HARD TO CRACK.

We were beginning to feel bad over our outbreak the other day on rural credits when the Greensboro News gently brought us around, and we felt worse Sunday after reading a long lecture in the Charlotte News—though we must confess that we could not get away from the feeling that the News had not read our article carefully, but was shooting at us from a position made secure by public approval.

Had we been inclined in the first place to lops along with the public, we would have shouted with the rest, "give it to us, boys," and never considered how it was to be done; but we thought we saw why rural credits legislation had been delayed for many years, and pointed out some of the difficulties congress must overcome before a suitable bill could be passed.

A subscriber of the Greensboro News living in the eastern part of the state—and took the occasion in the state and took the occasion in the state and took the occasion in the state.

THE ROW IN WAKE

We see that the correspondents are speculating on the motives of Mr. H. E. Norris, solicitor of the superior court, for criticizing the officers of Wake county for alleged extravagance in the employment of useless deputies and so on.

HOW GERMAN EMPLOYEES ARE GIVEN PROTECTION.

Berlin, Jan. 11.—In many ways at least the German working man or employe of any kind receives the most perfect protection from his paternal government of any similar person in the world.

Whenever a Record subscriber comes in and tells the cashier that he could not do without the paper, we know he is the king.

HAVE TO LOOK AHEAD

Germany counted on internal dissensions in the British empire to count more than ten army corps, but it is doubtful if the German general staff, with its facilities for procuring information from all the nations, ever dreamed that the British would prove as inefficient in leadership as they have thus far.

The withdrawal of the Dardanelles troops is the last chapter in England's list of tragedies. A brilliant conception, the Dardanelles campaign failed for lack of cooperation between the army and navy.

But the Britishers are clinging on. Eventually they will have the best leaders in front and they will win. That's the history of the British people. Freemen always squabble, but they don't give up.

If Solicitor Norris will keep up the fight in Wake county, he might be successful in having them dispense with the county treasurer and his clerk. That would save something like $5,000 a year.

Hickory pastors are in demand. The Rev. J. D. Hartke has just refused a call to Lexington and the Rev. S. B. Stroup, rector of the Church of the Ascension, recently has been tendered a fine charge in Chattanooga.

Record readers are expected to assume that we do not know any more about the world war than they do.

A BRAVE OLD FOX

Story of a Chase that Sent Reynard Back to His Kingdom.

There is a famous old mountain in Catawba county, well known as Baker's Mountain. In old times it was the great rendezvous for wild foxes and the happy meeting place for all lovers of fox racing sports of that day.

And now that the native foxes were extinct in that country, some of the descendants of these good old men, clock full of the spirit and enthusiasm of these forefathers, have leased, posted and protected this famous old mountain from all outside hunting, and stocked it with imported foxes which they feed, love, pet and protect, from all sides of the mountain and this protected territory is alive with foxes.
