman Adams was something to remember. His lash cut deep to the bone.

Mr. Dowd is a most pleasing speaker, and his speech was bright—witty and full of anecdote—the old maid at the show and the little boy's somewhat previous information to the preacher as to the place he expected to go. It is to be regretted that the speaker was so late in reaching here from Conover, as many wished to see him during the afternoon.

All Saints Day Service.

Thursday, Nov. 1st, at 10 a. m., the Holy Communion with an address will be celebrated at the church of the Ascension. All Saints Day is a very ancient feast day in the church of God. It ought to be dear to all Christian people for two reasons.

1st, it emphasizes the life to come and brings before us the state of the departed now in Paradise awaiting the final Resurrection and Judgment.

2nd, it knits the living with the departed in a very close and real and blessed communion, the living still remembering and praying for the departed (not the dead) and the departed remembering and praying for those still in this world. Death does not break up the relationships formed here. To this service all Christian people are cordially invited.

At Claremont College.

Miss McMillan, a noted elocutionist and entertainer, will give a reading at Claremont College next Friday night for the benefit of the Claremont Young Women's Christian Association. Miss McMillan has been engaged by the Daughters of the Confederacy in Lenoir to recite their Thursday night, coming on here. Tickets of admission, 25 and 15 cents.

If you want the people to find it cut put it in the Lenoir.
