My Doctor Said

'Try Cardui," writes Mrs. Z. V. Spell, of Hayne, N. C. 'I was in a very low state of health, and was not able to be up and tend to my duties. I did try Cardui, and soon began to feel better. I got able to be up and help do my housework. I continued to take the medicine, and now I am able to do my housework and to care for my children, and I feel as though I could never praise Cardul enough for the benefits I have received."

TAKE ARDU Woman's Tonic

Cardui is successful, because it is made especially for women, and acts specifically on the womanly constitution. Cardui does one thing, and does it well. That explains the great success which it has had, during the past 50 years, in helping thousands of weak and ailing women back to health and happiness.

If you are a woman, feel tired, dull, and are nervous, cross and irritable, it's because you need a tonic. Why not ry Cardui? Cardui builds, strengthens, restores, and acts in every way as a special, tonic remedy for women. Test it for yourself. Your druggist sells Cardul. Ask him.

Lesson III.—Fourth Quarter, For Oct. 20, 1912.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Mark vii, 24-30; Matt. viii, 5-13-Memory Verses 27, 28-Golden Text, John vi, 37-Commentary by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The two incidents of these lessons. though far separated as to the time of their occurrence, are both illustrations of great faith on the part of two people who were not of Israel-foreshadowlngs, no doubt, of the time when blessing shall go from Israel and her righteous king to all other nations, as set forth in Ps. lxvii and many other places in such wonderful words as these, "God be merciful unto us and bless us, that Thy way may be known upon earth, Thy saving health among all nations," and meantime contrasting the "little faith" or "no faith" of Israel with the "great faith" of those of lesser privilege.

The story of the woman of Tyre and Sidon follows in the regular order of events, while that of the Roman centurion takes us back to a time just after the choosing of the twelve apos tles. Both events are recorded by Matthew; the centurion also in Luke vii and the gentile woman in Mark in the lesson of today. The great words in each lesson are, to my mind, "O weman, great is thy faith, be it unto thee even as thou wilt," and "Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel. * * * Go thy way, and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee" (Matt. xv. 28: viii.

Taking the story of the centurion first, we note that his servant, who was dear unto him, was sick unto death, and the messengers who came to Jesus on his behalf spoke of the centurion's love for the nation and how he had built them a synagogue; but the centurion himself said, either personally or by his messengers, that he was not worthy to have the Lord Je sus come under his roof, but that if He would only speak the word his servant would be healed. When the messengers returned to the centurion's house they found the servant whole that had been sick. He had been healed in the same hour that Jesus had said, "As thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee."

As Jesus commended the centurion's faith He said to the people that many would come from all parts and share the kingdom with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, while many who supposed they were sure of it would find themselves cast into outer darkness. How essential It is that we become in God's way His children and know that our names are written in heaven (Luke x, 20; Rev. xx, 15; xxi, 8), for many who profess to be His will have to hear Him say, "I never knew you, depart from Me" (Matt. -vii, 21-23). Mark the poverty of spirit of the centurion, no self coness of the importance of his position, but evidently from his eart, "Lord, I am not worthy." Some thing of the spirit of him of Luke xviii. 13. 14, who went to his house justified. There is only one who is truly worthy. and when we take our right place before Him He is ready to honor all the faith we place in Him.

As to the other incident I have often thought that Jesus went away off there to be refreshed by that woman's great faith, for knowing all things He knew ill about her and her trouble, and the way she would come to Him and cling o Him and take no denial. Nothing pleases Him like faith, and without faith it is impossible to please Him It is written that the centurion's serv int was dear unto him, but here it is mother pleading for her own daugh er who must have been dear to her and specially dear because of her af liction, for the sick one in a home gen rally has the sympathy of all. As we hink of those who are dear to us do ve consider the words of our Father in neaven concerning His only begotten on, "This is My beloved Son in whon am well pleased?" (John iii, 16 latt. iii, 17; xvii, 5). Let us also la: heart that we do not honor the Fa her unless we honor the Son; and tha: ince God spared not His own Son He vill with Him also freely give us all hings (John v, 23; Rom. viii, 32). Probably this distressed mother did ot know these great truths, but she enew that she had a greatly afflicted laughter, she had heard of this won lerful teacher who could heal all disases and cast out demons and had no loubt longed to reach Him, but He was oo far away, and so her case seemed appeless. But now He had come near o her, the blessing was within her each, and as soon as possible she is it His feet beseeching Him for her laughter. To get the complete record ve must put the accounts in Matthew and Mark side by side. To her first ppeal Jesus answered her not a word. The disciples besought Him to send er away. He then said that He was ent only to the lost sheep of the louse of Israel. She first cried unto Iim as the Son of David, now she ays, "Lord, help me." To this He reiled, "It is not meet to take the chil-'ren's bread and cast it unto the dogs." hen came her conquering appeal Yes, Lord, yet the dogs under the ible eat of the children's crumbs." Villing to own herself a gentile dog leading for a crumb, she gets all she ame for. "For this saying go thy ay; the devil is gone out of thy daugh-In each of these cases note the streme weakness and lowliness of the
