LENOIR COLLEGE Faculty Busy Sunday—Hope of Consolidation Brighter

President Fritz goes to Lexington today to participate in the "Home Coming" being held there this week. He is a native of that county and goes by invitation to deliver the educational address tomorrow. That county has a large representation at Lenoir College this year. Davidson is an excellent county and contains natural resources and native endowment in the mental caliber of its people excelled by no other section. The new railroads are giving them an opportunity for development, and they will soon be in the forefront in industrial progress and achievement.

Rev. Prof. M. L. Stirewall goes to Concord next Sunday to deliver the charge to the congregation in the installation services of Rev. Mr. McLaughlin, who becomes pastor of St. James congregation. Mr. Stirewall's services are being quite widely sought in these special services, having recently delivered the Reformation address at Newton and Salisbury.

Rev. Prof. G. H. Hartwig goes to Morganton next Sunday to hold services in the Mission there, while Mr. Deaton goes to Statesville to arrange for a pastor in that vacant charge.

Rev. E. C. Cronk, General Secretary of the Layman's Movement in the Lutheran church in the South, will appear at Holy Trinity congregation Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service. At 3 o'clock he will be with St. Stephens congregation, and at 7:30 with the College congregation. At the College service special music will be rendered by the Choral Club.

On Thanksgiving night at 7:30 o'clock the Ladies Missionary Society will hold their anniversary meeting, rendering a special program, at which the address will be delivered by Rev. W. D. Wise of St. James pastorate, Newton. The public is invited.

President Fritz and Field Secretary Miller accompanied Rev. W. A. Deaton and Mr. P. C. Seizer to Salisbury last Thursday to meet the Committee from the N. C. Synod looking toward the consolidation of the educational work of the N. C. and Tenn. Synods. The Committee worked faithfully for nearly 24 hours, and sought out what the Committee from both Synods believes is a satisfactory basis for co-operation. The Committee feels happy in what it achieved, and believes that its report will be adopted by both Synods.

The Glee Clubs at the College have gone to work in earnest with their work, and Miss Stecher is bringing splendid results in this department. To all lovers of the good old college songs there awaits some pleasing treats during the remainder of the public exercises at the College this year.

The Royal Arcanum

Mr. Jas. S. Hooper, Deputy Grand Regent of the Royal Arcanum is making an official visit to our city, in the interest of Catawba Council.

This Council was organized here, about 15 years ago, and is composed of some of our most prominent business men. At has paid in this city, thousand of dollars, and nearly 2 millions dollars in their state to widows and orphans.

The Royal Arcanum was organized in this stall 30 years ago, and at Boston, Mass. in 1877. It has a membership of 250 thousand and a surplus fund over 6 millions.

The Grand Council of the Royal Arcanum was extended a cordial invitation by our city, to hold their next annual meeting here April 1911, and we will have this distinguished organization as our guest.

G. R. WOOTEN

Mr. Marshall Yoder and Miss Ivy Hedrick were married at the residence of P. Berry, in West Hickory, Oct. 31, J. P. Seitz officiating.

Saves an Iowa Man's Life.

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madson, of West Burlington, Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. Its positively guaranteed for Stomach, Liver or Kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50c. at C. M. Shuford, Moser & Lutz, Grimes Co.

2nd Entertainment At Claremont

Drill by the Children and Musical Concert Greatly Enjoyed

The second of the Monday Evening Entertainments was held at Claremont College on Monday evening, Nov. 14th. The first number on the programme was a drill, "Frolic of the Leaves" by six little girls and three little boys all dressed in brown and yellow covered with autumn leaves. The stage was also decorated in the autumn foliage.

The piano selections by Misses Louise Jones, Pearl Linn, Bertha Bradshaw, Estelle Payne and Grace Patrick were beautifully rendered and showed the splendid training of their excellent teacher, Signor S. D'Anna. Mrs. J. L. Murphy sang in her usual sweet voice, "Hearts Delight" by Glichrist and "Slumber Song" by Mattei.

The readings of Miss Grace Warren, instructor in Elocution, were enjoyed to the fullest—"Just Spousin" and "Aunt Julef's Visit". The programme closed with a trio, "The Gondoliers" by Campana. Mrs. J. L. Murphy, Mrs. J. H. Shuford and Signor S. D'Anna, three beautiful voices perfectly harmonized.

