

The circulation of The Review covers the field like the evening dew; several times larger than the combined newspapers of High Point, being read in practically every home in the city and in the suburbs. Advertisers take notice.

THE REVIEW

"High Point for High Point;" that's the slogan. Keep your money in High Point; trade with High Point merchants; buy everything you can in High Point at all times; that's the foundation for a Greater High Point.

The Review is read and appreciated by that large body of people who buy four-fifths of the goods sold in High Point--the laboring people

Elks of High Point at Home

A Most Auspicious Opening of Their New Home--Everything in Tip Top Shape--Large Crowd Present.

Last Friday evening High Point Lodge 1155, B. P. O. Elks was at home to a large number of invited guests.

The home was appropriately decorated for the occasion in the lodge colors and the bright lights, sweet music and general surroundings seemed to breathe the air of "welcome and good cheer."

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lyon received at the door and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wilson directed the way to the cloak room, at the right of imposing stairway. Those receiving in general were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Matton, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Cook, Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Bradshaw, Mayor and Mrs. F. N. Tate, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bradner, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Gold, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rector, of Asheville and Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Kirkman, of Virginia Beach. There were more than five hundred guests present.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. Hauser pointed the way to the dining room where Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Ingram presided.

The collation was under the direction of the refreshment committee, headed by J. L. Woodson, assisted by Lee Payne, Fred Ingram and Ed Freeze. Misses Mary Sherrod and Henrietta White served the coffee.

Attorney Thos. J. Gold made a speech during the evening.

At eleven o'clock the cornerstone ceremony was gone through with. P. G. Esteemed Leading Knight C. F. Tomlinson delivered the oration. The hour of eleven was struck on the triangle on the veranda when Mr. Barnette sang "To Our Absent Brothers," an ode written by a blind Elk in California. It was a very impressive occasion.

Hood's orchestra furnished music for the occasion and an impromptu dance was indulged in until the wee sma hours, the ball room being very prettily decorated for the occasion.

The whole occasion was the event of the year in High Point and will never be forgotten by those in attendance. We wish that space could permit of a more extended notice this time.

Master Wm. P. Ragan Winner of Pony and Rig in Contest.

MASTER WILLIAM RAGAN EXTENDS THANKS.

High Point, N. C., Oct. 8, 1913. Mr. W. L. Stamey.

Chm. Dunlap Pony Contest Com. Dear Sir—I desire to extend to you, and the ten firms in Dunlap Pony Contest just ended, my heart felt thanks for my beautiful pony, rig and harness. "Woodrow" filled my heart with gladness, and made me the happiest little boy in High Point.

I also desire to extend thanks and appreciation to my friends, neighbors and relatives who made it possible for me to win the coveted prize, and I must not forget the three most excellent judges for their kindness and patience in counting so many votes. I only wish there had been a pony for every little boy and girl in the contest, for I should like to see all of them as happy as I am.

Again thanking one and all who contributed to my success in this contest, I will close by saying "Woodrow Wilson" is a thing of beauty, and while it took more than a million votes to get him, a million dollars would not buy him. Very truly, Wm. P. RAGAN, JR.

GIANTS SHUT OUT PHILLIES.

The great world series of baseball is on. The Philadelphia Athletics won the first game played in New York and the New York Giants won the second game yesterday, played in Philadelphia, the score being 3 to 0, requiring 10 innings to complete the game, no score being made by either team for nine innings.

Tarboro, Cct., 7.—Upon arrival here today of Mrs. Josephus Daniels, the seventeenth annual convention of the North Carolina division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was informally opened with a reception at the home of Mrs. John L. Bridgers, given in honor of Mrs. William Dorsey Pender, of Norfolk, honorary president of the local chapter, which was named in honor of her late distinguished husband, General Pender.

THE MASS MEETING—NEW STREET AND TAX LAW.

A large number of people gathered at the auditorium Friday night to hear the proposed amendments to the charter discussed and after the meeting the majority of the sentiment seemed to be in favor of the proposed new laws. One is to make it compulsory on property owners to macadamize their block of roadway if the people owning 60 per cent of the frontage in a district so petition, the cost to be borne by the abutting property owners and the repairs in the future to be done by the city. It is figured that $1.00 a running foot on each side will pay for the work and the city gives the property owners 10 years in which to pay for same if they so desire, the deferred payments to bear six per cent interest. Another matter discussed was the payment of taxes: viz: If the taxes are paid in October when they are due, 2 per cent will be allowed, during the month of November 1 per cent; December one-half of one per cent; January one per cent is added and so on for every month the delinquent fails to pay. The city by this means figures it can pay its bills more promptly, save 6 per cent on borrowed money and that it will work to the advantage of all.

