

Chew What You Know About and Know What You Are Chewing

There is real pleasure in chewing the best tobacco grown—where the best tobacco grows—in the famous Piedmont Country.

Only choice selections of this well-matured and thoroughly cured tobacco is used in making SCHNAPPS. That's why SCHNAPPS and others of the Reynolds' brands, as shown by the Internal Revenue statistics for a fiscal year, made the wonderful growth of six and one-quarter million pounds, or a net gain of one-third of the entire increased consumption of chewing and smoking tobaccos in the United States.

Evidently, chewers cannot resist the flavor and they cheer SCHNAPPS because SCHNAPPS cheers them more than any other chewing tobacco, and every man that chews SCHNAPPS passes the good thing along—one chewer makes other chewers—until the fact is now established that there are many more chewers and pounds of tobacco chewed, to the population, in those States where SCHNAPPS tobacco was first sold than there are in the States where SCHNAPPS has not yet been offered to the trade.

SCHNAPPS is like a cup of fine Java coffee, sweetened just enough to bring out its natural, stimulating qualities. SCHNAPPS pleases all classes of chewers: the rich, because they do not find a chew that really pleases them better at any price; the poor, because it is more economical than the large 10c. or 15c. plugs and they get their money's worth of the real snappy, stimulating flavor so appreciated by tobacco lovers. All imitations contain much more sweetening than SCHNAPPS. They are made that way to hide poor tobacco improperly cured.

For the man who chews tobacco for tobacco's sake, there is no chew like SCHNAPPS.

Sold at 50c. per pound in 5c. Cuts. Strictly 10c. and 15c. Plugs

Harry T. Powers Shot His Wife And Then Turned His Pistol To His Own Head And Fired It

Powers, With Ball in His Brain, Lived Until After Midday. Believed The Pair Were Quarrelling.

Tragedy Occurred in Rear of The Store on Morehead Street Probably About 10 O'clock at Night.

From the Charlotte News.

In the back bed-room of the store near the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta railroad on Morehead street, Mr. Harry Powers was discovered this morning lying in a pool of blood in a semi-conscious condition and his wife, Mrs. Margaret Leonard Powers, lay within a few inches of him with a bullet hole through her head, which had evidently caused her death 8 to 10 hours before. Mr. Powers' wound is directly behind the right ear and was made by the same weapon that caused the death of his wife. The pistol lay by his right side within six inches of his hand.

Looks Like Murder and Suicide.
Almost every scintilla of evidence leads to the conclusion that Mr. Powers murdered his wife in anger and then, unrecovered from his passion, attempted to end his own life. While there was some confusion in the room, it is hardly considered more than would be caused by laying out clothes at the hour of retirement.

The circumstances, therefore, indicate that there was a quarrel between the pair or at least that the husband was angered for some reason. The hour of the tragedy was apparently about 10 o'clock last night. One bottle of corn whiskey, well emptied, and another half full, are mute but important witnesses to the cause of the awful tragedy.

There was general comment today on a remarkable feature of the tragedy, namely that Powers had lived all night and throughout the day with a bullet in his brain.

Harry Talley, a young white boy who worked for Mr. Powers, was the first to get into the house this morning. He was let in by means of a back window and saw through the open door of the bed room in which the couple lay, that some awful deed had been committed.

