THE WRONG WAY.

The city of Shelby sold $40,000 worth of bonds secretly a month ago, according to the Star, and they brought a premium of $125 and interest to date of payment of $233.33.

That might have been all the Shelby bonds were worth, but many Shelmium of $1,321 at a public sale, where there were at least ten bidders.

Without being familiar with the charter of Shelby, we would say that the fair case for damages if the question lations. should be pressed to say the least
