Miss Alva Boatright has returned after an extended visit to Charlotte and Matthews.

Miss Kathleen Connor and Mrs. Green have returned to Henrietta after visiting Mrs. John C. Murphy.

Miss Katie Miller returned to Gastonia yesterday after spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Miller.

Miss Ola Griffith is expected to arrive home this afternoon from Concord, where Thursday she graduated in the Concord hospital as a trained nurse. Miss Griffith expects to locate in Hickory.

The freshman girls of the Hickory high school will play the Highland girls at the armory Saturday afternoon at three o'clock. Everybody is invited and there will be no admission. This is the first game the first grade girls have played with any other team and they are anxious to have a large crowd.

Miss Sellers Entertains
Yesterday afternoon Miss Virginia Sellers entertained the Do-As-You-Please Club with every member present and Miss Mattie Moye Adams of Durham a visitor. A program of amusement was furnished during the meeting by the "Orion Board," which was kept constantly busy answering questions. After a most pleasant social hour the hostess assisted by Miss Amy Sellers served a delicious sweet course. Miss Helen Springs will have the next meeting.

With Mrs. Lyerly
Mrs. Walker Lyerly was hostess to the Cosmos Book Club Wednesday afternoon with eleven members present and one visitor, Miss Louise Coleman of Aiken, S. C. Mrs. Geo. Taylor, vice president, presided over the meeting. The hostess gave an interesting criticism on her book, "Daring of Iron" by Ethel M. Doll. During the social hour Mrs. G. W. Hall delighted the club with a piano solo and Mrs. George Bailey gave two voice solos. An elegant three course dinner was served in the dining room. The next meeting will be with Mrs. F. A. Henderson, January 31.

Mrs. West Hostess
The Thursday Study Club was delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. A. M. West. Twelve members were present and two visitors, Mrs. W. H. Barkley and Mrs. Kelly added much to the pleasure of the afternoon. Quotations at roll call were from Shakespeare. Mrs. T. C. Blackburn gave the first reading, "Yorkshire Wanderings" and Mrs. Roy Abernethy read the "Three Edwards." For the hostess' hour Mrs. George Bailey sang two voice solos, accompanied by Mrs. West. Two delicious courses of refreshments were served before adjournment to meet February 1, with Mrs. T. C. Blackburn.

With Mrs. Hutton
The Travelers' Club met yesterday with Mrs. G. N. Hutton. Sixteen members were present. At roll-call quotations were on "Players." Mrs. J. A. Martin with brief personal explanations gave an interesting reading on "Origin of Professional Players" and "Staging Court Plays" from one of the fine reference books, "English Literature during the Lifetime of Shakespeare" by Felix E. Schelling.

Mrs. G. N. Hutton then gave an unexpected pleasure in playing by request "On the Piazza" by Gadsden. In conclusion Mrs. K. C. Menzies read with fine effect from Hamlet, Act III, scene I and scene II where those wonderful outpourings of genius afford such an inexhaustible fund of thought and source for best known quotations. Current events followed as usual the regular program. Before adjournment refreshments: fruit salad, sandwiches, coffee, dainty cakes and mints were served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Walker Lyerly January 25.

We regret to lose one of our members, Miss Alivia Short who has moved to South Carolina—Miss Clara Frazier, too will be away for some time as she has gone to Kannapolis to teach school. Several of our members were absent last Sunday on account of sickness, but we hope to have a full attendance next Sunday. We are always glad to welcome visitors and strangers. If there are any young girls who are not attending Sunday school we invite you to meet with us next Sunday at 9:45.

CLASS REPORTER

EXAMINATIONS AT SANATORIUM
Sanatorium, N. C., Jan. 19.—Dr. L. B. McBrayer, superintendent of the state sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis made the statement here that the free service of that institution in making examinations for tuberculosis free to the people of the state would be continued only on condition that patients or the physicians who are sending the patients write before hand and arrange for a date for such an examination, otherwise a fee of $5 will be charged for the examination. It is necessary, also, stated Doctor McBrayer, that patients present themselves between the hours of 8 and 11 a. m. on the date set for them, otherwise they would not only have to wait till the next day but would also be charged the fee of $5.

This ruling is necessary, according to Doctor McBrayer, for the reason that some days such large numbers present themselves for this service as to greatly interfere with the regular work of the institution and work excessive demands upon the medical staff. Last year 411 such examinations were made and the present outlook is that twice this number will ask for the service this year. "This is the most encouraging sign we have," said Doctor McBrayer, "that we have tuberculosis on the run. When people demand an early diagnosis and want to head off the disease while it can be done, then we know we are winning ground."

"PEARL OF THE ARMY"

AT THE PASTIME TODAY

The following is a short synopsis of the second episode of Pathes great preparedness serial, "Pearl of the Army" which will be shown at the Pastime Theatre this afternoon and tonight:

Captain Payne is court martialled and convicted of treason because he lost a secret dispatch under suspicious circumstances. Unable to explain, he is placed in prison preparatory to being drummed out of service. In his solitary prison room, Pearl Dare visits him and, placing her hand in his, tells him she has come to say she believes in him. Before he can voice his gratitude, an orderly enters announcing the time is up.

The news of his downfall comes as welcome news to Major Brent, a less favored rival for Pearl Dare's hand—and millions. But on the horizon of his hopes a cloud drifts from out of the past in the person of Bertha Boon, a girl he has wronged and who has a miniature signed by him years ago to "my darling wife." During a stormy meeting with her, Brent is astounded to discover that the locket which holds his portrait is strangely like the one lost by Payne, but he is unable to secure it from her, and lives in constant fear of its power.

The Silent Menace visits Col. Dares home, and is discovered and pursued by Pearl in a taxi. A rug in the taxi suddenly comes to life. It awakens her, and what next she gains consciousness she is in an unknown spot. Following some foot-pirate she discovers the secret meeting place of the Foreign Alliance, where the plots for the downfall of this nation are hatched. She contrives an entrance, overcomes the Silent Menace with an ornament, and has nearly succeeded in snatching the mask from his face when his lieutenants discover her and she is compelled to flee.