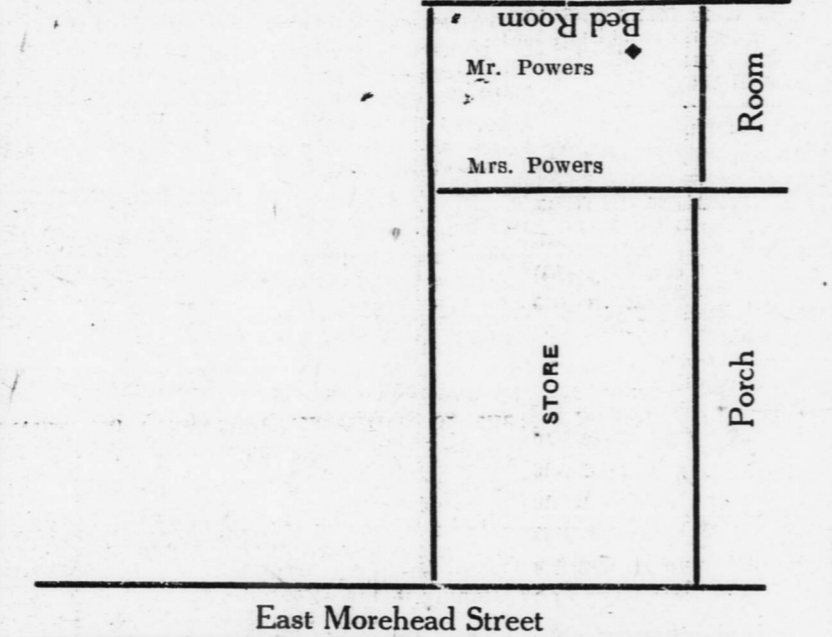

The first news of the tragedy that was sent to the police station this morning was that the store had been burglarized and that the burglar had killed the two occupants of the room in an attempt to rob them.

Police Summoned.
This message had hardly been received up-town until the cars began carrying to the scene of death scores of people. Chief Orr, Sergeant Porter and Patrolman Asbury were soon at

PLACE OF TRAGEDY

The Scene of the Tragedy is Crudely Illustrated by the Diagram. The Bed Was in the Southwest Corner of the Sleeping Room. Mrs. Powers Fell With Her Head Towards the Bed. Her Husband's Head was near a Door in the Northeast Corner of the Room. The feet of Both Almost Touched. The Black Dot Indicates Where the Pistol was Found, after it Fell from Powers' Grasp. It was not Far from His Right Hand.

nothing of the affair until 7:30 this morning, when he, with others, attempted to get in the store. Two shots, however, were heard about 9:30 or 10 o'clock last night by passers-by on the streets, but both were muffled and for lack of distinctness could not be traced at all.

The condition of Mrs. Powers' body bears out the theory that she was killed 8 or 10 hours previously to the discovery of the deed, and it is believed that the husband fired the bullet into his head immediately after shooting his wife, although it is an amazing fact that he could have survived the entire night with such a dangerous wound and none to help.

The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Powers was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence of Mrs. Laura Powers, No. 202 East Oak street, the services being conducted by Rev. L. R. Pruett. Both bodies were interred in one grave at Elmwood in the presence of a small circle of friends and a few curious strangers.

The death of Mr. Powers occurred at morning at 3 o'clock. The body was at once removed to the undertaking establishment of J. M. Harry & Company, where it was prepared for burial and later in the morning taken to the home of the mother on East Oak street, where the casket was placed even the most intimate friends of the couple think that both were probably drinking and that just before retiring, some feeling became engendered, possibly through jealousy on the part of the husband, and that in a subsequent quarrel, the fatality occurred.

Many who saw Mr. Powers at his place of business yesterday state that he appeared in normal spirits. Mrs. Powers was said to have been sick yesterday and was seen only by a few. The husband was at his work as usual and absolutely no indication or foreboding of such trouble as followed was noticed by any of his friends and customers, with whom representatives of The News have talked.

The mystery which surrounds the entire affair applies in a very large degree to the time of the tragedy. Capt. F. W. Ahrens, who sleeps in the second story of the building on the front side, heard nothing and knew besides the body of his wife. A stream of people passed in and out of the little parlor at the Powers home from early morning until the funeral hour to view the bodies.

The mother of Maggie Leonard Powers arrived in the city a few minutes before 6 o'clock, just after the funeral was over. To a News reporter this morning she gave an interesting account of the life of her daughter with the man Powers, telling in detail of their companionship from the time they were married until two weeks before the tragedy last Friday night, when she returned to her home at Chattanooga, after spending several weeks with them. Their marriage, she said, was celebrated at Pineville in the month of June, 1900. Since that time, she said, they had lived a part of the time in Charlotte, Asheville, Charleston, S. C., Chattanooga and other places.

