Haydn Symphony at Lenoir.

The Oakview Orchestra Delights Splendid Hickory Audience.

The Oakview Orchestra concert at Lenoir College Monday night will be an event long remembered by the music lovers of Hickory. The selections were of the highest order, and were reproduced with a perfection of which the musicians might well be proud. There is hardly another town of this size in North Carolina that has home talent that could render such difficult selections. Haydn's Symphony was given with the greatest of ease, and was the chef d'oeuvre of the concert. The applause with which it was received attested its merit.

Grieg's Norwegian Dance was another greatly enjoyed number. Chopin's Ballade in A flat was rendered as a piano solo by Miss Hallman, who always delights the audience with her playing.

Prof. Karl B. Patterson, rendered Bohm's "Lezende" and Wieniawski's "Obertass." The great work which Prof. Patterson is doing for Lenoir College and the city of Hickory in the training and upbuilding of our musical talent cannot be over estimated. He has had a splendid musical education, being at one time first violinist in the Orchestral Association of Baltimore and again a member of the Hayden String Quartet of the same city.

Mr. Locke McCorkle, a young man of Newton who has won great fame as a violinist, assisted the first violins. Mr. John Henderson, of this city delighted the audience with a trombone solo. Mr. Loyd Whitener with the clarinet, Messrs J. E. Barb and C. J. Ingold with cornets all rendered their parts perfectly.

Miss Stecher as reader gave Shakespeare's popular play, The Tempest. Her interpretation of the characters was most perfect. Miss Stecher as well as Prof. Patterson has won the admiration of the entire city.

At the close of the program, by special request, Miss Stecher accompanied by Mr. Locke McCorkle on the piano, sang the "Rosary."

Those who failed to hear this concert missed a rare treat. The audience was a large one, filling the auditorium.

 LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mrs. A. Bourbonnais and Mrs. Bell Barlow have returned from their visit to Florida and Cuba.

Mr. Drayton Wolfe of Rutherfordton, attended the funeral of his sister-in-law Mrs. R. W. Wolfe, Sunday.

The Minervian Literary Society of Claremont College will hold the anniversary exercises on Washington's Birthday, the 22nd.

Master Tom Ciley gave a valentine party to a large number of his little girl and boy friends yesterday afternoon at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ciley, and all the guests had a glorious time.

Kindly notice the ad of the Moretz Whitener Clothing Co. which announces their spring sale of clothing from Feb. 16 to 24.

Mrs. A. K. Joy has been quiet unwell but is now recovering rapidly.

Judge E. B. Cline is back from Warren and Halifax county. He counts for a little rest before going east again.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. West will leave Friday for a trip North. Mr. West goes to buy spring goods for the firm of the Thompson-West Co.

Master Ralph Huffman, a sweet little boy, son of Mr. Albert Huffman, is at the point of death as the Democrat goes to press.

Mr. S. G. Lohr, spent a week in Sheridan, Ind., attending the funeral of a relative and executing some business transactions.

Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Stirewalt, of New Market, Va., are visiting their two sons at Lenoir college, Profs. W. J. and M. L. Stirewalt. The Democrat enjoyed a pleasant visit from Mr. Stirewalt.

A Holy Trinity Lutheran church Monday night, a large and appreciative audience listened to a stirring and well illustrated lecture by the Rev. A. J. Stirewalt, missionary, of Japan. The Rev. Stirewalt having spent 41-2 years in Japan is well qualified to speak on the situation there. Especially did he emphasize the point that the chief opposition there to the Christians religion is due to the misunderstanding of the motive of the Christian workers. Having completed his mission in this country, that of raising sufficient funds to put up a large college building in Japan, he will return sometime in March next.

Notes from Gunpowder.

Correspondence of the Democrat.

