BERLIN SAYS SERBIANS HALTED NEAR MONASTIR

But Paris Declares They Have Won Important Victory--Monastir Almost Reached--Situation in Greece Confusing--Germans Report Successes Over Russians.

(By Associated Press.) Serbian troops on the western end of the Macedonian front, which Paris reports say are continuing successfully their vigorous campaign for Monastir, have been halted by the Teutonic forces, Berlin announces today. Paris announces the capture of a town within a bend of the Cerina river, southeast of Monastir. Berlin says the forward movement has been halted after a temporary victory by the Serbians.

The French report claims the Bulgarians have suffered heavy losses, including 100 prisoners and three cannon and have been put to rout. It says the Serbians pushed forward, forcing their way over the height. They are now facing the third and final line of Bulgarian defense in this sector, according to unofficial reports. The situation in Greece remains confused. News dispatches from Athens long delayed in transmission and recording the development of the situation there up till Wednesday night report turbulent conditions. Greek reservists there are said to have taken the law into their own hands, despite the presence of allied garrisons, with the Greek government doing practically nothing.

King Constantine has told the French minister that the allies, having recognized the revolutionary government, should turn to Venizelos for any aid they may expect.

GERMANS CLAIM VICTORY

(By Associated Press.) Berlin, via Sanyville, Oct. 20.—German troops yesterday stormed important Russian positions with additional lines on the west bank of Narva in Galicia and repulsed counterattacks, says the German official communication issued today. The Germans captured 14 officers and 2,100 men and several guns.

FIGHTING REPORTED

(By Associated Press.) Berlin, via Sanyville, Oct. 20.—The battle between Austro-German forces and Rumanians in Transylvania is progressing, the war statement says today, while on the Black Sea the Russo-Rumanian armies have been engaged.

WARNING IS ISSUED ON WHOOPING COUGH

(By Associated Press.) Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 20.—A warning against whooping cough as a cause of infant sickness and death was given by Dr. L. A. Abt of Chicago, at the annual meeting of the American Association for study and prevention of infantile mortality. "The mortality from whooping cough is considerable," he said. "During 1911, 6,251 patients died of the disease in the United States. The disease most frequently occurs towards the end of winter and early springs and the epidemics are more severe some years than others. When it occurs in epidemic form, it may be confined to a small area, it may occur over a wide territory, or in a single season it may encircle the world. The disease is particularly one of childhood and children of the second year are most predisposed, but it may occur in very old people, and parents sometimes are affected when it becomes epidemic among the children. "Whooping cough is conveyed by human carriers. The spray emitted by coughing carries the virus which produces the disease. During the first catarrhal stage which resembles a severe cold, the patient has fever, and the true nature of the ailment is frequently unrecognized even by the most skilled physicians, but it is more contagious at this time than at any other. "The complications arising from whooping cough may not only lead to death, but also to life-long troubles, tuberculosis, paralysis, and idiocy. Prevention of whooping cough consists in isolating and quarantining wherever possible, though the fact that it is contagious during the catarrhal stage, before the disease can be definitely recognized makes these precautions difficult. "The effectiveness of vaccine treatment for the prevention and treatment has not been positively determined. Some have reported favorable results, while others have not considered it satisfactory either as an immunizing agent or as a remedy. Health boards, parents, teachers, and all who are concerned in the prevention of disease and in saving life should cooperate in enforcing such regulations as will prevent the sick from attending school, visiting the playgrounds, public conveyances and in isolating the sick and those who are suspected during the catarrhal stage."

Hawks can see such a long way because they have a special eye muscle which they can alter their sight to long distances.

ATHENS IS SCENE OF RIOTOUS LIVING

(By Associated Press.) London, Oct. 20.—Extremely turbulent conditions in Athens on Wednesday night are reported in a dispatch from Reuter's correspondent from the capital sent that evening. Greek reservists have taken the law in their own hands, despite the presence of entente marines, who are given virtually no protection by the authorities.

Judge E. B. Cline is spending a few days at home.

THOMASON-MOORE

Former Hickory Man Weds Concord Girl--Reception Follows.

The Concord Tribune of Thursday contained the following account of a marriage there Wednesday night: A wedding, characterized by its beauty and charm, took place here last evening when Miss Cornelia Moore, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Moore, became the bride of Mr. J. D. Thomason of Hickory. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents on north Union street at 7:30 o'clock.

The home, which was filled to its capacity with friends and relatives of the young couple, was tastefully and beautifully decorated for the occasion. Potted plants, chrysanthemums and many other flowers were used profusely in the decorations, the home resembling a veritable garden of beautiful flowers. The ceremony was performed in the parlor, which was decorated in white and green. In the left corner of the room an improvised altar was made, and the ceremony was performed there. The bride was in red and green and the groom in white and yellow.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Katie Lee Raiford played selections on the piano. Following this the bride party entered to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Raiford. The first to enter were Misses Virginia Wilkinson and Catherine Carpenter, the ribbon girls. Next came Miss Helen Wilkinson and Mr. R. E. Saunders of Charlotte; Miss Mattie Thomason of Hickory, sister of the groom, and Mr. R. E. Black of Charlotte, and Miss Lelia Shive and Mr. J. W. Mouser, Jr., of Hickory. Following the groomsmen and bridesmaid came Miss Laura Moore, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor. Then came little Miss Margaret Young Corzine, carrying the ring in a white lily. The bridegroom and his best man, Mr. P. J. Suttlemire, entered next from the dining room.