The life of the couple, she said, was marred at intervals by Powers' craze for whiskey and other times, she thought, by some mental derangement. She was convinced that Powers, in a fit of anger, brought on by excessive drinking, had shot his wife and afterwards turned the pistol to his own head and pulled the trigger.

Mrs. Leonard did not know any of the particulars of the tragedy, more than the mere announcement of her daughter's death, until she had read them in the Chattanooga afternoon papers. She left for Charlotte Saturday night, arriving here about 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon. She will return home tomorrow.

She commended highly Governor Glenn in all official acts and declared he was needed badly at Washington to take the helm of the national government.

She paid a visit to the dispensary at 3 o'clock and pronounced it a hell hole established and run by misguided goody-goody church people. She charged that it is the work of the anti-saloon league, which really, judging from its course is in league with the devil.

What Railroads Will Allege Funeral of Mr. J. R. Monroe

In Documents to Supreme Court it is Said Roads Will Make Sensational Allegations for Their Recent Action.

Asheville, N. C., July 29.—In the state superior court Judge Gulon informed the grand jury that he had been advised that Governor Glenn and the railroads had reached an agreement Saturday last, but that if the railroads failed in any respect to live up to the provisions of the agreement he would call the jury back for further instructions.

This confirmed the report circulated that Judge Gulon intended to charge the grand jury to bring in additional indictments.

Attorneys representing the Atlantic Coast Line joined the attorneys for the Southern here and it is said to be their purpose to file some highly interesting documents coincident with their request for a modification of Judge Pritchard's injunction order which will be made pursuant to the peace agreement. These documents which were intended for the ultimate consideration of the supreme court of the United States will allege that the railroads relinquished what they regard as their constitutional rights under duress, because of the hostility of certain newspapers, pernicious activity of certain politicians, and the resultant demoralization among their men.

Governor Issues Letter To the People of State

Raleigh, N. C., July 29.—Governor Glenn telegraphed the officials of the Carolina and Northwestern and Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company this morning to know if their companies intended to observe the new rate law beginning August 8, as the Southern and Coast Line agreed to do. These roads procured restraining orders from Judge Pritchard as much as the Southern and Coast Line did.

The Governor told them he wanted to know their intention so if they refused to still obey the law he might take such action as he might deem best. The Governor also gave out today an address to the people in which he reviewed the whole rate litigation and requested judges and solicitors to entertain no more indictments against the Southern and Coast Line people and to bring no more penalty suits. The Governor accepts an invitation to deliver an address on North Carolina's successful resistance to the encroachments of the federal courts on state's rights at a dinner given in his honor by the Brooklyn Democratic Club August 26.

Lion Trainer Mangled.

New York, July 29.—Louis Boessonade, a trainer of lions in the wild animal show at Happyland, South Beach, nearly lost his life by being bitten and clawed by an African lioness called Spitfire. Boessonade had just driven the lioness to a high pedestal, when his foot slipped.

Like a flash the lioness sprang down upon him, fastening her teeth in his shoulder. The two fell to the floor struggling, and Manager Ferrari jumped into the arena with a short iron bar in his hand and struck the beast across the eyes, dazing her. He then dragged Boessonade from the arena. At the S. R. Smith infirmary, at Stapleton, Dr. David Wilson found fourteen lacerations in the man's shoulder and arm and stated that amputation necessary. He will not be able to work for the balance of the season.

A further conference is to be held as to Geo. A. Gettison, the third of the noted defendants. It is understood that the state will oppose bail for him in any sum whatever.

Painters Still on Strike.
Salisbury, N. C., July 29.—The strike of the 21 painters at the Southern's Spencer shops is still on and the men say they will not return to their work unless the three cents per hour increase in wages which they demand is granted.

Some people derive a lot of satisfaction from their dissatisfactions.

Bond Issue Discussed.
Winston-Salem, N. C., July 29.—A number of prominent citizens of the county Saturday called on Chairman M. D. Bailey of the county commissioners and had a conference with him on the subject of issuing bonds for the construction of permanent roads. At the conference it was decided to call a mass meeting of the citizens of the county about August 1st to get the expression of the voters on the subject, and should there prove any likelihood of the proposition meeting with success an election will be called, as the last legislature enacted a law giving the people the right to hold an election for this purpose.

