A grave and solemn Congressman recently expatiated at some length in the House on "the law of the jungle." How hard it was for some of them to keep the former President off their minds.

The prosperity and progress of any town or community is best promoted by all the people working together. Every person, whatever his vocation, has a distinct office to perform in the community. Each should, therefore, help all others and thus add to the prosperity of each class.

Last Friday it was discovered that there were 20 cases of small pox at Hudson only 5 miles from our village and some of us are scared and badly, but taking the situation as a whole the people don't seem to be alarmed as much as you might think as it is in a mild form. Lenoir, Whitnell and Rhodhiss have quarantined but the board of aldermen and mayor of this place decided not to do so here as there is some scattered over the country to west and north, and it would hurt the business of the town too much unless the situation was more dangerous than at present.

Mr. John Houck has sold his property here and bought in Hildebran and will move there in a few days.
