(Raleigh Times)

It is not an unusual occurrence that a typographical error which gets into a newspaper through the rush of a busy office some times causes inconvenience for an advertiser and trouble for a publisher.

There was a little ad in last night's Times, down in an inconspicuous corner where merchants sometimes say that nobody ever looks. This particular ad was inserted by the Commercial National bank at a late hour in the day and a very slight error in it failed to get corrected.

The trouble started early this morning by the time Cashier Crow opened his desk. A new depositor was waiting for the usually genial cashier to accept a substantial deposit at five per cent interest. "We pay four percent," said Mr. Crow.

"Last night's Times said you pay five per cent," replied the new customer, producing a paper to substantiate his claim. About that time another visitor came in and another and then they came in pairs and threes—all wanting five per cent on their money. The Times office was called up and requested to send a man down to help explain to the disappointed depositor who couldn't get rid of their money that the trouble was simply a typographical error in slipping a 5 where a 4 should have been.

And then, too, an official of the Raleigh Clearing House Association served notice on the Commercial that it was violating rule and would be suspended from the organization. This was about the limit for the angry cashier, probably would have done bodily injury to the Times man if that foresighted individual had not skipped out to write a new ad. Later in the day, Mr. Crow was asked if he thought many people had seen the ad. "Seen it," yelled the cashier, "why I don't believe there's a man, woman, child, nigger or dog in Wake county that hasn't seen it."

South Carolina Legislator Acquitted.

Aiken, S. C., June 5.—Hugh Long, member of the South Carolina legislature from Aiken county was laid today acquitted of the charge of having murdered Pickens N. Gunter, a banker at Wagner, S. C., last fall. The trial came to an unexpected close when the foreman of the jury on announcement that the evidence was all in, informed Judge Gary that the jurors had made up their minds and did not care to hear arguments by attorneys. The court permitted the jury to retire, and in exactly one and a half minutes they returned a verdict of not guilty.

A North Carolina institution is now the most heavily endowed college in the South. Trinity didn't make much fuss about it, but it went beyond the million mark which was set for the addition to its endowment fund. Of this amount the Methodists of the State generally raised more than $200,000, Messrs. J. B. and E. N. Duke gave $650,000 and the General Educational Board $150,000. Money is as necessary to educational institutions as it is to business corporations and chiefly through the wise philanthropy of the Duke's Trinity has had opportunities for greater and almost unlimited usefulness opened up for her.

Japan Withholds For Time Her Indorsement.

Tokio, Japan, June 6.—The rejoinder of Japan to the United States note on the subject of the California alien land ownership legislation reiterates that the law passed by the California legislature violates the spirit of the Japanese-American treaty by discriminating against a friendly power.

It points out that even if the question is an economic one, it enters the domain of international relations and therefore becomes a political question.

The note says that the California land legislation violates article 1 of the Japanese American treaty of 1911, which authorizes subjects or citizens of the contracting parties to own or lease houses which are inseparable parts of real estate.

It also declares that the new bill violates the fourteenth amendment to the United States constitution, requiring the states to grant equal protection under its laws to all persons within its jurisdiction.

Interest in the Japanese American land ownership controversy is unabated in Japan. Several mass meetings of protest are being arranged.

Tatsue Yamamoto, minister of agriculture and commerce, declares the Japanese government wants to participate in the Panama-Pacific exposition, but owing to popular feeling on the California land question it feels obliged to wait to determine public sentiment.

The Japanese government has postponed its reply to Secretary Bryan's proposed plan of international arbitration.

The Land of Yesterday.

If one could only find the way into the land of yesterday!
How I would thrust the miles aside, Rush up the quiet lane and then, Just when her roses laughed in pride, Find her among the flowers again, I'd slip in silently and wait Until she saw me by the gate, And then, read through a blur of tears Quick pardon for the selfish years.

This time, this time I would not wait For that brief time that said; Too late! If I could only find the way Into the land of yesterday.

I wonder if her roses yet Lift up their heads and laugh with pride, And if her phlox and magnolia Have heart to blossom by their side; I wonder if the dear old lane Still chirps with robins after rain, And if the birds and banded bees Still rob her early cherry trees.

I wonder if I went their now, How everything would seem and how; But not now; there is no way Back to the land of yesterday.