Mr. Fletcher Changes Jobs.
Winston-Salem, N. C., July 29.—Mr. Herman Fletcher, formerly of Charlotte, who has been advertising manager and decorator for the department stores of Rosenbacher & Bro., of this city, for several years, has resigned his position with this firm and will accept a similar position with the Hitchcock-Trotter Co., a new dry goods establishment to begin business in that city about Sept. 1st. He will leave in a few days for New York, and other northern cities where he will assist the owners in selecting the stock. Mr. Fletcher is now on a visit to his relatives in Charlotte.

Winston Glad of Decision. Mob Dug Up Body of Negro And Burned It

Winston-Salem, N. C., July 29.—In this, the home town of Governor Glenn, his notable victory in the railroad rate cases, was received with delight and several telegrams of congratulations were sent him by friends in this city. Without regard to political lines the people here generally have been with the governor in his position, insisting that the railroads should obey the laws of a sovereign state. There is a strong sentiment here, however, that the legislature should not have reduced the passenger rate, at least not as low as 2 1/2 cents.

Recurrence of the "Ripper" Outrage of Last Week

Baltimore, Md., July 29.—Catholics throughout the country are to raise a fund to buy Harper Pennington's portrait of Cardinal Gibbons, now owned by Mrs. Elizabeth St. John Matthews, of New York, to hang in the gallery of the Catholic University at Washington. District Conference Ended.
Winston-Salem, N. C., July 29.—The Winston district conference of the M. E. Church, which opened at Thomasville Friday, has adjourned and the local delegates returned home. The reports submitted were very encouraging and it was decided to hold the next conference at Mocksville.

RHEUMATISM CAN NOT BE RUBBED AWAY

It is perfectly natural to rub the spot that hurts, and when the muscles, nerves, joints and bones are throbbing and twitching with the pains of Rheumatism the sufferer is apt to turn to the liniment bottle, or some other external application, in an effort to get relief from the disease, by producing counter-irritation on the flesh. Such treatment will quiet the pain temporarily, but can have no direct curative effect on the real disease because it does not reach the blood, where the cause is located. Rheumatism is more than skin deep—it is rooted and grounded in the blood and can only be reached by constitutional treatment—IT CANNOT BE RUBBED AWAY. Rheumatism is due to an excess of uric acid in the blood, brought about by the accumulation in the system of refuse matter which the natural avenues of bodily waste, the Bowels and Kidneys, have failed to carry off. This refuse matter, coming in contact with the different acids of the body, forms uric acid which is absorbed into the blood and distributed to all parts of the body, and Rheumatism gets possession of the system. The aches and pains are only symptoms, and though they may be scattered or relieved for a time by surface treatment, they will reappear at the first exposure to cold or dampness, or after an attack of indigestion or other irregularity. Rheumatism can never be permanently cured while the circulation remains saturated with irritating, pain-producing uric acid poison. The disease will shift from muscle to muscle or joint to joint, settling on the nerves, causing inflammation and swelling and such terrible pains that the nervous system is often shattered, the health undermined, and perhaps the patient becomes deformed and crippled for life. S. S. S. thoroughly cleanses the blood and renovates the circulation by neutralizing the acids and expelling all foreign matter from the system. It warms and invigorates the blood so that instead of a weak, sour stream, constantly depositing acid and corrosive matter in the muscles, nerves, joints and bones, the body is fed and nourished by rich, health-sustaining blood which completely and permanently cures Rheumatism. S. S. S. is composed of both purifying and tonic properties—just what is needed in every case of Rheumatism. It contains no potash, alkali or other mineral ingredient, but is made entirely of purifying, healing extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks. If you are suffering from Rheumatism do not waste valuable time trying to rub a blood disease away, but begin the use of S. S. S. and write us about your case and our physicians will give you any information or advice desired free of charge and will send our special treatise on Rheumatism.
