President Wilson has shown by his quiet and firm manner in which he is guiding the reins of our government that he is one of the greatest men as well as the brainiest that has ever occupied the presidential chair. Before his inauguration Mr. Wilson had outlined plans for some very radical legislation. In presenting his first and subsequent messages to Congress he made his plans clear to that body of statesmen, and everyone could see that he knew what he was talking about. The tariff bill and the currency bill were both the direct outcome of the recommendations made by the president in his personal messages to Congress. "Legislation is a business of interpretation, not of origination," is a favorite maxim of the president and he has made a deep and careful study of the sentiments of the American people, to bring this legislation about in such a manner that will be to the best interests of our nation. After the passage of the currency and tariff laws Mr. Wilson has now turned his attention to the trusts, and the anti-trust law will be the next great law to be passed by Congress, acting on his recommendations. The sound and deliberate policies which characterize Mr. Wilson's administration are carried out in the following points made in his recommendations for anti-trust legislation:

1. Effectual prohibition of the interlocking of the directorates of great corporations—banks, railroads, industrial, commercial and public service bodies.
2. A law to confer upon the inter-state commerce commission the power to superintend and regulate the financial operations by which railroads are henceforth to be supplied with the money they need for their proper development and improved transportation facilities. The president made it clear that "the prosperity of the railroad and the prosperity of the country are inseparably connected" in this regard.
3. Definition of "the many hurtful restraints of trade" by explicit legislation supplementary to the Sherman law.
4. The creation of a commission to act as clearing house of information in helping business to conform with the law.
5. Provision of penalties and punishment to fall upon individuals responsible for unlawful business practices.
6. Prohibition of holding companies and a suggestion that the voting power of individuals holding shares in numerous corporations might be restricted.
7. Giving to private individuals the right to found suits for redress on facts and judgments proven in government suits, and providing that statute of limitations should run only from the date of conclusion of the government's action.

Commenting on his recent message Congress to the New York World says:
"His programme involves no new and startling exercises of governmental power. It involves no dangerous centralization of authority. It involves no careless experimentation with theories born of loose and wayward thinking. It creates no responsible bureaucracy with the power of life and death over the business of the country. Mr. Wilson is not working under a new nationalism but under the old nationalism, and he is employing the powers and precedents of that old nationalism to carry into effect the principles upon which he came into office."

Mr. Wilson not only suggests, but practically commands his views to be carried out in legislation. This may look to some as a tyrannical form of government but such is not the case. He knows what the wishes of the people are, and he has grit and stability enough to see that legislation benefitting the great mass of people is carried out; and he is doing this in such a manner as to cause only a minimum of disturbance to the intricate workings of the financial system of our country.

Paid For by Dogs.

Charlotte Observer.
Mr. George F. Ivey, secretary and treasurer of the Southern Desk Company at Hickory, sends the Observer a copy of a letter which his factory received from Dr. H. L. Southerland, chief health officer of Bolivar County, Mississippi. Mr. Ivey thinks we might find it material for an editorial, and after reading the letter we think so, too. Doctor Southerland says that the board of commissioners of that county are to meet on the 19th and spend $3,300 on school house furnishings. He wants the Hickory concern to send samples in competition with other firms for an order made up of about 200 double desks, a number of single desks, blackboards, teachers' desks, recitation benches, window shades and other school house furnishings. The point, however, most worthy of passing along to the people of North Carolina is that the $3,300 which this Mississippi county will expend in furniture for its school houses, was raised from a tax levied on the dogs of that county. If each county in this State would do the same, our school houses might be supplied with an equipment equally as good. Bolivar County, Miss., is leading the way. It is a good idea to make the dogs pay for furnishing the school houses.

Building Laws.

The recent decision of the Supreme Court of North Carolina in State against Lawing is of State-wide interest and of the greatest importance. It affects every city and town in the State, and says the State, city, and town regulations governing buildings in their erection and inspection can and should be enforced. The Chief Justice, in his able opinion, not only says that the frame buildings cannot be erected or repaired in the fire district, but shows the great value of this to the city and its inhabitants. Let every chief of fire department and building inspector in North Carolina get busy and enforce the law. The Supreme Court says it is a good law and can be enforced, and that the protection of life and property calls for it. The old shacks must go, to be replaced by buildings that are not a menace to other property, but a credit to the city as well as the owner.

The Insurance Department is having the opinion of the Court in State against Lawing printed in pamphlet form, and will take pleasure in furnishing a copy to all who may desire it.

On Verge of Bankruptcy.

The marriage license business in Lincoln County has taken a decided slump, and the register of deeds is bewailing the fact as shown by the following from the Lincoln County News:
"Register of Deeds W. H. Sigmon says the business of issuing marriage license is not as lively as he would like to see. He says the license business has been rather dull since Christmas, but that he hopes to see things liven up a bit at an early date; at any rate he says he hears some very encouraging rumors. During the year 1913 he says he issued 160 marriage license as against 173 during 1912. This was a falling off of 13 in 1913"

Cheer up, Mr. Sigmon. Business will begin to pick up in the Spring, when a "young man's fancy gently turns to thoughts of love."

WEAK KIDNEYS OFTEN THE RESULT OF OVERWORK.

On several occasions I have been unable to work and suffered severe pains in the back, due to my kidneys. I called on a doctor of Ripon, Wis., but received no relief. I tried Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, which gave me instant relief. I was then able to resume work. Swamp-Root is the only relief I can get from kidney disease which I am subject to in the spring of the year. I am writing this testimonial through my own free will that suffers of kidney and bladder diseases will know of the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root. I recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root whenever I can and always have a bottle of Swamp-Root in my home. I purchased Swamp-Root of Mr. C. J. Burnside, Druggist, of 202 Main Street, Ripon, Wis. Very truly yours, THOMAS J. LYNCH, 525 Newbury Street, Ripon, Wis. I have read the above statement that Thomas J. Lynch bought Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root at my store and made each the above statement is true in substance and fact. E. J. Burnside, Druggist, of 202 Main Street, Ripon, Wis. Subscribed and sworn to before me this 15th day of November, 1911. F. A. PRESTON.

Letter to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You. Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Hickory Democrat. The Tenant.

To live and to die are the nearest of neighbors, And death is to life the closest of kin; Heir to life's harvest of love and her labors, The skull waits under the skin. But while she endures she guards her possession; Hers is the key to the citadel locks; Even the Lord, when he covets admission, Stands at the door and knocks. Patient, O death, thy reign is hereafter, Bide thee thy crowning and keep thee apart! Mine this estate, this lease upon laughter, Mine all the love in my heart. JOHN CHARLES McNEILL.

The failure to provide books and apers in the average farm home is no great reason why the average farm boy or girl does not study harder in school. Books are the tools with which education does its work. What's the use to know how to read unless you do actually read after you learn how? So if the father and mother do not read books and papers and find pleasure in them, how can they expect the children to show an eagerness to learn to read?—The Progressive Farmer.