Gunpowder, Feb. 14.—On Monday evening Mr. Byrd Tuttle received a phone message that his mother, who lives in Alexander Co. near All-Healing springs, had received a serious stroke of paralysis that morning. He and his brother Rom, who had been visiting him for the past three or four days, together with their aunt, Mrs. Babel Sherrill, started at once for the bedside of Mrs. Tuttle, but before they reached there her spirit had taken its everlasting flight. Her mortal remains were laid to rest today at 10 o'clock, at Three Fork Baptist church. We trust her spirit is as clean and pure as the snow that this day covers her grave. Only about five weeks ago Mrs. Tuttle's mother, Mrs. Hannah Selenia Teague was stricken with the same, now a very common, disease and died shortly after, an account of which appeared in the Democrat.

Death of Mrs. R. W. Wolfe.

The entire city was shocked Saturday morning when the news spread that Mrs. R. W. Wolfe, wife of Dr. W. R. Wolfe, had died at the home of Dr. Wolfe's parents on Ninth Avenue. Mrs. Wolfe's sweet and gentle disposition attracted all who came in contact with her. She was ever ready to speak a kind word where it might cheer some sad heart. She was 22 years old.

Two years ago she was married to Dr. Wolfe. Since their marriage they have made their home with Dr. Wolfe's parents here. She leaves to mourn her sad departure a heart-broken husband, father, three brothers and one sister, father and mother-in-law, one brother-in-law, two sister-in-laws, and a host of near relatives and friends.

Before her marriage she was Miss Des Ola Price, and made her home with her grandmother, Mrs. Henkel. Mrs. Wolfe was a graduate in art at Lenoir College, and for a while taught a private class in art. She was also a natural born musician and was a wonder with the violin. Only three weeks ago the writer had the opportunity of hearing this one band play. Mrs. Wolfe, with the leading violin, Mr. Wolfe, the father, with second violin, Dr. Wolfe with the guitar and the daughter at the piano. Mrs. Wolfe will play together no more on earth, but all will be reunited around the Throne where music reigns supreme. As Dr. Murphy so fittingly said in the service "We mourn not as those who have no hope."

The funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. D. M. Cataker, assisted by Dr. J. L. Murphy at the Methodist church Sunday at 3, p. m. The high esteem in which the deceased was held by the entire city was shown by the large crowds which attended the funeral. Interment was in Oakwood Cemetery. Almost the entire congregation followed to the cemetery. The floral tributes were beautiful. A class of young ladies of the Sunday school sent a beautiful wreath of roses.

The pallbearers were Messrs W. M. Thompson, A. M. West, W. A. Rudisill, E. L. Flowers, W. I. Caldwell, and A. W. Cline.

 LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Rev. and Mrs. J. G. Garth entertained the elders and deacons of the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening. Mrs. Garth served an elegant three-course dinner. Each guest had to find his place at the table by recognizing himself in caricature on the place cards, which were the work of that genius, Mr. Bradshaw, the photographer. They were in black silhouette style, and in every instance strongly "favored" the originals. Those present were Messrs. N. M. Seagle, J. E. Halthcock, H. M. Doll, H. E. and D. M. McComb, Dr. W. B. Ramsay, Dr. T. M. Stevedson, Geo. Killian, W. B., K. C. and Dr. H. C. Menzies, Judge E. B. Cline, Geo. W. Hall, and Howard A. Banks. At the wind-up of the feast Dr. Ramsay made a little speech in which he said he had heard that it was Mr. Garth's birthday and presented him with a tin whistle. He was also the recipient of jewelry, hatches and other useful presents. The evening was altogether a delightful one.

Mrs. Royster entertained at bridge Wednesday afternoon with five tables. Mrs. Greene won the prize, a perpetual bridge score which Mrs. Beard bought back from Europe. Delightful refreshments were served.

The Do-as-you-Please Club gave a surprise party Saturday night to Miss Adelyn McComb, who is just sixteen years old. There were a number of pretty presents given, and the club had a gay old time.

The Do as you Please club met Feb. 8 with Miss Millie Kate McComb. The meeting was called to order by the president after which the minutes were read and roll called by the secretary. There were five members absent. After spending a while in conversation on current news, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The meeting adjourned until Feb. 15, when it will meet with Miss Gladys Reid.