During the ceremony Miss Raiford played "Love, You Truly" and "Elsie's Dream."

The bride entered with her father, Mr. L. D. Moore, who gave her away. She was dressed in a travelling suit, with gloves and hat to match. The bridesmaids were dressed in white organdy, with pink sashes and carrying pink chrysanthemums, while the maid of honor was dressed in pink taffeta and carried white chrysanthemums.

The ring ceremony of the Presbyterian church was used, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. J. M. Grier, pastor of the First Presbyterian church here.

The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Moore, and by her charming personality and many enviable traits of character has made a host of friends here and elsewhere. Mr. Thomason is a young man of many good traits of character. He is living in Charlotte now, but until a few years ago lived in Hickory. He is prominently connected in the business world in Charlotte.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home. During the reception refreshments were served, the hostess being assisted by the bridesmaids.

Willard is treasurer of the local fund.

PREPARING A GARDEN

"I want advice about my vegetable garden, as I wish to increase the fertility of the soil. I have it in pea bed, and thought of letting the peas remain on the land with manure all winter and plowing in spring. Is this best?"

It would have been better earlier to have plowed the peas under and sowed crimson clover, and covered that with manure to be all turned under in the spring. Then you could harrow in some lime profitably. But it seems rather odd to me for any one to have a garden where they have room for this sort of work. My garden is too full of vegetables all winter to allow of any improving crops, so that I have to depend on the manure and bone dust for increasing humus and fertility. I aim to keep the garden at work growing vegetables all the year round. In winter I have satisfy parsnips, beets, carrots, leeks, onions by the last of February, cabbage and lettuce in the frames, and any one in most sections of the south need never be without some fresh vegetables from the garden all the year through.—Progressive Farmer.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE

The high school literary society tonight will debate the question of whether the federal government should own and operate the railroads and the public is invited to the North school, beginning at 7 o'clock. The affirmative debaters are Ralph Shell and Harvey McComb; the negative debaters Elwood Mitchell and Louis Whitener.

FANATIC TRIES TO RIDE WITH WILSON

(By Associated Press.) Pittsburg, Oct. 20.—President Wilson and William Jennings Bryan met here today for the first time in months. The president stopped in Pittsburg for an hour and a half on the way from Chicago to Long Branch and Mr. Bryan came here on the way to speak in the district of Representative Bailey of Johnston, Pa.

When the president arrived at the station, the former secretary of state entered Mr. Wilson's private car and the two men shook hands. A large crowd outside the car witnessed the greeting. The men spoke together only for a moment or two and then left the car.

On an automobile tour in the city, the president lost his hat, and the automobile was stopped while a secret service man recovered it. A man with a bag of tools jumped on the running board of the automobile, but was knocked off by a secret service man. The man chased the president's automobile for a block before he was arrested by local detectives.

The prisoner gave the name of Richard Cullon, aged 22, a machinist of this city. On the way to the police station he told the police that he was not at all satisfied with President Wilson's conduct of the European war. In the bag he carried was a knife with a blade five inches long and in a bottle was a liquid which the police are attempting to analyze. The prisoner was held for observation.

Mr. Bryan, who has been making speech in support of the president's reelection, said Mr. Wilson could not lose.

ONIONS FOR FALL PLANTING

"What kind of onion should I get for fall planting? I want a large smooth onion. I have a piece of land well manured for corn, and I want to cut off the corn and plant the land in onions, with more manure. Will the middle of October be the right time?"

For a good ripe onion in the south the Yellow Potato onion is as good as any. The sets can be planted in October, but better in September, to get a good fall growth. This onion never makes seed, but makes offsets at the roots that are used for sets. Any of the leading Southern seedsmen can supply them. They usually sell at about $3.50 per bushel for small sets, and $3 for large ones. The small sets are cheaper because they go much farther and make as good onions or better than the large ones, which will make more sets. This onion ripens in June.—Progressive Farmer.

Whitener today received a telegram from Miss Berty Hatch announcing the death at Burlington of Helen Fogleman, ten-year-old niece of Mrs. Whitener, as the result of being run over by an automobile late yesterday. It will be finished with rough texture dark red brick, will contain two stories, eight class rooms and a large auditorium and will be steam-heated, with a special ventilating system.

KILLING FROST EXPECTED IN SOUTH

DROPS AT NEW ORLEANS

(By Associated Press.) New Orleans, Oct. 20.—A fall of 18 degrees in 12 hours since 7 o'clock this morning set the temperature to 51 degrees above zero here today.

