Lesson VI.—Second Quarter, For May 11, 1913.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Gen. xii, 25-40. Memory Verses, 39, 40—Golden Text, I Pet. v, 5—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Pharaoh's third day birthday party of last lesson (xii, 29-32) suggests other third day incidents, and there are many, all pointing anointed eyes to the greatest of all third day events. His resurrection from the dead with all its benefits to believers to be fully enjoyed at our resurrection from the dead.

Now we have a third-year story of sudden and marvelous exaltation from a dungeon to a throne, from a place of darkness and suffering to the most prominent place in the power of Pharaoh to grant; for we read, "It came to pass at the end of two full years" (xii, 1). Two years of forgetfulness on the part of the butler, two years of continued humiliation for Joseph, and then "it was enough." God's time of deliverance for His faithful servant had come.

Pharaoh's dreams, which all the wise men of Egypt could not interpret, led the butler to remember his faults and to speak to Pharaoh who was servant to the young Hebrew who was servant to the captain of the guard and who could and did correctly interpret dreams (xii, 9-12). Then was Joseph made to run out of the dungeon, having shaved himself and changed his raiment probably with more haste than he had ever done in his life before (verse 14 margin). If the messenger told Joseph why he was wanted, we may imagine that possibly Joseph had visions of deliverance near at hand. As he stood before Pharaoh the king said that he had dreamed a dream which no one could interpret, but he had heard that Joseph could understand and interpret dreams.

In his reply Joseph acknowledged God, saying, "It is not in me, God shall give Pharaoh an answer of peace" (verses 15, 16). Pharaoh then told Joseph his two dreams and added, "I told this unto the magicians, but there was none that could declare it unto me" (verse 24). We may easily imagine Joseph lifting up his heart to God as he listened to the king's recital of his dreams.

What a picture—a man who had been shut away from the world and all the wisdom of the world for years in the presence of a great king, but more consciously in the presence of the King of kings and in communion with Him and therefore knowing what all the wisdom of this world could not teach him! We see the same great lesson in the case of Daniel and his friends. For when all the wisdom of Babylon could neither tell the king his dream nor interpret the dream when he told it nor read even four words written by God Daniel by the Spirit of God could do all. The modern scholar, so called, or the wisdom of this world is just as helpless today to understand the things of God, for they can only be known by the Spirit of God (I Cor. ii, 11). Joseph being a man in whom the Spirit of God was, he could by the Spirit interpret the dream to the king and saw as he told the king that God was showing Pharaoh what He was about to do.

He also told Pharaoh that inasmuch as the dream was doubled it was because the thing was established by God and that He would shortly bring it to pass (verse 32). The king was so impressed by the supernatural power in this man that he at once promoted him to the highest place of power, saying, "Only in the throne will I be greater than thou" (verses 39, 40). "God anything more thrilling than such words as those of verses 41 to 45 addressed by such a king to a man just out of prison? Read carefully and try and grasp the situation—yesterday in the dungeon, where he had been for years; today next to the king, ruler over all Egypt, clothed with royal apparel, riding in the second chariot, every knee bowing to him, and no one able to do anything without his permission! Consider his new name signifying "The man to whom secrets are revealed," and see him married to a princess (verse 45, margin).

Is it any wonder that he called his first son Manasseh saying, "God hath made me forget all my toil," and his second Ephraim, saying, "God hath caused me to be fruitful in the land of my affliction" (Verses 51, 52). "And he was an Israelite! Oh, how the suggestions crowd in concerning him to whom Nathaniel said, "Rabbi, thou art the Son of God. Thou art the King of Israel" (John i, 49). Then how wonderful that Joseph was just thirty years old! (Verse 46. Compare Luke iii, 23.) He was seventeen when his brethren sold him (xxxvii, 2), so he had thirty-three years of suffering. But he lived to be 110 (i, 29), so he had eighty years of expectation, long enough to forget a lot of hard things. What with an eternity of glory, man compared with our brief time of trial here?

Some of Miss Habershon's typical suggestions on this chapter are his being raised up from the prison, his being filled with the Spirit, his dependence upon God, his wisdom, his authority, every knee bowing to him; his glory, his fruitfulness (Ecc. iv, 14; John v, 19, 20; xv, 5; xii, 24; Acts ii, 24; x, 38; Col. ii, 3; Phil. ii, 10; Isa. ix, 6, 7; III, 11; Heb. iii, 6). Joseph alone had control of the corn. All had to go to him; and all countries came (John vi, 68; II, 5; Amos viii, 11; Isa. xlix, 6).

Hitting the Liquor Business Hard.

The internal revenue reports for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1912, are just out, and show a decrease in the consumption of liquor over the year preceding amounting to almost one gallon for every man, woman and child in America.

Before these reports were completed, one of the revenue commissioners, who has always sought to help the liquor cause in every way in his power, sent out through the press from time to time during the last year statements tending to show that there was an increase in the consumption of liquor last year. This he would do by taking the returns from some one district containing some of the largest and wealthiest cities and making it appear as representing the whole country. But the final report shows a remarkable decrease, and that in the face of a great increase and that in the face of a great increase in our population by immigration.

President Farley, of the National Liquor Dealers' Association, in his annual report made recently to his association, stated that thirty-one breweries closed last year and that the output of beer alone decreased 1,406,446 barrels. No wonder the liquor dealers are desperate and themselves admit that they are now threatened with total annihilation.—Am.ican Issue of Anti-Saloon League.

Save Money on Fertilizer

One Good Compound Pen will produce twenty tons of the finest home made Fertilizer per year.

RED DEVIL FUMERATED LYE

will set a pen of Compound in six weeks. Allowing the usual time for gathering material, this means that four pens per year may be produced—more if you work steadily and return to the ground the elements that your crop takes out.

RED DEVIL FUMERATED LYE is especially prepared for Compound rotting. Write for a copy of the booklet that tells all about Compound making. It is so simple that the cost cannot be considered. Big 45-cent cans, 100 per can. Cost for 75¢. If you want to do it right, order a case at once, from us.

W. H. GORHAM MFG. CO., Department 50 St. Louis, Mo.

Diarrhoea

When you want a quick cure without any loss of time, and one that is followed by no bad results, use

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy

It never fails and is pleasant to take. It is equally valuable for children. It is famous for its cure over a large part of the civilized world.