The Abel A. Shuford Chapter of the U. D. C. will hold its regular meeting Feb. 19th at three o'clock promptly, at the home of Mrs. W. S. Abernethy. As this will be a very important meeting all members are requested to be present.

The Traveller's Club met with Mrs. N. E. Aull on Thursday, the 8th. There were 17 members present, the guest being Mrs. Emma Taylor. The feature of the meeting was a very fine paper by Mrs. Patrick on "The Reverses and the End of the Struggle, having reference to the life of Water Scott which the Club is studying. As Mrs. Chadwick was sick there was no music. The club greatly enjoyed Mrs. Aull's hospitality.

The Embroidery Club met Feb. 8th. with Mrs. A. L. Whitener. Fourteen members present, Misses Lizzie and Annie Jackson, of Virginia and Mrs. Belle Ramsay, Mrs. J. F. Abernethy and Bessie Killian were guests.

Quotations on Love were given at roll call. The readings from "Samantha at Coney Island" were given by Mrs. Moretz and Mrs. L. R. Whitener while the others were busy with fancy work. Delightful refreshments in courses were served. Several

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES.

Perhaps a hundred people attended the delightful "At Home" given by the Misses Wheeler Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George Ker, of Washington State.

The beautiful Wheeler home was ablaze with electric lights, and the conservatory had been drawn upon to furnish beautiful flowers and greens for effective decorations. The only thing to mar the enjoyment of the occasion was the illness of Miss Julia Wheeler and all deeply regretted that she was deprived of joining the throng down stairs.

Mrs. Ker is a sister of the Misses Wheeler and Hickory people were delighted to meet her and Mr. Ker. The Misses Wheeler were graciously assisted in receiving by Messdames T. A. Mott, Marvin Sherrill, H. D. Abernethy and E. B. Jones.

piano solos, beautifully rendered by Miss Marjorie Whitener, added much to the enjoyment of the afternoon.

The meeting Feb. 22nd. will be with Mrs. L. R. Whitener.

Misses Elizabeth Holbrook and Harriet Riddle entertained the Just For Fun club Thursday night Feb. 8 at the latter's home. After the guests had arrived they were told to look for small packages which had been hidden throughout the parlor, dining room and hall. When all the packages had been found they were opened and the girls found in their cloth to make neckties for the boys and the boys found aprons to hem for the girls. After they were all finished each girl exchanged her tie with the boy that had an apron to match it. Delicious refreshments were served and the entire evening was a delightful one.

Byron King at Lenoir College.

Monday evening at 8 o'clock Feb. 19, this great lecturer at Lenoir College will appear in the College auditorium. Byron King is entirely different from and far above the ordinary lecturer. He is a master, an artist. His subject will be "The Grace and Glory of Workmanship."

He does not just talk; he entertains. His stories and illustrations are of the highest order and his presentation of them is the work of a genius. He is a regular, an original, a philosopher, a "who show" in one man. Every seat in his audience is reserved seat.

This is his third visit, and we are more anxious than ever for the next one.

One ticket—only 25 cents. Come, if you are not pleased, the joke is on us.

Meeting at Baptist Church.

Mr. R. Garland, of the mind began a protracted meeting at the Baptist church Sunday night and will preach every afternoon at 3 and every night at 7 o'clock the rest of this week and perhaps longer. Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock he will speak to men, and all the men of the city of every church and no church are cordially invited to hear.

Mr. Garland is a converted traveling salesman, and is presenting the State evangelist of Virginia. His messages everywhere seem to appeal especially to business men.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Ivey Dots.

Correspondence of the Democrat.

West Hickory, Feb. 12.—The cold weather still lasts and is very favorable to the men who sell wood and coal as both are ready sales and bringing a high price.

John Clay and his force of hands have had a cold time unloading several more car loads of machinery that arrived at the Ivey mill the past week.