In regard to the street matter it is a good thing to push the city's growth and beautify it, because the city is not able to carry on the work as it should. Town pride it is believed will assert itself and pretty soon after the bill becomes a law the citizens will be clamoring for macadam streets. It certainly is a good way to push the work. While it will cost the property owners something and while in a sense it looks like it is a little more than should be required, yet the good it will do, the time given to pay for it, the enhancement of the value of the property, etc., will more than offset these or any other objections. The street on which the editor lives happens to need macadam about as bad as any street in town and of course it will hit him about as hard as anybody so when we are writing about it we have this in mind as well.

The proposed innovation for payment of taxes is alright we think in every particular and places a burden on no one.

We hardly believe the people can go wrong in endorsing these progressive measures, copied after other progressive towns.

REV. FRANK WOOD.

Died at His Home at Trinity Last Thursday.

Rev. Dr. Frank H. Wood died at his home at Trinity last Thursday morning at 4:20 o'clock, after a lingering illness.

Dr. Wood was well known here and throughout the State, having spent his life in the ministry. He was a member of the Western North Carolina Methodist Conference and during his ministry had served in many parishes. For a number of years he was presiding elder, at one time having charge of the Winston district and later serving as presiding elder of the Greensboro district.

Dr. Wood was superannuated five or six years ago, being unable to keep up his work as an active minister on account of declining health and old age, and since that time he has resided at Trinity. Dr. Wood will be remembered as one of the most pious men of his day and as a minister of force and power.

The deceased is survived by his widow and four children. They are: Mr. Frank H. Wood, Jr., of Marion; Mr. George Wood and Mrs. J. J. Fariss, both of High Point, and Mrs. F. Ellis, of Durham. He is also survived by two brothers and one sister, State Auditor W. P. Wood, of Raleigh; Mr. Thomas Wood, of Trinity, and Mrs. J. R. Pierce, of Greensboro.

The funeral and burial services were conducted at Trinity on Friday and a large concourse of relatives and friends gathered to pay a last loving tribute to this good man.

"Lonnie" Hughes, a prominent citizen of Thomasville, was killed last Saturday during Everybody's Day festivities in that town. He had entered an automobile race about eleven o'clock and in turning to come back on the course his machine swerved, turned over twice and killed him instantly. He was driving a Ford with the number 9074. The car was demolished considerably. It was a deplorable accident.

Look Out For Pickpockets And Crooks.

We have received the following telegram from Mayor Tate: Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 8th, 1913. The Review:

Owing to the large number of pick-pockets and other crooks following or taking advantage of the circus the public is warned to guard their premises and valuables closely on Saturday. The depredations of these crooks have been reported from town to town where the circus has been. They are sharp at their game and not easily detected. I give this warning in the hope that no High Pointer or visitor will suffer at their hands Saturday. The extra policeman have instructions to keep a careful watch that day. Fred N. Tate. [The Mayor is right in this thoughtful warning.—Editor.]

Twenty-five extra policemen will be put on duty the day of the circus to watch out for the pickpockets and anything else unlawful. A gang of pickpockets is said to be operating with Barnum & Bailey's circus and the circus people are just as anxious to get rid of them as the people are.

The tariff is about settled and strange (?) to say times got better right away, in fact all lines of business report an awakening, locally and generally.

Dr. D. A. Stanton, city physician, says that the quarantine law hereafter must be respected in all cases; that where a placard is tacked to a building it means that the party or parties quarantined must stay in the yard and that outsiders must stay away.

Chief Ridge has located T. A. Johnson, a negro preacher, who escaped from the county road's three years ago. The officer will go after the negro in another state as soon as requisition papers are secured.

A meeting of the school board was held Tuesday night.

The Jamestown bridge will be ready for the public early next week. It is a substantial bridge in every particular. A bridge at Bull Run, just before you enter the culvert, will also be erected.

Mrs. J. W. Harris, Mrs. A. E. Tate and Miss Minnie Alexander attended a meeting of the Daughters of the Confederacy at Tarboro this week.

Notwithstanding the House voted in favor of the New Public Service Commission, President Tate of the Just Freight Rate Association has hopes of the Senate doing the right thing and bringing the House to its senses.

Mrs. W. C. Beavans entertained the Entre Nous Club Thursday afternoon in honor of her sister Mrs. Chas. Lee Smith of Raleigh.

Jeff and Mutt has reached town at last.

See the "Supreme Sacrifice" at Royal today and night, one of the finest pictures shown on canvas.

In December Major Stedman will hand out a democratic plum here in the shape of a new postmaster for High Point and there is much speculation as to who it will be. If we were a betting man we would say that a man named after a celebrated writer stands a good show.
