

FLUE CURING IMPROVES TOBACCO LIKE ROASTING IMPROVES GREEN COFFEE

Flue Curing Develops the Stimulating Aroma and Taste Found in Schnapps that Satisfies Tobacco Hunger

There are three ways used by farmers for curing and preparing their tobacco for the market; namely, sun cured, air cured and flue cured. The old and cheap way is called air cured; the later discovery and improved way is called flue cured. In flue-curing the tobacco is taken from the field and suspended over intensely hot flues in houses especially built to retain the heat, and there kept in the proper temperature until this curing process develops in the tobacco the stimulating taste and fragrant aroma found in Schnapps tobacco, just as green coffee is made fragrant and stimulating by the roasting process. Only choice selections of this ripe, juicy flue cured leaf, grown in the famous Piedmont country, where the best tobacco grows, are used in Schnapps and other Reynolds' brands of high grade, flue cured tobaccos.

Hundreds of imitation brands are on sale that look like Schnapps; the outside of the imitation plugs of tobacco is flue cured, but the inside is filled with cheap, flimsy, heavily sweetened air cured tobacco; one chew of Schnapps will satisfy tobacco hunger longer than two chews of such tobacco. Expert tests prove that this flue cured tobacco, grown in the famous Piedmont region, requires and takes less sweetening than any other kind, and has a wholesome, stimulating, satisfying effect on chewers. If the kind of tobacco you are chewing don't satisfy, more than the mere habit of expectorating, stop fooling yourself and chew Schnapps tobacco. Schnapps is like the tobacco chewers formerly bought costing from 75c. to $1.00 per pound; Schnapps is sold at 50c. per pound in 5c. cuts, strictly 10 and 15 cent plugs.

W. D. Haywood, Charged With Murder Resumed Stand in his Own Behalf

Boise, Idaho, July 12.—William D. Haywood, the first of the men to be placed on trial, charged with the murder of former Governor Steunenberg, today continued his testimony in his own behalf. The rebuttal will begin Monday. About 40 witnesses altogether have been subpoenaed for this rebuttal. Counsel for the state expect to occupy the greater part of next week in the examination of their witnesses and may call a number of witnesses in rebuttal.

Should this be made necessary, it is possible that the court will have to adjourn for some days in order that the defense may be given time to summon their witnesses from a distance. The president, and Haywood, the secretary of the Western Federation of Miners, have denied in most positive terms that they knew Orchard in any other connection than as a member of the Federation. It is believed there are sensational developments yet in store in connection with the case. Both sides are threatening perjury proceedings against certain witnesses, and both sides maintain that in the rebuttal and sur-rebuttal much matter altogether unexpected will be brought out.

Judge Wood is now inclined to limit the evidence to what is actually material to the case. He has given both sides extremely wide latitude. Fliinn on Stand. Dominick Plinn, one of the defense witnesses, was recalled by the state when the case was opened. He was asked as to a conversation he had with Daniel Ganey at Mullin, Idaho, in 1899. The questions were evidently for the purpose of impeachment. After Plinn left the stand, Haywood was recalled and the direct examination was continued.

Haywood vs. Orchard. Haywood said Orchard had been at his home several times. Most of the members of the union when in Denver, called at his home, he said. He denied that he had ever called on Orchard; also denied that he ever had "anything to do with buying a horse and buggy for Orchard to go out on a killing expedition with."

The witness denied he had talked to Orchard or planned with him the killing of Sherman Bell, Governor Peabody, James Hearn, David Moffit or Judges Goddard and Gabbert. He declared that Orchard's story on the witness stand was the first he had heard of the matter.

Money Sent Adams. Haywood first met Steve Adams in 1902. He said $75 he sent Adams at Ogden, when the latter wired he was in jail there, was his (Haywood's) own money. Adams had been out prospecting and had started on leaving Denver that if he struck anything he would locate Haywood on it. Haywood denied he had any concern in or knowledge of the plot to kill Steunenberg.

Haywood on the Rack. Adams and his wife left Colorado in the spring of 1905. Haywood said sometime later he received a letter from Mrs. Adams saying they had located a homestead in Oregon, but need

N. C. Railway in Good Shape

Greensboro, N. C., July 12.—There was the regular semi-annual meeting of the board of directors of the North Carolina Railroad here yesterday. President Hugh Chatham and Secretary and Treasurer A. H. Eller, of Winston-Salem, being the chief officials present. At a meeting of the stockholders the present officers and board of directors were retained. Besides the regular semi-annual dividend of 3 1/2 per cent, an extra dividend of one-half of one per cent, was declared. All this has been paid off in addition to the regular annual 7 per cent. dividend, and enough accumulated since to pay the half of one per cent additional. Another vexatious matter the Burlington riot trouble was settled.

Rowland Case Set For Sept.

Interesting Controversy Arose in Court Room Over Right of Newspaper Man to Take Picture of Rowlands.

Raleigh, N. C., July 12.—The case against Dr. and Mrs. I. S. Rowland, charged with the murder of Charles R. Strange, then the husband of the present Mrs. Rowland, was continued until September. The court admitted the depositions taken in Tennessee and Virginia, going to show that Strange was suffering from heart failure and the state's attorneys are given time to obtain evidence to controvert them. A Fuller Account. Special to The News.