"Southward the Star of Empire!" Southward the star of empire ought now to take its way. The future belongs to the south if the men of the south will only have it so. Southern farm land, under your rare climate, can yield more for the feeding and clothing of the world than any like acreage on earth, and these fertile fields now give only a small part of the wealth they are meant to give and can be made to give it. Southern mines are as rich in iron, coal and other minerals as any on the globe, and these storehouses of usefulness are as yet almost untouched. Southern water power is greater than that of New England or the far northwest, the most of its run is wasted to the sea. Southern timber equals the stumpage of that of Russia and the greater part of it is still unused.

The place of the south on the map of the world ought to make it the heart of industry and civilization. The greatest system of waterways on the globe gathers into a city trunk line which pours through the south to find its outlet in your southern gulf. This vast land-protected sea is an ocean in itself, giving to the south trade advantages which, if used, would give to the South a great Panama canal opens the commerce of mankind to the south more than to any other single part of the republic. From Norfolk to Galveston, the south has a chain of seaports, the poorest of which is better than the best German seaport, and the best of which is as good as those of England.

And the people of the south are as yet of almost pure descent from the first American stock. There is a fighting blood, which counts no cost when standing for what they believe to be right. There is a love for that idealism which alone makes prosperity worth while and which alone can save the present-day craze for money-getting from rotting the heart of the nation. There, too, is an attitude for statesmanship and a gift for public thinking coming down from forefathers whose work in founding the republic is one of the priceless traditions of the American people.—From an Address by former Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana.

Marshals Appointed for Fair Next Week; Rain Puts Ground in Shape

Wednesday's rain was just what was needed to put the fair grounds in first class condition for next week's event. Entry blanks are being filled out in all departments, being filled out in all departments, and looks like even the extra additions to the new buildings will hardly hold the exhibits.

Advance agent W. D. Drum of Herbert's Greater Shows was in town yesterday to make arrangements for space for his show and concessions. He sprung an agreeable surprise on the management by telling them that in addition to the exhibits he had contracted for, a first-class wild west show would be put on. General Manager E. B. Jones and Mr. N. W. Clark took him out to the fair grounds to lay out space for the amusement attractions and concessions.

Mr. N. W. Clark requests all those who have promised to serve, or desire to serve as ticket takers, gatekeepers, special officers, etc., to meet him at the fair grounds Monday morning at 10 o'clock so that details of the work may be mapped out.

Manager E. B. Jones wants every person who desires having a display or concession at the fair to meet him at the fair grounds Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock. By this means ample time will be given to have everything in shape for opening day next Tuesday.

The following gentlemen have been appointed to act as marshals during the fair. This list includes quite a number of out of town as well as from this city: Oliver H. Hickey; John Sherrill, Catawba; Ralph Copening, Newton; Lee Hewitt, Newton; Wilson Warlick, Newton; J. A. Ison, Hoover, Conover; Loy Bolick, Conover; Smith Carpenter, Maiden; Bob Taylor, Maiden; Vance Henwell, Statesville; L. P. Henkel, Statesville; Summy Wilford, Newton; Homer Little, Conover; T. L. London, Oct. 20.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam says that a telegram received there from Bremen confirms the report that the German company has received no word of the merchantman Bremen, and it is believed there she is lost. Great anxiety prevails in Bremen among the families of the crew, virtually all of whom lived there, and it is feared difficulty will be encountered in securing another crew.

According to this information, the sailing of the Deutschland on another voyage across the Atlantic has been cancelled.

WANTS AMERICA TO ACT

(By Associated Press.) Amsterdam, via London, Oct. 20.—A demand for the stoppage of submarine warfare, coupled with an appeal to the United States to take the initiative to that end, is voiced by the Telegraaf. The Telegraaf says: "Ten days have elapsed since the submarine warfare was carried to the door of America and nothing has been done. Are we to understand that our ships are allowed to be torpedoed right on the American coast? We say in all frankness to America that submarine war must be stopped, and Germany must be told that her mistakes which all the world knows are not mistakes which no longer be tolerated. Let America speak the redeeming word lest she rue deeply in the future, having neglected a task plainly to be expected from the mightiest neutral."

Master Glenn Moore of Manhattan, Kansas, who was stricken with pneumonia while visiting relatives at Lenoir and who was brought to the Richard Baker Hospital here for treatment, is steadily improving and will be able to return home in a few days.

Miss Myrtle Coyner of Conover, who was operated on at the hospital here for appendicitis, is improving and will return home in a few days.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mr. S. L. Shuford of Lincolnton, who underwent an operation at the Richard Baker Hospital, was able to return home yesterday.

FRANCHISE AWARDED BY WEST HICKORY

With the passage of the franchise ordinance on second and final reading, West Hickory aldermen last night adopted the identical franchise passed by Hickory council a couple of weeks ago awarding the Southern Public Utilities Company the privilege of furnishing lights for a period of 30 years. The same rates will obtain in West Hickory.

Coincident with the awarding of the franchise, Manager Stephens today inaugurated a lighting campaign in West Hickory and from reports reaching him, it will be a success. Citizens of Highland also have become interested, and the question will be taken up there soon, it is expected.

The wiring campaign in Hickory, according to Manager Stephens, has made remarkable progress. The expectations of the company were that about 100,000 feet of wire would be installed, and the question will be taken up there soon, it is expected.
