Mr. Arthur Ingold of Morganton, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Belle Ingold.

Mr. H. W. Harris is having a beautiful bungalow built on Eighth Avenue.

The friends of Mr. J. P. Jones learn with regret of his continued illness at his home on Ninth Avenue.

Mr. Hilton Shuford has returned home from Asheville, and will attend school at Lenoir College this fall.

Mr. J. Lee Stone attended the Home Coming exercises at Concord last Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Ferdinand Forthman and Miss Bertie of Waynesboro, Pa., are the guests of Mrs. Forthman's daughter, Mrs. J. H. Shuford.

Rev. A. L. Stanford, pastor of the First Methodist Church, returned Friday night from Marion where he had been assisting in a revival meeting.

Fred H. May of Wendell, has purchased the Lenoir News and has taken charge. This paper has been owned and edited for many years by Mr. H. C. Martin.

Mrs. H. D. Abernethy and Miss Clarissa have returned from a visit to Salisbury. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Abernethy's mother, Mrs. C. L. Stewart, and her brother, Mr. W. M. Stewart.

At a meeting of a few of the old members of the Southern Symphony Band of this city, Monday night, it was decided to disband. All indebtedness will be paid off and the instruments retained.

George Ramseur, colored was sentenced to four months on the roads in recorder's court here Tuesday afternoon, on the charge of indirectly selling two pints of liquor. He appealed and gave bond in the sum of $200.

Work has been resumed on the old Shuford building facing Union Square. It is to be remodeled for an up-to-date motion picture house. Mr. J. Lee Stone will occupy it and expects to open up as soon as the remodeling is completed.

Mr. S. J. Lawrence, formerly of this city, but who has been living in Asheville for several years, has purchased the Monroe Fry place and has moved his family here. Mr. Lawrence, however, will continue to work at Asheville for the present.

The vacation meeting of the Needle-Craft Club was held with Mrs. J. W. Warlick September 2.

The hostess read one of O'Henry's stories, which was very much enjoyed. Little Miss Hermine Little delightfully entertained the club with a piano solo entitled "Sunset." Mrs. Cornwell, Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. Hunsucker and Mrs. Setzer were visitors. Delicious refreshments were served. The club meets next with Mrs. D. L. Russell October 7.

Capt. Russell C. Landon, U. S. A., accompanied by Mrs. S. A., accompanied by Mrs. Landon, were the guests of Mrs. Landon at dinner Wednesday evening. They have been for some at the Grove Park Inn at Asheville and were on their way back to Raleigh where Captain Langdon has had his headquarters while inspector of the North Carolina Infantry of the National Guard. Captain Langdon is a West Point graduate and a delightful, courteous gentleman, who will be greatly missed when he gives up his present detached service for reassignment in December. He has made many friends in our state and his home at Raleigh has been a charming social mecca, in which his attractive wife presides with all the grace of a thorough woman of the world.

Men Who Help Make Hickory Grow Fast

Within a few days the Elliott Building Company will commence work on a new 50x100 feet brick building, two stories high with basement, which will be erected on their lot between the creamery and the Charter House.

This building will be occupied by the Chero-Cola Bottling Company under the management of Mr. D. B. Hannah of Gastonia, and will be quite an addition to Ninth avenue.

The value of such men as Messrs. J. D. and J. Worth Elliott as citizens of Hickory cannot be estimated. Working under the firm name of the Elliott Building Company, these gentlemen, since the summer of 1913, have built no less than five handsome brick structures in the city, the one to be built included. Four of these on 11th avenue are occupied by the Hickory Garage Co., Hickory Overall Co., Coca-Cola Bottling Co., and Hickory Harness Co., and make an attractive business block.

These men believe in investing their money at home to make their home town bigger and better. Contractors on a large scale, doing business in almost every Southern state, they naturally make a lot of money, which they bring here and invest. They also hire most of their construction force here, thus giving employment to home labor.

We wish to thank these good men for what they are doing for Hickory hope they will never suffer reverses.

New Leaf in Athletics at Lenoir College

The outlook for a winning baseball team at Lenoir College is more promising for the coming season than it has been in the history of the college. There is much prospective new material.

The athletic association is fortunate in having with them this year, Hunsucker, J. Lyerly and C. Lyerly, former members and stars of their old rival and worthy opponent, the Catawba Baseball Squad. They feel sure that with these experienced players, and also several of Lenoir's former stars, a team can be developed that will be a credit to the college.

The College unanimously agreed last year to award an L to each varsity player on the baseball, basketball and tennis teams respectively, and on account of a delayed order last commencement, this was postponed until last Saturday night when Professor Coble gave a banquet at the Hotel Murray in honor of the varsity players and presented the L's to those worthy of receiving this honor. This should develop more competition for a place on the various teams.

At this banquet was formed the varsity L Association of Lenoir College, composed of only varsity players.

The Association was entertained by an able speech by Professor Coble, and also a few remarks of encouragement by Professor James A. Frye, of Catawba College, former student and graduate of Lenoir College.

Professor Coble is a believer in athletics, and an enthusiastic leader and director.

To Have Aeroplane Flights at Fair.

The Catawba Fair association met in the Chamber of Commerce rooms here last night and made arrangements to have an aeroplane here for the fair, November 3, 4 and 5, to make two flights each day. The second day of the fair will be devoted to education and will be known as Educational day. The school children will march through the streets and educational speeches will be made by prominent men of the State. The third day will be Live Stock and Poultry Day. Weather permitting the fair this year will eclipse all formerly held, and it is confidently expected that a record-breaking crowd will attend. The aeroplane will prove a great drawing card.

Miss Mussell to Give Demonstration

Mrs. John W. Robinson, who will have charge of the ladies' demonstration department of the farmers' institute which will be held at Lenoir College Saturday, September 18, says that Miss Mussell will be present and give a demonstration in cooking. It is very important that all the young ladies, as well as the older ones, be present, as this demonstration will serve to teach them many things of practical usage in the art of cooking. The institute promises to be one of the best held in the county this year and many farmers are expected to be present. A picnic dinner will be spread on the campus and everybody is urged to bring well filled baskets for this part of the institute. Speakers of note will be on hand to make talks on farm topics as well as to answer all questions asked.