While the weather was very cold Saturday evening, it seems that Capt. C. E. Cole was kept busy carrying passengers from the Ivey mill to Hickory and back.

C. C. Walker and family who have been working in the mill here for several months moved to the new mill in East Hickory last Saturday.

Mrs. Sanders and family moved here from Lenoir last week.

John Yoder one of the hands of the mill was paralyzed last Friday, while he was at work in the mill. He was carried to Jefferson where he was boarding and we are sorry to say that he is not any better at present.

J. W. Marshall bought a vacant lot from G. H. Bolick in West Hickory last week. This lot joined a vacant lot that Mr. Marshall already owned, and he now intends to build a dwelling house on his lot in a few weeks.

I. Ritchey from Caldwell County has been last week visiting his mother-in-law, W. P. Austin.

Don't Messie has been here several days visiting his brother, J. Messie.

Mrs. Barbara Hahn, who has been staying several months with the family of P. K. Baker, called to her home in the country last week to see her mother, who is very sick.

Mrs. Candace Reese from Bob's Fork is here at present working at the Ivey mill.

N. A. Sherrill and family moved from here to Brookford last week.

Horace Huffman from Chatham has been here for several days working in the mill.

Mr. Burt Abernethy and wife from Gastonia have been here the past week visiting Mrs. Abernethy's sister, Mrs. Mary Arney.

Mrs. Emma Suttlemire went to Eufoia last Saturday to visit her father who lives there.

Henry and George Mille, two carpenters of West Hickory have been over in Caldwell county for the past week building a new Lutheran church which they have the contract to build.

Frank Williams who left here sometime ago and went to Rockingham to work has returned and is now working in the Ivey mill. He is boarding with his father, W. Williams.

I will close with best wishes for the Democrat. IOTA.

The Laymen's Convention.

Hickory and Catawba Sent a Large Delegation Down.

Both Lutheran laymen and ministers attended the first general convention of the Laymen's Missionary Movement of the Lutheran church in the South at Salisbury, Feb. 7-6, in great numbers from this section. Rev. Dr. Deaton, Rev. Messrs. Wannacher, M. H. Little, Stirewalt, Moor, Fritz, Mauney, Mrs. N. G. Deal, and Messrs. Alfred Moretz, Arthur Moser, Squire S. L. Killian, and many others were there, and of 16 Lenoir college students the following were not: Messrs. R. C. Lake, J. L. Morgan, E. Z. Pence, R. H. Yoder, E. Z. Eller, C. E. Fritz, L. E. Bolick, M. M. Kippis, S. G. Lohr, E. L. Conrad, Grover Howard, J. A. Abernethy and Ernest Smith.

All came back with a great upsurge. All the speakers brought inspiring messages. President Fritz has been complimented on the scope and power of his address on the Significance of the convention, and Rev. M. L. Stirewalt's on Missions in the Curriculum of a Christian College. Fritz has been complimented so far as he knew Lenoir College was the only one in the country which actually taught missions in its course, and that he could lay claim to be a professor of missions.

Two powerful addresses were made by Robert Speer, of the Lutheran Board, of New York, and Mr. J. Campbell White, general secretary of the laymen's movement. They had just come from Chattanooga and out of the 24 seminary students here offering for the Congo field, out of Mr. George Watts, of Durham, offering to pay all the expenses of missions in a section of Korea which embraced a population of 250,000.

Gov. Kitchin's opening address was most happy. Rev. A. J. Stirewalt, of Japan, told of the Edinburgh convention. Dr. S. P. Long, of Mansfield, O., proved to be one of the strong men at the convention. President Fritz was fortunate enough to secure him for the baccalaureate address at Lenoir commencement.

The meeting was held in the opera house and there were 1000 delegates, while the big galleries were always filled with women. The editor of this paper spent half a day at the convention.

Hickory music people will be interested in the announcement elsewhere in this issue of the coming again of Mr. F. B. Cox with another car load of Kimball pianos.

At the Reformed Church Next Sunday.
