

Don't Get Fooled

It's easy to get fooled on jewelry. Some people buy jewelry without regard to self protection.

Others are careful to buy from a house whose name stands for honest merchandise at honest prices. Buying jewelry here is made easy for it is bought with confidence and the variety for selection is rarely equaled in cities much larger than Hickory. Always glad to show you whether you purchase or not.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Mrs. G. F. Ivey was hostess to the Embroidery club Thursday afternoon, September 4th. Quite a number of the members were present, and Mesdames Payne, Seagle and Foster were visitors. After several hours spent in delightful conversation and needle work, dainty refreshments in courses were served.

The Dixie Grey Children's Chapter U. D. C met Sept 5th with twenty-six present. After roll-call and reading of minutes, the lesson in the Confederate catechism was recited.

Mary Rogers Shuford deserves a great deal of credit for reciting the whole book perfectly.

At present the children are studying the battles of North Carolina. The battle of Kinston and Sidelights on Foe's Raid were read.

As the battle of Newbern will be taken up at the next meeting the old amputating case that belonged to Dr. R. E. Baker, was shown to the children. This was found on the battlefield after the battle of Newbern, (supposed to have belonged to a northern surgeon) and used by Dr. Baker during the remainder of the war and afterwards in his private practice. After his death Mrs. Baker gave it to Dr. Menzies and he prizes it very highly.

Singing "Testing Tonight on the Old Camp Ground," with Jessie Patrick as pianist, concluded the program. The meeting then adjourned to Grimes' drug store, where ice cream was enjoyed.

Miss Constance Bost entertained a number of friends at 7 o'clock dinner Monday. The following young ladies were present: Misses Mary Allen, Kate Elliott, Frances Geitner, Gladys Reid, Amy and Virginia Sellers.

Ivey Dots.

Sept 8.—All is very quiet in our town at present.

The Ivey Mill Company seems to be on a boom, they shipped out 111 bales of cloth last Friday. A few of the looms are now changed on sateen and the entire work will be changed on that kind of goods in a few weeks.

A number of the hands went on the excursion to Edgemont Saturday. They report a nice time.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Sweezy Sept 6th, a fine baby boy.

J. O. Materly is having a nice dwelling house built on his vacant lot near the Ivey Mill.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Crowder from Lawndale was here Saturday and Sunday visiting their daughter, Mrs. A. F. Sweezy.

Ed Sherrill of Caldwell was here last week preparing to have his house moved to a different place on his lot and also to have some repair work done on the house.

Mrs. Ed Hahn has been quite sick for several weeks but we are glad to say she is now getting better.

P. K. Baker has had his dwelling house and store raised to a level with the fill on the highway. The fill was about 6 feet high in front of his store and dwelling and Mr. Baker has had considerable work to do having his buildings raised and filling in with dirt to get on a level with the highway.

Mr. Charlie Bolick and family moved here last week. Mr. Bolick is a loom fixer and is working in the mill.

J. C. Bumgarner and wife were here last Friday visiting the family of May or G. T. Barger.

Mr. E. C. Sherrill and family was here Sunday visiting T. J. Leonard.

Mr. Luther Whitener was here Saturday visiting his son, Parks Whitener IOTA.

Yes Paint

May be high next year, so much work has been put off and more will be.

Men don't know that it cost more money to wait than to paint; it costs about 10 per cent to wait, and not over 5 for the extra price.

What is 5? About $2.50 on the average job (3000 square feet); 10 gallons Devco, 15 of average paint, yes 20 of some.

Suppose there's plenty of oil next year, won't paint go down? Yes, a little; there can't be plenty of oil; the demand settles that. Half the work of last year and this is waiting; so stupid we are.

Graded Schools.

The enrollment for the first week in the city graded schools was 659 pupils—394 in the North building and 265 in the South building. The enrollment for the first week last year was 565.

In the primary department, the first three grades here were 144 enrolled in the south school, and 140 in the North school. It is very evident that in another building will have to be erected before many years to care for the increasing school population of Hickory.

In the colored school the enrollment for the first week was 210. It was found necessary to add another teacher in the colored school, making four teachers for that school.