Raleigh, N. C., July 12.—There will be no trial of the famous poisoning case of Dr. David S. Rowland and wife here until the September term, the first Thursday of the term. This order was made this morning over the vigorous protest of counsel for Rowlands on the strength of a statement by Solicitor Jones that the state can not adequately prepare for the trial at this term in view of the ruling by the court yesterday permitting the depositions taken at Norfolk, Memphis and other places out of the state by the defense. These depositions undertaking to set out that Strange was subject to and died of heart disease and used as a medicine, the very poison, digitalis, which the State alleges was probably used by Rowlands in accomplishing his death. In the midst of the discussion for a continuance the court directed that Dr. Rowland and wife be brought from the jail.

Remarkable Incidents.

The prisoners had scarcely more than taken their seats when a remarkable proceeding took place. W. L. Watson, counsel for the prisoners address the court with the statement that he was informed that there was a photographer in the court room attempting to get snap shots of the court scenes and especially of the Rowlands, his clients objecting seriously to any likeness of themselves being published at all. He asked the court to direct the photographer and press correspondents employing him to take no such pictures. The correspondent of this paper being referred to at once stepped around into the bar facing the judge and stated that he did have a photographer to take the pictures and that in doing so he was not departing at all from the practice of newspapers and newspaper correspondents the country over, these illustrations being now recognized as legitimate features of metropolitan journalism.

Peters Confessed to The Murder of Minister

Winston-Salem, N. C., July 13.—Geo. A. Peters was convicted at Hillsboro, Va., yesterday for the murder of Rev. Joseph Easter, a Dunkard preacher, who was called to his door and assassinated the night of May 23d last. Peters made a confession, but did not implicate any one else, as was expected. The conviction is for murder in the first degree.

S. C. Ryan, of the counsel for the Rowlands declared that while it did seem that the method of illustration was in vogue in some parts of the country for representatives of the press going about to photograph all manner of things, good and evil, but mostly evil, it was the wish of himself and those associated with him to keep the practice out of Wake county.

Judge Long, addressing the correspondent, stated in view of the objection of Rowland's counsel as a court officer to the taking of photographs he would, out of deference, to them direct that they be not taken. The correspondent expressed the desire to confirm to wishes of the court and retired.

After the prisoners had been returned to jail Watson again appeared before the court and stated he was informed that as the prisoners passed across the bridge of signs from the court room to the jail the same photographer had taken a snap shot of the prisoners from an adjoining building and he desired that he and the correspondent be attached for contempt.

Judge Long passed the matter over with the statement that he did not care to take such action but that if counsel desired to make a fight further about the pictures then they knew what course they might pursue. Contempt proceedings are threatened and a vigorous fight is being made to deter the press correspondent from the use of pictures.

J. P. Morgan in Police Court

London, July 13.—J. Pierpont Morgan appeared in the West London police court, as a witness, in the case of Mrs. Josephine Leslie, who was arrested July 4, charged with defrauding members of well known families by false pretenses and who represented herself to be a friend of Mr. Morgan. The latter repudiated all knowledge of Mrs. Leslie.

He said he did not write to her advising her to join one of his syndicates and never invited Mrs. Leslie, as alleged, to dine at his son's house. As a matter of fact, Mr. Morgan added, he was in New York at the time of the alleged invitation. On cross examination Mr. Morgan said he did not remember any invitation being sent to George Esterlick, the prisoner's father, for a public dinner which Mr. Morgan gave in New York. Mr. Morgan was sure that his firm had no customer of that name, and he said it was improbable that any of his business friends would speak of investments returning 12 point, which Mrs. Leslie said was to be the interest on the money invested in the alleged Morgan syndicate.

SKIN DISEASES HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

When the blood is pure, fresh and healthy, the skin will be soft, smooth and free from blemishes, but when some acid humor takes root in the circulation its presence is manifested by a skin eruption or disease. These humors get into the blood, generally because of an inactive or sluggish condition of the members of the body whose duty it is to collect and carry off the waste and refuse matter of the system. This unhealthy matter is left to sour and ferment and soon the circulation becomes charged with the acid poison. The blood begins to throw off the humors and acids through the pores and glands of the skin, producing Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum and skin eruptions of various kinds. Eczema appears, usually with a slight redness of the skin followed by pustules from which there flows a sticky fluid that dries and forms a crust, and the itching is intense. It is generally on the back, breast, face, arms and legs, though other parts of the body may be affected. In Tetter the skin dries, cracks and bleeds; the acid in the blood dries up the natural oils of the skin, which are intended to keep it soft and pliant, causing a dry, feverish condition and giving it a hard, leathery appearance. Acne makes its appearance on the face in the form of pimples and black heads, while Psoriasis comes in scaly patches on different parts of the body. One of the worst forms of skin trouble is Salt Rheum; its favorite point of attack is the scalp, sometimes causing baldness. Poison Oak and Ivy are also disagreeable types of skin disease. The humor producing the trouble lies dormant in the blood through the Winter to break out and torment the sufferer with the return of Spring. The best treatment for all skin diseases is S. S. S. It neutralizes the acids and removes the humors so that the skin instead of being irritated and diseased, is nourished by a supply of fresh, healthy blood. External applications of salves, washes, lotions, etc., while they soothe the itching caused by skin affections, can never cure the trouble because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation and forces out every particle of foreign matter and restores the blood to its normal, pure condition, thereby permanently curing every form of skin affection. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write. S. S. S. is for sale at all first class drug stores.