Polly Was In War of 1812 And Still Sails the Deep

There isn't a sailing craft in all the great harbor of New York that has anything on Polly. In fact, there isn't a vessel plowing the ocean or tied to a wharf that can hold a candlestick to the trim little schooner secured fore and aft on the starboard side of the recreation pier at the foot of West Fiftieth street. Polly is 106 years old, and her 8 by 7 inch live oak ribs have a record of shot and shell in the war of 1812 as a privateer that won her a page in history. She has been crowned by a bronze tablet, set in just forward of her cabin, by the National Society of the United States Daughters of 1812, commemorating her eleven victories on the high seas. The Polly was built at Amesbury, Mass., in 1804. She was first sloop rigged with square sails aloft to give her speed in a fair wind. It was in this rig that she achieved her great victories in the war of 1812. She was handled by a crew of twenty and carried two long toms. Although only sixty-one feet over all, she went around the Horn in 1849, carrying gold seekers to the Pacific coast. Since that time she has been in trade along the New England coast. Built before the first steamboat, she seems destined to outlive many of the modern liners. According to Captain Weldon, her timbers are as sound as the day she was launched.

The Week in the Women's Clubs.

The Travellers' club met with Mrs. G. N. Hutton, Friday, Nov. 11th instead of the usual Thursday. This change of date was a mark of respect and sympathy to Mrs. N. M. Seagle who died November 8th, two other daughters being members of the club. After quotations on "Myths," Mrs. Patrick read an able paper on "The New Empire of Egypt (19th Dynasty to the Persian conquest)" followed by Miss Geitner's interesting account of the "Worship of the Ancient Egyptians" interpolated with personal experiences in Egypt. Mrs. Chadwick read an Egyptian hymn showing their idea of God will bear some comparison in sublimity with our own, as they recognized the unity, eternity and infinity of the Deity as well as His loving kindness. Current Events and refreshments closed a pleasant as well as profitable meeting. Mrs. G. N. Hutton will entertain the club Thursday, Nov. 17th instead of Mrs. A. B. Hutton.

The "Ladies Book Club" met with Miss Annie Laurie Abernethy on Friday afternoon. The hostess gave an outline of her book, Lady Merton, by Mrs. Humphrey Ward, and read a short sketch of the author's life. Quotations on Pleiades were given by all present. Delightful refreshments were served, consisting of fried oysters, crackers, olives, sandwiches and coffee. Miss Sadie Wood was guest of honor.

On Thursday afternoon Nov. 10, The "Thrifty Thirteen" embroidery club met with Miss Lillian Hall. The thirteen young ladies present sewed industriously for an hour after which Miss Hall's refreshments were greatly enjoyed, consisting of fruit salad, celery, sandwiches, coffee and fudge.

Miss Sadie Wood, and Mrs. Jas. C. Shuford were guests of honor. The lateness of the hour forced the jolly "bunch" to disband to meet with Miss Ava Harris on next Tuesday afternoon.

On Thursday afternoon, The young girls Bridge Club met with Miss Sallie Martin, this being the first regular meeting of the newly organized club. Miss Martin received in her gracious manner and the afternoon passed all too quickly. Progressive bridge was the game and Mrs. Jas. C. Shuford won the prize, "a bridge score book." Delightful refreshments were served by little Misses Frank, Rose and Mary Blunt Martin, sisters of the hostess.

The members of this club are as follows: Misses Grace Abernethy, Annie Laurie Abernethy, Hazel Elliott, Sallie Martin, Mary Shuford, Marguerite Link, Lucille Shuford, Grace Warren and Mrs. Jas. Shuford were guests of honor.

The Wednesday afternoon Book Club met with Mrs. E. B. Cline. The meeting was called to order by Mr. J. H. Hatcher, the president and each member responded to roll call with quotations from her book. The hostess book was Mary Cary, by Kate Laugly Boshier, a Virginia woman and the hostess read a personal letter from the author. Mrs. Beard, the absent member who is touring Scotland this fall, sent an interesting letter to the club describing the points of interest which she is visiting. She also sent a souvenir card of the cities which she has visited in Scotland. After the reading of this letter the guests were taken to the dining room which was beautifully decorated in yellow chrysanthemums and autumn leaves, where a delightful two course luncheon was served.

The Round Dozen Book Club met with Mrs. H. M. Doll on Wednesday Nov. 16. Deep in the Piney Woods was the hostess' book which she discussed at length. Mrs. C. C. Bost read a humorous story, The Courtship of Susan Cleg. After current news the hostess served a two course luncheon.

Don't forget the orphans on Thanksgiving Day at Oxford, Thomasville, Winston-Salem, Barium Springs, Charlotte, the orphanage near here, and wherever else there are any.

Mr. C. H. Armfield, of Statesville, died at a Morganton Sanitorium this week.