HOWES GREAT LONDON SHOWS COMING

There are many rare wild and domesticated beasts in the menagerie of the Howe Great London Show which will exhibit here on Wednesday, September 24th. Naturally the hundreds who patronize the show are pleased with what they see, but it matters not how rare the animal may be, there is nothing that furnishes to the old and young alike so much pleasure as the many monkeys in their large and spacious home. Giraffes, hippopotamuses, rhinoceroses, giant camels and even the extremely hydrochored may for a time hold their attention, but not as long as will the cage full of monkeys. There is always something new about their antics, and they seem to know they are the "whole thing" when it comes to being attractive. There is nothing so near human as a monkey mother with her babe. Every move and every attention bestowed upon her offspring is just as near that of a human mother as can be.

Sometime ago with this show a monkey mother lost her little baby and was grieving herself to death. She refused to eat and could not in any way be comforted until the keeper one day introduced a small puppy dog to the cage full of monkeys. Almost immediately the mother who had lost her monkey baby adopted the little dog and has mothered him ever since, watching over him as carefully as she would her own little baby. She carries him around in her arms whenever she climbs to the perches, and when he is playing around in the cage she watches and sees that no harm befalls him. Should the monkey when playing hide and seek with the puppy hide where it is difficult for him to find her, he will cry just as if being neglected, and the mother monkey will spring from her concealment, pick him up in her arms and cuddle him to her with true motherly affection. She does not mourn for her dead baby since she adopted the puppy dog.

Mrs. Armor.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union and the North Carolina Anti-Saloon League by a united effort have induced Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, of Georgia, to make a campaign of this State for two weeks. Tuesday night, September 16th, has been fixed for her appointment at Hickory.

Mrs. Armor was recently appointed a delegate to represent the United States at the International Anti-Alcohol Congress at Milan, Italy. She is without question the most sought after temperance speaker of her sex in the United States. She is advertised as one of the drawing cards to the National Anti-Saloon League Convention, which meets at Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 10th, 1913.

Everybody cordially invited to come out and hear Mrs. Armor.

I would like for all our Hickory people to hear Mrs. Armor, the great woman speaker from Georgia. She is regarded as the world's greatest woman speaker. She certainly surpasses all the speakers either men or women that I have heard in many a day.

She is a cultured woman with a burning message, and she literally skins those people who are weak on the prohibition question. Let's all turn out and take our share, for who of us has done his duty? In all probability she will not let the church people off as light as they might expect.

No admission fee when she speaks at the First Methodist church next Tuesday night, but a collection will be taken for the cause of prohibition. Mrs. Armor is making a tour of the state in the interest of nation wide prohibition. She is sent out by the Anti-Saloon League and W. C. T. U., and her work locally under the auspices of the Ministers' Association of Hickory.

FACULTY RECITAL AT LENOIR COLLEGE

The Lenoir College Faculty recital which was given on Monday night was in every way a great success. The recital had been looked forward to with a great deal of pleasant anticipation. Naturally the chief interest centered in Miss Wright, the new director of the piano-forte department. The work of Miss Hallman, the former director, had always been so splendidly successful that many of her admirers and warm friends anxiously awaited the recital which was to introduce Miss Wright. After hearing the recital every one agreed that Miss Wright is a perfect artist. Her technique leaves nothing to be desired, and her interpretation shows a true appreciation and a perfect understanding of her wonderful art.

Miss Shultz whose successful work of last year won for her a warm place in the hearts of Hickory audiences was at her best. Her work in expression was especially good in her interpretation of a scene from "Macbeth", and her singing was delightful as usual and was much appreciated by the audience.

Miss Dorn, the new director of the Art Department, successfully assisted Miss Wright in two duets. The regret of the audience was that she did not see fit to appear as a soloist.

The recital as a whole was an artistic treat, and Lenoir College and Hickory are to be congratulated on having such delightful artists in their midst.

Miss Shultz whose successful work of last year won for her a warm place in the hearts of Hickory audiences was at her best. Her work in expression was especially good in her interpretation of a scene from "Macbeth", and her singing was delightful as usual and was much appreciated by the audience.
