ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTS

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 17, 1917

ROTATION AND PROMOTION

Governor Bickett was attorney general eight years and will be governor four years. After that he probably will aspire to represent the fourth district in congress or his state in the United States senate.

Probably those state officers who heard his speech advocating rotation in office thought of the promotion business and would be glad to swap one office for another.

We are in favor of the principle if conditions are favorable. But we would not want to kick an efficient officer out of a department merely because he had been there 10, 16 or 20 years. We would hate to part with anybody who had been with the Record for 20 years.

We are not interested in the subject much. We have a good friend out of office as are in office, and we are not asking any of them for a thing. It just occurred to us that perhaps these officers were not created so much to give the boys a bite as to perform a service to the state.

NO PROOF AS YET

Most people have so little confidence in Thomas W. Lawson that they are willing to keep open minds pending the hearing in Washington to determine whether members of the administration profited from knowledge of the sending of the president's peace note.

We haven't had our confidence in the integrity of the administration shaken, and we will have to be shown a great deal of evidence from reliable persons before we are willing to believe that members of the cabinet were parties to the business.

WILL MAKE START

The patent medicine gents will make a loud howl before the general assembly in an effort to prevent legislation against the various cures, but the legislature is more inclined to listen than it was years ago.

Raleigh has about decided to put up a packing plant, Charlotte and Stateville are agitating the question and perhaps other communities are waiting for more information on the subject.

Not only the newspaper fraternity, but a great portion of the people of the state will wish for Editor Clark of the Statesville Landmark speedy restoration of vitality.

The leak investigation is surely getting aired.

BRING THEM HOME

A member of the third regiment band has written the Greensboro News that the guardsmen do want to come home, and he meant the rank and file. It is not lack of patriotism that causes thousands of soldiers to fret at the inactive life they are forced to lead on the border.

And if the county undertakes to float a bond issue, provision must be made for the maintenance of roads. If the voters are sure this will be done and that the highways will be kept in good condition, they will see the wisdom in the investment; otherwise they will not care to waste their money.

Mr. Bryan discussed prohibition, woman suffrage and representative government before the anti-saloon league in Raleigh Monday, thereby giving the audience that filled the First Baptist church a trinity of matters to think about.

Tow Lawson said a senator whom he knew has "O" also profited in the peace leak. Which will make it uncomfortable for the two or more senators whose names begin that way, regardless of their innocence.

And yet there must be a great many senators who are glad their names do not begin with O.

In other words, Tow Lawson is willing to swear that his illusions are real.

At any rate, there were quite a number of persons leaning about the leak.

I cannot hide to see men throw away their tools the minute the check begins to strike as if they took no pleasure in their work, and were afraid of losing a stroke too much.

We are not interested in the subject much. We have a good friend out of office as are in office, and we are not asking any of them for a thing.

ILLIMITABLE IDEAS

It is by believing in, loving and following illimitable ideals that man grows great. Their very impossibility is their highest virtue. They live before us as the image of that into which we are to grow forever.

WATER WORKS IMPROVEMENTS

Sealed proposals will be received by the City Council of the City of Hickory, N. C., until 7:30 p. m., January 30th, 1917, for improvements to the Water Works plant, embracing the construction of a raw water pumping station, rapid and filter plant of capacity of 350,000 gallons in twenty-four hours, including brick and concrete building, filter equipment, valves and piping; and remodeling of present slow sand filter for use as a coagulating basin; two 250 gallon per minute multi stage centrifugal pumps direct connected to motors.

Advertising is the stuff that makes the world go round. Nobody ever did anything without it. Caesar was an advertiser on a big scale and all of the early Greeks weren't ashamed of themselves. Anybody who ever did anything, advertised, or was advertised.—George M. Cochran.
