The Merchant,
Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself has said,
My trade of late is getting bad,
I'll try another 10-inch ad.

If such there be, go mark him well!
For him no bank account shall swell,

No angles watch the golden stair
To welcome home the millionaire
The man who never asks for trade,

By local line or ad. displayed,
Cares more for rest than worldly gain,
And patronage but gives him pain.

Tread lightly friends, let no rude sound
Disturb his solitude profound,
Here let him live in calm repose,
Unthought, except by men he owes.

And when he dies go plant him deep,
That naught may break his dreamless sleep,
Where no rude clamor may dispel
The quiet that he loved so well.

And when the world may know its loss,
Place on his grave a wreath of moss!
And on a stone above here lies
The man who wouldn't advertise
